every attempt to abridge the privilege of becoming citizens and the owner of soil among us, ought to be resisted with the same spirit which swept the alien and sedition laws from our statute books.

9. That Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States, and that such States are the sole and proper judges of everything appertaining to their own affairs, not prohibited by the constitution; that all efforts of the abolitionists or others made to induce Congress to interfere with questions of slavery, or to take incipient steps in relation thereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming and dangerous consequences; and that all such efforts have an inevitable tendency to diminish the happiness of the people, and endanger the stability and permanency of the Union, and ought not to be countenanced by any friend of our political institutions.

[Resolved, That the foregoing proposition covers and was intended to embrace the whole subject of slavery agitation in Congress, and therefore the Democratic party of the Union, standing on this national platform, will abide by and adhere to the faithful execution of the Acts known as the Compromise measures, settled by the last Congress—the Act for reclaiming fugitives from service or labor included; which act being designed to carry out an express provision of the Constitution, cannot with fidelity thereto be repealed, or so changed as to destroy or impair its efficiency.

[Resolved, That the Democratic party will resist all attempts at renewing, in Congress or out of it, the agitation of the slavery question, under whatever shape or color the attempt may be made.]

Resolved, That the proceeds of the public lands ought to be sacredly applied to the national objects specified in the Constitution; and we are opposed to any law for the distribution of such proceeds among the States, as alike inexpedient in policy, and repugnant to the Constitution.

Resolved, That we are decidedly opposed to taking from the President the qualified veto power, by which he is enabled, under restrictions and responsibilities, amply sufficient to guard the public interest, to suspend the passage of a bill whose merits cannot secure the approval of two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, until the judgment of the people can be obtained thereon, and which has saved the American people from the corrupt and tyrannical domination of the Bank of the United States, and from a corrupting system of general internal improvements.

Resolved, That the Democratic party will faithfully abide by and uphold the principles laid down in the Kentucky and Virginia resolutions of 1798, and in the report of Mr. Madison to the Virginia Legislature in 1799. That it adopts these principles as constituting one of the main foundations of its political creed, and is resolved to carry them out in their obvious meaning and import.

[Resolved, That the war with Mexico, upon all the principles of patriotism and the laws of the nations, was a just and necessary war on our part, in which every American citizens should have shown himself on the side of his country, and neither morally nor physically, by word or deed, given aid and comfort to the enemy.

[Resolved, That we rejoice at the restoration of friendly relations with our sister republic of Mexico, and earnestly desire for her the blessings and prosperity which we enjoy under republican institutions, and we congratulate the American people upon the results of that war, which have so manifestly justified the policy and conduct of the Democratic party, and insured to the United States "indemnity for the past and security for the future."

[Resolved, That in view of the condition of the popular institutions in the old world, a high and sacred duty is devolved, with increased responsibility, upon the Democracy of this country, as the party of the people, to uphold and maintain the rights of every State, and thereby the union of the States, and to sustain and advance among us constitutional liberty, by continuing to resist all monopolies and exclusive legislation, and for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many, and by a vigilant and constant adherence to those principles and compromises of the Constitution which are broad and long enough to embrace and uphold the Union as it was, the Union as it is, and the Union as it should be, in the full expansion of the energies and capacity of this great and progressive people.]

Laying of Corner Stone.

Last Sabbath week was a day of peculiar interest in Lancaster; not only because it was holy Whitsuntide, when the Supper of the Lord is celebrated in nearly, all the churches, but because it was the day on which the corner stone of the Second German Reformed Church was laid. It was one of the loveliest of days, the heavens were bright, and all around looked gladness. In the morning the Rev. T. H Leinbach, of Lebanon, preached a very appropriate sermon 1st Peter, 2. 5. At two o'clock, the Rev J. W. Nevin, D. D., of Marshall College, preached a sermon on "The Mystery of the Incarnation," from 1st Tim., 3, 16. In the evening the Dr. preached on "The Church," from Eph. 1; 22, 23. This was a continuation of the afternoon's discourse, showing that the Church is a necessary product of the Incarnation, and like it a supernatural fact; and must therefore be the object of faith. Both these were powerful discourses, revealing the learning, piety and earnestness of the man. Those enjoyed a rare privilege who heard him. We were glad to see among the audience so many of our citizens able to appreciate such strong meat, such theology of the inner circle.

