ENGLAND.—The matters under discussion in Parliament possess very little importance.

The House of Commons, on the 11th, passed the Catholic appointment's bill.

The English papers are still discussing the late election bribery case. Two vessels have arrived at Plymouth, from Aus tralia, bringing about five tons of gold.

FRANCE.—It is reported that the Empress Eu genie is already in an interesting situation,

The coronation of the Emperor by the Pope, will take place in Paris on the 10th of April.

A loan of 12,000,000 francs has been made to the Pope to recruit his exhausted treasury.

The consent of Austria and Russia is said to have been obtained to the Pope's visit to Paris for the purpose of crowning the Emperor.

It is stated in the official journal that Louis Napoleon did not join in the collection note for the ex-radition of the political refugees in England.

The Budger has not yet been presented to the Legislature. The members are said to be perfectly lisgusted with the Parliament. The Emperor announces officially his intention of maintaining peaceable relations towards foreign

Austria.—It is stated that the exasperation of the people at Vienna against the English is very great. Lord Palmerston is more obnoxious than ever with the Austrian people and cabinet. The Austrian troops on the frontier near Ticino have been re-inforced and now amount to 15,000

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT IN ENGLAND - It will be seen by the following statement, which we copy from the letter of the London correspondent of the New York Times, that the Protestant sects in England, opposed to the National Church, are to unite their strength upon questions of political and social reform. This writer says:

The Nonconformist body-Independents, Wes-leyans, Baptists, and Dissenters of every denomina-tion, are concentrating their strength with a view to a more active display of their power and influ ence on the social and political questions of the day. The great dinner, in celebration of the formation of the "Milton Club" last week, at which about 400 of the leading Dissenters, including fif-teen M. P.'s, were present, was the commencement of a new movement, and important results may be expected as it progresses. There is not only more union but more intellectual strength among the Dissenters than perhaps at any former period.— The Mialls, Campbells, Burnets, Binneys, and others are men who take strong interest in what is going forward in matters independent of the imm affairs of their sects, and are beginning to rival the Church party in the ardor with which they plunge into general politics. The two first named gentlemen are the able conductors of two newspapersthe Nonconformist and the Banner-both zealous exponents of the aims and interests of the body they represent, to say nothing of various other periodicals devoted to the service of other sections of the dissenting world. Hitherto mutual jealousies, relics of the ancient theological rancor, have kept them apart, but the "Milton Club" is apparently designed to establish a new order of things, and supply the means of general association and facilitate united action whenever it is called for. It will serve also, as a counterpoise to the overweening pretensions of the high church party, and so far help to uphold the cause of religious liberty, which is no doubt best preserved by checking the tendency to preponderance and arbitrary power which seem inherent in all ecclesiastical bodies.

A Tragedy in Ohio:

BOWLING GREEN, OHIO, March 14, 1853 .- A most heart-rending tragedy occurred in this vicinity a few days since. The circumstances, as faras I have been able to learn them, are as follows: A man by the name of Valentine Sage had been for about ten days attending a protracted religious meeting, in which he took a deep interest. On Tuesday evening last, from the exceeding earnestness with which he prayed in the public congregation, some of his friends feared that his reason was about to same, Thomas M. Shauer to Margaret Soller, both be again overthrown. He had once been insane of Earl. for a short time, in consequence of excessive grief at the loss of a son. No symptom of insanity was however, discovered on his way home from church but early on the next morning he went into the f a neighbor and commenced singing; after which he prayed, and particularly for the wife of the man in whose house he was, that she might grace to enable her to endure the great trials that awaited her, &c. Having then informed his triend that he was commanded by the Lord to kill him, and admonished him to prepare for death on that day, he went nome. Soon alterwars he select one of his children by the feet, and dashed her brains out on a log. Throwing the child on the ground he exclaimed, "That child is now happy." His wife, who had just been confined, now sprang from her bed, and attempted to make her escape. She her bed, and attempted to make her escape. She was, however, overtaken by her husband and felled Happily she was not seriously injured. By this time several of his neighbors collected, and the unhappy man was with much difficulty overpowered and conveyed for security to the jail in Perrysburg. He is now a raving maniac but has a perfect knowledge of what he has done, and says his child is in heaven. One could almost wish that his reason may never return while he lives, that he may be spared the anguish which would then overwhelm him. Before this he had been kind to his family, and latterly had been altogether exemplary in his general conduct .- Corre ondent New York Express.

