The feet speaks of hole(1), not money. It requires him to select the goods he wishes to retain, and have them appraised, and pro-perty thus chosen and appraised, shall be exempt from levy and sale. This excludes the idea that he is to have his choice between retaining the property, and demanding the money out of the proceeds. There are sound reasons why he should take the There are sound reasons why he should take the goods or take nothing. The law was made for the benefit of the families of debtors, rather then for debtors themselves; and a family stript of every comfort might not be much the better of ± 300 in the pocket of a thrittless father. Property which appraisers would value at $300, might not sell for the half of it, and if debtors had his choice, it would deprive the cred tors of twice as much property as the law intended to take from them. A convenient the law intended to take from them. A convenient friend could be got to buy it in at a price far below its value, and a part of the money awarded by the Court would pay tor it. CHERRY PECTORAL For the rapid Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTIINA, AND CONSUMPTION.

OF all the numerous measures extant, (and some of them valuable) for the cure of pul-monary complaints, nothing have ever been lound which could compare in its effects with this preparation. Others cure sometimes, but at all times and in all discases of the lungs and throat where medicine can give relief, this will do it. It is pleasant to take, and perfectly safe in accordance with the directions. We do not advertise for the information of those who have tried it but those, who have not. Families that have known its value will not be without it, and by its timely use, they are secure from the danserous consequences of Coughs and Colds which neglected, ripen into fatal consumption. Others cure sometimes, but at all onaumption. The Diploma of the Massachusetts Institute was

The biploma of the Massachusetts Institute was awarded to this preparation by the Board of Judges in September 1847; also, the Medals of the three great Institutes o Art, in this country; also the Diploma of the Ohio Institute at Cincinnati, has been given to the CHERRY PECTORAL, by their Government in consideration of its extraordinary excellence and unsefunces in curing affections of the Lucze and Threet

Bovennia and unsefurness in curing affections of the Lungs and Throat. Read the tollowing opinion founded on the ex-perience of the eminent Physicians of the Port and City of ST. JUHN'S, May S, 1851. Dr. J. C. Ayer.—Five years trial of CHEREY PECTORAL in my practice, has proven what I for-saw from its composition, must be true, that it erad-icates and cares the colds and coughs to which we, in this section, are pect-liarly lub.e. I think its equal has not yet been discovered, nor do I know how a better remady can be made for the distempers of the Throat and Lungs. J. J. BURTON, M. D., F. R. S. WILLIA 1 W. SMITH Washiwgrow, Pa., April 12, 1848. Dear mr --Feeling taal have been spared from the providence of God, I will take the liberty to express to you my gratitude. A cough of the aisrming symptoms of Consumi-tion had reduced me too low to leave me anything like hope, when my physician brought me a bottle of your "Pectoral." It seemed to afford immedi-ate relief, and now in a few weeks time has resta-red me to sound health. If it will do tor others what it has done for me, you are certainly one o their widows and children.

Some political arrests have recently been made in Paris. One man is described as a delegate from London to the Revolutionary committee. The Monitcur contains the perdon of sixty-nine more political offenders, but none of any note.

WASHINGTON, MAY 15. WASHINGTON, MAY 15. HORRIBLE TRAFEDY.—This community has been shocked by an awidi affair that occurred about 10 o'clock last night. Robert A. Hawke, Messen-ger of the General Post Office, cut his wife's throat about an hour after they had retired, completely severing the windpipe and arteries. He then made two cuts at his own throat, but was as he says, prevented from killing himself by his wile knock-ing the razor out of his hand. Their daughter, thirteen years old, occupying an adjoining room, was awakened by the screams of her mother, who jamped out ol bed and ran down stairs. In the mean jamped out of bed and ran down stairs. In the mean while Hawke raised the front window, loudly ex-claiming—" I have cut my wile's throat and my own, and intend to cut my child's." The wife succeeded in reaching the front door, but was unable to speak. The neighbors on entering found ler on the door in a dying conditior, and her husbandstand-ing over her with extended arms exclaiming "On! my wife! my wife! I have cut her throat!"-Their child was screaming from the steps. The wife expired in about twenty minutes. An inquest was held this morning, and a ver-dict returned of " Death by the hands of her husbands he being in a deranged state of mind." Hawke has been arrested and committed. He was houest and generally inoffensive; but for some time past was extremely depressed in his mind. In-tending suicide, he had written a letter, saying that with the world was avainst him, and as he could not all the world was against him, and as he could not live happy here, he wanted all his family to go to heaven with him.

It is a high-ly useful publication and deserves to be liberally patronized. Published at Cincinnati, by JOIN S. Dyr. Price 50 cents

Dur. Price 50 cents CLARA MORELAND.—This is decidedly one of the most interesting novels Mr. Bennett has ever written, and about the only one we have read from begioning to end in a number of years. It is none of the wish-washy, sicky and effeminate produc-tions of the age—but contains substance, with the story well told and thrillingly interesting. While leading the reader over the prairies of the south-west into the haunts of the wild Indians, or among the equally savage bands of lawless white men-the terror of that region, the author presents the remarkable transitions in the fortunes of his hero and heroine, in such a manner as to make them and heroine, in such a manner as to make them probable, although exceedingly startling in their details. The p ot abounds with adventure, and the details. The p ot abounds with adventure, and the reader's interest is kent up from first to last with-out any abatement. The book is published in good style, contains 334 pages, and furnished at 50 cents per copy, by T. B. PETERSON, 98 Chesnut street, Philadolphia.

A RATTLESNARE REVIVAL.- The Syracuse, (N. Y.) Star is accountable for the following :

" In the State of Ohio there resided a family conisting of an old man by the name of Beaver and his three sons, all of whom are hard "pets," who had often laughed to scorn the advice and entreaites of a picus though very eccentric minister, who resided in the same town. It happened one of the boys was bitten by a rattlesnake, and was expectboys was bitten by a lattreament, ed to die, when the minister was sent for in great haste. On his arrival he found the young man very penitent, and anxious to be prayed with. The minister, called on the tamily, kneeled down and prayed in this wise: "O, Lord, we thank thee for rattleanakes; we thank thee because a rattleanake has bit Jim. We pray thee to send a rattleanake to bite John; send one to bite Bill; send one to bite lernake to bite the dl man, for nothing but rattle-snakes will ever bring the Beaver family to repen-snakes will ever bring the Beaver family to repentance 1"

In the spring of youth, when all is lovely and gay, then as the green cover is spread on all the face of smiling na-ture, in brightness and beauty, so let the dress par-take of the senson. Fine taste, as well as lashion, decrees the necessity of nicely adapted garments to age, circumstances and seasons. The man whose head is silvered with age, who feels not the blood of youth dancing warmly in his veina, should not run into extremes of dress, nor yet should he permit his clothing to be so far behind the times as to render him ruliculous. There is a becoming fashionable dress, suitab e for the age and seasons of life as well as the seasons of the year.
