Columbia wept the evil hour The Czar to Austria lent his power, The Czar to Austria lent his power, and Georgey, false to high command, Turned traitor to his native land. There where Freedom's voice was hushed, Where million's hopes were blighted, crushed When Hungary was veiled in Night, and heroes palled at Russia's might, The Engle shrieked in wild despair, Whilst shouts of Freemen rent the air With curses of eternal shame Against the odious Austrian name. Against the odious Austrian name.

Hope on! Thy nation yet shall be Glorious, great, triumphant, free; The crash to Europe's tottering thrones, The crash to Europe's totering thrones,
The last expiring, dying groans
Of tyrant kings and Austrian knaves,
Crushed by the men who once were slaves,
Shall be the solemn passing bell,
The frightful, learful funeral knell
Of least and matter downed to dwell Of lords and masters, doomed to Where despotism propels the car Of Russia's proud presuming Czar. The day olready is at hand

The day stready is at hand
When potentates of every land,
From Naples to the Polar sea,
From Craco to the rolling Dee,
Shall feel the wrath of men oppressed
Whose grievances were ne'er redress'd,
Till now in maddened fury driven,
They swear their fetters shall be riven,
And those whose chains they tamely work
Remain on earth as kings no more. Stern Destiny! oh haste the day Burst forth from sacred fla To illuminate the battle plain, And henceforth end monarchial reign; And henceforth end monarchiat regit;
And he, a wandering child of fate,
Resume again the chair of State—
And Kossurn's great and hallowed name
Be given to immortal fame.

Late from Europe.

HALIFAX TELEGRAPH OFFICE February 22, 1852, 1 P. M. The Royal Mail steamer Cambria arrived at Halitax at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, bringing dates from Liverpool to the 7th inst. She brings passengers.

ENGLAND.—The British Parliament was open ed by the Queen in person on the 3d inst. Her Majesty in her speech says that all her relations with foreign powers are of the most friendly character, and refers to the probable completion of a treaty between Germany and Denmark. She calls attention to the recent outrages in Ireland, and promises attention to their more effectual suppression.—
She also alludes to the satisfactory state of the public revenue, and in conclusion directs attention to the proposed amendments in the Reform Bill with reference to Parliamentary representation.

In the House of Commons Sir Benjamin Hall

asked for an explanation of the causes which led to Lord Palmerston's resignation.

Lord John Russel immediately replied that Lord Palmerston was refractory, and treated the Queen's interrogations with disrespect, acting independently of his colleagues, and unreservedly approving the of his colleagues, and unreservedly approving the recent coup d'etat of Louis Napoleon.

Lord Palmerston replied at considerable length, which, though damaging his late colleagues, did not improve his position. He paid a willing and merited eulogium on the character of Mr. Lawrence, the American Minister at London.

SINGULAR PRENOMENON .- About 12 o'clock on SINGULAR PHENOMENON.—ADDRESS O COOK of SINGULAR PHENOMENON TRULY STRIKING and extraordinary occurred here. It was the circumstance of the falling of a copious fall of rain, for the space of from seven to ten minutes, from a perfect the challess haviless and startly size. So plantical ly cloudless, haziless and starlit sky. So plential was the shower that the streets run with the water, which had the singular effect upon the mind of ap pearing to come without a cause. During the shower, two streaks of fleecy clouds displayed them-selves in the north and south, but far distant from each other, and neither of an altitude above the horizon exceeding 20 degrees. The position of these clouds forbid the idea that the rain could have fal-len from either of them. We make no effort to explain this strange phenomenon, satisfying ourselves with a bare but faithful statement of it.— Washing
