By invitation, a few of us from neighboring districts were seated at 6 o'clock, Thursday evening, 18th inst., among the hard-fisted Democrats of Conoy, to one of the most sumptuous gratuitous suppers I ever partook of, prepared at the public house of John Filbert. Although the tables were extended diagonally across both dining room and parlor, they could not possibly accommodate all the visitors, until three or four changes. The fare was of the most substantial as well as ornamental description, such as would satisfy the greatest gormandizer or epicure in the country.

mandizer or epicure in the country.

The turkeys especially require some further notice; they were a flock raised by a Whig farmer up the country, and had been engaged by one of the Whig leaders of Bainbridge—perhaps for a Scott supper—some time before. Now, the said old farmer having an eye to business, could not afford to sail they turkey at market price and recipies. to sell those turkeys at market price, and receive full value for his corn; therefore he stilled the qualms of Whiggery and the Scott supper turkies became Democratic, and good ones they were.

After all had partaken of the feast, Mr. Lewis Houseal, of Marietta, was complimented with the uppointment of Chief Marshal; he then named Dr. Lewis Filbert, Jacob B. Hamilton and Henry Dintamon, as Aids, who formed us into a mogrand and imposing torch light procession. The mammoth transparency, depicting the Whig pole raising at Columbia, rigged upon a wagon, taking the lead, followed by the bold Democracy, marching regularly to the beat of martial music, two and two in exact line, bearing large quantities of lights and transparencies. A two horse wagon, hauling a "Salt River boat," loaded with passengers, brought up the rear. In the front of this boat was carried a South & Graban Flag multiple. a Scott & Graham Flag, mutilated, torn in rags and hung in crape. In the stern was a square and hung in crape. In the stern was a square transparency, representing the bill board of a theorem, upon one side the lettering was as follows:

"BENEFIT NIGHT!!—General Scott will appear in his most favorite characters, for the purpose of raising raising funds to defray eqpenses of the balt River expedition. In ventriloquism he stands unrivalled. His voice shall be thrown from North to South, and changed from the 'Rich Irish Brogue to the 'Sweet German ahcent,' &c., &c."

with his canal shovel and "Irish brogue" posite side gave a huge German, in national characteristics, grinding that "Sweet German accent" from a hand organ, &c. When I say this transpa-rency, together with the mammoth one, were the same ones prepared for the Columbians by William Cummins, you will know they can't be beaten .-During the parade we were greeted at regular in-tervals by the booming of cannon from an adjoining field, which was kept up theentire evening, much to the annovance of a few Coons who becar of them did not wait for supper! After passing thro' ashamed to the different streets, the column disbanded at a square in the highest point of the town to witness like a man. a considerable quantity and variety of fireworks.— The rockets were of the first class, and the night being so very dark and calm, the effect was most beautiful. They all rose to a most incredible height before bursting, filling the air with stars, and myriads of sparks, to the great satisfaction, of many democrats miles back into the country who were unable to attend the meeting. When the dis-play was ended, darkness was changed to light by igniting a couple of large bon-fires prepared in advance. They were made by filling an old sugar hogshead with shavings packed tightly—a keg of tar in the centre—all well sprinkled with camphor. The hogshead having no head, and raised a few inches from the ground to give it draft, the flame as-cended to a greater height, at the same time keep-ing compact without trouble until it was burned down.

The folks of Conoy succeeded in all they undertook, and I am satisfied they cannot be surpassed, if equalled, by any of the larger districts in the county—especially during a continuous drizzle of rain the whole evening and mud over shoe deep.

While the fires were burning, a Glee club sang several songs, one of which was the "Whig Pele Raising at Columbia," as being descriptive of the Transnavency which was standing by. Cyrus S. Haldeparency which was standing by. Cyrus S. Halde-inan being colled upon to address the meeting, mounted a barrel (which upon examination proved to be a cider cask, not "X. X.") and gave the following as taken from his own notes prepared an hour or two in advance:

Fellow Democrats-We have assembled this evening for the purpose of rejoicing over our recent political victories—to meet in a social manner and prove by our joy and gladness, the great satisfaction and thankfulness we feel, after being so signally rewarded for our labors in the good old Democratic cause.

The defeat of the Whig party has been so completely overwhelming, that we have in a measure

The defeat of the Whig party has been so completely overwhelming, that we have in a measure become paralyzed as well as the unfortunate soup beys; in fact, so much so, that we feel a kind of restraint in exulting at the death of a foe, and gen erosity prompts us to pity the poor Coons from the bottom of our hearts, and say "Rest in Peace."—But on the other hand, when we look back upon their villainous and unscrupulous efforts to foist upon the American people a Military Peacock as the best man our country afforded, for a civil Magistrate, we. (like the old General,) become "fired with indignation," and cannot still the feeling of revenge or retailation that will lead human nature in defance of our better judgment. To carry the revenge or retaliation that will lead human nature in defiance of our better judgment. To carry the election of Gen. Scott, nothing was left undone by his friends; money lavishly expended, Post Offices and mail bags used as agents, seals and packages broken open to insert circulars and publications; thus flooding the country with false statements, slanderous and most unblushing falsehoods calcuted to deceive the unwary. The most base and humiliating appeals made to Religious sects and denominations, as well as to our adopted citizens, in the vain hope of operating upon their prejudices. Our candidate abused and libelled as a nonentity, a drunkard and a coward: with what success the late election has shown. Their infamous schemes, instead of harming us, have recoiled upon their own late election has shown. Their infamous schemes, instead of harming us, have recoiled upon their own heads. The Peorle have stood up in their might, and proclaimed in a voice of thunder in answer to the Whig question—"Who is Frank Pierce?—so that the Federal party are more intimately acquainted with him by this time, than they were with Jimmy Polk a few years ago. They have also discovered that Military heroes and Gunpowder have had their days in the art of President making, and may now be classed with defunct Coons. An immsonre. now be classed with defunct Coons, Antimasonry Abolitionism, Lob-cabins and Hard Cider.