The most interesting portion of these solemnities, were those on the ground, commencing at 3½ o'clock. The crowd of people was immensely large. After two brief addresses by the above named ministers, the Rev. H. Harbaugh read a list of articles which were deposited in the corner stone, holding them up to the view of the audience. They were as follows:

1. A Bible.
2. Heidleberg Catechism.
3. Palatinate Catechism.
4. English and German Reformed Hymn books.
5. German Reformed Messenger.
6. Kirchen Zeitung.
7. Guardian.
8. All the Lancaster city and county papers.
9. Report of Building Committee to the congregation, embodying a plan for the erection of the church.
10. Copy of subscription list for the erection of the church.
11. The names of Pastor, officers and members of the congregation.
12. Slab of marble recording the fact that this is the old corner stone of the former building committee and Architect.
13. The names of the workmen who erected the church.
14. The English coin that was found in the old corner stone, also all the American coins of 1852, from 1 cent to 50.
15. Names of all the Churches in this city, with the names of their Pastors.
16 Names of the President of the United States, Governor of this State, and Judges of the Court.
17. Population of the city and county of Lancaster.
18. Names of officers and teachers of Sabbath school.
19. The Constitution of the Young Men's Missionary Society of this church, founded March 5th, 1851.
20. An account of the services of the occasion and names of Pastors officiating.

The Pastor Rev. H. Harbaugh, stated that the corner stone which was about to be laid was the same one which had been laid as the foundation of the old church, in 1753. After a few remarks he invited Dr. Nevin to lead in prayer, to which the vast concourse gave reverent attention. The Rev. Mr. Harbaugh then proceeded to the corner stone laying solemnity, according to the Liturgy of the Church.

After this service, the choir sung Old Hundred, and a beautiful anthem, which concluded the ceremonies. Messrs. Westheaffer and Heinitsh deserve credit for getting up such appropiate music for the occasion.

For the Intelligencer

Mr. Editor: The painful intelligence of the death of Mr. SAMUEL F. LOCKARD, was received in this place, Columbia, soon after the fatal accident on Sunday afternoon (6th inst.) The announcement soon extended over every portion of our town and an almost universal gloom seemed to obtain where the deceased was known. The particulars of his death are not distinctly understood, farther than one or both of his legs became involved in the frame work of a sulkey (in which he was riding) between the rail road, near Baughman's Mill, and Jacob Mann's Tavern, in Manor twp., he being thrown out; and in this situation was dragged to the latter place, where the animal was stopped and the lifeless body of Mr. Lockard found in a most mutilated condition.

Mr. Lockard was a gentleman of good heart, generous emotions, and was governed by high principles of honor and benevolence. In his intercourse with his fellow citizens he was highly esteemed for his pleasing address and suavity of manners, by which he conciliated a large circle of friends and acquaintances, many of whom paid the tribute of their respect in tears of manly regret when they learned his untimely death.

He was humane and generous, almost to a fault; and of him it could with truth be said, "if his heart had been made of gold, he would have distributed it among the needy members of the human family." As a citizen, he commanded the esteem of all; as a neighbor, he was kind and obliging; as a man, he was noble, frank, courteous and independent. He was the idol of his widowed mother, and every prayer she sent to Heaven was fragrant with his name. N. B. W.

DEATHS.

In Baltimore on the 22d ult., Ann Maria, wife of Henry Snyder, formerly of this city, aged 48 years.

On the 25th ult., at Rohrerstown, Elizabeth, wife of John Rudisill, and daughter of Abraham Dietrich, aged 26 years, 9 months and 5 days.

At his residence, in Leacock twp., on the 2d inst., John Barton, after a long and severe illness which was borne with christian resignation and firmness, in the 89th year of his age.

As it is not often that we have the privilege of following to the grave one of so many years and virtues, a short and last tribute to his memory may not be amiss. An Irishman by birth and education and arriving on our shores in his early youth, he had all the difficulties and trials that the poor emigrant of that day was sure to encounter. But a kind Providence sustained him through through life, whereby he was enabled to raise and educate a large family of children who were his hope and prop in the decline of life, and whose privilege it was to surround his bed side of death. Living as he did always in the fear of the Lord and practising those principles, he was sure to inculcate and impress upon all, he died without a murmer or struggle in full confidence of happy immortality and at peace with all.—Communicated.

A Card.

WHEREAS a statement has been going the rounds of the newspapers, that the LANCASTER LIGHT INFANTRY COMPANY is about disbanding, and said statement being false, it is due said Company to state the origin of the fabrication.

