Sr. Louis, Jan. 14, 1866.

I have just returned from a visit to Chicago, and must say, was agreeably disappointed in the place. By this visit I have been fully convinced that Chicago is entitled to all, and more, too, of the many flattering noticle giren to it. No city, perhaps, in the Union has made such rapid strides to wealth and greatness as that city. When we consider that a few years ago Chicago was but a mere village, and now a great and populous city, we can scarcely realize what our own eyes can see. Its population now numbers upwards of 90,000, and daily increasing. They have a great many wooden or frame houses, it is true, but at the samé time can boast of some of the finest and largest buildings in the West—brick and stonare fast superceding wood, and in a few years the latter will be entirely abandoned. You cannot go in any part of the city but what you will see hunireds or new and substantial buildings going up, and become at once convinced of the future greatness of that young city. Improvement is visible in every direction, and the proper spirit and enterprise seem to characterize its citizens, and no distant day Chicago will rank among the first cities of the west.

They have just commend that a decomption of the fact of the west.

They have a great many wooden or frame houses, it is true, but the commend at two ties.

OUGHT TO BE DEFEATED.—The Rock Island (Ill.) Argus, in rejoicing over the defeat of a candidate for a Judgeship in Michigan, says: "a man who will take a newspaper four or five years and then refuse to pay for it and swear he never had it, deserves defe ago will rank among the first cities of the West.

tiful appearance at once attracts the attention of the stranger. Everything about this building is convenient for the purpose for which it was intended, and finished in the most magnificent style.

The public houses of Chicago are constantly prowded by the many travellers and strangers arriving on the cars from all sections. It is atmost incredible, and no one can have the slightest idea of the extent of railroad lines centering at that point. There are in the neighborhood of seventy trains arriving and departing daily, and they are generally well tilled with passengers. ell filled with passengers.

I paid a visit whilst to the famous public hous called "Young America," and everything connected with it is conducted in a most superior style. The building itself is the most magnificent I have ever building itself is the most magnificent I have two seen, and furnished throughout in the most elegant and costly manner. Chicago is not seen until you drop in and take a peep at "Young America!" In speaking of public houses, I must not forget to mention the "sherman House," as being one of the mention the Sherman House,? as being one of the best in the city, and travellers would consult their own interest and comfort by making that their stopping place when visiting the city. Everything in and around the city is frozen up, in consequence of which business is very much depressed. They had most excellent sleighing whilst I was therq. I will now proceed to give you a brief outline of my adventures on the prairies. On Monday morning at 9 o'clock we left Chicago for St. Louis, with the theromometer at 15 deg. below zero. A great deal of snow was on the track, which threw us somewhat behind time. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon we encountered the snow-drifts, and stuck fast. We were now out on a prairie and six miles distant from what behind time. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon we encountered the snow-drifts, and stuck fast. We were now out on a prairie and six miles distant from the town of Pontiac. Here our engine froze up, and here we were on a prairie in the face of a violent wind. As luck had it we were well supplied with wood. Our "signals" were set out in the snow to prevent trains from either way running into us.—The following we were in the same place—no train or no one coming to our assistance. About a mile distant we discovered a house, and several of us made our way through the snow to it, for the purpose of getting food and water. On our arrival, and after explaining our situation, the man of the house very kindly profered all the provisions he had to those suffering for food; but, as every thing was either buried or securely put away, it was 1 o'clock before our meal was ready, and 1 felt like eating everything within my reach—for 36 hours had expired without tasting a mite or drinking a drop of water. We returned to the cars refreshed, and reported progress, when a general rush was made to ported progress, when a general rush was made to the good old man's house—standing solitary and alone on an open prairie. The hauy of the house cooked until she was so tired that she was obliged to give it up, but kindly offered us, all she had i

