Sr. Lours, July 1, 1854.

On Saturday last, the Benton patty held their primary elections in this city, and nomingated their ticket for the Angust election. The gentlemense lected are among the most prominent of that wing of the Democracy; although they are not the exact stuff the managers desired for the ticket, yet they say it is very respectable and worthy of their support. My opinion is that it is the best ticket in the field—composed of more talent; and the gentlemen composing it more persevering, and in every particular better qualified to discharge the duties of the various offices. On the Legislative ticket I notice the name of an old Laricaster county Democrat, but who has been residing in this city for a number of years. This gentleman is Mr. John H.
Lightner—a man of intelligence, of perseverance, and of enterprise; he is well known to the citizens of this place as such, and will no doubt add much to the strength of the law.

It has been said that considerable practised at the primary elections, and I have also heard it remarked that this would be the last time the candidates were chosen in this manner, and I would not be much surprised if the system was again changed. There were fifty six candidates running for the different offices, and twenty-six places to be filled. Col. Benton, for Congress, and Jas. Gastello, for jailor, had no competitors. were four candidates up for County Marshal, one of whom was Henry F. Watson, the Benton candidate for the Post Office, of this city, and although Mr. Watson is a man of considerable ability, and with the requisite capacity for filling either the of fice of County Marshal, or that of Postmaster, ye I am sorry to say, tell short of a nomination. P. B. Reily was one of the tour candidates for Sheriff-this gentleman was also an applicant for the Postmastership, after it was ascertained that Mr Watson could not have it; het too, was delea ed by a majority of his own party. This gentle-man was also deteated at the last August general election for County Recorder, and also for a half dozen other offices within the last eighteen months. It is astonishing how hepers ists in running for of fice, and imposing on the Democracy year after year, and I should think the Democratic voters have plainly and often enough rejected him to satnim that they know him not.

Now the political ball in Missouri is fairly opened, and the wire-workers and wire-pullers are ex pected to dance to the music of their different fid-dlers. This music, which now seems cheerial and consoling, will be to many, on the day following the election, sorrowful and sad. . A new Administration paper called the Daily Pilot, made its first appearance on last Monday .-

It attacks Col. Benton and his followers most unmercifully, and is expected to do good service in The weather during the past week continues in tensely hot—the thermometer ranging from 96 to 100 deg. The cholera is still lingering among us, though not as an epidemic. Some of the towns on the Missouri river have been almost entheir midst. There is more cholera, according to the population, in those towns than there is in St. Louis, and it might be well to say, that our city is comparatively healthy for the season of the year. On Tuesday last Mother terrible affray took place on board the steamboat G. W. Sparhawk, whilst lying at our Levee. The facts are these: A man by the name of Kelly, second engineer on the hoat, was at work in the engine room below, warn the cabin boy was washing out the rooms above, the water leaking down upon the machinery at which he was engaged. Kelly went up and requested the boy to wait until he was through with his work; the boy gave him some impudence, and Kelly slapped his tace. After dinner Kelly was met by the first and second stewards, who said they intended to have revenge for striking the lad. The first steward was armed with a piece of iron about 18 inches long and the other with a pistol, both rushing on Kelly, who retreated to the pantry, and just as the steward was about to deal him a deadly blow with the iron, Kelly grasped a carving knile and stabbed him to the heart, killing him instant-ly, when the other steward discharged his pistol at Kelly, the ball passing near his lace; at this Kelly d on him and inflicted several severe wounds with his knite, when they were separated by the officers on the boat. The first steward's name is Edw. A. Dedieman, and the second John Hyland. who, it is thought, will recover. Kelly gave himself up, and as it is evident he acted in self defence. will no doubt after an examination, be acquitted Jackson, the murderer of Laidlaw, has at last been arrested. Information was received in this kuk they procured a wagon, and with the Sheriff of Monroe county and several others as guides started in pursuit. When they arrived within a few miles of Clark's house, where it was supposed Jackson was to be found—in fact they felt satisfied from the description received from one of the neighbors that it was him—one of the party who had been sent 'abead, and who was to meet them at a certain point and conduct them to the house, arrived. The evening was cold and the rain poured in torrents, and i was agreed upon that they would visit Clark's house that veryevening. Accordingly they arranged the time so as to be there between ten and eleven o'clock that night. When the proper hour arrived they started, and reached Clark's house, which was a small cabin containing only one room, a short ime before eleven. The party proceeded cautious ly, the latch was raised and they entered the room in which were two beds. Having been previously informed of the condition of the cabin, and the precise location of the two beds, it had been agreed upon between them that as soon as they en-tered one should strike a match and light a candle, which they had with them, while the others old secure the parties in the two beds.

