ST. LOUIS CORRESPONDENCE. cal Movements of the different parties—Buchanas sucendent—His chances growing stronger and stron itement and Confusion in Missouri—Burning mer Effic Afton and Rock Island Bridge, &c. St. Louis, May 12, 1856.

quite rapidly, and the water is now in the cellars of many of the stores on the Levee, and the merchants are busy in hoisting their goods from the lower lo the upper stories.— The rise comes principally from the Missouri and upper Mississippi—the former stream being very high. At this point, the Mississippi is much higher than it has been for down. This rise is much earlier than usual—our high was ter generally occurs here in June.

The party is still far from becoming a unit, and their stubbornness and folly. How much better it would be for each wing to forget past differences and bury the hatch-et which has cut them in two, and endeavor in future to act more harmonious, when every election could ried without the least exertion; and at a time, too when new organizations are trying their strength. Now is the time to crush the common enemy before they get a fast hold, and now is the accepted time for union and harmony in the Democratic ranks. Nothing, however, can or will be done until Col. Benton arrives and makes known will take place, but it is not definitely known whether it

The "old line whigs" of this city are making an effort to re-organize their party in this State, and although they may not be in a condition to run a candidate of their own, they will do effective service in routing Know-Nothingism and Black Republicanism in the approaching elections.— As the time for the convening of the Democratic National Convention approaches, politics begin to assume a more bined-any way they may choose to array themselves gainst the rock that has weathered many a storm, and withstood the furious flood that raged on every hand .-The old ship of State is not to be wrecked by a hand full of weak-minded, cringing politicians, who seek every hole to screen themselves from the light of day, and lose no op cortunity to offer their 'valuable services' to their country

It is an almost unanimous opinion of the people of this ction, that Mr. Buchanan will go into that Convention idency; that his friends and admirers will insist upon his nomination in such terms, that the Convention will deem it policy not to postpone the claims of Pennsylvania any longer, and for the purpose of making the struggle doubly sure, will declare him the best qualified and most available man to lead the army on to battle and crown the result in

Such are the opinions of the people of the West-who are ready to take up the march under the banner of Democracy with the veteran Pennsylvanian at their head; such ar the opinions of the South, and the members of the Demo cratic party there only await the tan of the drum to fall East, a similar feeling appears to prevail. With Mr. Bu chanan as the nominee of the party, and a strong and na-tional man for Vice President, there is not a doubt of glorious and brilliant victory. Too much caution cannot be urged upon the delegates in their selection—they must not take men who have played a conspicuous part in poli tics, as the best and most available—they must not only leave the "record" be the qualification, but they must look where the support is to come from. There has been many a good and honest man beaten, and we might say by one unworthy the confidence and respect of the community in in which he lived, solely because he was selected at an unpropitions time. These are critical times-it is true, we know our men to be true and tried, yet we do not know the number of our adversaries, or the means they is the one the Convention should look to! Who is the man most likely to carry the two great States of New York and Pennsylvania? That man is required now to bear the an, and if he cannot sweep the State of New York, no othr Democratic nominee can. With these facts staring the Cincinnati delegates in the face, no other alternative. (if they wish to insure the success and preserve the measure and croed of the Democratic party) is left, than to make the safe and judicious selection of Pennsylvania's illustrious

Col. E. B. Bartlett, President of the K. N. Order of the U. States, has issued his bull excommunicating Thos. H. Ford, of Ohio, from the order, and demanding of him to hand over all the documents he has in his possession belonging to the K. N. order. Ohio has the honor of being the first State read out of the "American order," Which will be the as a party—they are more outsiders, used for any purpose 'big guns' may chose to adopt—they are ten time

The Hon. Mr. Mace, of Indiana, has left his K. N. friends, and they are down upon him "like a thousand of brick"— he has repudiated Flilmore and Donelson, and the party generally. One after another is wheeling out of their ranks and ere long the party (if you may call it such) will be without a character

The Whigs of Mississippi contemplate a re-organization of the defunct party, and propose Edward Everett for Prosident, and J. C. Jones, of Tennessee, for Vice President. The South, lately so strong and enthusiastic for Fillmore that he cannot carry a solitary State, and his warmest supporters in the Convention which nominated him, are repenting their action. They all contend that Donelson has ruined every prospect of success-that it was impolitic, injudicious, as well as an insult to a large proportion of the order in placing by the side of Mr. Fillmore so base an enemy of his former years. Fillmore is politically dead, and his few friends know not what to do. The majority of the delegates from Tennessee to the Cincinnati Convention are favorable to the nomination of Mr. Buchanan for the Presidency and A. V. MR. EDITOR: -At the present, this county appears to be the scene of active improvement. Great interest has been manifested in this direction within the past year, especially since the Sunbury and Erie Railroad between this county and the lakes has been under contract. mense amount of capital is now being invested for several years. A great deal of drift-wood is now passing in this vicinity from our own city, and that of New York. Coal companies are being started to commence operations immediately upon the completion of the end of the road to Erie, which is now under contract, and a large health of the city remains unusually good. Large num- force at work. The following are some of the reasons advanced upon the subject :-

The western end of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad connecting Elk with the great mara large force at work grading the road with all rapidity. Sufficient money has been raised to complete this end. The Tyrone and Clear-Oliver, of this State, who is one of the Com- field will also connect with the Sunbury and Erie at St. Mary's; besides these, the Allegheny Valley will pass through in the course of a few years, and connect with the New York and Erie Railroad at Olean. Ridgway will also be the terminus of the Venango connecting with the West. It is necessary to be fully aware of the terminus, of these roads, as well as their route, to understand the value of

