CHIMA .- The Washington Union in alluding to the events in China, says if the ports of that country were thrown open to the world, no other nation could compete with the United States for the commerce of the Chinese Empire, and it regards the present moment as auspicious for the overthrow of that system of exclusion, which has so long shu out of their ports all foreign nations. It says:

"A territory of more than five millions of square miles, four thousand walled cities, a population o three hundred millions, an army of nearly two mil-lions of soldiers, a fleet of a thousand sails, and an annual revenue of two millions of dollars, are some of the evidences of its immeasurable wealth .-Among the productions of its soil, every acre of which is in the highest state of cultivation, are seen nearly all the richest offerings of the vegetable and mineral kingdom. Its manufactures, especially of porcelain and silk, are unsurpassed by any nation. What incalculable benefit would the United States especially of reap from an unrestricted commerce with an em-pire so teeming in wealth! What a market for the product of American skill and industry migh-The surplus production of our agricultural labor would be especially acceptable to a people who. reap a scanty and precarious subsistence from an overcrowded soil.

GHEAT CONFLAGRATION .- The Bytown, (Canada) Advocate of last week, gives the following ac-Portage du Fort, and which extended to the dis-

"We have just been informed informed by a gentleman who arrived from Portage du Fort last night, that a tremendous fire took place in the township of Westmeath on Monday. The fire originated near Beech's post office, and urged forward by the actives the settlement of the property of the settlement o by the northwest wind, it extended for a distance of eighteen miles down the river, burning fences, and blocking up the roads with fallen trees, and doing otherwise a vast emount of damage. We regret to learn that a great number of houses have destroyed around Portage du Fort, with Gould's wharf, the new wharf at Bolton's, Bolton's house, and every article of furniture it contained, and a number of new government bridges.

Our informant, who was travelling by land, states that such was the extent and fury of the flames that he was obliged to take refuge in the centre of a mall clearance, where he had to remain from 9 o'clock in the morning till 5 in the evening, befor he could venture forward with safety. It is easy now to account for the dense smoke with which the town was filled on Monday night. From the account given us, we fear that a terrible amount of lamage has been done.

Portage du Fort is on the river Ottawa, sixty miles north of Bytown, and contains about 800 habitants between Westmeath and Portage du population is thinly scattered and the setlements are chiefly on the river.

FEES FOR APJUSTING WEIGHTS AND MEASURE -As many of our readers may be unacquainted with the provisions of the law requiring the adjust ment of weights and measures, we give a list of the articles required to be adjusted and the fees allowed for the same :

The law also provides that the sealer of weights and measures may make "an additional charge for lead, labor or other materials for adjusting said beams, scales, weights and measures, at the curent value of labor and materials furnished, and no He is required " at least once in each year to go to stores, houses, stalls and offices of the makers, venders and proprietors of beams, scales, weights and measures, and seal the same with the initials of his last or surname, and the curren

ANECDOTE OF SECRETARY MARCY.-The hard pressure for appointments to office under the new administration, at Washington, gives rise to some amusing incidents. The following is told us of the Secretary of State:

" Among the host of besiegers in the pursuit of place was a woman who was extremely anxious that her husband should be made postmaster, in Koons, of East Hempfield. some country village. She was most persevering n her solicitations, in season and out of season,-She stood at the Secretary's door when he came out of his room in the morning; she intercepted him on his way to his meals; she followed him to his odgings at night. On one occasion she remained there unusually late; the Governor listened to her as long as he could, when he requested her to excuse him, but she lingered. At length every genman but one had gone, and the Secretary took off his shoes. Still she stood her ground, quite un-moved. Growing desperate the Secretary finally rose from his seat, and proceeded to strip off his coat: then, turning to the woman, he exclaimed

Beck—a kinsman of the Vice President—a brief account of the last moments of Mr. King. It says—

