The Old City in Motion!

A very large Democratic meeting was held in Centre Square, in this city, on the Monday evening preceding the election, over which Hon. JAMES BU CHANAN presided and made a speech. Addresses were also delivered by Col's Amweg and Frazer. Another tremendous meeting assembled at Sho ber's Hotel, North Queen street, on the evening subsequent to the election, which was addressed by Messrs. Sanderson and Frazer; after which a pro cession was formed under the direction of Mr. Henry Schaum, and marched through the principal streets of the city.

And yet another was held in the Court House, or Saturday evening last, over which Dr. JOHN MIL-LER presided, assisted by W. G. Evans, Peter Speaker, John Dehuff, Jacob Wineour, Geo. Huffnagle, P. J. Gorner, Frederick Sener, Sam'l E. Gundaker, Jacob Weaver, Thos. Rooney, Geo. Miller, as Vice Presidents-and Secretaries-Jno. Reese, John W Jackson, Amos Row, A. M. Spangler, Jas. L. Jones John R. Walker and H. S. Myers.

The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Fraze J. B. Amwake, Wm. S. Amweg, Myers, Walker Eichelberger, and Sanderson, and a resolution was adopted authorizing the Chairman to appoint vigilance committees auxiliary to those appointed prior to the last election

Dr. N. W. Sample,

The heavy vote received by this gentleman, for Congress, is a flattering endorsement of his great moral worth and the high esteem in which he is held by the Democracy and the people of Lancaster county generally. He is only defeated by a major ity of twenty-three hundred and eighty-four votes, in a county that has heretofore boasted of its five thousand Whig majority! The Dr. may well feel proud of the glorious run he has made.

The City and County.

The official returns of the State election held on Tuesday last, show that the Democracy of the city and county are efficiently organized, and that the party generally was aware of the importance of turning out in their strength. The vote was larger than that ever given to any Canal Commissioner. The vote of Judge Woodward was 5 327, within yard will be proportionately higher than the duty 399 of the largest vote the party in this county has ever polled. We can and will do better on the 2d of November next. Many Democrats remained at home, from the mistaken opinion that the State election was comparatively of minor consequence and that the election of the State ticket being cer tain, they would discharge their whole duty to the party and the country by voting for Pierce and King. Every Democrat who voted on Tuesday last voted for the candidates of the party in November; and we are confident that those who did not attend the State election, will retrieve their error by rallying for Pierce and King at the polls, and contributing to swell the majority of the Keystone State in favor of the democratic candidates and democratic principles to 20,000.

Under the present organization of the party we think we can poll a larger vote in the county then we have given since the election of Gen. Jackson. In 1848, the vote of the candidate for Governor, Judge Longstreth was 5514, and that of General

Cass was 6080 being an increase of 566. The organization of the party in the good old city of Lancaster, is thorough and complete. The result of the election has surprised our friends, and paralyzed our enemies. Prior to the election it was represented that the organization was delective. The confident boldness of the assertion deceived the Whigs, and may have misled some honest Demoreturns. The vote of Judge Woodward is 1203, a larger vote than we have ever cast. That the executive, block, ticket and poll committees, labored earnestly and successfully, the vote polled shows beyond all doubt. The city did well; that she will do better in November we confidently predict .--There will then, we trust, be no striking of tickets and no difficulties or obstacles interposed to the performance of the duties devolved on the regular organization of the Democracy of the city and county.

The great speech delivered by Mr. BUCHANAN at the Greensbarg Mass Meeting, is published in the Pittsburg Post, Pennsylvanian, Washington nion, and various other papers, with high commendation. It is very lengthy, but we shall endeave to make some extracts for our next.

For in stance, if the imports are ten yards of broad-cloth worth $5 per yard, and ten yards of broad-cloth at $3 per yard, the duty upon the piece worth $5 per upon the piece worth $3 per yard. In a word, the ad valorem system is the same which prevails in the ssessment of our state, county, and township the sessessment of our state, county, and the Brautoru, taxes—while the effect of the specific system, if it Bucks, Carbon and Lehigh, subject every acre of land in our county, good, bad, and indifferent, to the same amount of tax .--Here, then, is the difference between the two svstems, in a nutshell. It is needless to remark that if the Whigs had resolved, unequivocally, in favor of specific duties, the Democracy would have given them battle, on that issue, to their heart's content. But the Whig heroes have not had sufficient pluck to screw them selves to even that point; for, as will be perceived, Indiana, their resolution does not expressly affirm the prac-Lancaster, ticability of specific duties, but it merely asserts, with cautious brevity, that specific duties, "when Mifflin. nracticable." should be adopted. It will at once occur, to every candid mind, that if the framers of this resolution had not intended it for a hoodwink, they would have indicated, intelligibly, whether, in their judgment, specific duties were practicable, in any case: and, if so, when, and upon what species of imports. The parenthesis, "when practicable," was doubtless stuck in to destroy the force of its relative "specific"

Nor is the resolution commended to Protection ists by its unmeaning sentence about "suitable encouragement to American industry." But, the fact is, they deliberately resolved to kill the protective principle, and to conceal their guilt, they perpetrated the deed as clandestinely as possible.
