RUSSIA AND TURKEY.—The Eastern difficulty is within a few days of being settled, either for peace or war. The public generally look on the state of affairs as less satisfactory.

The present position of the question stands thus:
Until the 10th or 12th of August, the Czar's final answer to the ultimatum of the four powers, (Austria, France, England and Prussia,) cannot be known.
If he accepts that ultimatum, his troops must be immediately withdrawn from the Principalities, and the Conference at Vienna pursuing its arrangement, will conclude a Treaty to protect Turkey in all time coming. If the Czar reluses the ultimatum of the four powers, or evades a reply (which will be considered equivalent to refusing it,) the Allied fleets will be ordered sto the Bosphorus, if not further, and active measures will be taken by France and England to maintain the integrity of their ally The question, therefore, is on the point of solu-tion for peace or war. The choice rests solely and wholly in the personal will of the Emperor Nicho-Until the 10th or 12th of August, therefore we must totally disregard all rumors either favorable or unfavorable. No one but Nicholas himself can know what his intentions are, and the multitude of statements télegraphed from Vienna, Paris and elsewhere, are for the mere purpose of influen cing the markets. At the same time, it is right to state that the OBERLIN, O., July 28th, 1853.

HORRIBLE MURDE R IN OHIO.—Last Wednesda evening a most revolting murder was committed about three miles east of this place. The facts as far as I can learn are as follows: A man named Fullman, a quarrelsome character, had basely slandered a diss Barber and another young lady. The brother of Miss Barber and a Mr. Lovell, the lover of the other slandereu girl, took the matter up.—Yesterday morning they went to Fullman's to talk the matter over. He repulsed them with learful threats, and became desperately enraged. They left him and returned to their work. After supper last evening, one of the parties proposed that they take their rifles and go over to Fullman's and frighten him. Acting in accordance with the proposal, far as I can learn are as follows: 'A man named en him. Acting in accordance with the proposal, en him. Acting in accordance with the proposal, they took their guns (a rifle and a shor-gun,) and started. On arriving they found Fullman and his wife in a field, raking hay. Lovell advanced to him and said: "Well, I've come to have it out!"—Fullman seized a pitchfork and made a desperate plunge at him—his wife clinging to him shricking and endeavoring to prevent his striking Lowell.—He succeeded in wounding him in three places with the fork. Enraged beyond control at this, Lovell fired his piece—missing F. and lodging the ball in his wife's head, wounding her dangerously—perhaps mortally. He then handed the empty gun to Barber to reload, took the loaded gun and started for home—Fullman following with his pitch fork. for home—Fullman following with his pitch fork.—
After going some distance, Lovell turned round exclaiming "D—n me if I don't shoot you anyhow."
He fired and Fullman being but two feet from him, eceived the whole charge in his side—tearing him n a horrible manner and killing him almost instantly. He leave a family of three small children. The murderers were immediately arrested. They appear cool and sell possessed not seeming to realize their terrible situation, or the horrible tragedy they have enacted. Mortality in New York. The New York Herald, of Thursday, has the fol lowing record of deaths in that city, which in the absence of any epidemic, is truly frightful to con template: One hundred and twenty-one men, seventy-two vomen, two hundred and twenty-six boys, and one hundred and sixty-six girls—making a total of five hundred and eighty-five persons—died in this city during the week which ended on Saturday. This shows an increase of fourteen cases upon the aggregate mortality of the foregoing seven days, which was considered as being very high. There is no epidemic, and the character of the prevailing disease remains unaltered, as the pre-disposing causes—eat-ing unripe fruit, crowded lodging houses, and nox-ious exhalations from sundry collections of filth still continue unchecked and unabated. The over-powering heat of the last two days has swelled the catalogue fearfully; but the record will not show the gross number of deaths from sun stroke until next Saturday. Forty-eight adults died of diarrhea. thirty-five of dysentary, forty-eight of consumption twenty-six of the various fevers, one of Chagre fe ver, and thirty-five of inflammatory diseases. O violent and accidental deaths, we had two cases of suicide, four of drowning, three killed by sudden fractures of the limbs, and fifteen by sun-stroke eighty-six children died of cholera infantum, thirty five of convulsions, thirty-one of dropsy in the head nine of small pox, and thirty-five of marasmus. Two hundred and nine of the entire number were under one year of age, and three hundred and sev enty-seven had not attained to ten. Two hundred and sixty-nine persons died in the five up town wards, and eighty-five in the five down town wards ide of the Rio Grande. DISCONTENT IN CANADA .- The Montreal Chron icle argues that there can be no such thing as a contented colony. Self government or independence is ecessary, it holds, to give satisfaction. We quote:

