The Printer Wants Money. Now that the Presidential election is over and the Democracy every where triumphant, we hope our patrons will not be offended when we tell hem—we mean those in arrears—that we need MONEY badly. Those indebted for subscription, dvertising and job work, or either, will confer a great favor by paying us what is justly our due .---The approaching Courts will afford a tavorable opportunity to many, who cannot come to town, to end it with their neighbors. Those living out of the County or State can remit by mail at our risk.

The Result.

FRANKLIN PIERCE and WILLIAM R. KING are elected President and Vice President of the United States from and after the Fourth of March next -They are elected, too, by the largest majority that has ever been given at any Presidential election, where a contest was made. That the government, under their guidance, will be administered faithfully and energetically, and in such a manner as will promote the happiness of the people and the welfare and glory of the country, we have not a doubt. It has always been so conducted when in the hands of the Democracy. The people have tried Whig, gery for four years, and find that Whig rulers are utterly incompetent and inefficient to guide the helm; and now they have restored it to Democratic hands where it will remain, in all human probability, for nany, very many years to come.

The election of Gen. PIERCE to the Presidency puts an end to the Whig party, as such. Since the death of Messrs. CLAY and WEBSTER they have no leaders left to guide and manage for them. By adopting the Democratic platform, at Baltimore, in June last, they effectually un-Whigged themselves -committed political suicide-and the inglorious defeat of Gen. Scorr has driven the last nail in their coffin as a Whig party. Henceforth they must follow the lead of William H. Seward, of New York, and gradually become a mere sectional party or faction with Abolition affinities. The National Whigs must, of necessity, do one of three things :- either become Abolitionists, set up for themselves, or join the Democratic party with whose views and feelings on the great question of slavery they more nearly coincide. Which of the three courses pointed out they will pursue, time will determine. But in either case they must last caste as a Whig party, and no longer be able to contend with the great Democratic party of the Huion

Of the thirty-one States of the Confederacy, twenty seven have now ranged themselves on the De mocratic side, and the strong probability is that they will, nearly all, continue in line during th present century. The spirit of Democracy-pro gressive Democracy-is abroad in the land; the young men of the Nation are rallying to the standard of liberal principles, and it is no stretch of the imagination to believe that the Democratic party will go on increasing in strength and influence until there will be scarcely a vestige of opposition left for them to contend against.

Our Old Democratic City. The indomitable Democracy of this City hav covered themselves all over with glory. They poll ed on Tuesday last 1351 votes, being an increase of 148 on the October election, an increase of 196 on the Gubernatorial election of last year, and an increase of 274 on the Presidential election of 1848. 'Tis true the majority is not in proportion to the increase of the vote, owing to the bribery, corruption, brow-beating, and tyranny resorted to by certain leading Whigs ; but it is, nevertheless, 366enough in all conscience to preserve the integrity of our glorious old City, and to show to the world that her Democracy are unconquered and unconquerable. It were invidious to make distinctions between the different wards, where all did their duty so faithfully; but we may be permitted, in an. especial manner, to congratulate our friends in the north-east and south-west wards, on the handsome increase upon their majorities at the October elec-All hail to the 1351 Democratic voters of the invulnerable old city.

The Cause and Effect. We have been a somewhat active participator in seven consecutive Presidential elections, including the one just terminated, but never have we seen any one to compare to this-if we take into account the issues involved and the immense majority by which the successful candidate is brought into power. The great contest of 1828 was not to compare with it, nor was the greater one of 1840. In the first instance Gen. Jackson had but 178 of the 273 electoral votes of the nation, and in the second Gen. HABRISON had 234 of the 294. Both of these results were considered tremendous majorities in the electoral colleges, and they truly were so; but the 274 votes of the 296 by which Gen. PIERCE comes into power, is unprecedented in our political struggles

