It is ascribgiving the main line of the public works to able solely to the excesses of the Temperance the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. We advocates, who have sought to over-ride the trust that such a resolution will be offered and rights of the people by means of restrictive unanimously adopted. A large majority of the people of all parties are opposed to the legislative enactments, but which, from their own inherent wrong, it has been impossible iniquity-to this infamous scheme for plunto enforce; and the moral influence of the redering the Commonwealth of her most valuaform being lost, the evil of intemperance has ble and important improvement and bestowing proportionately increased. The Sons of Temit upon a heartless, mammoth corporation, perance have dwindled down from 200,000 to already grown proud and tyranical from the less than 50,000, and the life has about gone special privileges showered upon it by virtue out of this once powerful organization. The of a plethorie purse.

Let the resolution be passed, then, by all means. That it will meet with the hearty concurrence and support of the betrayed and deceived tax-payers of the State, there can be be no question. Let the issue be boldly made and met at the ensuing State election, and Republican meeting, says : there can be no doubt of the result.

An Up-hill Business.

The Pennsylvanian has commenced the herculean task of attempting to justify the infamous act of the last Legislature, in giving away the Main Line to the Central Railroad Company, and strongly endorses that provis-Island. Mr. Gough has known the State for fifteen years. We have known it as long, and on of the bill which exhonerates the company from tonnage and other taxation. . Our friend we are sure more liquor is now sold in the State than has been sold at any former period RICE will find it to be an exceedingly difficult within that time. We know that before Neal undertaking, if he expects to convince any Dow's machine went into operation-say six considerable portion of the people that it is years -there were not one fifth as many grog either fair or honest to rob the tax-payers for hops or one-fifth as many drunkards in the State as there are to-day. There were then the purpose of enriching an overgrown moseven towns where liquor was not sold openly nopoly which is mainly composed of foreign or slyly. There were twelve or fifteen in stockholders. One thing is very certain that which it was not sold openly; and there were he will fail in making any impression on the only five in which licenses were granted. Now Democracy of the interior of the State, who look upon the measure as a fraud upon the rights of the people, and as a gross outrage upon public sentiment generally, and they will not hesitate to denounce it and insist upon its unconditional repeal by the next Legislature. Some few of the Black Republican newspapers attempt a defence of this bill of true of Maine and New Hampshire, true to the abominations, but, we believe, the Pennsylvanian is "solitary and alone," if we except, t is true, perhaps, the Evening Argus, amongst the Democratic journals of the Commonwealth, in its advocacy of the sale and in opposition to forced in Vermont and New Hampshire. the repeal.

Hon. Howell Cobb.

The Bath (Maine) Times, of Thursday last, endorses the sentiments of the Lincoln Democrat in its strong and powerful advocacy of this distinguished statesman for the next Presidency. We fully agree with all the commendation so worthily bestowed upon Governor COBB, and do not doubt that he would make an excellent Chief Magistrate.-He is a sound and conservative National Democrat, with ripe experience in statesmanship, combined with talents of a high order, and is therefore eminently fitted for the Presidency, and at the proper time we might be strongly of men that ever convened at the seat of Gov inclined to join with the above mentioned paernment. It was almost a disgrace to high pers in advocating his nomination. But we minded, honest men, to be compelled to asso respectfully suggest that it is entirely too ciate with such a set of unmitigated rascals soon to agitate a question that will not be politicians, drunken borers and debauched old decided short of three years to come. Besides, we have an exalted opinion of the patriotism and political character of the Secretary of the Protest against the Bill for the Sale of the Main Line. Influence of Politics upon Temperance. The Temperance fanaticism, says the Phil-The undersigned place on the Journal of adelphia Argus, has run its course, and the result verifies the prediction and attests the wisdom of those who opposed its introduction into politics, and saw only injury to the cause Works.' as the result of the blind and bigoted zeal 1st. Because, although professing to offer the Main Line to the highest bidder, the bill with which Temperance advocates plunged into the politcial arena, endeavoring to foist discriminates so largely in the conditions of sale, terms of payment, and the exemption upon the people laws at once violative of the