However, and the last moments of Mr. King is a supervised to the fate which he is the president of the last moments of the last moments. It pleased God during the latter years of his life. "He was quiet and resigned to the fate which he had seen for some time awaited him. Shortly before six o'clock on Monday evening, while a few friends were sitting around his bedside, the only ones he would allow to his sick room, he suddenly remarked that he was dying. The watchers arose to their feet in some excitement, when the colonel said—'Be still—make no noise—let me die quietly.'
He refused to have the balance of his household notified of his dying condition. His physician came n and examined him. The Col. said to him-"Doctor, I'm dying.—It seems as though I shall never get through with it. I am dying very hard Take the pillows from under my head! The pillows were accordingly taken from under his head, but affording him no relief, the doctor turned him from his back to his side, when he died in a mo-

CHANGE IN THE SHIPMENT OF PHODUCE.—The St. Louis papers state that it is difficult to obtain a New Orleans cargo there. Prices are down to the very lowest figure. The river is in fine condi-tion, but boats are frequently compelled to go less than half freighted. The leading staples of the than half freighted. The leading staples of the country, such as tobacco, hemp, lard, corn, whiskey, provisions, and many other articles of grain and produce, are being shipped to the Ohio river, or eastward by way of Chicago and the railroad routes, and thus it is that the business of St. Louis is taking new and almost unthought of channels.—Tobacco. hemp, lead, and provisions by the hun-Tobacco, hemp, lead, and provisions by the hundred and thousands of tons, and grain by the boat load has been sent to the Lakes and the Ohio river, which, by the previous course of trade usually went down the Mississippi to New Orleans. This speaks for railroads and other inland communication, but it augurs no good to the commercial and business prospects of the Southern metropolis. The ascendency of New Orleans over the trade of the Worleans over the tr dency of New Orleans over the trade of the West, in the shipping and forwarding business, is being diverted to other channels.

A DAUGHTER MURDERED BY HER FATHER .-The Memphis Whig reports a most revolting mur der, as having occurred at Hernando, Miss. A man named Robinson, a dissipated and profligate tellow sold a negro of his daughter's, who, when the purchaser came to take the property away, refused to give the negro up. In a fit of anger her father took his gun and fired at her, lodging the contents in her body, inflicting a mortal wound. The girl lived in great bodily pain and suffered until the next morning, when she was relieved from her misery by the hand of death. The murdering fiend fled, and had not since been heard from, although the officers of justice were in hot pursuit

The fashionable circles of Philadelphia have been somewhat excited lately, in consequence of the elopement of the young and beautiful daughter of one of the wealthiest and most distinguished members of the bar. The gay Lothario is a young gentleman recently returned from California. After the loving pair were privately married, the wife re-turned to her father's house, without making known to him her happy position, and having spent a few days in packing up her traps and trappings, quietly slipped off to New York with her liege lord, and they are now doubtlessly enjoying themselves their heart's content—naughty children!

DEATHS.

In this city, on Tuesday last. Hon. WILLIAM JENKINS, in the 74th year of his age. Mr. J. for a number of years held the office of Recorder of the city, and in his day was one of the ablest and most distinguished lawyers at the Lancaster Bar. For last four or five years he lived in retirement. He leaves not a single enemy behind him. Requiescat in pace.

coat; then, turning to the woman, he exclaimed: "Madam, I am going to bed; and if you don't withdraw, I shall write to Mrs. Marcy about you."—
The lady immediately retired—from the room.

Youth, Age, Style, Taste, Beauty and Fashion.—The seasons of life should be arranged like those of the year. In the spring of youth, when all is lovely and gay, then as the green cover is spread on all the face of smiling nature, in brightness and beauty, so let the dress partake of the season. Fine taste, as well as fashion, decrees the present to nicely adapted garments. take of the season. Fine taste, as well as assion, decrees the necessity of nicely adapted garments to age, circumstances and seasons. The man whose head is silvered with age, who feels not the blood of youth dancing warmly in his veins, should not run into extremes of dress, nor yet should he permit his clothing to be so far behind the times as to render him ridiculous. There is a becoming feshionable dress, suitable for the age and seasons ashionable dress, suitable for the age and seas of life as well as the seasons of the year.
