Foreign News.

The following items' we glean from the intelli gence brought by the Niagara, which arrived at Thursday afternoon

THE TURKISH WAR .- For the present, all hostilities are suspended between the Russians and Turks-the high flood in the Danube preventing active operations. When the frosts set in it is ex pected the fighting will be resumed.

New attempts at reconciliation have been made by the French Emperor. The French Minister at London has returned to Paris with a draft of a treaty, agreed to by France and England, and the powers were to be invited to join. It is said that both the Russian and Turkish monarchs are anxious for peace. The latter has sent Faud Effendi as imperial commissioner to the army on the Danube, to restrain the ardor of Omar Pacha, and thus give diplomacy another chance. Some skirmishing still continues to take place in Europe and Asia, generally resulting in lavor of the Turks. The Grand Duke Michael has been appointed commander of the Russian army of reserve, to act against the Circassians.

IRELAND .- The weather was every where favorable for agriculture. A company had been chartered at Cork, for the manufacture of flax.

FRANCE.—The Emperor and Empress are to be coronated on the 27th of January. There is still a scarcity of breadstuffs, notwithstanding the immense importation PORTUGAL .- The Queen died in child-bed, as also her infant. The union of Spain and Portuga is again talked of.

AUSTRIA,-The Emperor of Austria is to be married on the 29th of April. BREADSTUFFS DECLINING.—At Liverpool

Cotton remains unchanged.

THE 'KEYSTONE' AND COL. FORN EY .- The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Argus, thus sums up the causes of the Harrisburg Keystone's bitter hostility to the administration in general and Col. FORNEY in particular:

In a former letter I referred to the Harrisburg Keystone and its bad attack upon Col. Forney, It appears that Barrett, the editor of that newspaper, was an applicant for the office of Postmaster at the Capital of the State, in which application, how ever, he was unsuccessful. 'Hine lacryme, him ever, he was unsuccessful. 'Hinc lacryme, hine causa belli.' This is the origin of his bitter oppo sition to the administration, and the cause of his attacks upon the clerk of the former House of Representatives. Besides this, he has been writing a the behest of Cameron, whose creature he who is bitterly hostile to Col. Forney, for his expose, as editor of the Pen:sylvanian, of the other's political tergiversations.

I the march, 1.155, that the Globe, originated in the mind of the father of his country. He said :-"It is to be lamented that the editors of the dif-forent Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with one which Irenat Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical declamation which few would read if they were apprised of their con-tents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as well as the de-cisions, would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgment." Sparks<sup>3</sup> Writngs of Washington, vol. 10, p. 84. In surrendering my interest in the organ of a great political party, I cherished the purpose of continuing the Congressional Globe, and, if possi ble in time, to derfect it into a full hingory of the action of Congross, giving the debates accuratel and fully with the proceedings—all stamped wi the variety of an official record. From the passa of the letter of General Washington, which I hav quoted, it will be perceived that he thought this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the less important kind greatly, contributes to give wings to the weightier matter which may be called Congressional news. Having succeeded in any purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving them abroad, in connection with the news of the day, in srch haste as shall outstrip full and accu-rate intelligence sent from the seat of government in any other form whatever. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers, (for instance, of the city of New York,)the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the

In an appendix. Formerly received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix sepa-rately. But this has not been found satisfactory, inasmuch as it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress; and therefore I have con-cluded not to sell them apart, considering that neighbors can have the advantage of both by club-bing in case individuals shall flud it too onerous to be at the charge of both what they are represented to be, as they are man-ufactured under the immediate superintendence of he subscriber. The following is a list of prices of some of the be at the charge of both.

WILLIAM HENSLER. nov. 8 tf42 shall be construct to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage. Approved, August 6, 1852. As I sell the Daily Globe at half the price of similar publications, so the Congressional Globe and Appendix is sold for half the cost of so much composition, press-work and paper. This I can afford to do, inasmuch as the subscription of Con-gress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper.