And yet it empowers irre-sponsible individuals to bid for the purpose of Temperance Reformation which had elicited so largely and so justly of the attention and co operation of the benevolent and humane, began from that hour to decline, until now it has almost wholly lost its efficiency, and must speculation, by authorizing them, if they should become the purchasers, "to assign and transfer their right to the said Main Line. under said purchase, to any Railroad or Canal company created by the laws of this Cum realth." The privilege of transfer, under such circumstances, without increasing com petition, gives color to the assertion that the bill has been so framed as to enable private parties—now engaged in procuring this legislation-to purchase merely for the purpose of selling at an advance, as an indemnity for their services.

2d. Because, although the bill purports to he a sale of the Main Line, it, in reality, more nearly resembles a gift to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, if that company should obtain it on the terms proposed. The extra-ordinary extension of credit, the low rate of interest, the release of the tonnage tax, and the exemption, forever, from all other taxation or duties for State purposes, will enable that company to liquidate every dollar of the pur-chase money before the last payment shall "Temperance" papers have sunk into mere mature, by merely appropriating to that purwhippers in " of faction. The amount raised pose, the taxes from which they are thus for lectures and temperance tracts is one-fifth

The Providence is not accompanied with such a limitation upon Post, speaking of this, and repelling some the future rates of dividends of said company, false assumptions of Neal Dow, before a Black as will cause said release to enure to the benfit of the trade and commerce of the State.

Such a limitation would be in accordance with Mr. Gough went further. He said that the original design of the enterprising citizens of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, and of the various municipalities who subscribed so libmore liquor was sold in Massachusetts than he had ever before known, and that it was the same in the other States. Here, again, he spoke the truth; and it is folly for Neal Dow erally to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, not expecting or desiring large dividends upon to say that his statements are "at variance with the facts." We can testify for Rhode their investments, but to promote the great public objects above referred to.

4. Because the bill provides that in the event of the Pennsylvania Railroad company becoming the purchaser, said company shall not only be exempt from the tonnage tax, now $226,000 per annum, but that in addition shall be released from the payment of all other taxes or duties to the Commonwealth on its capital stock, bonds, dividends or property.' The latter amount, from which the Pennsylvania Railroad company would thus be relieved, may be moderately estimated at one hundred ousand dollars a year.

Such an exemption from taxation is not it is sold openly in every one of the thirty-two only without precedent, but should be depre-cated as establishing an exceedingly dangerous towns; and in Providence there are at least three times as many grog shops as there were then. The Star of last evening gives the following corrected statement of the incidents attending the firing by the marines :---

The marines were ordered out by a requisition from the President, on the authenticated statement of the Mayor and a number of citizens that the police force was insufficient to protect the citizens of Washington in the exercise of their suffrages. The two compa-nies out numbered in all 115, officers and men. The battalion under the command of Captain Tyler and Lieut Henderson, Adjutant.-The first company was commanded by Major Zeilin, the second by Capt. Maddox and Lieut. Turner. The Marines formed in line and marched towards the City Hall, the crowd of rioters hooting and yelling, threatening and insulting them at every step. They were passed on their way by a party of Plug Uglies and others, who were hauling a brass swivel, and threat-ened that not a Marine should return to the Navy Yard alive. Arrived at the City Hall, Capt. Tyler reported service to the Mayor.

The Marines were addressed by Lient, Hen-derson, who said : "Men, you have always done your duty in the servic e of your country I expect you now to do your duty bravely. necessary, in the protection of the laws, and the rights of citizens.'

The files then moved to the scene of action, subjected the while to the most abusive and insulting epithets from the lawless gang who followed When they arrived opposite to the polls, which had been closed for some time they halted in the middle of the street and ordered arms.