A former First Lieutenant of the Company, at the solicitation of a number of members resigned said office in favor of Mr. John Shindle, (who was elected his successor,) and became a candidate for Second Lieutenant—but was defeated. This caused him to withdraw from the Corps, and it was this same person who afterwards circulated the above report. It was doubtless intended to injure the Company, but will be of no avail. The Company is flourishing; it has now 16 uniforms under way, and trimmings purchased for 30 men. They will be equipped and parade publicly on the 4th of July next. WILLIAM K. LEONARD, Captain.

To the Legal Profession.

JUST received and for sale at MURRAY'S Cheap Book and Stationary Store, Kramphs's SAUNDERS, on Pleading and Evidence, 5th American Edition.

From the "American Law Journal," published at Philadelphia.

This is beyond question the best book on Pleading and Evidence: it is for the practising lawyer, far to be preferred to any other work on the same subject now generally used. It is very complete: it is excellent in all its details; it is easily consulted by means of the machinery of a good alphabetical and verbal index, and is very late. When we turn back to the older editions of Saunders and compare even the latest preceding American edition, we are astonished at the immense bulk the book has attained, and we admire the courage of any editor who has dared attempt the task which Mr. Rush has not only attempted, but most successfully accomplished. This American edition is a faithful reprint of the English editor's labors, with the exception of Tithes and Stamps, which only add expense without adding value to a book designed to be used in this country. For the practising lawyer, no work can be better, and none more easily and comfortably consulted; it is a complete storehouse of learning, carefully arranged, and well and minutely divided, and subdivided, catalogued, and indexed, ready for immediate use at a moment's notice."

English Law and Equity Reports. Seven volumes of this valuable work are now out and will contiue to be published, on every two months, at the extraordinary low price of $2,00 per vol.

We continue to furnish all the Standard works in the different departments of Science and Literature, at the lowest prices.

Grand procession of Horse and Foot and Complimentary Tournament. Unlooked for entrance of the Unknown Knight. His bold defiance. His subsequent escape and speedy detection. His mystery solved, for Mazeppa boldly avows his purpose, in attacking the Count, under the guise of the Black Knight. The Castellan pronounces his terrible and awful doom upon Mazeppa, to meet which he is forcibly bound to A MAD TARTARIAN STEED! Whose fury is increased to despreation. He is launched onward by the exasperated horse amid the darkness of the night, and the yells of his incensed enemies.

They bound me on, that menial throng,
Upon his back, with many a thong,
Then loosed him with a sudden lash,
Away—away—and on we dash!

His flight is closed with a TORCH LIGHT TABLEAU!

Shriek and cries of horror at the departure of the wild horse, with its suffering burden. A storm arises of fearful warning, in the heavens—the elements oppose each other; grand and solemn conflict—the deep toned thunder, terrying man and beast, impels the scared and savage animal to new exertions, his frightful path, alone illuminated by the lightning's flash—when, lo, a falling tree arrests their speed, and stopping horse and rider, both exhausted presenting two separate images of death.—Tableau.

A moment staggering, feebly fleet
A moment, with a faint low neigh,
He answered and then fell;
With gasps and glazing eys he lay,
And reeking limbs immovable,
His first and last career is done.

Mazeppa finds a Father. A conspiracy is defeated. The Father preserved from the Assassin's Blade. Mazeppa wears the Diadem of Tartary. Directs a grand War Movement towards the enemy. The grand Romantic Spectacle will terminate with a Magnificent LIVING EQUESTRIAN STATUE, upon a moving Pedestal, representing the beautiful Olinska seated on the Charger, supported upon the Shoulders of a Troupe of Tarters.

MARRIAGE,

HAPPINESS AND COMPETENCE.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (with in the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

Abstract from the Second Annual Report, made May 1st, 1852:

Whole number of Policies issued in both branches of business, Nineteen Thousand,	19,000
Whole amount of property at risk,	$14,649,614 00
Total amount of Premiums received in cash, and Bills receivable,	$304,163 07
Total amount of losses and expenses,	95,146 56
Amount of Cash and Guarantee Capital now in reserve for future losses,	$209,016 50
Including a Cash surplus of	30,478 90

The Company was organized but two years since, upon purely mutual principles, and with no expectation of so far superceding many other institutions. It is, nevertheless true, that its success is unparalleled, and the amount of business done, number of Policies issued, and losses met with and paid, in the same period, exceed that of any Insurance Company upon record. Its capital increases with its liabilities, and no part of this can be applied otherwise than for the benefit of the parties insured by this Company.
