DEMOGRATIC BATTLE HYMN. Arr-" Marseilles Hymn." Behold the furious storm is rolling, Which traitor flends confederate raise; The hounds of wee, let losse, are howling And soon our brothers' homes will blaze: And soon our brothers' homes will blaze
And shall we calmly view the ruin,
While bloody force, with lawless stride,
Spreads desolation far and wide,
This happy land in blood imbruing?
Arise, arise, ye brave!
And let our war cry be
Our God, our Union, and our flag,
Our creed, and victory.

Oh, blessed Union! we will no'er resign thee, Nor fall to bow before thy glorious name, While madmen rail and knaves malign thee, White mainten that hit knews mings the Shall we be recreant to thy fame?
No! by the Constitution bending o'er us!
No! by the Beroit past and fied!
No! by the destiny before us!
No! by the destiny before us!
Awake! awake! brave hearts!

Put down the traitor clan Who would our Union rend in parts, And hark! the popular shout is waking In every breast a generous fiame; And Treason, in his den is quaking, And shuddering at its death of shame; And where our starry banners gleaming, The patriot BUCHAMAN stands, Supported by our hearts and hands, Triumph above and round him beaming. For on the Constitution's rock, With God our hearts to see.

For on the Constitution's rock, With God our hearts to see, We dare the traitor's direct shock, And wait for victory, Do not despair! ye millions pining In bloody fetters o'er the sea; The orb ye watch is not deellining, Tho' sorely clouded it may be. On this fair shore we will reserve ye

On this fair shore we will reserve ye
A shelter from the despot's frown,
A refuge from the pelting storm,
And, blessed Union! we still preserve thee!
Yes! for the God above us
Has made and kept us free;
And from the skies beyond us
He points to victory!

TO COUSIN MARY. BY THE GLADE BARD. Forget me not, when far away,

My over smiling Mary; For life will be, no life to me, But one scene dark and dreary. There will be nothing here to charm. Or light my pathway wsary,

When you are gone, so far away, My little cousin' Mary. The light that dances round my way. Like ouphens of a fairy, Will all be gone, when you are gone,

My pretty cousin Mary. How many happy hours we've spent-Together, free and airy, In social rambles by the brook, My charming cousin Mary.

With what delight we plucked the flowers. That grew around us cheery; And twined them into garlands sweet-To crown thee, -cousin Mary.

And by the moon's pale, silvery light, When all was bright and airy; We talked of love and friendship sweet-Together, cousin Mary.

But when you're far away from me. In stranger regions dreary; Then cast one lingering thought on me My gentle cousin Mary,

And I will think, I feel the spell-Dance 'round me, like a fairy; And see in visionary form, My little cousin Mary.

PLATFORM OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY AS ADOPTED BY THE CINCINNATI CONVENTION.

Resolved, That the American Democracy place their trust in the intelligence, the patriotism and the discriminating justice of the American people.

Resolved, That we regard this as a distinctive feature of our creed which we are proud to maintain before the world as a great element in a form of government springing from and upheld by a popular will: and we contrast it with the and practise of Federalism, under whatever name or form, which seeks to palsy the vote of the constituent, and which conceives no imposture too monstrous for the popular

Resolved, Therefore, That entertaining these views, the Democratic party of the Union, through their delegates assembled free representative government, and appealing to their fellow citizens for the rectitude of their intentions, renew and reassert before the American people the declarations of principles avowed by them, when, on former occasions, in general convention, they presented their candidates for

Resolved, That the foregoing proposition covers and was intended to embrace the whole subject of slavery agitation in Congress; and therefore the Democratic party of the Union, standing on this national platform, will abide by and adhere to a faithful execution of the acts known as the compromise measures settled by Congress, the act for reclaiming fugitives provision of the Constitution, cannot, with the Union as it shall be in the full expandidelity thereto, be repealed, or so changed sion of the energies and capacity of this as to destroy or impair its efficiency.

Resolved, That the Democratic party will resist all attempts at renewing in Congress, or out of it, the agitation of the slavery question, under whatever shape or color the attempt may be made. Resolved. That the proceeds of the public lands ought to sacredlybe applied to the national objects specified in the Constitution, and that we are opposed to any law for the distribution of such proceeds among the States, as alike inexpedient in policy and repugnant to the Constitution. Resolved. That we are decidedly opposed to taking from the President, the qualified veto power, by which he is enabled, under restrictions and responsibilities amply sufficient to guard the public interests, to suspend the passage of a bill whose merits the Senate and House of Represuntatives until the judgment of the people can be obtained thereon, and which has saved the American people from the corrupt and ty-

From the Doylestown Democrat. UPON GETTING A WIFE. Young man, if you have arrived at the right point in life for it, let every other consideration give way to that of getting married. Don't think of doing anything else. Keep poking about among the rubbish of the world till you have stirred up a gem worth having in the shape of a wife. Never think of delaying the matter, for you know that delays are dangerous. good wife is the most constant and faithful companion you can possibly have by your side, while performing the journey of of life—a dog isn't a touch to her. She can "smooth your linen and your cares' for you-mend your trowsers and perchance your manners-sweeten your sour moments as well as your tea and coffee for you—ruffle, perhaps, your shirt bosoms, but not your temper, and instead of sowing the seeds of sorrow in your path, she will sew buttons on your shirts, and plant happiness instead of harrow-teeth in your osom. Yes, and if you are too confoundedly lazy or too proud to do such work yourself, she will chop and dig potatoes for dinner: for her love for her husband is such that she will do anything to please him-except receive company in her every-

When a woman loves, she loves with a double-distilled devotedness; and when she hates, she hates on the high pressure principle. Her love is as deep as the ocean, strong as a hempen halter, and as immutable as the rock of ages. She won't change it, except it is in a very strong fit of jeal ousy, and even then it lingers, as if loth to part, like evening twilight at the windows of the west. Get married, by all means. All the excuses you can fish up against "doing the deed" ain't worth a spoonful of pigeon's milk. A HEROIC WIFE-AN EXCITING

INCIDENT. A passenger on board the ill-fated steamer Northern Indiana gives the Syracuse (New York) Journal on account of the narrow escape of Cicero Fowler and wife, of that county, who were also on board when she took fire:

There was but one life preserver for Mrs. F. and her husbands he insisted imperatively that she should put it on; she peremptorily refused, saying she "was in poor health, and his life was worth far more than her's." The preserver having no strap, Mrs. F. tore the hem from her dress and fastened it to her husband, whom she continued to animated and encourage. saying she could hold on to him, and, if | That old groy horse, boys, knows us all, the preserver could not sustain them both, she would be the one to let go and leave

As they arose from the water, Mr. Fowler assisted his wife in procuring a good hold of him on or about the shoulders. She wined the water from his mouth and eyes, and encouraged him to retain his hope of being saved. He continued to struggle with the volved in the Monroe doctrine; that their waves. Half an hour elapsed and there were no signs of assistance. His strength was rapidly failing; his wife observing it, tried anew to cheer him.
