K. N. Nominations, do—The Gordon Murderer:—Local
Affairs, &c., &c., &c., 51. Louis, March 3d, 1856. After a long, cold and dull winter-during which time the mercantile business was almost, if not entirely sur-pended—we are at last enabled to state that St. Louis, the About 11 o'clock on Tuesday, (26th) a dispaich was reeived here from Alton, stating that the Mississippi had old Whig party, laugh at it and say Filin sen ten feet in the previous hour from the back water of good sense to accept such a nomination, and particularly the Missouri-four miles below Alton-which was pouring at a tremendous flood. The steamboatmen here at one hired crews, made fast their cables, fired up and raised steam, in anticipation of the event of the final breaking up I the ice in the Mississippi. At one o'clock crowds of people were seen wending their way to the levee, where they axiously awaited the moving of the waters. run high, surmises and wonders were freely indulged in: by the bystanders, who declared they saw the waters rise. pacts, and the Damocratic brethren of the order are about Then it had risen ten feet-at 15 minutes past two, the kicking in the traces. He will have a happy time in un ice began to move. At this period there were some forty r fifty persons crossing on the ice; they were signaled and apprised of their danger, and it was not long before they were landed safely upon terra firmat—some on this shore and others on the Illinois. The whole body of ire from shore to shore, commenced moving at the same time, and that portion lying opposite the city passed slowly down the current, without doing any any damage, but that which lay above the city was expected to do the mischief. The boats now commenced blowing their whistles, and ringing their bells—the fire bells sent forth the alarm throughout the city, and thousands upon thousands repaired to the levee—the store windows and doors were filled with men, women and children, and the levee as far north and south as the eye could carry, was one mass of human beings. The boats kept their wheels tuning and seemed prepared for the citis, and only awaited their fate at the mercy of the ice.

The first thing worthy or note, was the hull of a boat coming down bottom side up, which was soon ground up sed of their danger, and it was not long before and one would suppose its editor was born with the "Sta and carried under the ice; a large cake struck the Alton wharf boats and drove them ashore. The Sub-Marine boat which had just completed her work on the wreck of the Parthenia, was violently struck by a field of ice, and imthe steamer Federal Arch. Here the havoc commenced .--The Federal Arch at once parted her fastenings, and in a few moments, she, with the sub-marine, were total wrecks Next below the Federal Arch harbored the Australia, Adristte, Paul Jones, Falls City, Altoona, A. B. Chambers and Challenge; these eight boats snapped their cables and with the two wrecks floated down the current. They and with the two wrecks notice down the whole upper crowded and jammed one another, and the whole upper works of the Australia and Brunett were toru to pieces, and the Altona badly damaged. The crashing of these loats and nondescripts, hug each other in mandlin nondescripts, hug each other with the street way. about five were complete wrecks, and the rest more or less Another field of ice came and with full force struck the Highland Mary, and completely crushed her into atoms. The Bon Accord, lying next below, shared the same fate, and the two floated down the current, with the field of ice. hopeless wrecks. The Highland Mary struck against the Die Vernon, and damaged her considerably. The new St. Paul was on the docks--part of which was carried away. and the best badly injured. The Louisville was the next boat that parted her fastenings and went down broadside to the group at the island. The Lamartine followed in quick succession in the wake of the Louisville. The Westerner, likewise broke her fastenings and swung around against the Jennie Deans, crushing the latter beat badly, well as herself, and followed in rapid pursuit of those

The boats above mentioned all harbored at the lower-emonstrated that such was not the case. Whilst those at the lower end of the leves were being crushed, wrecked and carried away, those at the upper end were sustain-and there a boat could be seen battling with the enormous fields of ice. About a mile below, however, some tan o fifteen were harbored, and up to that time had sustained very little damage. The ice then commenced jamming in above—the F. XAubry was forced into the bank, and had her larboard wheel taken off. The Nebraska slightly damaged at the same time—she also had a wheel carried away. The Gos samer, Lucilla, Alice and Badger State, were tightly crowded and forced partly upon the shore. The Shenandoah was next struck and immediately sunk. The Sam Cloon was the next to let loose; she floating down against the Clara and there sunk and became a total wreck. The Ciara and Ben Bolt, lying next below were badly jammed and forced partly on shore. A ferry boat was next seen coming down the current, and when opposite the city sunk and went to pieces. The G. W. Sparhawk was struck with a huge mass of ice and sunk in a few minutes. The Keokuk wharf boat stood firmly up to the heavy fields of ice, and guarded three steamers lying next below.

