The Policy of Nicholas to be fully Carried Out

NO PROSPECTS OF PEACE

BREADSTUFFS DECLINING

THE WAR STRUGGLE TO GO ON

NEW YORK, March 27.

The Steamship Atlantic has reached wharf, with Liverpool on the 10th.

Her arrival confirms the death of the Czar Nicholas, and announces that the 2d son, the Emperor Alexander the Second, ascended the throne, having peacefully succeeded his father.

He has issued a manifesto stating that he will adhere to the policy of his father Nicholas.

The Duke and Princess and the other brothers and officers have taken the oath of allegiance to the new Emperor.

It is expected that the diplomatic instructions issued by Gortchakoff for the negotiations of the Peace Congress, and the preliminary conference has been held in Vienna.

The Emperor Nicholas, prior to his death, had recalled Mentschikoff, and appointed General Gortchakoff chief in command, Osten Sacken second in command, and Gen. Luders in command in Bessarabia.

The Emperor Alexander has appointed General Rudimer Minister of War.

The confirmation of the news of the death of Nicholas created the utmost excitement all over Europe.

Hopes were entertained at first that peace would be the consequence of Alexander's accession. But that hope has been abandoned.

His announcement that he will follow the course of his father.

The debate in Parliament held the columns of the English press have been exclusively occupied with discussions on the recent event.

Still Later from Europe

The Steamship Arctic arrived at Halifax on Thursday night, with six days later intelligence from Europe.

The allies have reopened their fire upon Sevastopol, and another great battle was daily expected.

The new Emperor of Russia is inclined to push the war with vigor.

The following manifesto was issued by him to his army, dated St. Petersburg, March 25.

My dear Warriors—Faithful defenders of the Church, the Throne, and the Country—it has pleased Almighty God to visit us with a most painful and grievous loss.

We have all lost a common father and benefactor.

In the midst of the glorious war, and in the midst of glory, the Russian army, the Emperor Nicholas Paulovitch, my most blessed father, has departed into eternal life.

His last words were:—I thank the glorious Lord, God, who, in 1825, saved Russia, and who has now saved me, and I pray God to maintain my courage and spirit, and who has distinguished me with the honor of the Russian crown.

So long as I remain to uphold Russia, her tranquility is secured both within and without, and I will be true to my duty.

I love my troops as my own children, and I will be true to my duty, and I will be true to my duty.
