a letter must this have been of Mr. Hector Orr, Printer! What a pity it has been lost to the world! The General concluded by requesting Mr. Orr to send him "the history of the Native party by the Sunday School Boy," and also to consider him a subscriber to his Journal.

But soon there came a frost-a chilling frost. Presto, pass, and Gen. Scott's Native Americanism is gone like the baseless fabric of a vision. that it left no trace behind! The celebrated Wm. E. Robinson, of New York, is the enchanter who

The Whig National Convention of the 7th June, 1848, was about to assemble. Gen. Scott was for the third time, to be a candidate before it for nomination as President. This was an important,-a critical moment. Native Americanism had not performed its early promise. It was not esteemed "an American excellence," even by the Whig party. Gen Scott was in a dilemma, and how to extricate himself from it was the question. The ready friend-ship of Mr. Robinson hit upon the lucky expedient. On the 8th May, 1848, he addresses a letter to Gen. Scott assuming that the General entertained "kind and liberal views toward our naturalized citizens." achieving, in clear of the storage of medicines in gliving ton and strength to the storage, which shad done him no more than justice in attributing to him "kind and liberal views toward our naturalized citizens," he proceeds:—"It is true that in a lized citizens," he proceeds:—"It is true that in a lized citizens," he proceeds:—"It is true that in a case of unusual excitement some years ago, when both parties complained of fraudulent practises, in the naturalization of toreigners, and when there seemed to be danger that native and adopted citizens would be permanently arrayed against each other in hostile faction, I was inclined to concer in the opinion then avowed by leading Statesmen, that concerning the opinion then avowed by leading Statesmen, that complete harmony between the different classes of our people. But later experience and reflection have entirely removed this impression, and dissipated my apprehensions."

The General now seems determined, if possible. to efface from the memory of man, that he had ever been a Native American. His present devotion to our fellow-citizens of foreign birth, knows no bounds. He is determined to calist them under his banner, as he formerly enlisted the Anti masons and Native

ficial business, it seems, required him to visit the Blue Licks of Kentucky; but, yet, it is passing strange, that he chose to proceed from Washing-ton to that place, by the circumbendibus route of the great Northern Lakes. This deviation from a direct military line between the point of his depar-ture and that of his destination, has enabled him to meet and address his fellow-citizens on the way, at Harrisburg, Pittsberg, Cleveland, Cincinnati, and other points, both in Jennsylvania and Ohio—Should the published programme of his route be carried into effect, he will, on his roturn to Washington, from the Blue Licks, pass through Buffalo, and throughout the entire length of the Empire State. Nobody, however, can for a single moment suspect—this would be uncharimble—that his visit to the small and insignificant States of Pennsylvania, Olio nd New York, when merely on his way from Washington City to Kennucky. could, at this particular period, have had any view to the Presidential election. Far be it from me to indulge each a suspicion; and yet it is strange that General Scott, throughout his whole route, speaks and acts just as General Scott would have done had he been on an electioneering tour. He has everywhere bestowed especial favor upon our adopted fellow-citizens; but at Cleveland he surpassed himself, and broke out into a rhapsedy nearly as violent as that in which he indulged in favor of Hector Orr, the Native American printer. At Cieve-land, an nonest Irishman in the crowd shouted a welcome to General Scott. Always ready to seize the propitious moment, the General instantly ex-claimed—"I hear that rich brogue; I love to hear It makes me remember noble deeds of Irishmen, many or whom I have led to battle and to victory." The General has yet to learn that my father's countrymen. (I have ever felt proud of my dese nt from an Irishman,) though they sometime do blurney others, are yet hard to be blarneyed themselves, especially out of their Democracy. The General, unless I am greatly mistaken, will discover that Irish Democrats, however much, in discover that Irish Democrats, however much, in common with us all, they may admire his military exploits, will never abandon their political principles, and desert their party, for the sake of eleva-ting him or any other Whig candidate to the Pres-

ADDRESS of the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania.

DEMOCRATS OF PENNSILVANIA:

We congratulate, we honor, we thank you for the effectual victory you have achieved. The night of doubt and lear has passed away, and 'fair Auro-ra, from her dewy bed, with rosy cheeks.' rises, with beaming smiles upon you. The eyes of your brethren throout the Union were directed towards brethren thro out the Union were directed towards you, and their voices are heard from every quarter, "All hail, Pennsylvania!" The news of your victory has assembled them in spontaneous gatherings, to wake the silent air with huzzas of congratulation, and the water of the Kennebec, the Hudson, and the Alabama, havd been reddened with borfies, lighted in your honor. And well do you deserve the glories which are showering upon you, for the the glories which are showering upon you, for the lighted in your noner. An war in you deserve the glories which are showering upon you, for the Great Constitutional Democratic triumph which, under Providence, you have been the means of achieving, in behalf of our beloved Union. The valleys and hills of Remsylvania were the conceded their characteristic and their ruin. They flatter the manufacturer with the cry of "The Tariff of 1847," and they ask him to support Mr. Graham, per cent. They profess to have utterly abardoned the ideas of a National Bank and a Bankrupt Law, and they nominate to the Presidency of the United States, a man whose "fixed convictions," are favorable to both. They were indebted, for their accidental possession of the government of Pennsylvania and the United States, to a party whom they now repuritate, and seek, with indeent and anti-republican arts, to ensuare the foreign vote. These few,

Give one day to your been ignorant of this fact. Lundy's Lane and Chip. country. Let the second of November be to you a political Sabbath. Be not absent, not one, from the Polls. Duty, honor, call on you. We are bound to re-perform the victory of October. The Democto re-perform the victory of October. The Democracy of Pennsylvania can always do a good thing the second time, and better, it necessary. The enemy is boasting that they will come upon you while you are sleeping upon your trophies. Undecine them. Come out in your might, and the day is yours. Democracy will triumph, and the peace of the University is secure.