"In this colony, a tew years ago, the French population were dissatisfied. All power belonged to England and a few pet colonists. The provincial assembly was composed principally of persons who ould only legislate upon their o. n grievances.-Public improvements were lost sight of, immigra tion interfered with, and the public education glected in view of these grievances. All these, after much expenditure of fustian were ultimated summed up in the celebrated ninety-two resolutions an appeal was had to arms, and a deleat, equivalent as it has temporarily turned to a triumph, was the consequence. But of what avail in the way of producing contentment has been the result of placing the government of this country entirely in the hands of the priesthood of Lower Canada? Assuredly it has been of no avail whatever. It has nly had the effect of making the previous contents, the English inhabitants of the province, noncontents. It produced the annexation manifesto. It has led to a cry for the Union of all the provinces. The province is as intemperate, as unruly, as dissatisfied as before, the only difference being that the whole English population is aroused against "nos institutions notre langue et nos lois," and perceives in the home government a defender of the Catholic faith n Canada. This is to be regretted. But how can it be remedied? A union of all the provinces would assuredly annihilate French supremacy, it might not make the provinces more British. "Canada is becoming powerful, and will be free. She insists upon liberty of speech, and will toss from her those little men now in authority fancy they can withhold it from her. bourne Argus writes in the same strain for Australıan Independnece."

ARREST OF A FUGITIVE SLAVE AT CINCINNATI. ARREST OF A FUGITITE SLAVE AT CINCINATI.

—CINCINAATI, August 16.—A man named George McQuery alias Wash, was brought to this city last night from Piqua, claimed by Honry Mills, of Kentucky, as a fugitive slave. The colored people gathered in large numbers round, the Galt thouse, the fauther was recorded by the IL State. where the fugitive was guarded by the U. States Marshal and a posse of police, and exhibited much feeling, but dispersed upon being assured that the prisoner should have trial to-day.

This morning the fugitive was brought before Judge McLean, in the United States Court, where the case was heard and adjourned till to-morrow. The evidence was decidedly in favor of the claim of Mr. Mills, the fugitive having confessed being his slave. The attorneys for the defence seem to rely upon the unconstitutionality of the law. law.

The payments into the New York Sub-Treasury are said to be enormous. According to the latest accounts, the balance on hand was over $8,-500,000. It is calculated that before the month expires, it will be equal to the whole amount of specie in the New York Banks. The New York Express, alluding to the subject says: These immense importations are exciting much attention in financial circles. The Government, however, are doing all they can to alleviate the pressure of the Treasury hoard on the commerce of the country, as we perceive by the circular of the Secretary of the Treasury that he proposes to tenders of Federal stock of 1867 and 1868, to the amount of $5,000,000, between the present tin and the first of December next, which are to be li quidated and redeemed with the addition of 2 per cent, premium. COUNTERFEIT INSWRANCE COMPANY .- Two men named H. M. Reed and A. J. Cards were published giving a list of officers, and quite a considerable amount of money was received in the shape of premiums for insurance on property in Pittsburg. Inquiry having been made in Boston on the subject, the Pittsburgers have just become aware that the whole concern is bogus. The fellows have both disappeared from that vicinity.

sees public support by the fold avowal of the sentiments which are common to the genuine Democracy of the Union, and by the condemnation of all such as may conflict with them, from whatever quarter they may come. It will seek to be (and it will endeavor to deserve the title; the organ of the Democratic Parts of the United Street. he Democratic Party of the United States The Sentinel will maintain a fundamental truth of that great party, that the States formed the Union between them by the ratification of the Constitution as a compact, by which also they created the Federal Government, and delegated to it, as their common agent, the powers expressly specified in it, with an expicit reservation of all others to the States, or to their separate governments. The exercise of any powers beyond those thus delegated is, therefore, a usurpation of the reserved authorit of the States by the agent of their own creation.

