Are they Madmen?

We extract the tollowing compound of blasphe my, treason and infidelity, from the speeches made at the recent annual meeting of the New England Anti-Slavery Society.

These infamous extracts are samples of the grea mass of the speeches delivered by knaves, fanatics and bedlamites, assembled on that occasion, which fill some four closely and finely printed columns of the New York Herald:

HENEY C. WRIGHT now took the platform, and several old ladies commenced very coolly, to take out their knitting work. Whipple, the essayist, came in and took a good seat. Mr. Wateen commenced by saying that he wat an atheist to anything which sanctioned slavery. attensit to any Gou that sanctioned slavery-that he was a traitor to any government that sanctioned slavery; he would spend his money and life to oversnavery; he would spend his money and hie to over-throw such a God and such a government. The day is past when we should look to obey such a God and such a government. The day is past when we should look to attributes or titles. He had not respect for the name of God in the mouth of a warrior, a slaveholder or a rumseller. The whole point is, has any human being a right to say to any other human being and kill him if t do it? That's the basis of American slane don't do it? Inat's the baais of American site very. Mr. Wright proceeded to iterate his old ar-guments on this point, and finally came down upon Hale, Chase, Giddings, et al. He wanted them out of Congress; he wanted them to go out among the wanted by the fore softers to do. he don't do it? people; he wanted all the free soliers to do so. In closed by recommending a convention to be held this summer at Pittsburg, to form a contederacy on the basis of no Union with slaveholders.

PARKEH PILLSBURY now came forward, and was received with mingled hisses and applause. out circumlocution, he proceeded to ass With to assail the Union, in the bitterest manner, and said that the free party ought to know that the compromises of 1820 and 1850 were of no account when compared with the damnable compromise which united the North and the South. (Hisses.) He said, also that Franklin Pierce, John P. Hale and Winfield Scott stood upon their platforms like high priests, while the sacrifice of three millions of bleeding slaves lay bound and burning at their feet, to be offered at the shrine of our glorious Union. They all swore to the South as fast as one million wa burned, another should be thrown in. He could not see the difference between the three platforms. It is of little consequence where Pierce was-it is of no consequence where Scott was-, (a laugh) and not much where Hale was? Mr. Hale made only three published pamphlet speeches in the Sen-(Loud and long continued applause.) When he (Pillsbury) said : "Some or car friends seemed rejoiced when I say Webster's speech will never be forgotten. Do they remember Alexander Pope's

"See Cromwell damned to everlasting fame."

(Hisses, groans, laughter and applause.) He proceeded to quote from Hale's speech, to show that the New Hampshire Schator upheld the consti-tution, and suid: "Somebody here wished that Wendell Phillips might be sent to sit with Sumner in the United States Senate. May God spare us from such a dispensation. We have spoiled one good man, and I was glad to see Edward Everett go, for he had been spoiled before. (Hisses and three cheers for Everett.)

A passenger named Hayward, suspecting that the mate had been tapping the brandy cask, and had allowed the spirit to ignite, stripped off his coat, jumped down and pat his thumb in the hole to prevent the escape; but the hole being large and rough, the brandy continued to flow, which ig-itting, the bue flame, ran up his arn and set fire to his shirt, hair, and clothes. At this juncture Cap-tain Jenkins jumped down to his assistance, and prevented, with the aid of a bucket of water, Mr. Hayward meeting with a horrible death. The pumpe being got into operation, hose were laid down into the lower hold, and stream of water brought to play on the cask on fire, the passengers passing down wet blankets and wet sails to throw over the fla-ming spirit, which partl/ overflowed the deck. By these arrangements the fire was extinguished, and the brandy cask got on deck. Hød it not been for Hayward's heroic conduct, the brandy casks must soon have burst, there being not less than two hun-dred and seventy casks and cases stowed along with it, nothing could have prevented the instant destruction of the ship and the 240 souls on board. "The hotel occupies 33,000 square feet of ground, has 370 rooms, easy accommodations for 550 per-tons, and capable of lodging 800. There are 130 male and female employees, divided into a dozen different departments, each have a responsible head, such as dining, rotundary, office, porter, kitchen, bakery, &c. The amount of lood daily consumed is enormous; 400 lbs. of animal food, 600 lbs. flour 100 lbs. butter, 100 doz. eggs, 6 bushels of potatoes and 50 gallons of milk. The asparagus for last ost $30. Lights cost nearly $6000 per annum. Water spouts into almost every room in the house, at an expense to the landlord of $360 per year. To cook all this food and keep so many people warm, it takes 600 tons of hord coal, 7 cords of wood, and $1000 worth of charcoal."

He affirms that alter death, when the pulse has stopped, the heart is still and the body is insensible to pain; by producing artificial respiration, by inflating the lungs, the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started anew, its life revived, and the blood can be started and one of them had his chest open-ed, with his heart, lungs and stomach, &c. exposed. NOT FAR FROM THE TRUTH .--- Mrs Swisshelr asserts in the Pittsburg Saturday Visitor, that it is extravagance and improvidence, and nothing else, which keeps the laboring classes in the power of capital. The way to become independent, contines Mrs. Swisshelm, is, " for every man to live on half his wages, or less, if possible, until he buys and pays for an acre of ground, fences it, builds on it a house large and close enough to shelter himsell and tamily from the winter storm. This is his fort. Then let him take all the time he now spends in taverns and other lounging places, to lay in a store of amunition and provisions, in the shape of useful knowledge gleaned from books and papers, and grape vines, trees, potatoes and cabbages grow-ing in his enclosure. If he plants every foot of it with something pleasant to the eye, and good for food, no tyrannical employer can starve him into

Dear Sir: You ask me for my opnion of "Silver's Mineral Paints," which you have put on my Machine Shop and Planing Mill. I give you with pleasure my full and hearty recommendation of it as a preventive of Fire communicating from Chimneys, or form adjoining buildings. The Paint which you put on my roofs, has now become as hard as slate, and I feel as secure from Fire, in this direction, as is possible. A few weeks after the roofs had been painted, I made an experiment on two or three shingles by placing them in the furace under the boilers; the result was, that the portion uncovered was entirly consumed, while the painted paint winch was apparently sound, though upon examination Wanted. 300 Cords Spanish and Chesnut Oak Bark, for which the highes ed at their Tannery in West King st., Lancaster. mar 8 tf-7] KONIG MACHER & BAUMAN. the boilers; the result was, that the portion uncov-ered was entirly consumed, while the painted part was apparently sound, though upon examination the wood was found to be charred; the Paint how-ever was firm and but little blistered.
