ST. LOUIS CORRESPONDENCE. The Times and the Banks—Market Report—Forrest, the Tragedian—An Explosion—Wm. Penn Festival at Chi-cago—A Hunt and Ball in Inferson County—New Medical Publication by Dr. N. B. Wolfe.

Sr. Louis, Nov. 2, 1857. We have very little change to report in monetary affairs the pressure and panic continue without abatement. number was somewhat surprised at the usual hour ning the State Bank, on Monday morning last, on for opening the state bank, on monday morning less, on finding that its doors remained closed. The news of the suspension soon travelled through the business circles, and while some seemed startled at this suspension, others felt that it was nothing more than the crisis and the times demanded, and were really glad to hear that the doors of the State Bank remained closed. The great relief which this suspension—that of all specie paying banks—was said would be the result, we must confess we have not experinced. Currency has now become the basis of all busin transactions of the market, for no sooner was it known that the State Bank ceased to pay out specie, the other new banks of our city immediately suspended, with the exception of one-the Mechanics Bank-which still con tinues to deem its notes with gold and silver, but this fact amounts to almost nothing, and it may be said all of the St. Louis Banks have now suspended. The State and other charted suspended banks are doing business as usual, with the exception of paving specie for their notes. All our private banks receive the notes of all solvent suspended western and eastern banks on deposit and pay out the

The health of our city continues good. The weather has been cool and pleasant, with heavy frosts. No rain of any consequence has fallen, which is just now much needed, if for no other purpose than to produce a rise in the upper rivers, which are reported very low and failing. There is really not a single local item worthy of reporterday, the 1st of November, was the anniversary of the Gasconade Railroad disaster, by which some thirty or orty of our most prominent citizens were hurried into sternity. Although it has been two years since the occur ce, the scene is still vivid in the memory of many who ere providentially saved upon that occasion. Mr. Edwin Forrest, the distinguished American trage-lian, has arrived in our city, and commences an engage ent to-night at Wood's Theatre. Nearly every person seets has something to say of "Forrest," and as it has een many years since he played in this city, he will draarge crowds nightly to the theatre. He commences his ongagement with "Hamlet." There is considerable stir nd excitement in the theatrical circles, and the manage nt will without doubt, reap a rich harvest from the grea renutation of this "Star."

A boiler in a pork packing establishment, at Alton. III. exploded on Saturday, entirely demolishing the building nd dreadfully wounding several persons. Loss of property We mentioned in our last letter that the "Sons of Pann" were to have a celebration in Chicago, on Saturday, the 24th ult., and through the politeness of Dr. Charles Leib, we were furnished with the toasts and other proceeding of this select party. Among the numerous tousts we fine the following:-

"The President of the United States—one of Pennsylvania's noblest Sons." This was responded to by J. W. Bell:

