DEATHS.

In East Hempfield twp., on the 20th inst., Mary Becker, aged 75 years 27 days.

In Conestoga twp., on Tuesday last after a long and severe illness, Henry H. Gall, aged about 40 years.

In Paradise twp., on the 6th inst., Christain H. Shertz, aged 70 years.
On Sunday last, in Fulton twp, Mrs. Jackson wife of Morris Jackson.
In Columbia, on Saturday morning last, after a protracted illess, Reuben Mullison, in the 55th year of his age.

Again the searching sting of death has plucke from our midst a noble and honorable citizen, Allen S. M'Phail, in whom were imbedded principles tending to elevate him to future greatness and honor .-Captivated by the silvery voice of hope, he was in duced to leave his happy home, to sacrifice his at tachment to parents dear and friends that were near to his heart, to sacrifice all that was near and lovely to his soul, to seek the object of his hope in southern clime; but just as the rose bud of his life had bursted forth in all its beauty, the power of dis ease handled it too rudely—the exhilerating leaves of life became faded, they withered and droopedthey died. Alas! how often are we deceived by the powers of imagination? How often is the sur of our life, our hope, overshadowed by dark and threatening clouds, and life takes flight on the wings of death into eternity. Truly may we say our lite is a silvery stream, flowing gently along and un-able to prognosticate its future course. It is pre-cipitated ere we are aware of it over the mysterious precipice of eternity. Vain, deceptive transitory life. Truly in the "midst of life we are in death." Bright plans are penciled out for life's hap piness; the imagination pictures beautiful pathways strewed with tragrant flowers, but no sooner do we place the foot within their bounds than the silvery cords of life are grasped by the powers of deat I we are laid low neath the green sod of earth Again, I exclaim, O ! vain deceptive transitory life how uncertain the time of thy flight, how quickly thy powers fade, how soon we droop and die Life is but a brittle shell

Which death soon breaks in twair; It's nowers we cannot repel, To even try were vain. Strasburg, 1853.

I have satisfactory evidence that a majority of the Delegates then chosen pre-ferred me either as their first or second choice.— But I discovered on their assembling here, on Tuesday evening and Wednesdaymorning, that a conspiracy had been formed to combine all the acy had been formed to combine accom-andidates against me. Their delegates, with culty, were induced to follow their direction Seeing the will of their constituents about to be disregarded, I determined to withdraw from their decision, and appeal to the people themselves, in whom I have confidence; and I now announce myself as a candidate for your suffrages, and shall remain so until you have recorded your judgment on the 2d Tuesday of October next. the 2d Tuesday of October ner