Some 60 or 70 ;ards above them, and oppo ite the market house, a cannon was hauled out and a large crowd of rioters surrounded t, while a delegation of their number was sent inform the commanding officer that unless the Marines were instantly withdrawn the ece would be discharged into their ranks .-Captain Tyler, on receiving this threatening essage, immediately gave the order to move oward the gun, and when the right of the ine was nearly opposite it, General Hender-

The general was dressed in citizen's dress and armed with nothing more deadly than a cotton umbrella. He addressed the rioters saying, "men, you had better think wice before you fire this piece at the Marines." He informed the crowd that the gans were all loaded with ball and cartridge, and officers repeatedly warned the citizens to go away from the spot. The General, finding that the piece would be fired unless captured, instantly crossed Capt. Tyler and gave the order for over to ten or fifteen Marines to take it. During this time a number of pistol shots were fired at General Henderson, some of the parties standng within a few feet of him when firing. One platoon of the Marines brought their arm to the trail, without cocking, and charged the piece on a run. Those in charge of the piece nstantly retreated, and a dozen or more revolvers were discharged at the platoon, who had laid hold of the gun and were taking it the President and Directors of the company, purchasing said line, should be citizens and cover the piece, when Lieutenant Henderson cover the piece, when Lieutenant Henderson ran up and hauled it across the street to the rear of the Marines.

A man ran up to the General, within two feet of his person, and was about to discharge his revolver, when a marine with a musket struck his arm, causing the weapon to fall ; at the same time the General seized the villain. and marched him off to the Mayor in whose hands he placed him. The pistol shots now rattled around like hailstones, and the officers had great difficulty in restraining their men from returning the fire. Gen. Henderson and all the officers were constantly admonishing the men not to fire until the command was given, but a shot coming from the crowd struck a marine in the cheek, inflicting a dreadful wound, and several more being with balls and brickbats, the soldiers could stand it no longer; they poured in an answering fire which was stopped as soon as possible by the officers. The Marines were nearly all natives instead

The nominations were subsequently made unanimous A committee on resolutions reported, in substance, that the "American party was composed of citizens of America by hirth or choice, and invited all to join it who endorsed their views; that they were opposed to any religious tests being introduced into their platform of principles; that relcomed to this land all strangers, but were opposed to the importation of felons and paupers; that they were proposed to the elevation to office of all persons not citizens, elieving that 'None but Americans should rule America; that they were opposed to outside intervention in the reguation of State affairs, and opposed to all legislative interference by Congress that would tend to a disruption of the mity of the States." The resolutions further contained an ndorsement of the original views of the party on the For ion and Central American policy, and concluded with an ndorsement of the nominees of the Convention, and also the administration of Governor Pollock.

The "Minute Men of '56," of Philadelphia, were in atendance. They arrived here in the 2 o'clock train on Wednesday morning, and were received at the depot by heir K. N. brethren of this city. The somewhat celebrated JOE BARKER, of Pittsburg, wa also in town, and spoke in Centre Square. He seemed to be driving ahead on his own hook, rapping the Convention pretty sharply over the knuckles, and ridiculing their minations. Jox seems to be an intensified American of the pepper and sait stripe, and is disposed to lash the Know-Nothing rascals all round with as much severity as he deals his blows on the clergy in general, and the Cath-olic clergy in particular. The ex-Mayor of Pittsburg is evidently some two or three year behind the age. Had he appeared in our midst during the summer of 1854, in company with the hypocritical KEYS, when Know-Nothingism was in the hey-day of its prosperity, he would hav been looked upon as a sort of demi-god with the fraternity. and his filthy teachings would have been considered orac ular; but now, alas! he failed to draw even a respectabl audience in point of numbers, and his blather of nonsense currility and abuse fell still-born on the few who ha patience to hear him to the "bitter end."

Washington Election Riot.