we could get cooks to prepare the meals. Fortunately there were five ladies on the train—three of them volunteered and waded through the snow to the house, rolled up their sleeves and went to work; but volunteered and waded through the snow to the house, rolled up their sleeves and went to work; but long before the passengers were supplied with a meal each, the provisions gave out, and many had to go without. To give you an idea how cold it was, I will relate one fact—the milk and sugar froze on the table whilst we were eating, and the gravy froze on the plate that contained the meat. About 5 o'-clock a locomotive hove in sight, and after many ineffectual attempts to reach the train—froze in herself. Another engine was dispatched to our relief, and after taking the frozen in engine some four or five miles to a switch, returned after us, and succeeded in drawing us within four mites of Lexington, when she, too, froze up. Here we were without a stick of wood and none to be had nearer than Lexington. It was now about 8 o'clock at night—and I think the coldest one I ever experienced. Those of the passengers, or rather some of them, becoming desperate for the want of food, started on foot for Lexington, and a more thoroughly set of used up men could not be found—some had their noses and face frozen, others their feet, legs and hands—before reaghing the town. Our wood, as I said before, was completely out, and the only alternative left was to burn the seats of the cars; but, about I o'clock at night, and after several of the seats had been burn ed, a wagon arrived from Lexington with wood and provisions—two larges isted cheeses and two sacks of orackers; the cheese was so badly frozen that we then thaw it on the stove before it could be eaten.— Those who never eat cheese before, eat and relished it upon this oceasion—cheese was on our boots—cheese was on our clothes—in our hair—in our pockcheese was on our clothes—in our nair—in our potents and our stomachs—cheese was on the floor, on the seats and on the stove, and in a word, cheese could possibly get. One engine after another was dispatched to our assistance, and eight of them froze up before reaching us; the ninth one, however, managed to draw one or two of the others into Lexington where they were again fixed up, and again sent on their mission, and about two o'clock Wednesington where they were again fixed up, and again sent on their mission, and about two o'clock Wednesday afternoon we were drawn into Lexington, and reached St. Louis on Thursday afternoon, satisfied that the next time we visit Chicago we shall endeavor to avoid the St. Louis, Alton and Chicago railway—particularly if in cold weather. The thermometer at Lexington—protected from the winds—stood at 30 deg. below zero, and it could not have less than five degress colder on the open prairies.— I almost forgot to state that the cheese and crackers above alluded to, were sent to us at the expense of the Railroad Company.

About a week since the river "blocked up" opposite this city, and the ice is now very heavy. Pedestrians and teams have been crossing for several days. The ferry boat has a channel cut through which it runs, conveying freight, &c. to and from the city. The weather has been quite cold here during the week—thermometer ranging between 10 and 25 deg. below zero, but is now moderating.—Some 5 or 6 persons have froze to death in the city during the past week.

The late Railroad Law passed by the Legislature over the Governor's veto, is now the cause of much talk. The Governor has imagined that he has found over the Governor's veto, is now the cause of much talk. The Governor has imagined that he has found a "mare's nest," and declares the Law unconstituonal. Steps, however, are being taken by several the Railroad Companies with the intention of testing the constitutionality of the law before the Supreme Court.

The Printers of this city are making preparations for a grand supper on the 17th inst. in commemoration of the forthcoming anniversary of Franklin's birth-day.

Miss Matilda Heron is now playing an engagement at the "St. Louis Theatre," and the troupe of Spanish Dancers have just concluded one at the "People's"—to be followed this evening by Mr. Mc Allister, the Magician.

The steamship Mediator was burned at Diamond

Bend on the night of the 4th inst. Boat and cargo a total loss—insurance on vessel $15,000. No lives were lost.
The Legislature of Mississippi is now in session-both branches are Democratic, and in all probability the Hou. Jeff. Davis, present Secretary of War, will be chosen U. S. Senator. He is a candidate for the office.

The Wisconsin Legislature is also in session. Bash-

The Wisconsin Legislature is also in session. Bashford, the defeated Republican candidate for Governor will contest the election of Gov. Barstow. Bashford called on Gov. Barstow in the Legislative Chamber, and demanded possession of the office.

The Indiana State Democratic Convention met at Indianapolis on the 8th, and nominated A. P. Willer lard, for Governor. The second day's proceedings have not been received.

The Benton Democrats and Anti-Benton Demo-

The Benton Democrats and Anti-Benton Democrats of this city met on the 8th, and each appointed delegates to the State Convention to be held in Jefferson City on the 4th of April next. Thus far there is no probability of a union of the two wings—the Know-Nothings are, rejoicing at this division in the Democratic ranks.

The territory of Kansas is now quiet. The Free State Constitution has been adopted by a large majority. The territorial officers and delegate to Congress are to be elected to morrow (the 15th inst.) It is now believed that the "border ruffians" will not penetrate the territory farther than the river towns, and a disturbance at those towns is apprehended.—So far as their vote is concerned, the remaining towng will greatly overbalance. The worst is now towns will greatly overbalance. The worst is now over in Kansas, and the future will be more pleasant and agreeable to the settlers than the past. Let all those who design making Kansas their luture homes, loss no time in government of the 'ruffians' as Gen. Atonion has withdrawn from public life—he is no longer a candidate for U.S. Senator or any other office either State or National—he is a more sensible man than his warmest friends took him tobe.

