Our Democratic cotemporaries in the East, in giving publicity to these statements, should be guided by the following facts: 1. The Republicans, in pursuance of a determination arrived at in caucus, took possession of the Capital on Sunday night, while the Democratic members were at their homes. 2. At 12 o'clock, M., on Monday, the Con vention was called to order by the Secretary of the Territory and the acting Governor, he ber of the Convention, A motion was made to adjourn to 12 M., next day, and the motion being put, was voted on by a quorum of the Convention, Democrats and Republicans, and declared carried. No division was called for and the Convention accordingly adjourned.

3. After the adjournment had been legally arried, and so declared, in a cordance with Parliamentary custom, the Black Republicans organized, but without a quorum of legally elected delegates. The Democrats have elected to the Convention fifty-six delegates—all of whom were legally elected; but six of the delegates, owing the rascality of certain Registers of Deeds were refused certificates, in order to place the organization in the power of the Blacks. 5. The Republicans claim to have fifty nine members; seven of their number hold thus reducing their number below a quorum, and placing their Convention in the position of a mere partisan meeting. The fact is not susceptible of successful contradiction, that the Democrats have a maority of the whole number of delegates, and that this majority is composed of men legally elected, while the so-called Convention of the Republicanses made up to the required standard by bogus delegates-men who, in claiming

The speedy completion of the Atlantic telegraph cable had been announced, and it is now probable that the attempt to carry out this great marvel of the century will be made by the Niagara and Agamemnon during the present month. The intelligence from Spain leaves the Mexican question still unsettled .-The only news items of interest from France are, the death of the distinguished poet Beranger, and the announcement that eleven members of the opposition have been elected to the Corps Legislatif. We have the details of the mutiny in India, which show that the spread of the disaffection is more extensive than was represented in first advices, and that the most vigorous exertions of a powerful force of British troops will be required to restore quiet, and maintain the prestige of the British arms .-At present, it looks as if the conquerors of the Indies would be able to inflict a severe chastisement upon the insurgents. The commercial news is of importance. Cotton had advanced. Breadstuffs were dull.

Mount Vernon Purchase.

The Ladies of Virginia are making powerful efforts to raise a fund for the purchase of the Mount Vernon estate. The following letter (enclosing a check for $50) from the President of the United States, will be read with interest by every body:

Washington, 25th July, 1857. Mrs. Wm. F. Ritchie:
My Dear Madam:—The annexed is my cheerful contribution to the Mount Vernon Association. Will you be kind enough to present it in my name, and to assure the ladies who have undertaken to raise the funds necessary to purchase "the Home and Grave of ington," that I most ardently wish them success in a cause which ought to enlist the sympathies of every patriotic heart?

Yours very respectfully, JAMES BUCHANAN.

THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER .- The noble stand taken by this paper against the nullifiers who have attacked Mr. Buchanan's Kansas policy, is attracting attention and eliciting commendation from all sections of the country. The Rochester Union says: " As the clarion voice of the able and intrepid Wise turned back the tide of Hindoo fanaticism and enabled the Democracy of the Old Dominion to achieve one of the most brilliant victories known to leader' that 'has never lost a battle.' in a continuous warfare of more than half a century, now rebukes the fanaticisn of the Southern curse our country at the present day, eventually fail to meet their obligations, after plunare pursuing.

COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT, &c. - The ceremo-Franklin and Marshall College commenced on Tuesday morning last, in Fulton Hall, before a highly respectable and intelligent audience. The ceremonies of the day were preliminary to the regular exercises of commencem (Wednesday,) and consisted of the Biennial Address before the Literary Societies, by David Paul Brown, Esq., o

Philadelphia, the Dedication of the Societies' New Halls on the College grounds, and the Annual Address before the Alumni Association, which was delivered in the evening in Fulton Hall, by Rev. Jos. Clark, of Chambersburg, one of the most talented young writers and orators in the cou At half-past nine o'clock, the students, preceded by Hepting's Brass Band, marched from the College to Fulton Hall. A short time subsequently the members of the Board of Trustees also proceeded from St. Paul's (Ger. Ref. Church, where they had been holding a business meeting.

