In the State of Maine, in 1850, the amount of apital invested in the manufacture of liquor, was only $17,000; the number of hands employed 5 and gallons rum produced, 220,000. As this was previous to the enactment of the prohibitory law, if is easy to account for the indifference with Which the people in that quarter submit to its stringent provisions. Maine is not an agricultural State.

Forgeny.—A young man, a student of medicine named Charles Heiskil, was detected, on Thursday week, in Philadelphia, in a tempting to pass a forged check for $500, in the name of Sharder, Roberts N. Co., at the counter of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank. The check was drawn payable o George M. Dallas or bearer. Its general character induced the suspicious of the paying Teller, and he requested that it should be endorsed by Mr. Pallas. Heiskil left the bank and shortly after rethrined, with a miserable imitation of Mr. Dis. signature on the check. This confirmed the suspicions If the teller, and the young man was taken into cus was committed for a further hearing in default of Enigration to California .- Our readers have doubtless, observed our daily record (under the head of River News) of persons leaving this place for california. Of course they are not all from this city or State but those who come here from Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Kentucky, to take steamers for St. Louis, or direct to St. Joseph and Indepen-dence. Within the month which closed yeigherday, between 3100 and 3200 persons—a portion of them fernales—have shipped at this point for the land of gold, and that number is exclusive of those who have passed here on steamers from Pittsburgh and points above us on the Ohio. The emigrating class have been, generally farmers-men of middle age with their lamilies, and in most instances, thei horses, wagons, &c. Of the large number with whom we have personally conversed, the most ave been going to California without any intention freturning — Cincinnati Gazetle.

ELIZABETH PARKER'S CASE.—It will be remembered that some time previous to the abduction of Rachel Parker, the colored girl, from Chester co., by McCreary that her sister Elizabeth, disappeared, and could not be found. A girl of her agrappearance had been taken to Baltimore, t appearance had been taken to Baltimore, under another name, by this same McCreary, under pretext of her being a slave, and delivered to the pre-tended owner, who sold her to a slave dealer—and the latter sent her to a dealer in New Orleans.— Some philanthropic individuals in Baltimore, who deserve the highest praise, have been unternitting in their efforts to ascertain the identity of the gir sent to New Orleans, and we learn they have now ascertained to a moral certainty that she is no other than Elizabeth, the sister of Rachel. She was taken from Matthew Donnelly's, in the southwestern part of Chester county. Some leeven or zens of Baltimore have entered into bond of $1500, to pay all counsel fees, and othe expenses of bringing her back from N. Orleans to Baltimore, to have a trial for her freedom. Mr. Schoolfield, the person in Baltimore, who claimed Elizabeth as his slave, had agreed to this arrangement some time since; and at the last at vices the friends of the girl entertained the hope that he would ratify it.—Village Record.

Lime and Limestone trade of Baltimore County The Baltimore County Advante of last week gives some interesting statistics showing the extent and importance to which the lime and limestone trade of that county has reached. During the year 1851, according to the Advocate 1,000,000 bushels of lime and 5807 tons of white marble were produduced or quarried in the county, the estimated value of which was about $200,000, and nearly the whole of which was transported over the Bal-timore and Susquehanna railroad, affording a large amount of revenue to that company. The Adv cate notices the subject in connec commendation, by the State Agricultural Chemist in his Annual Report, of the use of the Schuyl kill lime, as a manure,—which recommendation it condemns as at variance with the (rue interests of the State. In reference to this point it says-The three great works of Maryland, the Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, traverse limestone regions, as we are in formed, containing every variety of limestone that exists in Pennsylvania, if not in any of the States. It may be had with all proportions of magnesia, from 40 p. c. downwards, or with any portions of silicious earth, (sand,) or other impurities that the purchasers desire; whilst both Baltimore and Frederick and perhaps other counties, are furnishing lime to tide water of the purest kinds, and at very ow prices, but which may be still more reduced whenever the cost of coal may be still further

A QUESTION AND ANSWER.—When every news-paper in the country is full of extravagant assertions to persuade the credulous that this or that nostrum a panacea for "all the ills that flesh is beir to." who can tell what is valuable or what is worthless or how discriminate between the good and the bad? We answer, BY EXAMINING THE TESTIMONIALS of those who have used and proved whether there is any virtue and efficacy in the medicine. Names and statements are good for nothing, unless given by individuals whose character and standing are sufficiently known to entitle them to the respect and sufficiently known to entitle them to the respect and confidence of the public.

Those who suffer from Dyspepsia in any of its forms, such as Acid Stomach, Flatulency, Pains in the region of the Chest, Fulness and Weight at at the pit of the Stomach, Depression of Spirits, Nervousness, want of Energy, &c.; are invited to read the certificates of the most remarkable cures by using the Oxygenated Bitters, and the statement of Prof. A. A. Haves, to whom a formula of ment of Prof. A. A. Hayes, to whom a formula of this medicine has been submitted. No reasonable doubt can exist that this remedy is the best ever discovered, for all diseases arising from weakness and indigestion; some of the best physicians approve and prescribe it.
