It occurred on the 19th of August, about ninety-five miles east of Fort Boise, on the Jeffers road. The train consisted of five wagons, under command of Mose Kirkland, from Louisiana. They were met by eleven Indians, who accosted them in the most friendly manner by shaking hands. Three men who were in the rear of the wagons, after speaking with the Indians, turned to go and were fired at.
One was killed and another wounded. The wounded man has since died. Their names were George Lake and Walter G. Perry.

They were from Iowa, and both left families who are now on their way to Washington territory. The whites fired and killed two In-The Indians now retired to a distance, still continuing their fire. At a distance of three hundred yards, they wounded a young man from Illinois by the name of E. B. Cantrel, who died from his wounds several days afterwards. The whites in their fright gave up their horses, five in number, upon which the Indians retired.

Another correspondent, writing from Fort Boise, says:
From what I can learn there is a determination what I can learn there is a determination of the same ation on the part of the Snakes to kill and rob all who may fall into their power. They say the Americans have been continually telling them that unless they cease their depredations an army would come and destroy no such thing has been done, and that the Americans are afraid of them, and say that if we want to fight them to come on.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA. -- We have nine days-later news from San Francisco, by the arrival at New York of the steamer Northern Light, from San Juan, with $564,405 on freight. The news has thus been carried by the Nicaragua route in 20 days and 12 hours from San Francisco to New York. The excitement relative to the Meiggs fraud had given place to others, in consequence of itbeing satisfactorily ascertained that although Meiggs was a great swindler, forger, and defaulter, and left behind immense defalcations, he carried away with him comparatively but little money. In a letter written by him, he states the amount to be not more than $10,000, but it is believed that he had about $50,000 Smyth Clark, the late Mayor's clerk, who had been arrested, charged with unlawfully de-taining about $300,000 of the funds belonging to the city treasury of San Francisco, ha given no satisfactory information of the missing funds. The California Chronicle says that notes of hand, amounting to $190,000 have been, or probably will be, accounted for by him: but of $113,000 of Comptroller's warrants, no account whatever can be obtained Meanwhile, Mr. Clark remains in custody. They must have a nice set of officials there; for it appears that besides Meiggs, the City Comptroller, and Clark, the late Mayor's Clerk a third one, Hamilton Bowie, late Treasurer of the city, has been arrested upon affidavits made by the Mayor and present Treasurer, charging him with having appropriated to his own use $336,000 of Comptroller's War-rants. In consequence of these great frauds, bills were pending in the City Councils to fund the city debt, and conduct the future financial operations of the city on a cash basis. The Wreck of the Steamer Vankee Blade, at the last dates, had drifted on shore, leaving the engines in about eleven fathoms water.

M. M. BALLOU, who has edited the "Pictorial" from the commencement, having bought out the late proprietor, Mr. F. Gleason, will conduct this popular and widely circulated paper on his own account. The new volume will be radically improved in every respect, and will be published on timer paper than ever before, which quality will be continued henceforth without change. Many new and popular features will at once be introduced, and the literary department will present an array of talent and interest beyond anything it has before attempted. The filtustrations will be finer, and by better artists than have before been engaged upon the paper, and altogether the publication will be vastly improved and beautified.

Arrangements have been made for representing during the year views of the most notable buildings and localities throughout the United States, as well as giving likenesses of the most prominent characters, male and female, of artists and men of genius, such as have by their own industriated and a control of the most prominent characters, male and female, of artists and men of genius, such as have by their own industriated and a control of the most prominent characters, male and female, of artists and men of genius, such as have by their own industriated and the of themselves a fortune and a name—in addition to these, various notable secones and occurrences will also be given from week to week, forming a brilliant illustrated journal.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A cure for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Brouchitis, General Debility, and all Scrofulous Humors. This compound has been used with the most complete success by our most celebrated physicians, for the removal and permanent cure of the above disease. Hundreds for whom there was no hopé before the discovery of this simple, yet, effectual remedy, have been raised to health and happiness by its timely use. The following case of J. Williams is sufficient to convince all of its wonderful effects. He says; I had been sick with confirmed consumption for several months. I had used the clear Cod Liver oil most of the time, but had derived but little benefit from it. I had an attack of bleeding at the lungs, which alarmed my friends very much, as they now supposed there was no hope for me. About this time I heard of your Compound of Cod Liver oil and Lime. I immediately commenced using It, and soon began to perceive its beneficial effects. In two months my cough had whitely left me, and I am now enjoying perfect health.

Truly yours.

Windsor, C. W., June 28, 1852.

J. C. Ayer.—Dear fir. This may certify that I have used your Cherry Pectoral for upwards of one year, and it is my sincere belief that I should have been inmy grave ere this time if I had not. I thas cured me of a dangerous affection of the lungs, and I do not overstate my convictions when I tell you it is a priceless remedy.

Da. J. C. Ayer. My Dear Sir.—Your medicine is much approved of by those who have used it here, and its composition is such as to hissue and mantain its reputation—I invariably recommend it for pulmonary affections, as do many of our principal physicans.