This work of destruction was all consummated in about one hour and a half, and the greatest excitement imaginahod their officers and crews aboard, who nobly and heroically stood by their posts as long as there was a foot-hol to stand upon. When their boat went to pieces they man-aged to get upon one the next below; there could not have Convention, those who have signalized them. ean less than one hundred people on board the first fleet of boats that tore loose, and the greatest tumult prevailed both among those on shore and as well as those on the boats. As each boat floated down, the Captain, Pilot and Engineer were seen at their post, and the crews proved themselves worthy the position they held, but it was not within the power of man to ward off the immense blocks of ice that came down in rapid succession. All that man could possibly do was done to provent the destruction of so great an amount of property; but it was at the mercy of passed a resolution refusing to adopt the Philthe flood, which soen did its work of devastation, and

After the ice had been running about an hour or so, its character became changed-being in a more frothy and crumbled condition, but interspersed with masses of eight or ten acre blocks—measuring from 12 to 18 inches in thickness. At half past five o'clock it commenced gorging below, and finally came to a dead halt, and remained stationary for about two hours. During this time large numbers of people ecossed and recrossed. The experiment was a daring one, and mirasulous as it may seem, none

At the time it commenced gorging, huge piles were forced up at every hand to the height of twenty and thirty feet. It was a magnificent sight to see the immense cakes posite side, and the boats that had drifted down to the isand below, appeared to be completely buried—the ic sometimes piling up so high as to shut them entirely from view. The river was rapidly rising, and this suspension with increased weight and force. One or two steamer that were left at the levee, were heavily ladened with affairs, gave up all hope for the safety of a single boat then left in the harbor, and at once commenced discharge ing their freight. The terrible work of destruction and ru in was consumated—the powerful sweep of water and icefro of excited crowds, was one of the most awful as well as sing scenes we have ever looked upon. About 7 o' clock, it commenced raining and became pitchy dark, but the mass of human beings nothing daunted, stood it they could not see ahe finale they certainly would hear it At half past seven the gorge broke, and sure enough, took everything with it. The current was then swifter than

Of the boats that were left in the harbor after the first rush was over, and before the gorge commenced, were all carried away—the Regulator, F. X. Aubry, N. L. Milburn, ilice, Luella, Clara, Ben Bolt, Sparhawk, Polar Star, J. S. but trhee boats of the whole fleet, the Gossamer, Bulger State, and Nebraska-the policy of the latter boat ran or a few days since, and another could not be effected-she was the only boat that was not in whole or part insured, and sustained the least damage of all others, notwithstand ing she was considered in the most dangerous place of any other lying at the levce.

The levce was now completely sweeped (with the exception of the three last named boats) and the night was so and nothing was known of them until the next morning. On Wednesday morning everybody was on the alert, and inquiring of the fate of the boats that were carried down the river the night previous.

But fortunately those that were carried down were not again. The boats that are lost were old and of but little value, and it will not be long before their places will be supplied by better ones. The loss occasioned by the breaking up of the ice, is not half so great as was at first suppoconsidered a total loss; the value of these is estimated at $80,000. Out of some thirty or forty others that were lying at the levee, not one escaped injury, and of this number the damages sustained will range from $100 to $3000 each .--These latter mentioned boats will soon be repaired and ess. The nomination created no undue excitement; occasionally however, you would hear an office-seeking K. N. ask a brother how he liked it. Those that seceded will ruin Mr. Fillmore's prosting the broken ranks of Know-Nothingism.

A new daily K. N. paper has just commence med in this city

Cold Comfort for the Know-Nothings. The North American (the leading Whigh paper of Philadelphia) refuses to endorse Fillmore's nomination. After publishing extracts from the speeches of several of the leading Know-Nothings in their so-called National Convention, to show the spirit which actuated that motly assemblage, the editor says:-

Now it is from a Convention thus deporting

itself, whose members, men of mature age

when they were driven together can better be inagined enthusiasm, and make speeches about "Sam, than described. They floated against a large fleet of canal and "Saint Hildebrand," and "spavined hor and wood boats some 30 or 40, all of which were either ses," that this nomination comes; and comin immediately sunk or carried down the stream. This fleet of boats lodged about a mile below the city on the point of Whigs and fair-minded men of any party. a island. So far as could be ascertained at this time Surely we may be permitted to hesitate. surely as the painful distrust which on this subject fills the public mind is justified.