Voirs truly.

SIX RAILROAD ACCIDENTS .- We publish this morning, says the New York Times, the re-port of six Railroad accidents, on the lines between this city and Chicago, and a majority of them are of a serious character. Still another accident occurred on Tuesday afterternoon, on the Hudson River Road, which injured a man so severely that he is not expected to recover. Another occurred on the Harlam Railroad, by which a woman's neck was broken. Two occurred on the New York Central, and one not far from Chicago. An extraordinary number, even under existing circumstances which are very much against safe travelling. There does not seem to have been anything of importance elicited by the jury having in charge an investigation into the cause of the accident at the Spuyten Dunyvel Bridge, which was not previously known. A high wind and tide, and an unusual accumulation of ice, are the only causes given for the occurrence of the accident. We would advise all who desire to travel Westward, if they value their lives, to travel over the Pennsylvania Central Road, instead of taking the chance of either being killed or drowned on the New York Roads .- Penn'n.

PLOUGHING Snow .- Last week they were ploughing down the snow in the streets of Boston in order to make it level.

The "Reading Adler," last week entered upon its sixtieth year. This is a great age for a newspaper to attain, but not too great for such an excellent paper as the Eagle. It is without exception the best Democratic Ger-degrees below zero at St. Paul's, Minnesota, on the 24th ult.

A LIBERAL SALARY .- One of the Presbyte rian Chu ches in New Orleans offers the Rev Dr. Rice of St. Louis, $7000 per annum, if he will become their pastor. Wonder if he will accept?

THE LAST.—Usual Knapp, the last survivor of Washington's Life-Guard, died at Newburg, N. Y., on the 10th inst., aged 99 years. In the time of Henry III of France, (1575,) there were but three carriages in Paris, where-of two were the King's. At the present time there are six hundred omnibuses.

J. BANNISTER GIBSON, formerly a Lieu tenant in the 4th Regiment of Artillery, U. S. Army, died at Carlisle, on Tuesday last, aged 35 years. Lieut. Gibson was the oldes on of the late Chief Justice Gibson. TRENTON, Jan. 17 .- Edward Norton, who ras lately convicted of various burglaries, has been sentenced to 30 years in the State Pris on. He is now only 24 years old. He will be an old man if he lives to serve his term BALTIMORE, Jan 17 .- The Venzuelean Min-

YOUNG MEN BURNED TO DEATH.—On the 2nd inst., it was our unpleasant duty to chronicle the death of two children by fire in Temper anceville, adjoining this city; and to day we are called upon to record a somewhat similar casualty which happened in the village of Port Perry, on the Monongahela river, at the mouth of Turtle Creek, about twelve miles from this city. On Monday night last, about eleven o'clock, fire was discovered in a house owned by Col. Wm. L. Miller, and occupied by an Irish family named Gallagher. The fire caught in the first story, after the inmates had retired, and the flames spread with great rapidity. Thomas Gallagher, aged fourteen years, and a young unmarried man named Owen Conner, perished in the burning building. Mrs. Gallagher was seriously burnt ing. Mrs. Gallagher was seriously burnt while rescuing her youngest children. Mr. Conner worked on the Pennsylvania railroad, and boarded with Gallagher. building with nearly all its contents, was destroyed. The bodies were taken from the ruins, and an inquest held by 'Squire William M. Shaw, of ersailles township. The jury found a ver diet of "accidental burning."

As this accident is supposed to have originated from precisely the same cause as the catastrophe in Temperanceville, (viz: by coals of fire falling from the grate and rolling upon the floor,) it conveys an awful warning to parents to see that their fire places are properly protected by fenders, before retiring to rest.—Pittsburg Union.

