SPEECH OF SENATOR BIGLER.

AT CLARION, PA., ON THE 871 INST.

In reply to the Audress of the Hon. David Wilmont, delivered at Philadelphia, on the 24th alt. After giving a brief history of the Democratic party, showing how eminently wise and successful its policy had been in the past, and how it had uniformly, in all exigencies, in war or peace, stood by the true interests of the country, and had advanced its growth and prosperity, and elevated the dignity and prowess of the nation, claiming for that party a higher degree of purity, wisdom and patriotism than were possessed by any similar association of men in modern times; and having also paid a handsome compliment to the character and qualifications of Gen.

"But another faci, equally singular, is, that although his address abounds with graphic descriptions of the ordis of slavery, and coarse imputations upon the motives of its advocates, it does not contain a single practical suggestion as to a remedy for the ovilis it imments. Air. W. declares it to be "a question of verything valuable to us as freemen," and yet he has not attempted to show the people of Pennsylvania in what way they can apply the remedy—Not only this, but I shall prove to you that, according to his own showing the people of a free, State have no U. Institutional right to interiors for regardative with the affects to deput interiors for regardative with the affects of the state of his interiors. The contains a single has a first of the state of his interiors for regardative with the state of his friends of "protection for the State of his birth." Possibly he could have convinced the manufacturers of iron in Christon and eisewhere, that they are specially his debtors, and permitting the dead past to bury its dead, they should come to his rescue in his hour of need. Perhaps there were among his auditors at Philadelphia, those who had assisted to give Mr. Dallas to the fines in effect, for following the Wilmot lead on the Tarff, in 1845, and he could have louded them to repent that great wrong on Mr. Dallas, as also lated advocate of "British free trade in the embrace of the protection is and the protection is to have a manufacturers of iron in Christon and eisewhere, that they are specially his debtors, and permitting the dead past to bury its dead, they should come to his rescue in his hour of need. Perhaps there were among his auditors at Philadelphia, those who had assisted to give Mr. Dallas to the fines in effect, or reliably will he entry the protection of the lounder of the distinguished advocate of "British free trade in the embrace of the protection is the protection of the lounder of the protection is the protection of the lounder of the distinguished free-trader. The new alliance of the The contract of the contract o

State party of that unhappy Territory, he makes the following sweeping declaration:

"I affirm that the Administration knows all about these outrages, and yet they uphold them. They sustain the Missourian usurpation, and they dare not be just, because they are the slaves of the slave power who created them and upholds them."

This is terrific indeed, coming from a candidate for Governor; but Mr. Wilmot's language is tame and feeble compared with the sparkling rhetoric of Col. Keitt of South Carolina, on the other side of the question. The Colonel, in his letter dated at White Sulphur Springs, imputes to the Administration altogether different action and purpose. He alleges that its first act was to appoint a Governor to "debauch Kansas from allegiance to the South and deliver her into the hands of Free Soil fanatics," and that "to say that the cause of the South was lost in Kansas prior to the appointment of Walker, is to pullitate fraud by falsehood." Here is a wide difference between big doctors. But the Southerner seems palliate fraud by falsehood." Here is a wide difference between big doctors. But the Southerner seems to have the best of the contest. Indeed the best attempts of Wilmot and his school of orators, to show the subservicecy of the Administration to the slave power fall far below the most ordinary efforts of Col. Keitt, the Charleston Mercury, and the New Orleans Delta, to demonstrate its free soil tendencies and its treachery to the South. With such fires in front and rear who will say that Col. Keitt may not reasonably imagine the fantastics to be hereafter played by "shivering Cabinets" and "convulsive Administrations".

bly imagine the fantastics to be hereafter played by a shivering Cabinets? and a convulsive Administrations??

Then again, Mr. Wilmot and his party seem to be in great () Lantation lest the shave lower should deprive some of the citizens of Kansas of the opportunity of ratising thilly voices against the institution at the lath! tox, best some be deprived of that high and sacred prerogatio, the right of suffrage. They descant eloquently on the sacredness of this (ight, and hurd destructive authemas upon the heads of all who shall attempt to restrict or usure this great function of American freemen. The people and the shall people must be heard. Now this is all very well, and they cannot go any further on this point than will the Democracy: but does not this sickly concern for the rights of the people are with exceeding lead grace from Mr. Wilmot and his party, who in the convention that nominated Col. Fremont, bad it down as a principle, that not only a portion, but off the citizens of Kansas should be deprived of the right of sacing whether they should have Slavery on 1? They claimed that right for Congress, and virtually held that though minestenths of the people might desire slavery, the interdistion of Congress should be conclusive. It was no half way husiness with them. It is part o their faith to deprive all the people of the sacred opportunity which they falsely allege the Democracy are attempting to take from some. They experted the interference of Missard in the settlement of the slavery question in Kansas, and yet according to their own observations and congress—The per theal calcet of their dwell in being that the power to death the propose and admit Kansas as a State, unless the decision be against slavery. They will acree to take her into the little of the opportunity of viving effect to his will on the surject. Why even now, Mr. Wilmet and his party will not say that the will be content with the decide on slavery. They will acree to take her into the people, and admit Kansas as State, unless the ad
