An Eloquent Extract. Few people will deny that Kossuth is one of the greatest orators of the day., The following extract om his late speech in London is really fine. Fancy such language to be spoken to his own people, in their own tongue, and you can imagine the effect it ould naturally produce :

would asturally produce: Why, my lord, has all this occurred to me of account of the little English I know, or in compli-ment of the foreign pronunciation which clashingly hurts the hearing of Englishment I to is that I touch-ed a chord to which there is a thrilling echo in the hearth of the theory is a thrilling the theory of the theory where the theory is a thrilling the theory of the theory of the theory where the theory is a thrilling the theory of the theory of the theory where the theory is a thrilling the theory of the the theory of the the theory of t hurts the hearing of Englishing in Restance in the ed a chord to which there is a thrilling echo in the breast of every honest man. It is because my theme was liberty, the very word of which is enough to to electrify a man's heart and to bring tears of joy or tears of compassion to his eyes. It was because I spoke of my country's virtues and of or its unmer-ited misfortune, and held up its bleeding image to the world--a theme which cannot fail to move man's heart, to make/his blood boil up with execrations against tyrants and with haired toinjustice and des-potism—a theme said enough to make the stones in the street cry out for compassion and for sympathy. [Cheers.] The best thanks, in my opinion, are the pledge which I give yoa in the name of my belor-ed people, that abiding our time, we will endure sufferings, persecution, oppression, but we will not despair. INTERESTING LEGAL DECISION .- A case has been ccently decided in the U.S. District Court at Richnond before Chief Justice Taney and Judge Halyourton, which invoives questions important perhaps to the commercial community.

The case turned mainly upon the legal effect of letters written by the creditor to the debtor, urging the payment of a negotiable note, and asking the debtor to "remit the money" and "forward the amount of the note."

amount of the note." Upon the alleged faith of these letters, the debtor deposited the money in Bank notes, in the mail, in a letter addressed to the creditor in Baltimore; the etter was lost and never came to the hands of the

Nonrh BRITISH REVIEW.—The May No. of this Periodical, from the American re-print of Leonard Scott & Co., N. Y., is received, and from a hasty glance at its contents we think it is fully equal, in unterest and ability, to any of its predecessors.— The defendant also proved that the merchants in Essex were in the habit of remitting money to Bal-more by mail. The plaintiff's counsel relied on a decision of the Courts of Appeals of Virginia, reported in 3 Grat-ton's Reports, in which it was held, in a very sim-ilar case, that no proof of such local custom could be given to affect the creditor, and that a letter di-recung the debtor "to remit the money did not au-thorize its transmission by mail." Chief Justice Taney, in the present case, disap-proved of that decision, and instructed the Jury that evidence might be given of such custom, and was proper, it being somewhat a question of com-mercial usage; that the Jury might, if they pleas-ed, infer authority to remit by mail in this case, that it the creditor used language calculated to misle ad the debtor, it was his own risk; and that if the de-fendant Dun might reasonably have supposed from the circumstances, that the plaintiffs intended to authorise transmission by mail, then the Jury would be justified in finding a verdict for the defendant. The Jury returned a verdict for the defendant. The Jury returned a verdict for the defendant. The Jury returned a verdict for the defendant. The defendant. beat. or the defendant. THE WHEAT CROP-We notice in several of our exchange papers of the adjoining and interior counties of this State, statements of the depredacounties of this state, advantage of the method of the wheat tions committed by the Hessian fly upon the wheat cases, that the crop would not, in consequence, be tore than a half or a third of an average yield. As these statements are annually made at this sea-son, without much cause, we doubted the general correctness of them, from the fact that heretofore these apprehensions of injury were rarely if ever realized. And at this writing we doubt them more than before, inasmuch as on a trip up the railroad Reading, last week, and thence into the interio of Berks county, we could not ascertain or perceive that the attacks of the fly would endanger the abundant yield promised in every direction. We presume, when harvest times comes round-and it

FROM ENGLAND TO CHINA BY LIGHTMING.-A letter from Genoa to the Newark Daily Advertiser states that a company of Englishmen have contracted for building a line of telegraph from London to the East Indies and Canton. The work, it is said, has actually begun, being carried from London to Genoa. The following extract from the letter gives distances between the chief European points, and speaks confidently of the entire success of the undertaking, unless prevented by another war: dertaking, inlies prevented by another war. "The great work is 'already commenced, and the line has been actually made from London to this.city. The government of this country has also just entered into a contract with Mr. John Brett, who represents a large company of British capital-ists-the same which carried the line across the British channel-for carrying it on from the main and as forearis to the larther extremity of the leland