After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Hodgson, David Paul. Brown was introduced to the audience and greeted with applause. He proceeded to deliver a discourse which, like all his masterly efforts, was profound and eloquent, though it did not possess those bold, striking, extempore characteristics which have made his efforts at the bar so popular and successful. His theme, "Force of Character and Imovement of Time," was profitable for instruction and afforded a wide range of thought and illustration, though presenting but little opportunity for the speaker to indulge in those affecting and truly eloquent appeals which we have often heard from his lips on previous occasions nevertheless, his argument and illustrations were inter spersed with frequensallies of wit and relation of anecdote. which elicited loud and frequent applause. The discourse was mainly addressed to the students, and abounding with good advice and friendly counsel. Mr. Brown spoke about an hour and was frequently interrupted with applause. In the afternoon the Society Halls were dedicated, the address for the Diagnothians being delivered by Rev. Geo. Russell, A. M., of Pittsburg, and the Goetheans by Dr. Steiner, of Baltimore. The interesting ceremo witnessed by a large number of gentlemen and ladies, and ssed much interest.

The Board of Trustees met in the morning and re-organ zed by re-electing Hon. James Buchanan, President of the United States, President of the Board. The old officers were re-elected, with the exception of the Vice President, Rev. Dr. J. W. Nevin having been elected in place of Re-Dr. Bowman, at the request of the latter. A second session their seats in violation of law and of justice was also held after the Biennial Address, and they again met in the evening at 6 o'clock in the Lecture Room of St. Paul's Church.—Express.

The Commencement exercises were resumed on Wednesday. The attendance was very large—the ladies and boquets being greatly in the majority. The addresses were delivered by Geo. Silvius, of Reading, Pa.: John Ault, of Annville, Pa.: George W. Willard of county; J. A. Peters, of this county; and the valedictor by William A. Duncan, of Adams county, Pa. The addresses taken as a whole were unusually able and interesting. The young gentlemen from our own county, Messrs. Leaman and Peters, acquitted themselves in a highly gratiying and creditable manner, and elicited great appliause from the vast audience. Rebellion in Kansas.

This is the right name for the movement of the people in Lawrence, and the Washington Union properly uses it. There can be no excuse for these madmen. The New York Commercial Advertiser, an Old Line Whig paper,

"If the people of Kausas, or any portion of them, have deliberately determined to 'resist any attempt to enforce the laws by the collectaxes those laws have imposed, Governor Walker wi'l utterly fail in his duty, if he does not employ whatever force is neces sary to put down such open rebellion. And the men who suppose that in refusing obe dience to the laws and in resisting the Government in enforcing them, they will have the sympathy of any considerable number of their ellow citizens outside of the Territory of Kansas, will find themslves egregiously mistaken."

We have another stronger endorsement from the New York Times, a paper which supported FREMONT and the Black Republican ticket, which says :

The inhabitants of Lawrence have set up a Sovernment within a Government. They refuse to recognize the Territorial Government -and the Topeka Government has not recognized them. They accordingly proceed to re cognize themselves, and to constitute a free city in the heart of the Territoy. They take up what is an absolutely anomalous ground. They go back in the most literal manner to first principles, and establish in Kansas such a condition of society as obtained in Israel before the days of the Judges. If there were no shadow of a Government in Kansas—if open civil war raged in that Territory, and the bonds of the Federal Union had been loosened -we could understand the propriety of this proceeding and see its relations to civil order. But the most infatuated defender of the people of Lawrence must surely find it difficult to dispose fairly of the facts set forth by Gov Walker in his Proclamation, which we publish to day.

It is imposible that any man of common loyal y common sense, occupying the position of a Federal officer in Kansas, should look quietly on upon such an absolute and contemptuous disregard of his authority, and of the very existence of the Government which he represents, as is manifested by the citizens of Lawrence in their municipal organization. If a peaceful solution of the Kansas question Columbus, Ohio; William Leaman, of Paradise, in this impossible, if it is inevitable that civil war should again break out there, to spread thence throughout the Union, let those who cherish this belief make it plainly known that we may understand what is before us. But let us not hear cries of "peace" from those whose conviction is that peace is a chimera, nor pro clamations of regard for law from those who believe that law in these United States has become alternately a farce and a tyranny, that our Government is an irremediable imposture, and that nothing can secure the quiet organization of a great Territory of the Union but entire withdrawal from from that Territory, of every pretence and appearance of Federal authority.

