CHEAP CLOTHING STORE.

Great bargains can now be had at the SIGN OF THE RED COAT.

[The] subscriber would respectfully inform his friends, that he has just received from Philadelphia with the largest assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings—ever offered of the kind, and at very low prices. Also, a large lot of READY-MADE CLOTHING, and everything pertaining to Gentlemen's Wardrobes. The Clothing I offer for sale are made up in my own shop by experienced workmen, and under my own supervision. I therefore feel prepared to offer great bargains in the Clothing line, and to test this fact I earnestly invite the citizens of the city and county of Lancaster to give me a call and examine the quality and price of my Goods before purchasing elsewhere. I will also, as heretofore, give my stock to any who wish to buy according to order. Those who prefer to give their measures taken and garments made up to their own desire.

Always on hand, a large assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS, &c. Also, a fine assortment of Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Stockings, Gloves, and Knit Underdraws and Drawers, cheap. CUSTOMER WORK.

Persons who bring their own goods, can have them made up as they please, under the supervision of a good fit and no disappointment.

I also beg leave to say, that I have secured the services of Mr. Joseph Baska, long and well known in this county as an experienced outer.

Mr. B. presents his compliments to his friends in the county, and invites them to give him a call.

EXPERIENCE.

BY MAJOR PATTON, U. S. A.

About the world I've journeyed much,
I've travelled far and near,
And my experience is such
As you shall shortly hear.
I've seen the worst that ever was,
Of two-called human kind,
Where all are busily in quest
Of what they deem to be their gain.
I've known a man who robbed the poor,
And yet was rich himself,
And drove the beggar from his door,
With plate upon the shelly.
I've seen a judge who sold his soul,
To have heard a gambler play,
And know a wife that did not scold
Upon a washing day.
I've known a lawyer plead a cause,
Who never saw his bill,
And known a doctor, (not of laws),
Take his prescription high.
I've known a tradesman speak the truth,
I've heard a parson swear,
And known a hypocrite in south,
Who charged but lawful fare.
I've known a person play at whist,
Who would not play at loo?
I've known a slave pursuing wit,
To wish on his offspring wild;
I've heard his mother say, "I wish,
For my dear child, a husband good,
And see a mother leave her child,
For stranger's hands to hold.
I've seen a maiden who had hid,
Who had a modest air,
And seen a belle who (sometimes) did
Not know that she was fair.
Once on a rail it was my lot
To get a "passage" free,
And a steamer bound for my
A decent cup of tea.
And I have seen, once in my life,
A husband—he it knows—
Who did not treat his neighbor's wife
So better than he would his own.
And also see—I'll be wondrous glad
As gentle as I can,
Some time ago was I, I think,
I saw an honest man!

THE LITTLE GIRL'S GOOD MORNING.

BY MARY IRVING.

"Oh I am so happy!" the little girl said,
As she sprang like a lark from the low rambles bed;
"This morning, bright morning! Good morning,
Mama! papa!"
Oh, give me one kiss for good morning, mamma!
Only look at my pretty curlew,
Chirping his sweet good morning to Mary!
The sunshine is peeping straight into my eyes—
Good morning to my Sun, for you rise
Early to wake up my bed for the day,
And make us happy as happy can be!"
"Happy you may be, my dear little girl,
And the mother stroked softly a clustering curl—
"Happy as happy can be—think that the Sun,
Who awakened this morning, both you and the sun."
The little one turned her bright eyes, with a nod—
"Mamma, may I say good morning to God?"
"Yes, little darling, surely you may—
Kneel as you kneel every morning to pray."
Mary knelt solemnly down, with her eyes
Looking up earnestly into the skies;
And two little hands were folded together,
Slightly she laid on her mother's;
"Good morning, dear Father in Heaven," she said;
"I thank Thee for watching my little bed;
For taking good care of my dear little night,
And waking me up with the beautiful light,
Oh, keep me from naughtiness, all the long day,
Blest Jesus, who taught little children to pray!"
An angel looked down in the sunshine and smiled;
But she saw not the angel that beautiful child!
