

INTELLIGENCER & LANCASTERIAN.

GEO. SANDERSON, EDITOR.
A. SANDERSON, Associate.

LANCASTER, PA., FEBRUARY 3, 1857.

CIRCULATION, 2100 COPIES;
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $2.00 per annum.

To the Democratic Friends of the City and County of Lancaster.

In accordance with the resolution of the County Committee, adopted on Wednesday last, you are requested to assemble in the several Wards of the City, and Boroughs and Townships of the County, on Saturday the 7th of February next, and there to elect not less than three, nor more than five delegates to represent them in the annual meeting to be held on Wednesday next, at the Hotel of Emanuel Sheeler, in the City of Lancaster, for the purpose of electing six delegates to represent the Democracy of the County of Lancaster in the Annual State Convention, to be held at Harrisburg, on Monday the 2d day of March next. The several Ward, Borough and Township Committees are requested to give early notice, in their respective Districts, of the time and place of meeting for the election of delegates.

In accordance with the established usage of the party, the several Districts will each nominate their persons to serve on the County Committee for the ensuing political year;
and also nominate their Ward, Borough and Township Committees, and place their names on their respective credentials to the ensuing County Convention.

By order of the County Committee.

H. B. SWARTZ, Chairman.

LANCASTER, January 20th, 1857.

The Election—To-Day.

The election for Mayor, Aldermen, Councils, Constables, &c., comes off to-day, in this City, and it behoves our Democratic friends to be up and doing if they desire success. The enemy, under various guises, is in the field and actively at work, with one grand object in view—the defeat of the Democratic party. We hope the Democracy of the City are fully prepared to meet their opponents at all points. We have an unequalled list of candidates in the field, all fairly nominated in accordance with the usages of the party. They are well qualified for the various positions assigned them, and are entitled to the cordial support of every Democrat.

We earnestly urge our friends to turn out in their strength to-day at the polls, and give a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together for the whole ticket. And beware, too, of spurious tickets which are affixed by the thousand—circulated for the purpose of deceiving honest and unsuspecting voters.—The following is the genuine Democratic ticket—all others are counterfeit:

GENERAL NOMINATIONS.

Major John Zimmerman.

High Constable—John Myers.

WARD NOMINATIONS.

N. V. WARD.

Select Council—Christian Zehner.

Common Council—John Carpenter, Lewis Healy, Charles J. Frerley, Adam Trout, John Rees.

Alderman—Sebastian G. Miser.

City Constable—Jacob C. Gandler.

Judge Robert J. King.

Inspector—James S. Morris.

Select Council—Dr. Henry Carpenter.

Common Council—John C. Stenger, John Stengerwalt,

Mr. Henry P. Carson.

Assessor—Capt. George H. Bigler.

City Constable—John K. Kubas.

Judge—Charles E. Wentz.

Inspector—Daniel Oseen.

Select Council—Dr. Henry Carpenter.

Common Council—William P. Brooks, Wm. S. Amweg.

Assessor—Eugene Hartke.

City Constable—William M. Goramy.

Judge—Samuel J. Morrison.

Inspector—John Henkle.

Democrats—Beware.

We learn that certain gentlemen are at work through the city, representing Mr. Burrows as the Democratic candidate for the Majority. This is done for the purpose of deceiving honest and unsuspecting voters. We caution our Democratic friends to beware of this trick.—Major Zimmerman is the Democratic candidate, regularly placed in nomination, while Mr. Burrows is one of the opposition candidates, brought out by certain individuals, some of whom we know to be the blackest kind of Black Republicans, for the purpose of defeating the Democratic party. We are sorry, as we intimated last week, that Mr. Burrows lends himself to such a purpose. But, as he has done so, it becomes our duty to place him in his proper position as a candidate. We, therefore, repeat the caution to our Democratic fellow citizens, to beware of this cunningly devised scheme to foist him upon the public as the Democratic candidate, instead of Major Zimmerman, the regularly settled nominee of the party.

The Delegate Elections.

We hope our Democratic friends throughout the county will not forget or neglect to attend the delegate elections on Saturday next. The ensuing County Convention has been called for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention which is to assemble at Harrisburg on the 2d of March. And as this latter body will have to nominate candidates for the responsible offices of Governor, Judge of the Supreme Court, and Canal Commissioners, it is highly important that "good and true" men be sent as representatives to that body. To be certain that Lancaster county is fairly represented, it is necessary that the people themselves should see to it that their County Convention is composed of the right kind of material. We make these suggestions at this time, so that the attention of our Democratic friends may be directed to the subject. It is their business—not ours—to elect the delegates on Saturday next.

Movements of Mr. Buchanan.