A SINGULAR METEORIC PHENOMENON.—A correspondent of the London Times gives the following interesting description of a meteor which fell over Lincoln, on the 23d ult., and set fire to one of the pinnacles on the centre tower of Lincoln Cathedral. The fire, however, was soon extinguished without injury to other parts of that noble and imposing structure:

"A thaw had commenced in the morning, and the afternoon was bright and sunshiny until about half-past 3 P. M., when the wind, which had been blowing pretty steadily from nearly due west, suddenly veered to idee north; and blew in strong gusts; the sky became perfectly overcast, and there commenced one of the most blinding snow storms I have; ever witnessed. Within ten minutes the barometer fell upwards of a quarter of an inch, and the wind increased to a perfect turricane. At about the wind increased to a perfect hurricane. At about a quarter before 4 P. M., a ball of fire descende upon the centre tower of the cathedral, and burst with a loud explosion, emitting beautiful rose colored fames, and accompanied by a fiah like lightning. No other signs of electricity, in the air either preceded or succeeded the appearance of th

The storm soon after expended itself, and the evening set in cold and frosty, with a cutting north wind blowing heavily, and the barometer gradually rising. At about a quarter past 6 P. M., the cathedral bells rang out the fire alarm, and sparks appeared to be issuing from the north-west turret of the tower. The centre, or Lady Tower, is 285 feet high, with a flat roof covered with lead, and at each angle there is a turret, surmounted by a wooden pinnacle of some 30 or 40 feet high, cased also with lead. On persons mounting to the top of the tower, the north-west pinnacle was found to be in flames. It seemed to have been struck on the north angle, close to where the base of the pinnacle rests on the turret, and the leading casing was violently torn away round to the west angle, exposing the wood work and rafters at the pinnacle; but, besides this, no other traces of the passage of the electric The storm soon after expended itself, and the eve fluid can be found on or near the turret.'

WASHINGTON, March 24—The report circulated extensively about the 4th of March, that the work of the Seventh Census could be finished in three weeks, is likely to explode with its authors. The first act of Mri De Bow, after reducing the force to seven experienced clerks—five Whigs and two Democrats—was to call upon them to examine and report upon the time necessary to complete the

They reported that it would require a force of forty clerks for four months to complete the unfinished work, and the same force for four months longer to complete the work ordered by the joint resolution—making eight months instead of three weeks. These facts have been attested to by Messrs. Irving, Keyser, Baid, Cole and Hollingshead. Whigs, and Dennison and Cousins. Democrate

CONSULSHIPS.—It is stated that the most lucra tive of our Consulships is that at Panama, which is rated at between thirty five and one hundred thousand dollars per annum, Havanna is next, then Liverpool, and alterwards in order come Buenos Ayres, Matanzas, Havre, Alexandria, and Hong Kong. or Canton. The commercial agency at St. Thomas, Danish West India Islands, is said to be worth from six to ten thousand dollars a year.