WHAT A NEWSPAPER DOES FOR NOTHING .-The following article should be read and pondered well by every man who takes a newspaper without paying for it in advance:

The result of my observation enables me to state as a fact, that the publishers of newspa-pers are more poorly rewarded than any class of men in the United States, who invest an provisions—two large sized cheeses and two sacks of orackers; the cheese was so badly frozen that we of men in the United States, who invest are had to kick pieces off with the heels of our boots, and equal amount of labor, capital and thought They are expected to do more service for less pay, to stand more sponging and "dead-heading." to puff and defend more people without fee or hope of reward, than any other

> They credit wider and longer; get oftener cheated; suffer more pecuniary loss; and are oftener the victims of misplaced confidence, than any other calling in the community.-People pay a printer's bill more reluctantl han any other. It goes harder for them t expend a dollar on a valuable newspaper than ten on a needless gewgaw, yet every body avails himself of the use of the editor's per and printer's ink. How many professions and political reputations and fortunes hav been made and sustained by the friendly hough unrequited pen of the editor? Ho many embryo towns and cities have been rought into notice, and puffed into prosperit by the press? How many railroads, now i accessful operation, would have foundered out for the assistance of the "lever that moves the world;" in short, what branch of Ameri can industry or activity, has not been promoted, stimulated and defended by the press? And who has tendered it more than a mis erable pittance for its mighty services? The bazaars of fashion, and the haunts of appetite and dissipation, are thronged with an eager crowd, bearing gold in their palms, and the commodities there vended are sold at enormous profits, though intrinsically worthless, and paid for with scrupulous puncuality; while the counting room of the newspaper is the seat of jewing, cheapening, trade rders and pennies. The Human Hair.—To minister to a penchan for "auburn waves" and "raven tresses," the brains of inventors have heretofore been called in requisition to little purpose; tor although many oils, balms, dyes, and "specifics" have been the result of the incubation, they have not only proved to be valueless, but many of them positively injurious to the hair and scalp—being the fuct plent of scald-head and various other painful and danger ous cutaneous disorders.

Upon Prof. O. J. Wood, of St. Louis, fortune has confered, the honor of having discovered a balsamic preparation which not only promotes the growth and beautilies the Hair in a high degree, but restores it when it is gone, or turns it back to its original color after it has become gray fastens it to the scalp, and effectually destroys such cuts necus eruptions as may have been engendered by the use of dyes, essential oils, and other injurious applications.—The many respectable testimonials which are offered in its favor, from every part of the country in which it has been introduced, leaves no loop for the sceptic to hang a doub on. The great demand for this article in the eastern States has induced the proprietors to establish a depot for its manufacture and sale in the city of New York. It is fas supplanting all other specifics for the Hair, and already enjoys a popularity which no other has ever attain cd. PROF. WOOD,—Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony to the excellence of your Hair Restorative. Three months ago my hair was very gray. It is now a dark brown, (the original color,) smooth and glossy. The only appplication I have made to it has been the Hair Restorative, prepared by you; and which, from the result of my own cask, I can most cordially recommend to others.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD WOLDOW.

From the Editor of the Real Estate Advertis Bosrow, March 20, 1854. Prov. Woon,—Dear Sir:—Having become previously quite gray, I was induced, some six weeks since, to make trial of your Hair Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have disappeared; and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the process of change is gradually going on, and I have great hopes that, in a short time, my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which, before, was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as fu-merly. Respectfully yours, D. O. M. Ruff. Paor. Wood—his hair commenced falling off some three or fours years since, and continued to do so until I became quite baid. I tried all the popular remedies of the day, but to no effect; at last I was induced to use your celebrated Hair Restorative, and am very happy to say it is doing wonders. I have now a fine growth of young hair, and cheerfully recommend its use to all similarly afficted.

On the 4th inst., at Kinzersville, in the 16th year of her age, Susansa, daughter of Robert and Mary Tagert.

How forcibly are we reminded of the uncertainty of human life by the death of this young and lovely girl.

Her illness was brief, for on the last Sabbath of the Old Year, she was in the midst of the family circle, diffusing lave and cheerfulness to all, and on the first Sabbath of the New Year her body was consigned to the cold and silent tomb. Early as death removed her from our milds, it was not before she had won for herself innumerable friends. Her kind and cherrful disposition made her the favorite of both old and young. No one enjoyed life more fully than she. Her's was one of continual joy, for in every circumstance she beheld something that was cheering however gloomy it might appear to others.

During the few days of her illness, she suffered the most exeruciating pain, which she bore with all the patience and fortitude of an aged Christian. To hor, death had no terror, for all her dependance was placed upon Christ her Saviour, who, she said, was able to lead her safely through and northuge of an aged Unitstan. To her, death had no terror, for all her dependance was placed upon Christ her Saviour, who, she said, was able to lead her safely through the dark valley of the shadow of death. Though her relatives may be bowed with grief, at the loss of their beloved one, they will ever have the unspeakable joy of believing that she is now rejoicing in the realms of Eternal bliss.

