Sr. Louis, March 23, 1857. During the entire week we have been in the enjoyment of most delightful weather—springlike and favorable for out door business. Country merchants are now arriving, and tende generally is brisk. Money, however, is tight and hard to obtain, and the opinion seems to be that the sent stringency will continue for the next thirty days. The rivers are still in pretty fair stage, with the exception of the Missouri, which is low and reported falling. Freights to all points are high, and shippers are holding back for a decline. Our city maintains its usual good health. There has been nothing of moment transpiring in out city since the date of our last review, except of a political character. We have now three tickets, as usual, before the people for the municipal offices. The "National Demo ata" have nominated Gen. Bernard Pratte for Mayor, and a full city ticket. Gen. Pratte is an "old line Whig," and several years ago filled the office of Mayor. The so called "Benton party" have nominated John M. Wimer, also for-merly the Mayor of St. Louis. Mr. Wimer has been proverbial, as well as fortunate, in his lust for office-he was once Mayor; once Sheriff of this county; once the Postmas ter under President Polk; at present County Judge, and we believe a Bank Director and President of an Insurance Company, and to "cap the climax" is getting up a Bank of which he is to be President, as well as an aspirant for the Mayorality. We think the "measure" of his aspiring. ambition has the bottom knocked out, and consequently will never get full. "Is there no other man among us?" The Know Nothings not to be outdone, have met in some rainy alley" and settled a full ticket, having at its head Gen. Carr Lane for Mayor. Mr. Lane was also the Chief Executive of St. Louis in years gone by, and at one time Governor of New Mexico. The K. N.'s are considerably up, and the probabilities are will not stick to their ticket. Mr. Lane is a Whig, and never took the K. N. obligation, and his nomination was only made to shield the Dark Lantern order from open and bare-faced "bargain and sale" He not being one of their party they think they violate no pledge by dropping him and casting their votes for some other man—he was only put on the ticket as a blind," and if he remains in the field will not obtain 500 votes all told. As I stated in a former letter, the indications were that the K. N.'s and the so-called "Benton party" would fuse at the City and State elections. We have ooked through that "mill stone" and see the plot laid out by the two factions. The K. N.s are to drop their city ticket, and vote for Mr. Wimer and the entire Benton cit; ticket, who are to be repaid in August next by the Benton men voting for the Know Nothing candidate for Governor The race for Mayor will be between Gen. Pratte and Mr. Wimer, and by the aid of the K. N.'s, there is scarcely a doubt of Mr. Wimer's election. But after this is done, how many of the Benton party will violate their consciences and former attachment to Democratic men and measures and political hatred to Know Nothingiam, by voting for an out and out member of the Know Nothing order? The leaders, no doubt, will do it, but the rank and file will hesitate-particularly those Germans who have been so leasters, no account, will do in the last and have been so The amendments having passed precisely number offully abused and denounced by the Dark Lantern as they were adopted at the last session, were party. After our last letter was written, Gov. Geary arrived in the city, and on the following morning published in the city papers his resignation and farewell address, which was very unexpectedly announced, as no indications whatever were given of such an intention. We were sorry as well as surprised at the announcement of his resizuation, or Gov. Geary has made a most excellent officer, and un to the present time kept the Territory in a state of peace - | school house. But what have surprised us most, are the conflicting statements as set forth by Gov Geary. His address, as published in the papers, is a straight-forward, manly document, in nich he says he received all the aid from the Government that he could desire, and gives as a reason for his resignamocrat office a visit, and according to that paper, in the journed. presence of some half a dozen gentlemen "fold a tale" to these "half dozen" quite the reverse of what he said in his address to the public. Gov. Geary is made to san .- but whether he so stated or not, is for him to set right—that According to this Democrat statement, Mr Pierce promised him his support—that of the Government, the Militia and the H S Army and if necessary the treasury of the Uni ted States, but when he called for aid, it was Ac This is what the Democrat states was told by Gov. Geary in that office, but his farewell address is couched in quite different language-it would seem that he could not peak too highly in praise of all concerned. We give below Geary within the space of 24 hours of each other. The Democrat says that Gov. Geary told in that office the following story:

him (Geary) with the United States Army, the Militia, and the Treasury if necessary; but instead of receiving this aid either in men or money, from the President, he has paid twelve thousand dollars out of his own pocket for the support of his administration; and with regard to military support, he has been refused a detachment of two companies of cavalry, for which he applied under the most urgent circumstances, and received the haughty answer from the officer in command, that the army of the United States was not provided to protect him."