Abolitionism, Lob-cabins: nd Hard Cider.

Poor General Scott! He who had passed thro'
our late war with England and that of Mexico, with well deserved glory and renown, an invincible hero among balls and bullets, has at last been doomed to meet an inglorious and most shameful defeat in the war of Paper Wads. The onset was determined in front; the "Fire in the rear" so tremendous and incessant that the old veteran struck his flar, surrendered rank and file placing his mendous and incessant that the old veteran struck his flag, surrendered, rank and file, placing his sword into the hands of a man, from away up among the hills of New Hampshire, whom nobody ever knew or heard of before; thus reminding us of the old adage, "Pride, will have a fall."

When the friends of the lamented Daniel Webster placed the motto "Mendie, Principles never," in their club rooms, attle did they expect its truth would be so soon verified in the great spaces of uld be so soon verified in the great success of the Principles of Democracy and the p of General Scott, together with the whole Whig party.

After the October election in this State the Whigs After the October election in this State the Whigs accounted for their defeat by not being able to get out their 25,000 additional votes—but promised their friends abroad to have them all out to vote for Scott in November, and carry the "Old Keystone" with them. This calculation was partially correct, as they polled over 25,000 more votes for Scott than they did for Buffington. Still they reekoned without their host, and lost sight of about the same number of the "unterrified," who also remained at home "threshing buckwheat" in October, but were at their posts in November, determined that the State should give as large a majority for Pierce and King, as it did for Woodward and Hopkint. So, my friends, you see with all their various kint. So, my friends, you see with all their various excuses, the Whig Party has expleded from their own rottenness, or a spontaneous combustion, and are now scattered to the four winds of Heaven. aro now scattered to the four winds of Heaven. Therefore let us unite our voices in shouts of rejoicing, and sing hosanna for our great triumphs. Let us send our remaining enemies up "Salt River" to a man, and there diet them upon Scott soup and Graham bread until they see the error of their ways. In the mean time let ustry and HARMONY be our watchward, and never more shall we be led astray by the trickery of Hard cider and soup-loving Whites. Hoping the Old Gengal will except the sections. ing Whigs. Hoping the Old General will continue his unbounded love for "The rich Irish brogue" and "The sweet German accont," and also discover a direct route to the Blue Licks of Kentucky before taking the voyage up Salt River, we will now leave him to end his days in peace.

Without further detention I will introduce to your acquaintance a friend from Maytown who will Mr. Thomas Albright followed, in as neat and appropirte off-hand speech as I ever heard from one of his youth and inexperience in such matters.-He ran over many of the features of difference he tween the two great political parties, showing that General Scott, although one of our greatest of Military commanders, was not the man calculated for e Presidency, &c.

His flow of speech was easy and ready, and, better still, his whole soul seemed to be in the subject, and every hearer was satisfied that Thomas, will never desert the Democratic cause in the hope of being rewarded for his treason, by the Whigs of Lancaster county.

Peter Emerick of Falmouth then gave, in a most amusing manner, the conversations of several Whigs since the election—describing their appear-

You will excuse your space, but really the Democracy of little Co noy cannot have too much praise or notice; and if ny "Spartan band" are worthy of success over heir political opponents, they are most certainly entitled to the preference.

MATERIAL FOR BUILDING HOUSE'.- The Scientific American, in an article on the cost of materials for building houses, says that a house near Fishkill, N. V. has been constructed, the walls of which are prepared gravel. Walls two hundred and fiftysix feet in circumference, and eleven feet four inches high, cost $79 to put up, and this amounts to as many feet as are employed in a house lorty-five feet long, twenty-five feet wide and twenty-one feet high -two stories and a half. The materials of which the walls are made, are compounded of eight bushels of slacked lime, sixteen bushels of sand, and about sixty bushels of fine and coarse gravel. This wall has stood summer heats and winter frosts and is getting harder and better every day. When stone, wood and brick are high, this is considered a very economical material, especially for the construction of cottages around the neighborhood of a large city. The genius of the Cleveland Plaindealer is about as profound as "Seth Stokes, the man who knew how to manage the women." Hear him :-LOOK OUT FOR THE WOMEN-Young men! keep your eye peeled when you are after the women.—

The Ratleoad Baings at Bridgeport, on the line of the York and Cumberland Railroad, broke on Tuesday noon, while a locomotive was passing over it. The tender fell partly through. Travel was interrupted on the road in consequence of the accident.