The people have emphatically spoken, and not without cause. The Federal party, which rode into place four years ago on the shoulders of a successful military chieftan, abused the trust confided to them, as they uniformly do when they steal into power, for which they have been brought to a strict account and fearfully condemned at the bar of public opinion. Nor could the military character and successes of a victorious General save them from the disastrous consequences attendant upon their abuses. Indeed, the tinsel and trappings of their candidate rather accelerated than retarded heir downfall. The people had triedone purely miliary candidate, and found him utterly incompetent to the discharge of Presidential duties, and they could not be induced to again resort to the Army for the chief executive officer of the Nation. In the election of Gen. TAYLOB they saw that a dangerous precedent was about to be established, which, unless nipped in the bud, might end in the destruction of our institutions, as was the case with all the Republics of antiquity, and they were not willing to imperil the liberties of their country, either present or prospective, by entrusting the destinies of the country in the hands of a vain-glorious, weak, but ambitious military chieftan. The fiat of the people has gone forth. ' The race of mere military Presidents is at an end. The country requires a statesman to manage the affairs of the government; and a statesman of enlarged experience has been selected by an overwhelming majority of the free citizens of the Republic. Not only so, but a precedent has been established that, hereafter, statesmen must be nominated as candidates for the Chief Magistracy of the Nation, if the Whig party would even make a respectable show of opposition to the Democracy. Drums and files. fuss and feathers, epaulettes and swords, have had Whig party will look to furnish their candidate for the Presidency.

We are sincerely rejoiced at the glorious result I Tuesday last. It augurs well for the safety and permanency of our free institutions. Every good citizen of every party will "breathe freer and deepr," now that the country is saved from the domi-

We rather guess the party was organized.

117 The highest Democratic vote ever before & C., & C., polled in this county was 6226, which was given to Col. BIGLER at the last Gubernatorial election. At the election on Tuesday last, Gen. CHERRY PECTORAL.-We have departed from ur usual rule in regard to the advertising of Medicines, in admitting the notice of the Cherry Pectoral to our columns. It is not a patent medicine, without the necessity of transferring the baggage but one, the contents of which, are well known to the medical profession, and has proved highly benefinial in the case of a number of our acquaintances who were seriously afflicted with pulmonary complaints. Some of our most skillful and eminent physicans recommend it to their patients in their regular practice, and we feel that we are conferring a favor upon the public by making known its virtues.-Louisville Ch. Closing Moments of Daniel Web-

A telegraphic despatch gives the following incidents attending the closing moments of the "great Statesman :"

Dr. James Jackson left the patient at two olclock n the alternoon. During the early part of the afternoon there was some decrease in the swelling of Mr. Webster's abdomen, and fewer symtoms of nausea; but there were no signs of rallying. Repeatedly in the course of the forenoon, and the early part of the alternoon, he conversed freely and with great clearness of detail in relation to his private affairs and the condition of his farms, sta-ting his plans fully, and the manner in which he wished to have them carried out wished to have them carried out. About half past five o'clock Mr. Webster was again seized with violent nausea, and raised considerable dark matter tinged with blood. Exhaus tion now increased rapidly, and his physicians held another consultation, which resulted in a conclu sion that his last hour was fast approaching.

He received the announcement and requested that the female members of his family might be called in, viz : Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Fletcher Webster, Mrs. J. W. Paige and Miss Downs, of New York; to each calling them individually by name, he ad-dressed a few words of farewell and religious consolation. Next he had called in the male members of his family and the personal friends who have been here within the last lew days, viz: F. Webster, (his only surviving son) Samuel A. Appleton, (his con-in-law; J. W. Paige, Geo. F. Curtis, Edward Curtis of New York, Peter Harvey and Charles Henry Thomos, of Marshfield, and Messrs. Geo. J. Abbott and W. C. Zuntzinger, hoth of the State Departand W. C. Zuntzinger, both of the State Department at Washington—addressing each by name he referred to his past relations with them repectively, and one by one bade them an affectionate fare-well. This was about halt-past six. He now had Mr. Peter Harvey called in again, and s. id to him:---"Harvey, I am not so sick but that I know you-lam well enough to know you. I am well enough to love you, and well enough to call down the richest of Heaven's blessings upon you and yours. Harvey, don't leave me till I am dead-don't leave Marshfield till I am a dead man." dead-don't leave Marshfield till 1 am a dead man." Then, as it speaking to himself, he said:---"On the 24th of October, all that is mortal of Daniel Web-ster will be no more." He now prayed in his natural usual voice---strong, full, and clear---ending with "Heavenly Falter, forgive my sins and receive me to thyself, thro' Christ fema."

Christ Jesus."

At half-past seven o'clock Dr. J. M. Warren arrived from Boston to relieve Dr. Jeffries as the immediate medical attendant. Shortly after he conversed with Dr. Jeffries, who said he could do nothing more for him than ad-minister occasionally a sedative portion, "Then," said Mr. Webster, "I am to be here patiently till