DERMANENT RECORD FOR COMMON COMMON SCHOOLS. The "Permanant Record" of the attendance, condition, and progress of the Common Schools of the State of Penna. Is now ready for delivery to those who have for some time, been waiting its announcement.

ent. This book is not altempted to be bolstered up by the pa-

This book is not altempted to be bolstered up by the parade of a string of flat, unmeaning, complimentary notices given out of a spirit of courtery (for a gratis copy.) It is not a big book, overloaded with senseless unnecessary detail; it does not record the name and the number of times a child is whipped in school (disgraceful;) it is not filled with hieroglyphic stuff, about as easily understood as that on an Egyptian monument. In a word it was not prepared by A. How. But it is a clear simple conformity to the requirements of the Common Schoollaw; free from errors and binaders of all kinds, showing at a glance, (so that all can understand it) the name and age of the Pupil. "Bookswaed," Branches taught," "attendance," "Progress and conduct "of each Scholar, besides the "general remarks" of the teacher, &c. In a word, it is just THE BOOK for the Common Schools of our State, for which it was expressly made, and the very best evidence of the fact is, that the book has been adopted by every Board of Directors before whom it has been laid. Manor township (and a number of others) did not give it a cheap complimentary notice but spoke in the following manner:

Resolved, That one copy of the "Permanent Shool Re-

It has been adopted by the School Directors of the city of Lancaster.

The Department of Common Schools at Harrisburg has also approved of it in the following favorable terms: "School Referent A permanent School Register is conducive to the proper organization and government of the Common Schools. The Register recently prepared by Mr. Amos Row, of Lancaster, is found, upon inspection, to harmonize substantially with the requirements of the 27th section of the School Law of 1854, and the views of the Department. Directors are advised to introduce such a record into the Schools as soon as practicable."

As an act of justice to the author and publisher, Directors and Teachers are respectfully requested to examine the "Common School Register" before adopting any other. This request is rendered necessary by the fact, that one of a smaller size, and much more limited contents, has since been hurriedly got up, to interfare with it. Of course the publishers of the Common School Register, do not deny the right of any to prepare and publish a Register on an original plan, or one differing from theirs, but as the one alluded to, embraces little, it anything, more than the monthly reports, furnished by the State Department, at Harrisburg, to the District; they do not fear the result of a close and fair comparison, but on the contrary challenge such a test. prescott's Historical Works.—Just published, Ilistory of the Reign of Philip II. By William II. Irrecott. With Portraits, Maps, Plates, &c. 2 vols. Octavo. The reign of Philip the Second, embracing the last half of the sixteenth century, is one of the most important as well as interesting portions of our modern history. It is necessary to giance only at some of the principal events.—The War of the Netherlands—the model, so to say, of our own glorious war of the Nevolution; the siege of Malka, and its memorable defence by the Knights of St. John; the brilliant career of Don John of Austria, the here of Lepanto; the Quixotic adventures of Don Sebastian of Portugal; the conquest of that by the Duke of Alba; Philip's union with Mary of England, and his wars with Elizabeth, with the story of the Invited Armada; the Inquisition, with its train of wees; the rebellion of the Moriscoe, and the cruei manner in which it was avenged—these form some of the prominent topics in the foreground of the picture, which presents a crowd of subordinate details of great interest in regard to the character and court of Phillip and the institutions of Spain—then in the palmy days of her prosperity.

The materials for this vast theme were to be gathered from every part of Europe; and the author has for many years been collecting them from the archives of different capitals. The archives of Simancas, in particular, until very lately closed against even the native historian, has been opened to his researches; and his collections has been furcapitals. The commercial department of these journals involves a large expenditure; contains varied and accurate reports as to all branches of trade; and is second to that of no paper published in New England.

These journals are carefully conducted, and edited in a faith in democratic principles, but in a spirit of conciliation to all parties. As advertising mediums they are unsurpassed, penetrating, as they do, into such a variety of households scattered over the whole Union, and read as they are, by all classes of the community, they furnish an opportunity for the diffusion of information which can scarcely be obtained elsewhere.

The National Police Gazette.—ROBERT A. SEYMOUR, Editor and Properlator The National Police Gazette.—ROBERT A SEYMOUR, Editor and Proprietor. The National Police Gazette, the first paper of the kind ever published in the United States, is distinctive in its character, being a complete chronicle of Crime and Criminals. Justice and its Administration, wherein both are laid with fidelity before the public, in all their varied lights and shades. The following are some of the particular features:

Full Reports of all Criminal Trials, by the most reporters, and given at the earliest periods. Items of Domestic and Translations of Foreign Criminal News; the one collected and prepared with care, the other translated expressly for the Police Gazette.

