Vouth, Age, Style, Taste, Beauty and Fashion.—The seasons of life should be arranged like those of the year. In the spring o youth, when all is lovely and gay, then as the green cover is spread on all the face of smiling nature, in brightness and beauty, so let the dress partake of the season. Finc taste, as well as fashion, decrees the necessity of nicely adapted garments to age, circumstances and seasons. The man whose head is silvered with zer, who feals not the whose head is silvered with age, who feels not the blood of youth dancing warmly in his veins, should not run into extremes of dress, nor yet should he permit his clothing to be so far behind the times as to render him ridiculous. There is a becoming fashionable dress, suitable for the age and seasons of life as well as the seasons of the year. You can be suited in handsome style in clothing that is well and fashionably made, of good materials that will fit well and become the figure and season, at the fit well and become the specific specif