We don't believe Gov. Geary said any such thing, or else he never wrote the following paragraph, cut from his farewell address; to which he has affixed his signature: "And last, though not the least, I must not be unmindful of the noble men who form the Military Department of the West. To Gen. Persifer F. Smith and the officers acting under his command, I return my thanks for many valuable services. Although from different parts of the Union, and naturally imbudd with sectional prejudices, I know of no instance in which such prejudices have been permitted to stand in the way of a truthful, ready, cheerful and energetic discharge of duty. Their conduct in this respect is worthy of universal commendation, and presents theight example for those accounting the civil power. The respect is worthy of universal commendation, and presents a bright example for those executing the civil power. The good behaviour of all the soldiers who were called upon to assist me, is, in fact, deserving of especial notice. Many of these troops, officers and men, had served with me on the fields of Mexico, against a foreign foe, and it is a source of no little satisfaction to know that the laurels there won have been further adorned by the praiseworthy alacrity with which they aided to allay a destructive fratricidal strife at home."

We are inclinated.

We are inclined to believe that Gov. Geary's converse tion at the Missouri Democrat office has been perverted and abused, and it rests with him to set himself right before the people. The two statements, said to have been made by Gov. Geary, will not, nor cannot stand side by side. He is no doubt now at Washington, and the two statements which he is said to have made, are also there. and unless contradicted, will place him in an unfortunat

"While all of our pork operators here have dene well this season, some of them have realized very heavy profits. We learn that one house has cleared no less than $300,000; another shows $200,000 on the right side of the balance sheet; while the profits of yet/another amount to $150,000, and several others loom up to $50,000 and $100,000.

Nothing has been heard of our office-seekers who went by Washington at the time of the Inauguration, but their friends-those that they left behind-expect them homein a "few days." But the prevailing opinion is maintained by all, that the "ins" will have to go "out"-and they judge so from the fact that Mr. Buchanan is in favor of the "one term" principle. The Democratic party here, as well as elsewhere, are strongly in favor of "rotation in office," nd it is expected that new and other men will succeed those now holding the offices in this City and State. This is as it should be, and none but those now "in" will enter a complaint against the principle of "rotation in office." Luther M. Kennett and Thos, Price have returned from Washington both somewhat affected with the "prevailing

She was discovered by a party of hunters, and is represented as a medium siz d woman, fair, and quite naked, with the exception of a pair of moccasins. She runs with great velocity, leaping on all four over every impediment like an antelope. When discovered by a party of huntamen, she was concealed among some telegraph; brought out spirit-rapping and brush, and ran hastily away on their approach. This is, we believe, the first instance of a wild person being seen in Alabama, and with the exception of a wild man said to have been seen somewhere in the Southern part of Arkan-An editor, who was one of the hunting party who also saw her, says she was accompanied by a large ram of re markable whiteness, by whose wool she held on when running up hills and springing over rocks. The ram ap-peared very much attached to the wild and singular creaare and seemed like her defender to warn her of danger and protect her. It appears that some fifteen years ago, little girl, daughter of a French woman residing on the banks of Tombigbee river was lost, as well as a pet lambof hers. They were never after heard from, so that many supposed the little girl and her lamb had been drowned.—

The question now is, can this wild woman of Marengo co., be the same. It is highly probable, but how she has existed during fifteen years in the woods, away from all intercourse with the world, is a mystery.

A Character. The Cleveland Herald gives the following account of a most singular being, who has run risks in convict life, that almost outstrip the feats ascribed to even the notorious Jack Sheppard. The Herald says:

The penitentiary contains lots of characters but among them all, Archibald Barnes is the character. He is writing his life, and if only truthful, it will be "a strange, eventful history He was first sent to prison in Lorain, in 1853, for burglary, feigned insanity, was sent to the lunatic asylum, escaped, went back to Lorain, was betrayed by a relative, sent back to the penitentiary, again escaped, was soon after sent to the Indiana penitentiary for eight years for passing counterfeit money, then remanded to Ohio on a requisition, escaped from the officer on the way, was retaken, again esnegative recommendation:—A bill relative caped before reaching the Indiana prison, and established himself as a school teacher in Galena, Ills., courted a young lady, was about being married, and was again sent for and consigned to his old quarters in the Ohio penitentiary. The Columbus Gazette states Barnes has since made continual, but ineffec-tual efforts to escape; has again and again, by some ingenious contrivance, unlocked the door of his cell, dug out of his dangeon, cut his way through the ceiling of the hospital, and walls of the chapel, but has been foiled in all his efforts by the vigilance of the officers. He says that if there were two chances to be killed and one to escape, he should make the attempt.

The Gazette says: Barnes is a fine looking man, about five feet ten inches high, full forehead, brown hair, dark blue eyes, and heavy eyebrows. His troubles appear to have originated from false notions imbibed when first starting out in life. He cherished the idea that the present condition of society was all wrong, and that it was his duty to set it right. For this purpose, he or-ganized a secret band, to regulate society, by taking from the rich to give to the poor .-None but men of honorable character emperate habits were admitted. How far this secret influence extended is not known; but it is pretty well ascertained that men holding offices of trust and honor belonged to it .-Archibald and his two brothers were leading spirits, and as the natural result of their mistaken views, all three of the brothers, Archibald, aged 25; Seman, aged 23; and Walter, aged 21, found themselves in the penitentiary.