The Sentinel will uphold and defend the Unio upon the basis of the rights of the States under the Constitution; and thus by sedulously guarding the latter, it will the more effectually strengthen and perpetuate the former.

With regard to the exercise of the powers of the Federal Government, the Sentinel will take as the principles of its action that Congress shall exercise no power which has not been delegated by the Constitution according to a control of the constitution. stitution, according to a strict and fair interpreta tion of its language and spirit; and that it shall no seek to attain indirectly an object through the exer-cise of constitutional power, for the direct attain-ment of which it has no delegation of power. In other words, all powers exercised must be clearly granted, and all granted powers must be used to no purpose except such as is clearly intended by

In respect to the internal administration of the Government the Sentinel will sustain the settled policy of the Democratic Party. It will labor to inculcate the cardinal doctrine of Democratic i inculcate the cardinal doctrine of Democratic internal policy; that this Government will best promote the freedom and prosperity of the people of the States by being less ambitious to exercise powand more anxious te preserve liberty, and by leaving to the individual States the management of all their domestic concerns, while it contents itself with guarding the Confederacy from external violence, and directing the foreign policy of the country to the promotion of the common interests and defence of the common rights and honor of the States composing it.

essentially aggressive. In the growing sense of weakness of some of the nations of the Old World, and the ambitious restlessness of others, a common motive to colonial extension has developed our settled determination to repel interference from abroad with our own domestic concerns will prompt us to avoid it in the affairs of other countries, unless, by their foreign or colonial policy, our peace should be threatened, our security endangered, or our interests invaded. For when the selfish interests of other nations prompt a foreign or colonial policy, which infringes upon our rights and places in the pathway of our commerce a dangerous and untriendly rival, such a policy must be resisted by remonstrance, and, if need be, by war. Our foreign policy should, indeed, be defensive; but to be properly defensive, it must sometimes be apparently aggresive. Our Administration should out to be properly defensive, it must sometimes be apparently aggresive. Our Administration should be vigitant, watchful, and energetic. The world is full of important movements, commercial and political, deeply concerning American trade and American power. It is time we had an American foreign policy. We must have it. We cannot avoid it if we would. We have larger interests, and a greater stake in the world and its destiny, than every other people. We occupy the best portion of greater stake in the world and its destiny, than every other people. We occupy the best portion of a continent, with no neighbors but a colony, and a worn out, anarch al despotism. We are the only people whose own land, without colonial dependencies, is washed by the two great oceans of the world. Our agricultural productions are more varied and more essential to civilized life and to human progress. our mineral and manulacturing reman progress, our mineral and manulacturing re-sources more vast, our lacilities and capacity for internal and foreign commerce more extended, than those of any other people living under one govern-ment. A continent, to a great extent unexplored and exhaustless in its yet hidden wealth, is at our feet. European trade seeks the great East through avenues which are at our doors, or must be made through our own limits. Europe, Asia, Africa and the Isles of the sea, lying all around us, look to us as the rising Power through the agency of whose oxample and ever widening and extending though peaceful influences the blessings of liberty, civilization, and religion, are destined to triumph over barbarism and superstition of the millions of the world. And shall such a people refuse to lay hold upon their destiny and act upon the high mission to which it is called—a mission so full of hope, though so laden with responsibility, which, if properly directed, must make our confederacy the harbinger of peace to the world as well as the peaceful arbiter of its destiny? ful arbiter of its destiny?

The Sentinel will therefore advocate a bold and earnest foreign policy, such as the condition of the country demands; but it will advocate it under the flag of the country, nowhere else. Its foreign policy must be consistent with the spotless honor and unimpeachable good taith of the Country. To be respectable at home and abroad, and to be great in the eyes of the world, it must ask for nothing but what is right, and to submit to nothing that is wrong. It must be liberal and magnanimous to the rights of others, and firm and immoveable in insier. rights of others, and firm and immoveable in insistng on its own. It must in fine, be true to its own ing on its own. It must in fine, be true to its own interest, rights, and honor; it cannot then be false to those of other nations.

Such, then, is the chart by which we shall be guided. Independant and free, we shall endeavor go be honest and truthful. The true friends of tDemocratic principles, we shall cordially support and defend. Its enemies in the fields or in ambush we shall oppose and on all proper occasions denounce.