The following curious paragraph is from the Dumfries (Scotland) Cowier:-Jerome Bona parte, the only surviving brother of the great Na poleon, married in the United States, a Miss Pat potential and the terson, who was a grand daughter of one Robert Patterson, better known in Scotland, and indeed all over the world, as 'Old Mortality.' 'Old Mortality,' by some accounts, was a native, of the parish of Closeburn, Dumfrieshire, though according to others, the parish of Hawick claims to be his birth-place. At all events, he settled, before commencing his well-known wanderings renovating the tomb-stones of the covenanters, in Morton, the adiability arish to Closeburn and matried one Eliz-tomb-stones of the covenanters, in Morton, the ad-joining parish to Closeburn, and married one Eliz-abeth Gray, who was for a considerable time a cook-maid in the family of the Kirkpatricks of Coseburn. 'Old Mortality's' wife, with her children, settled in Balmaclellan, Kirkcudbrightshire, and the third son, John, emigrated to America in 1776, and es-tablished himself at Baltimore. Jerome Bonaparte married his daughter. Truly, truth is stranger than forting! This story, with the excention of the last married his daugnter. Truly, truth as stranger than link, seems sufficiently vouched for by the researches of the late Mr. Joseph Train, of Castle Douglas, the result of which Sir Walter Scott has embodied in his introduction to 'Old Mortalityl, ('Library Edition of the Waverley Novels' vol. v. pp. 5-9.) But though that introduction bears the date of 1829 t makes no allusion to the circumstances that the Miss Elizabeth Patterson, of New York, whom the future King of Westphalia married, in 1803, was the daughter of John Patterson, of Baltimore, and the grand daughter of Sir Thomas Kirkpatrick's cook. And now a descendant of the Kirkpatrick's s Empress Eugenie of France, married to another

A SINGULAR CASE OF HTDROPHOBIA .-- Mr. Ma tin, of this county, informs us of a singular devel-opment of this fearful disease. About three months ago, a favorite mare of his was bitten by a dog sup ed to be mad. The infliction of the bite wa seen by one of the servants and a neighbor, but nothing more was thought of it, and Mr. Martin was not informed of the circumstance. The bit was upon the lips of the upper and lower jaw, of on the left side of the head. From that time up to a few days ago she seemed well and as healthy as usual, except a slight festering in the wounded place A few days before symptons of madness presented themselves, she had been ridden by Mr. Martin, and then seemed to be in excellent spirits and health.— When she first began to develope her ill health, he put her in a large pond or lot; and then learned that she had been bitten at the time stated. She remained in the lot several days before she died, and in the meantime the paroxyems of madness wer terrible. She tore off, on the fence and trough, the whole side of her face which had received the wound, and tore and bit off the flesh from her bones in every part of her body that could be reached.

Just about five o'clock A. M., a heav shock was felt, accompanied by a rumbling sound as if hundreds of heavily laden wagons were passing the street; then followed three other shock which caused everything to tremble to its very cen-tre. It was felt in the neighborhood of Grimsby Jordan, Thorold, the Falls, Queenstown, and Niag ara. At Fort Mississaugua everything reverberated again with a crash. The cause of this unaccountable freak of nature has not as yet been ascertained, but we have no doubt it has had its origin in the Niagara river, or some part of Lake Ontario adjacent to this neighborhood.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction —Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Rockingham county, Virginia, rendered at the October term, 1852, the undersigned, as Commissioners appointed by said Court, will, on the first day of March, 1853, proceed to sell, on the premises, at public auction, the tract of Land belonging to e late Abraham Smith, deceased, and on resided at the time of his death.

the late Abraham Smith, deceased, and on which he resided at the time of his death.

It is situated on both sides of North river, in the counties of Rockingham and Augusta, about 18 miles from Staunton, and 12 from Harrisonburg, the proposed terminus of the Manasses Gap Railroad, and contains, by recent survey, about 1,023 ACRES of exceedingly fertile land, constituting unqustionably one of the most valuable estates in the Valley of Virginia, being, as it is, well supplied with dwellings and outbuildings of the best quality, under good fence, and in a high state of cultivation. There are about 50 acres of first-rate meadow, and as much more can essily be made. A large portion of the bottom land consists of a black regetable deposite from two to sir feet deep, which is equal in its fertilizing properties to the best stable manure.

About half the tract is cleared, and the residue heavily timbered. It will be offered for sale entire, and also in four subdivisions, and the sale confirmed in that way in which the largest sum will be realized. These subdivisions contain severally some oles more than 495, 254, 218, and 55 acres, each poles more than 495, 254, 218, and 55 ecres, each provided with buildings except that of 254 acres. The tract of 55 acres has also on it a Saw-mill and Grist-mill, with good water power.

TERMS:—Bond and approved security for the whole of the purchase money; one-third in sixty ays, with interest from the day of sale; the residue in one, two, and three years, and the title retained till the further order of the Court.
