For the Intelligencer. MY CHILDHOOD TREE.

Down in yon distant peaceful dale Where flowers in summer bloom There birds in joyous songs dispel All heavy clouds of gloom : There stands an Oak in stately pride Unharmed by common doom. Oft' when in childhood's early dawn My infant feet it led, And quickly o'er the velvet lawn To its kind shade I sped, And there in happy, childish glee Would lay my little head. Then this wide world did seem to me A scene of glory bright! When rambling o'er the sunny lea I gazed with fond delight On nature's beauties, knowing nought Of sorrow, care or blight. Then, ere my fair and spotless breast Knew hopes that were not pure; Ere sorrow, had her mark imprest Or flattery could allure My heart felt not the restless strife Which years have made more sure. Stern Time since then has passed away In soft, yet rapid flight; And Childhood too, beneath his sway Has lost its garb so bright, Which shone in bygone days to me, Now dimmed by ages might! A Youth, I seek thy shade again My happy childhood tree; Once more, my soul drinks in the strain Of nature's melody! Again I roam with lightsome step Far o'er the sunny lea. But where are all those loved ones Who used to sport with me? And where have all those moments flown

Still braves the power of winter's storm. Still shades my infant lea. Proud Oak ! long may'st thou firmly stand To cheer my spirit lone, To tell me of that happy band Which, now forever gone, Once met with me, 'neath thy kind shade In friendship's purest tone.

They're gone, all gone! yet thou alone

I did not consider myself at liberty to shrink from any duties, however delicate and onerous, required of me by my country.

With a full knowledge of all the circumstances surrounding the executive office, I have deliberately accepted it, and, as God may give me strength and ability, I will endeavor faithfully to discharge its varied requirements. When I received my commission I was solemnly sworn to support the Constitution of the United States, and to discharge my duties as Governor of Kansas with fidelity. By reference to the act for the organization of this Territory, passed by Congress on the 30th day of March, 1854, I had my duties more particularly defined. Among other things, I am " to take care that the laws be faith-

The Constitution of the United States and the Organic Law of this Territory will be the lights by which I will be guided in my executive career. A careful and dispassionate examination of our organic act will satisfy any reasonable person that its provisions are eminently just and beneficial. If this act has been distorted to unworthy purposes, it is not the fault of its provisions. The great leading feature of that act is the right therein conferred upon the actual and bona fide inabitants of this Territory "in the exercise of self government, to determine for themselves what shall be their own domestic institutions, subject only to the Coned to self government in the States from whence they came, and having removed to this Territory with the bona fide intention of making it their future residence, were supposed to be capable of creating their own municipal government, and to be the best judges of their own local necessities and institutions. This is what is termed "popular sovereignty." By this phrase we simply mean the right of the people of the several States and Territories, being qualified electors, to regulate their own domestic concerns, and to make their own municipal laws. Thus understood, this doctrine underlies the whole SPEECH OF THE HON. JOHN C. system of republican government. It is the great right of self government, for the establishment of which our ancestors, in the stormy days of the Revolution, pledged can the following report of the concluding "their lives, their fortunes and their sa- portion of Mr. Breckinridge's speech at cred honor.

> I am sure there is patriotism sufficient in the people of Kansas to lend a willing obedience to the law. All the provisions of the Constitution of the United States must, be sacredly observed, all the acts of Congress having reference to this Territory, must be unhesitatingly obeyed, and the decision of our Courts respected. It will be my imperative duty to see that these suggestions are carried into effect. In my official action here, I will do justice at all hazards. Influenced by no other considerations than the welfare of the whole people of the Territory, I desire to know no party, no section, no North, no South, no East, no West-nothing but Kansas and my country. Fully conscious of my great responsibilities in the present condition of things in Kansas, I must invoke your aid, and solicit your generous forbearance. Your executive officer can do little without the aid of the people. With a firm reliance upon Divine Providence, to the best of my ability I shall promote the interests of the citizens of the Territory, not merely collectively, but individually; and I shall expect from them in return that cordial aid and support without which the Government of no State or Territory can be administered. Let us all begin anew. Let the past be buried in oblivion. Let all strife and bitterness cease. Let us all honestly devote ourselves to the true interests of Kansas -develop her rich agricultural and mineral resources-build up manufacturing stitution and the laws duly enacted by Con- enterprise-make public roads and highways-prepare amply for the education of our children-devote ourselves to all the arts of peace-and make our Territory the sanctuary of those cherished principles which protect the inalienable rights of the individual, and elevate States in their sovereign capacities. Then shall peaceful industry soon be restored-population and wealth will flow upon us-"the desert will bloom as a rose" -and the State of Kansas will soon be admitted into the Union the peer and pride of her older sisters.