The President elect left Wheatland on yesterday morning, on a brief visit to Washington City. He reached the Capitol on Tuesday morning, and during the afternoon called on President Pierce, by whom he was cordially received and invited to partake of the hospitalities of the White House. He will return home, probably to day or tomorrow, and will remain here until within three or four days of the Inauguration. During his stay in Washington, he was visited by thousands of his fellow citizens of all parties, anxious to pay their respects to the Chief Magistrate of this mighty Republic. Perhaps no man since the days of the great Washington has been elevated to the Presidency of the United States, who has attracted, and who will continue to attract, so much public attention, not only in this country but throughout Europe, as Mr. Buchanan. He reaches the highest post of earthly ambition and influence at an important period in the world's history; and if he succeeds, as we have no doubt he will, in guiding the ship of State through the angry and turbulent sea upon which she is launched, his administration will be a model one in the history of the country, and his name and fame will go down to posterity, and be cherished by the hundreds of millions who will succeed us upon the stage of action.

Indiana Senators.

By a special dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer, it appears that in the Democratic caucus held, on the 29th ult., by the Democratic members of the Indiana Legislature, Hon. Jesse D. Baugh and Hon. Graham N. Finch, were unanimously nominated for U. S. Senators—ex-Governor Wright declining for the sake of harmony.

A resolution was unanimously adopted recommending ex-Governor Wright to Mr. Buchanan for the highest gift in his behalf which he may deem Indiana entitled.

Once more we urge our Democratic friends to beware of SPURIOUS TICKETS, at the election TO-DAY.

The Letter at Last!

We have heard a great deal said in the Black Republican press for the last two or three weeks, about a "dictatorial" letter sent by Mr. Buchanan to Col. Mott, on the subject of the late Senatorial election. There has been a vast amount of unnecessary abuse heaped upon the head of the President elect, and many honest people were led to suppose that there was something absolutely horrible in his attempt to influence the election of a United States Senator. We supposed all along that the Negro-worshipping friends of Cameron were barking up the wrong tree, and that when the letter once saw day-light, it would be found to be a totally different affair from what the public were led to suppose. At length it has made its appearance in the public prints—thanks to the traitor Wagonsteller, who, in his feeble attempt, the other day in the House, to justify his base treachery, (somebody wrote a speech for him which he read in his place,) brought the letter to light.

It may be said, that we supported Hon. D. Foster, for the office of United States Senator, very true. The Standard was the first paper, immediately after the late campe, to speak of him in connexion with the office. The opinion we entertained of him, we entertain of him now. We believe him to be an honorable, high-minded Democrat, and eminently qualified to adorn the office; but we do not believe that there is a gift of government lands. The organization of the Territory, has proved recreant to the removal, but the house was unable to reach a vote on the question, on account of the factious opposition of the minority, and the riotous conduct of the mob of persons through the lobby, mostly from Council Bluffs, Iowa, who cheer their friends and groan their opponents. Council Bluffs and Omaha are both town sites owned by the same company of Speculators, who also own the ferry, and are endowed with a gift of government lands. The organization of the Territory, has proved a good thing for them, that they cannot hear the prospect of the capital being removed to some other point. To such an extent is the attempt to overawe the Legislature carried, that the House of Representatives petitioned the Governor for a sufficient military force to protect their persons from violence. It is thought that the removal will pass both houses by the requisite majority of two-thirds' over the Governor's veto. To make this two-thirds majority in the House the vote of the Speaker was necessary; but under the rules of the House, he could only vote in case of a tie. To rescind this rule was, therefore, the policy of the majority of the members of the House. The speaker ordered the Sergeant-at-Arms to take him into custody. The member, a Mr. Hancombe, defied him to do so, and significantly put his hand on a Bowie-knife. The Sergeant-at-Arms paused, whereupon the Speaker repeated the order. Hanscombe dared the majority to lay hands on him, and the lobby applauded. The Speaker intimated that, unless this were stopped, it would be necessary to clear the lobbies. The mob responded, "Better try it," and making less criminality of another, sacrifices his scruples to secure the propagation of a powerful interest in his own special behalf. So the thing works; and the result is that the people are plundered of millions by a corrupt coalition between the lobby interests and certain profligate members of Congress.

A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a political friend to Harrisburg or elsewhere—Even to Gen. Foster himself—without giving just cause of offence to any man, whether a candidate for Senatorial honors or not. And this letter, so cautious and mild in its tone, and so far removed from dictation as to be the shabby pretext by Wagonsteller and Leno for supporting Cameron's election! Hear what the traitor, in closing his speech, says:

"A document so palpably hostile to the spirit and policy of republican government—so eloquent of everything like freedom and freedom—that it is fit for the Senate, Bigler and Headland, and others to wear. Wagonsteller, in his speech, says, "I am a