Politics and Religion. The New York Evangelist, a "religious" paper, publishes a letter dated Concord, N. H.. in which the writer says:

"In New England it will soon become a question for the churches to decide, whether a Democrat shall be received into the church or be allowed to remain in it without discipline. According to the common interpretation of the late decision of the Supreme Court, those who endorse it by their votes or their influence are doing all in their power to rivet the chains of the slave, to make servitude-involuntary, oppressive servitude-the "corner stone" of national government, and at the same time, to secure the moral assassination of a race.— The Apostle Paul seemed to indicate that those who "approve" of such things are more guilty than those who do them. Our churches cannot tolerate fellowship with slaveholders; indeed some clergymen think their souls in peril by associating with or corresponding with those who consent to meet with them as equals. If Christians at the North cannot sit peacefully with a delegate from the South low can they tolerate northern brethren who approve of the principles of those delegates and vote as they vote on the great and absort ing questions of the day? This aspect of the question is rising in this State.

The New York Commercial, in referring to this foolish and illiberal assumption of ecclehe voted for Buchanan for President, and Rye Flour and Corn Meal are quiet. The former is held at thereby aided the cause of slavery, very justly $4.75, and the latter at $4 per barrel. remarks.

Such preposterous assumptions of the right to dictate to a citizen to which political party he shall adhere, and to make his political opinions the terms of his churchmanship, every man with a spark of independence in his breast will treat with the contempt they But the effect of such assumptions will be to destroy respect equally for religion. its ministers and its ordinances. really loves religion and desires the perpetuity of the church, exert himself at once to crush such a proscriptive spirit, and will emphati-ically denounce the assumptions which it implies.

Fidelity of a Slave.

At a meeting of the Palmetto Association of South Carolina, some weeks since, Mr. Keitt, in the course of a speech laudatory of the deeds of the South Carolina regiment in the Mexican war, related the following instance of devotion in a slave who was attached to the person of a brother of Preston S. Brooks: "When another regiment fled, and all the down upon the gallant Palmettoes, bathed

the blood of their comrades-when Shields said 'who will follow me?' and Butler said 'we will'-Brooks, yes, the stripling Brooks, cried out, 'yes we will all follow you to the death' -and be did. The same ball which pierced his body shivered his musket-and a shivered musket was to adorn the signet with the motto satis meruisse. When this brother left home, Brooks told him, his father said to his old hody servant, 'go with him and take care of him -I confide my son to you.' How did the good When the baptism of blood old negro act? was going on-when perils were lingering around-when hot ignition of stratagem was every where-with none to watch the wounded boy but this old servant, he was at his labor of love, taking care of his charge.— Crushed bones worked out from the woundhe gathered them up and preserved them. The noble spirit passed out and the cornse alone was left. What did the old and faithfu slave? The regiment gave him a mule and cart-the soldiers helped him to make a rude With his own hands he placed the coffin. earthly remains of his beloved young master in this hearse-he conveyed it to Mexico-he crried it to Vera Cruiz-he bore it on shipboard party. Weller will doubtless be nominated and by railroad to his old master's home, and delivered the body and the bones of her child to his widowed and bereaved mother, at the Fremont's Maraposa claim, and threatening In classic story—in legendary annals—in ancient or modern time-where is the equal of this touching story?"

A NEGRO APPOINTED TO OFFICE IN WISCONSIN! -Secretary of State Refuses to File the Bond.—On the 9th day of July, 1857, a commission, as notary public, was issued by Govenor Bashford to H. Nolan—a person of nut brown complexion and negro extraction, who has resided in this cit; many years as barber, ice cream saloon keeper, and leader of a cotilllon band. He also invented the "capitaluvium" and "tricopherous," two varieties of dog water" in general use and circulation for the hair. The commission is isued with al the proper formalities, and the bond required by law is signed by Wm. H. Nolan, and by Wm. B. Jarvis as bondsmen. But the Secretary of State, Col. Jones, refuses to file the bond, and on it we find the following endorsement :- " This appointment is in violation of the constitution and therefore void."-Madison Democrat, July 16.
