TURKEY AND RUSSIA.—The Eastern question has started into fresh life and increased uneasines regarding the final issue of it.

The Paris Moniteur, of the 27th announced officially that the Porte had accepted the propositio of the Vienna Conference, with some unimportant modifications in the wording of the document.

by this annoucement, and on the 27th a sort of semi-panic was produced by an article in the De bats, portessing to give the substance of importar alterations which have been made by the Sultan. If the version of the Debats be correct, the not would have to be entirely remodelled, and it mus be considered very doubtful whether the Empero would accept the alteration.

Thus the negotiations would have to commer

Against this view of the case, and as an evidence of the more pacific appearance of the affairs, we find in the London Morning Chronicle, of the 31st ult., a telegraphic despatch from Vienna, stating that a courier reached that cily from Constantino ple, confirming the statement that the verbal alteration to the note of the Four Powers was geally in significant, and that the Porte had addressed a note the ambassadors of the Four Powers, stating its dignity required such modifications, and that the Sultan would send an ambassador to St. Petersburg simultaneously with the evacuation of the

The London Times of the same day publishes a despatch from Bucharest, dated August 17th, to the effect that the Austrian Consul General, having received despatches that the Oriential question was settled, the Russians would evacuate the Principalities in September, and in Paris it was stated that the fleets of England and France would thereupon return to Malta and Toulon.

in the Senate, in February last, thus conclusively answered the "military argument" now urged as a pretext for undertaking by the general Government, e construction of the proposed Pacific Railroad
"I know that it is said that this road is for military purposes, and we hear of its being finished in five years. Why, how much of the New York & Erie Railroad was made in a year? Did it average a hundred miles in a year, or seventy miles a year I am told not. Upon this point, however, I will: not speak with certainty; for I have not been able to obtain any precise information in regard to it; but am informed the average was not seventy miles a year. Is it to be supposed that through such a country as that between the Mississippi and the Pacific we can construct a road at a more rapid Two thousand miles in five years, four hu dred miles a year, at an expense, it may be of $100, 000, or even $70,000 a mile! Why, that would be twenty-eight or forty millions a year! Could we expend that much moneyfor such purpose in a year. Could we raise it? Could we find the labor and men, and the means for executing it? Sir, the thing is impossible. It we accomplish a hundred miles a year-if we accomplish the work in twenty years it would straiten our treasury; it would strain every nerve to do it: and by that time, and long before it California aud Oregon will be so filled up as to put at naught any threat of invasion by any power which is strong enough to injure us. Before that railroad is fine-hed there will be people enough on the Pacific side to detend themselves against any threat of invasion. In ten years-aye, sir, in five years-it will be absurd on the part of any foreign power which has strength enough to injure them, to talk of invading them, as it would be to invade us on this side of the Mississippi. So far as military purposes are concerned, the road in my opin: ion, is not necessary. It might be convenient, but nothing more. Why, before it could be accomplished, there would be people enough, and means enough, and wealth enough on that side of our n, to detend it against assault which might be threatened. It we make this road, I venture to predict, so far as military purposes are concerned, we shall have much more trouble in defending it than in defending California. We should

The influenza is speeduly removed by this remedy. Numerous instances have been noticed where whole families were protected from any serious consequences, while their neighbors, without the Cherry Pectoral, were sufficing from the disease. Consequences, while their heighbors, while the Cherry Pectoral, were suffering from the disease.

Salem, Ohio, June 11th, 1001.

Dr. J. C. Ayer:—I write to inform you of the truly remarkable effects of your Cherry Pectoral in this place, and in my own family. One of my the charge of the property where in the case of my this place, and in my own family. One of my daughters was completely cured in three days of a dreadful Whooping Cough, by taking it. Dr. Means, one of our very best physicians freely states that he considers it the best remedy we have for pulmonary diseases, and that he has cured more cases of Croup with it than any other medicine he ever administered.