Before entering upon the location we will consider the mineral and agricultural wealth of the country, which gives the land its at the partial destruction of this beautiful structure. The principal part of that county is underlaid by three veins of bituminous coal. The boatmen generally are in costacles over the injury this The first, on an average, 31 feet thick; the boat and cargo are a to- 2d, 4½; and the 3d, from 6 to 8 feet. Above tal loss, which is estimated at $75,000. The bridge will be the coal lays a strata of the best limestone, and between each vein is a vein of the richest Diognes and Thaddeus R. Wetmore, (brothers) were tried iron ore. Until within the past year or so, the land not being sufficiently explored, these important facts were unknown. The soil is a fine agriculturol soil, and said to be neither hilly nor stony, with the exception of the portion known as the barrens, upon which no value is placed, and which are generally in have done much to injure Western Pennsylvania by decrying all other lands and imposing their's upon their victims. There is a fine agricultural settlement, and the crops produced are large and generally sure. Possessing these advantages, the develope ment depends, as before observed, upon the railroads, but more especially upon the completion of the western end of the Sunbury and Erie, which it is believed, from sufficient reasons, will be done in with two years. We Louis, May 16.-The Hon. John G. Miller, will give a short extract, in considering the subject, from the Pottsville Gazette:-

". The great bituminous formation of the Allegheny, in running eastward, gradually ascends, until the measures finally run out in Potter county, where no coal exists. Elk is about the most easternmost county if not the last one, in which beds coal are found; and in view of this fact, the coal trade will necessarily constitute one of the most profitable features of the Sunbury and Erie, as well as that of the northern end of the Allegheny Valley road. The distance from St. Mary's to Erie is about one hundred miles, St. Mary's to Erie is about one hundred miles, forces, and what platform will there be presented for the friends of Democratic measures to stand upon. The Know-Nothings in this locality—though few in numbers, and not over sealous in the cause they espouse—predict, with great certainty, a grand rupture of the Democracy—now so calm and harmonious—which event, they say, will again brighten the 'skies, and give them cause to rejoice. The old proverb very properly reads—" Misery loves company"—but we are inclined to the belief that short and satisfactory work will be the result of the deliverations of the representatives to the Cincinnati Convention; and if our belief is verified, woe unto Know-Nothingism, Black Republicanism and all other issue—we will threab them singly or combined—any way they may choose to array themselves dollar per ton cheaper than any similar coal that now goes there, or to any point on the Lake shore. Thus, it will be perceived, a stunendous coal husiness is certain to accrue the Sunbury and Erie Road the moment its lake ends shall have been completed; and one of the inevitable effects of such trade will be to give extraordinary value to the lands."

These conclusions are no doubt founded upon solid grounds. The prospects are much greater then when coal was first introduced account of its being so little used. Here there is a market of nearly two millions, and it only wants the completion of that end of the road to spring at once into existence. Elk, also, has the advantage of being superior agricultural land to support a minima. has the advantage of being superior agricultural land to support a mining population.—
The coal being at hand will, also, induce the manufacture of iron, as bituminous coal is superior to wood, and as observed, it is the nearest land to the Lakes, possessing the advantages of both.

Property which a few years ago was selling at several dollars an acre, has now gone upenormously. The Elk and McKean Improvement of Comments of the being superior to wood, and as observed, it is the nearest land to the Lakes, possessing the advantages of both.

THE LATEST.—London, Saturday Morning, May 3.—The treaty between England, France and Austria, guaranteeing the independence and integrity of the Turkish empire, was preented in Parliament vesterdav.

Lord Clarendon's despatch in answer to ecretary Marcy's note of the 28th of December, was laid before Parliament last evening. The Daily News, in its comments upon the matter, refers to the demand for Mr. Crampon's recall, as an invitation for the English cabinet to disgrace itself for the amusement of the government at Washington.

employment of their military and naval forces. SALEM WITCHCRAFT IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY .- An interesting case has recently come before the Supreme Court of Massachu setts, in Salem, in which the validity of a will was sought to be impeached on account of singular mental delusions, amounting to insanity, which influenced the testator, one Obed Woodbury, who had devised his property to certain cousins, cutting off the heirs at law, who were a nephew and niece, Zebulon Woodbury and Mrs. Elizabeth Fritz, children of a deceased brother. The latter contested the will, and showed on the trial that the deceased had, until within a year, expressed his intention to leave his property to them, and that, for many years, he had been of an unusualy weak and superstitious turn of mind.

Some of the delusions of which he was possessed are so singular as to recal the days Salem witchcraft and the wholesale hanging of witches by the colonists. His two physicians testified to an insane delusion on the subject of his nephew, founded on alleged supernatural communications. He said that spirits had spoken to him, and that the wall had called that the nephew's wife had a bottle with seeds in it, by swinging which over her head three times, she could, at any time, put him into agony; and in his last sickness he attributed his pains chiefly to her practices.

R. H. Dana, Jr., Esq., of Boston, made an exceedingly able closing argument in behalf of the heirs at law, for whom the jury, under instructions from the court, found a verdict on both issues, viz: the insanity of the testutor and undue influence by the executor.
