Vouth, Age, Style, Taste, Beauty A and Fashion. The seasons of life should be arranged like those of the year. In the spring of youth, when all is lovely and gay, then as the green cover is spread on all the lace of smiling nature, in brightness and beauty, so let the dress par-take of the season. Fine taste, as well as fashion decrees the accessity of nicely adapted, garments to age, circumstances and seasons. The man whose head is slivered with age, who feels not the blood of youth dancing warmiy in his veins, should not run into extremes of dress, nor yet should he rimit his clothing to be so far behind the times as render him ridiculous. There is a becoming shionable dress, suitable for the age and seasons of life as well as the seasons of the year. besuited in handsome style in clothing that is well and iashionably made, of good materials that will fit well and because the figure and season, at the great Clothing Bazar Of JOSEPH GORMLEY,