As soon as they entered, Clark awoke and asked who was there, and was immediately answered "Friends." The light was struck, and Clark and his wife were lying in one bed, while Jackson was in the other. The officers recognized him ately, and he appeared to be last asleep. Officer Clunk aroused him and called him by name, and at the same time officer Heman slipped Jackson was very calm, and seemed to under stand their mission at once, and begged them not to say a word to his step-brother about the causof his arrest, and stated that he would go along with them peaceably. He was taken out of bed and dressed himself, while his step-brother, Clark, dum founded at the and his wife seemed utterly suspicion of the crime for which Jackson was ar rested, and at his own request they were kept in ignorance. Jackson, by the way of comforting them, stated with a good deal of confidence that he knew all about it, and would make it all right

As soon as he was dreesed, the party started with their prisoner, and traveled all night through

On the road he stated that he happened to be "caught napping, or the result might have been otherwise," as he had a shot-gun close by his bed-side heavily loaded. He had been working with his half-brother in the manufacture of brick. He had no money, and had piedged his watch and jowel-ry along the road for means to pay his passage.— He said that whilst he was at Chicago, seated in the cars an officer entered with a dispatch in his hand, containing his description &c., passed thro' the cars and examined the male passenger;—came so close to him that he actually read the dispatch in the officer's hand, and he observed that his name was spelled wrong, although it had his de-sion. Although, it is true, he had a narrow es-cape, yet he has gained a world-wide notoriety, and wherever he may go with his balloon will be greeted by thousands.

Tremendous Conflagration! The Chinese Museum—National Theatre—Thirty Stores and Twenty Dwellings—Laid In Ruins— Whole Square Burnt-Loss Over One Million-Reported Loss of Life-Several Firemen Injured. About half past ten o'clock last night a fire was discovered coming from the carpenter's shop at-tached to the National Theatre in Chesthut street below Ninth, opposite the Girard House. Mr. Callahan, one of the Mayor's special officers, as soon as he discovered the fire, rushed to the tront of the Theatre and gave the alarm. He begged the audience if they wanted to save their lives t leave the Theatre at once. One of the actors step ped to the footlights and assured them that there sons and forcibly ejected them from the Theatre The audience attracted by the vehemence of Mr. Callahan in his noble efforts in urging to leave the house, soon became panic stricken, and rushed to the doors in the wildest confusion. He was, we believe, the oldest enter in the United States, and continued to possess all the vigor of youthful thought and diction to the last efforts of his pen. His death will be heard with regret everywhere—for he was universally esteem-ed as an honest and upright man. The Washington. Star, in announcing his death says:—

Take heed, then, that you are not misled.

It is a singular fact, says the Mobile Register, in this connection, that wherever the elections have been determined by the influence of the Know Nothings, it has been claimed as a Whig victory by papers of that political complexion. Nor has this been an emty boast. It is undoubtedly true, that the Democrats have been generally defeated in these contests. The explanation of this phenomenon is simple. The Whig party is no longer a great national organization, with principles and measures to commend to the people. Without exception, every issue for which it once contended, has been laid aside as experience demonstrated its unsuitableness for the age and the people. It is now distringuished by a greed for office and an uncompromising apposition to the Democratic nenon is simple. The Whig party is no longer a uncompromising opposition to the Democratic party. To overthrow their successful rivals, and party. 10 overtnrow their successful rivals, and thereby to gain possession of the offices of the country, is he grand object of Whig leaders and their Whig followers. Unaided by other factions, they could never achieve this result, and therefore they are driven to the alternative of courting the smiles of every band of malcontents who set themselves against the Democracy.

22 South Wharves, 3d door above Chesnut street, july 11 3m-25 Philadelphia. A Valuable Farm for Sale.--The subscribe.

A offers his farm at private sale, containing ONE HUN DRED AND TWENTY SEVEN ACRES AND A HALF of DIED AND TWENTY SEVEN ACRES AND A HALF of limestone land, eighteen of which are in timber—situate in Upper Leacock township, Lancaster county, adjoining lands of Isacc Bard, Benjamin Rohrer, the Church road and the New Holland and Lancaster turnpike. The land is of excellent quality, rich and productive in grain and grass crops, having been heavily manured and limed for many years. It is divided into ten fields, besides a young bearing APPLE ORCHARD of choice fruit. The whole farm is under good substantial fence, chiefly locust posts with pine and chesnut rails.

The improvements are a THREE STORY BRICK ANSIGN HOUSE, white coated in the best manner; the rooms on each floor arranged to secure comfort and convenience; a well built cool cellar under the whole building; also, a kitchen and winter sitting room with sleeping apartments over both;—a never failing room with sleeping apartments over both;—a never failing room with sleeping apartments over both;—a never failing spring of pure water and a good well and pump in the yard; also a Cistern of twenty hogsbeads capacity at the kitchen door. Also, a STONE BARN, 120 by 48 feet, divikitchen door. Also, a STONE BARN, 120 by 48 feet, divided on upper floor into six bays or sections, two of which are threshing floors and large garners, all of the best material and in good order. On the ground floor there are forty stalls for cattle and eight for horses.

The property is beautifully located in a healthy neighberhood, and is convenient to Churches and School Houses.
Further description is deemed unnecessary, as the property can be viewed and every information obtained from my son, Mark Connell, jr., who resides on the premises.— Part of the purchase money may remain on the land, if desired. Title good, and no incumbrance.