The Municipal election in Washington City, on yesterday week, was attended by serious disturbances and rioting at several of the voting places-occasioned by an influx of Baltimore Know-Nothing rowdies who went on there for the purpose of controlling the election and defeating the Democratic ticket. The riot assumed such a serious aspect, that the Mayor was unable to quell it, until he obtained from the President an order to call out two companies of U. S. Marines, and proceeded with them to the Northern Liberties, whither the rioters had conveyed a swivel. The rioters commenced firing which was returned by the Marines, killing some six or seven persons, Company. and wounded a great many more. Full particulars will be found in another column. During the evening an Artillery company from Fort McHenry arrived to relieve the Marines By midnight the streets were quiet, the rioters having been pretty well subdued. The Dem ocrats elected their candidates for Collector, Register, and a majority of the City Councils

The resolutions of the Students of the Chnrchtown Academy, on the death of J. NELSON EVANS, were received too late for this week's issue. They will appear next week.

The Workings of Mormonism. An English clergyman, who left England o join the Mormons, returned to London in September last. He has just published a volume giving his opinion of the saints found in the vicinity of the Great Salt Lake. We uote: " One of the most repulsive features of Mor

nonism is the proxy system. This is so de structive to every good and honest feeling that many staunch Mormonites reject it altogether. I heard one of the oldest disciples say, that nothing on earth would ever persuade him to believe in it, and that if he had a dog that believed it, he would shoot him. will any reader be surprised when he knows what it is. I will endeavor to explain it briefly. When a married man is called by conference to a foreign mission, he has the privilege, as they call it before leaving home, of choosing some one to take the oversight of his cattle goods, and whatever he may possess; to provide for and overlook the family, and to become the pro-tempore husband of the wife.

The ostensible reason for this arrangement s to prevent the husband from "suffering any loss" during his absence on missionary labor Bince the greatness of his "future kingdom" depends upon the number of children he has here. To carry out this idea, the wife is handed over to a deputy husband, who main tains his position in the family till the husband returns. Base and immoral as this theory may be, it is strongly advocated by the leading men at the Great Salt Lake. We again quote the returned clergyman: "But there is something more awful and paralyzing than all I have yet narrated. I mean the fearful sin of incest, which is so intimately and closely connected with poly-gamy. I could particularize instances where mother and daughter are married to the same man, and live with him as his wives; others where brother and sister are man and wife, and son. Brigham Young, speaking once upon this subject in the Tabernacle, said that he hoped the day was not far distant when these principles would be more fully taught and acted upon, and that children would be brought up to regard each other as future partners, for that thus the family would become more compact." As "a case in point," we would mention that some ten months since there was a man at Liverpool, who held the office of counselor to the British Presidency, who, aided by the CATTLE COMING .- A large and valuable authorities there and the emigration fund, persuaded a family-father, mother and three daughters, the youngest in her teens-to emigrate to Zion. They had been a highly respectable family, and their character is irreproachable. On arriving at their destination, the missionary demanded the three daughters in marriage, and the parents gave a most reluctant consent. This man of God (as he styled himself) was married by Brigham Young to these three on the same day, and took them together, to his house, where he had a young wife already, and which house consistent of but one room for the accommodation of them all. In about a year one brought forth a daughter and another a son. This caused him great rejoicing, as he said the sons would in time marry the daughters, and thus inali-enably become the foundation of his kingdom. This statement reads like a fable, and yet there is no state of facts more easily proved. That such doctrines should exist in a Christian land, in the year of our Lord 1857, is one of those peculiar monstrosities which no amount of logic can account for. Mormonism is the great evil of the day. How shall it be got rid of, is difficult to say. It may be put down by force, but it will not be put down by reason make a response to an application to dissolve the rastora tie. Resolved, That while the relation of Pastor and people, now subsisting for over four years, has resulted in especial properity to the Congregation, and in a devoted discharge of the various duties of minister, yet we feel that our belowed Pastor has filled the relationship at great per-sonal and pecuniary sacrifice, during that period—a sacri-fice that a sense of duty alone would have caused him to make; and that his exalted character, his eminent talents, his eloquence as a preacher, and his ardent piety, entitled him to a larger and more promising field of labor and use-fulness; that these facts, united with his own request, and a knowledge of his past sacrifices, could alone constrain us, should his mind remain unchanged, to submit to the asked for but painful separation.

At last we are beginning to get the truth of for if men could reason, they would never become Mormons.