Correspondents from all parts of the Union of the most competent pens, and conveying the most important and interesting information on all matters in which crime and social offences are concerned.

A CIRCULATION OF OVER 40,000 COPIES, is the best evidence of the favor with which the NATIONAL POLICE GAZETTE is regarded by the Public.

"Love rules the court, the camp, the grove,
For Love is Heaven, and Heaven is Love."
So sang the Bard; yet thousands pine
For love—of life the light divine—
Who, did they know some gentle charm,
The hearts of those they love to warm,
Might live, might die, in bliss supreme,
Possessing all of which they dream.
The road to Wedlock would you know?
Delay not, but to RONDOUT go.
Time files, and from his gloomy wings
A shadow falls on living things; A shadow falls on living things;
Then seize the moments as they pass,
Ere fall the last saids through the glass
At least the present is your own,
While all the future is unknown.

While all the future is unknown.
A happy marriage man or maid
Can now secure by RONDOUT'S aid.

This is decidedly the most fascinating, interesting and really useful and practical work on Courtship, Matrimony, and the duties and delights of Married Life, that has ever been issued from the American press. Theartificial social system, which in so many instances prevents a union of hearts, and sacrifices in conventionalism the happiness and even the lives of thousands of the young and hopeful of both sexes, is thoroughly analysed and exposed. Every one who contemplates marriage, and wishes for an infallible guide in the selection of a partner for life, should purchase this great text book of commubial felicity.

TETTER IN REFERENCE TO THE Lands of the Ridgway Farm and Coal Company.—
Prom George Taylor, Esq. Deputy Postmaster of Kersey P.
O. Elk county, Pennsylvania:

Messas. Editors:—Desig Deputy Postmaster of Kersey P.
O. Elk county, Pennsylvania:

Messas. Editors:—Desig Deputy Postmaster at this place, frequent inquiries are made at this office of the quality and mineral worth of the Ridgway Farm and Agricultural Company's lands.

These lands lay scattered around this place. To give a description of the lands adjoining, which have been sold and are cultivated. By means of your valuable columns allow me to answer all former inquiries, and I hope to be troubled by no more letters.

The soil here is a good limestone soil, well adapted to winter grain, such as wheat and ryes and for summer grains, such as outs, early buckwheat and potatoes, it cannot be beat. Grass grows well, and it is, literally "speaking, sture. It is the best county for stock I know of in this Estae. I think, in time, it will become the second butcher's county to New York.

In regard to coal—in fact, it is a perfect body of coal—I know in this neighborhood several good coal mines, averaging 4 to 8 feet veins, of the best Bituminous Coal. I sexecely know of a single farm but what has more or less coal. On a farm owned by Jacob Taylor, Esq., about a half mile from here, a bank was opened last fail which measured 8 feet one way, and is now worked 5 feet deep. How much deeper it may be I cannot test, as the bottom has not been reached. This is the case in many places in this section of the county.

It also abounds in the best of Limestone. There is plenty-It also abounds in the best of Limestone. There is plenty-It also abounds in the best of Limestone. much deeper it may be I cannot tell, as the bottom has not been reached. This is the case in many places in this section of the county.

It also abounds in the best of Limestone. There is plenty of Iron Ore found here. I have frequently found the best of Iron Ore on the top of the ground. But there never has been any thorough search made about here. In St. Mary's, six miles from here, there have been some velus opened of from 6 to 9 feet of the best rock ore.

The Timber in this county cannot be beat any place. It consists of the best of pine, hamlock, cherry, oak, sugar maple and beech, all of first growth and healthy. The pine is probably the best in the five counties, and a very certain business is made by making shingles during the winter and sending them in the spring to Pittsburg, Cinctinnati, Louisville, &c. One merchant in this village took in eight hundred thousand shingles in one season. The county, in fact, has overy facility, and when once the railroads are finished, you may depend this will become the garden of Western Pennsylvania. As regards the Company, I know nothing, but judging from their selection of land, and from the excitement among the knowing once, I should judge it will be of great advantage to the Stockholders.—Land in this county is raising fast, and has advanced from 60 to 100 per cent. since the Sunbury and Eric Railroad has been reduced to a certainty. This road once finished and I pledge you no county in this State will be able to excel it.