British channel—for carrying it on from the main and at Spezzia to the farther extremity of the Island of Sardinia, in the mickt of the Mediterranean; and France will see that it is continued thence to the province of Algiers, on the coast of Africa. MURDER BY A BAPTIST PREACHER. - The follow ing is copied from the Raleigh (N. C.) Register; a secular journal. It is a horrible transaction. Let-ters were received here last week from Hyde, Tyrrell, and Beautort counties, stating that Washington Carroway, a citizen of Hyde county some filty years of age, and many years a Baptist preacher, lately, on some frivolous pretext, knocked his wile down with a chair and then seized a large stick and con-tinued to beat her, when Lassiter, who was boarding in the house, interfered to prevent her being murdered. Whereupon Carroway took his gun to shoot Lassiter; but he disarmed him and left the house. A few days afterwards, Lassiter chanced to bouse. A few days alterwards, basiler chanced of go by the house, which stood near the public road, when Carroway, seeing him pass, took his gun and ran through his field to cut him off, and overtaking hum in the savaonah, shot him dead; then took his victim and carried him some half a mile into the mud, and stamped him below the surface of the mud overset him over with hush these tan off mud, covered him over with brush, then ran off, made his escape from the country, and eluded pur suit. He has been married three times, and has children by each marriage, and horrible to tell, cir-cumstances have now come out which strongly in-dicate that both of his deceased wives came to their deaths by his hands.

HYDRAULIC CEMENT .--- We learn from the Jersey HIDERAULIC CENERT.—We learn from the Jersey Shore Republican that R. Knox & Co., having se-cured a contract tor furnishing 80,000 bushels of cement for the Sunbury and Erie railroad, between this place and Sunbury, have established a large manufactory, about one mile below that place.— They have four kilns, capable of turning out 500 bushels of the burned argillaceous and dilicous stone of which the cement is made, and dilicous is in intervient the cament is made, and dilicous is stone of which the cement is made.

A steam engine of twenty-horse nower, driving three run of burrs, is used for grind power, uriving three run of burrs, is used for grind-ing the ealcined stone, making it as fine as flour. It is then put in barrels or sacks for use. When properly prepared it is used as mortar in the build-ing of walls or bridge abutments, and either above or under the water, quickly hardens to the solidity of stone. We are glad to learn that the enterpris ing gentlemen who have undertaken to furnish this eement, have also secured heavy contracts with the Williamsport and Elmira Railroad Company.-Lycoming Gazette.

CONSUMPTION. Of all the numerous medicines extant, (and monary complaints, nothing have ever been lound which could compare in its effects with this prep-aration. Others cure sometimes, but at all times and in all diseases of the lungs and throat where medicine cán givo relief, this will do it. It is pleasant to take, and perfectly safe in accordance with the directions. We do not advertise for the information of those who have tried it but those who have not. Families that have known its value will not be without it, and by its timely use, they are secure from the danserous consequences of Coughs and Colds which neglected, ripen into fatal consumption.

GRAHAN'S MAGAZINE, for July is already is-sued, and a perfect gem it is. The engravings are very fine—the principal one, "Would you like a Mate ?" we think could not be surpassed anywhere. 3CT LAFITTE, THE PIRATE OF THE GULF, by J. H. Ingraham. We are indebted to Dewitt & Da-venport, Publishers, No. 160 and 162, Nassau St., N. York, for this admirable historical romance which has had such a tremendous run with the American reading public. It is truly a splendid twork of fiction. At first deeply interested in the character and fortunes of the young Achille, you follow breathlessly his career, and the course of his hapless passion for the pure and beautiful Con-stanza, until suddenly the whole billiant drama of the closing scenes of the second war of Indepen-dence, and the bloody panorama of the battle of New Orleans, are brought before us. We have, mo-ving as it were before our syes, Gen. Jackson, La-fitte, Governor Claiborne, the treacherous Legiala-ture of Louisiana, %c., %c. The interview be-tween Governor Claiborne and Lafitte, in New Or-leans, and the death scene of the latter, by the hands of his brother, are thrillingly eloquent.— The work is for sale at our Bookstores. DESTRUCTION BY GBASSHOPPEBS.—A gentleman from Somerville, in Lower Makefield township, infrom Somerville, in Lower makenein townson, in-forms us that the grasshoppers are very destructive in that vicinity. The fields are crowded with them to such an extent, that a person passing over them drives the insects up before him in perfect clouds. Several fields that our informant had seen, were almost entirely stripped of their crops of clover. He also states that he had the curiosity to count the number of the insects on a rail in the fence. He found it to contain between two and three hundred ! found it to contain between two and three hundred ! On another rail, he presumed there were at least free hundred !