But the Whigs of Pennsylvania and Philadelphia have peculiar motives for resolute reserve just now. No where has the party which nominated Mr. Fillmore left more deplorable traces than hereabouts. Neither lo-cality nor in the nation has it been such, we mean administratively, as to command confidence. Less than two years ago it sprang into gigantic existence, and commanded scmething kindred to admiration or fear. With a strong hand and a grasp so bold that a stout and honest heart seemed to nerve it, it took possession in one place or another of power and patronage. Pennsylvania and Massachusetts and New York all yielded. But the instant none above midway of the levee. These were considered to be in safer quarters than those above, but it was fully unable to administer it. This was manifest upuble to administer it. This was manifest to every eye, and there were many, ourselves among the number, who looked at this result with disappointment. The two repulsive elements of secresy and sectarian proscription, alien to the heart and intelligence of the American people, only worked out their gen-uine fruits when the secret and sectarian party got into place. A general sentiment of distrust pervaded every one's mind, and the end was what we have said. Now, is it to be wondered at that with these facts still recent -for two years is the limit-conservative not been consulted, but from which they have beels repelled? To such conservative men who have not yet spoken, we say, in all earnestness, reserve your judgment. This nomination has no antecedents to command acquiescence from Whigs or those who act with Whigs. Least of all, has it any claims on Pennsylvanians. We have not forgotten the scenes of last winter's legislation, and its impotent intrigues, and remember well that the party whose Con vention now nominates Mr. Fillmore was in ble prevailed during the whole of that time. All the boats power and responsible then. Philadelphians, too, may well pause before they follow this York city lead, finding, selves by bitter opposition to our local interests. LATEST FROM EUROPE.—By the arrival of the steamship Africa, at New York on Saturday, we have three days' later intelligence from Europe. She brings no tidings of the Pacific. The Peace Conferences were to open on the 25th ult. All the plenipotentiaries had arrived in Paris. Quite a sensation had been created in Paris by the publication in the Moniteur of an article that appeared in the Siecle, which indicated that the policy of France and England would be identical the Congress. The Rothschilds had taken the whole of the new loan at 90. There is nothing of interest from the Crimea.

Prof. Woon,—Dear Sir:—Having become previously quite gray, I was induced, some six weeks since, to make trial of your Hair Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have all disappeared: and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the process of change is gradually going on, and I have great hopes that, in a short time, my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which, before, was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly. Respectfully yours,

0 0 WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A Cure for Consumption, Coughs, Colds Asthma, Bronchitis, General Debility and Scrofulous Humocs.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT—This important question should be asked every invalid who is suffering from pulmonary troubles in this fickle climate. Have you tried WILBOM'S COMPOUND OF COD LIVER OIL AND LIME? It will not namesate like the plain Gil, but is on the contrary, pleasant to the tasts; moreover the Phosphate of Line is, in this combination, a most remarkable and to the healting properties of the pure Cod Liver Gil, as the following certificates (selected from a host of like great acknowledgmants) will amply show. No person should neglect for a single hour a cough, or any affection of the lungs, last the most serious consequences follow. Dr. Wilbor's preparation is both simple, and sure in all ordinary cases, and has performed some surprising cures in decided consumption, where other medical aid has failed:—

Dr. Wilbor:—During nearly the whole of the past winter, I had suffered seriously with a cough, which so irritated my lungs, that my physician frankly admitted his fear of consumption's following this trouble as the Spring weather set in. Medicine seemed to afford me little relief until I tried your preparation of Cod Liver Gil and Lime. The effect I am forced by facts to admit, was almost magical, and I have the pleasure of saying at this writing, (Lisy 2d, 1852) I am entirely free from any pulmonary trouble. With thanks to you for your valuable discovery, I cordially recommend it to these who are thus afflicted:

N. R.—This compound does not namesate like the clear Cod Liver Gil, but can be taken with pleasure by, the most delicate females.

and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only three per cent. per annum. As a security to the performance of the contract, the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash.—The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash. Ready tramed Farm Buildings, which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from responsible persons. They will be 12 feet by 20 feet, divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the Road, $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. *Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportloate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over their road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with foncing materials, agricultural tools, and an outlit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands, will enable a mun with a few hundred dulars in cash and ordinary industry, to make himself independent tefors all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the courtry will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experieenced person will accompany applicators, to give information and aid in selecting lands. Circulars, containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Ratiroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fancing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threebing, etc., by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either porsonally or by letter, in Wood can be had at the same rates per cord. The town who think of settling in lows or Minnesota, should be a fin mind, that lends there, of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of,—that for time located in the intexior, there are no convenience for transporting the produce to market, Railroad not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than thus situated, at all $1,20 per acre, are not so good investments as the land of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remarks hold good in relation to the lands in Kanass and Nebraska, for slidough vacant lands may be tound nearer the water courses, the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of these lands are carried either in wagons, or interrupted water communications, increases the expenses of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, an mally and every year reduced.