to-anything of the kind ever gotten up in Chicago, and reflects great credit upon the management, of which Dr. Leib was chairman. We were extremely sorry that as great men suy-" circumstances over which we had ontrol" prevented us from attending. Will the "Sons of Penn," of your city, hurry up that ittle affair they some time since gave a brief hint of? We have been absent on a hunting expedition the greater part of the past week, and returned home on Saturday night last. We hunted out Jefferson county, in this State and think we left nothing for "seed," as we killed every thing we came across, and returned loaded with game .-The most interesting part of the expedition we will briefly elate. One evening about dark, we came to a farm house, and after filling our flasks with bad whiskey, and refreshextended us an invitation to remain and participate. ithout any unnecessary pressing, or even waiting for a econd invitation, we accepted the hespitalities so kindly or game-which we had slaughtered during that day-on the limb of an apple tree-washed our blood stained hands and fixed up for the ball. We must here state how they get up balls in Jefferson county, Mo. The lady of the house nas three or four quilts to make-she invites all the girls of the neighborhood to her house to assist in their making -they commence early in the morning and finish before The ladies work hard in anticipation of a gloriou time at the ball. But how do you think the gentlemen are invited, and what they have to do as their share towards getting up the dance? Well, we will tell you.— Whilst the ladies are quilting at the house and making the invited gentlemen repair to the woods, each providing self with an axe, and each cutting as his share, one cord of wood-which a good wood-chopper can do in a few hours. After this delicate task is done, he is at liberty to to go to the house and court the girls the balance of the We enquired how much wood they had cut that day. and was told fourteen cords—quite sufficient to last the winter out. Thus, you see "that some things can be done as well as others," and this is one way to get up a ball.— There were three of us in number, and so soon as the girls were apprised that we were going to remain and parcipate in the festivities of the evening, they kept running in and out of the house, all seemingly anxious to get a peep at us, and each looking extremely modest and appearing very bashful. There were some, both ladies and gen-tlemen, who could not make it convenient to be there of two, three, four, &c., and it was not long before the house was full and each as "merry as a marriage bell," and onging for the commencement of the evenings performance. Two fiddlers finally made their appearance and took their positions on the stand crected for their convenience, in a arge room—the furniture having been all removed for the occasion; and upon the first draw of the bow each gentlemon, with his partner, entered the ball room. We were then invited in and took our seats beside a blazing fire.— The ball commenced and away they went to the tune of "Old Dan Tucker." We being strangers, of course were not acquainted with the ladies—the gentlemen not knowing our names, they no doubt felt somewhat of a delicacy i approaching us, and we thought to ourselves if we did not make a move we would be deprived of a dance, which we by no means fancied. We mustered up courage to approach a little Miss of about twelve summers, who very modestly informed us that she would be pleased to dance the next set. We thought this a first rate plan-to commence with the "little ones." and by degrees work into the "affections" of the older. We took our places, and whilst going through the dance, learned from our fair little partner the name of many of the ladies. Our inquirles were numerous found out that our partner had a mother present—who was a widow—and who she pointed out to us—was various Southern States, have enrolled themvery fond of dancing, &c. We were now one of the party, selves as emigrants to Nicaragua. and notwithstanding our extreme modesty, we next ap proached the widow, who very unceremoniously accepted from one to the other, and found no difficulty in always procuring a partner. My comrades seling the great success with which I met on every side, took up the plan and carried it out triumphantly. That county is proverbial for widows-the cause or the facts of which, we are not prepared to state. There were some five or six present, and the most of whom, were what is generally termed "interesting widows." From the little Miss we appro the widow, and from the widow the dashing, blushing girls, just blooming into womanhood. About 12 o'clock we were all called out to supper, and a most bountiful one it was too; the festive board groaning under the weight of the rich products of Jefferson county. We commenced dancing about 8 o'clock, and continued, without a half hour's intermission until 6 o'clock the next morning— some time after day-light, and must say it was the most pleasant party we have attended since our sojourn in the A Mr. Donelly, formely of Lancaster, now a con enjoyed himself, as he says, "hugely." We left the house and continued our hunt, and the music-the soul stirring

FINANCIAL MATTERS AT WASHINGTON .- The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, under date of Oct. 28, writes:

"The Collector of New York, and others capable of giving reliable information, state used the that it is their opinion the receipts at New York from customs will run in three or four weeks hence to the rate of $100,000 a day, and that the receipts at other ports will increase in proportion. In this event, then, there will exist no necessity for the Government to negotiate a loan, or to issue treasury notes; the revenue from customs will be ample for the economical administration of the government. Nor will there exist any ground for refusing to carry on works for which appropriations have been already made, if any such design was ever contemplated by the Administration."

MELANCHOLY AFFAIR-A Young Man Accidentally Shot by his Father.—The most dis-tressing affair that we have ever been called upon to record occurred a few miles below this place, in the neighborhood of Bixler's Gap, on Friday last, the particulars of which, the father, Charles Cooper, and his son, Wm. Cooper, were out hunting, and had separated in the woods, the one going up the mountain and the other remaining below. On approaching again, and when within but a short each other, the father espied a pheasant in a parallel line with his son, and, wishing to shoot it, he requested him to stand to one side. This the young man readily omplied with, when the father took aim and fired, and one shot, which is supposed to have glanced from a tree, struck the former in his left eye penetrating the brain. The young man cried out, "Oh! father, what have you done?" and immediately dropped insensible to the ground. He lingered until Saturday morning, insensible all the time, when he breathed his last. He was a young man about 23 years of age, and leaves a widow and two children to mourn his loss. Of late he had been a resident of Harrisburg, but having, in company with his father, leased the Lafayette Gardens, he had rented a house in this place, and intended removing into it on last. The coroner held an inquest upon the body, and a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered .- Lewistown

TRIAL OF PHILLIPS FOR THE MURDER BARTHOLOMEW, AT WEST CHESTER, PA. The case of Charles D. Phillips, tried at West Chester, last week, before Judge Haines, for the murder of J. Cleaver Bartholomew, near Paoli, Chester county, resulted in a verdict of manslaughter. The trial attracted great the murder of Bartholomew being committed in May last, under circumstances and in a manner which, at the time of its commission, produced a great sensation. The prisoner was defended by Thaddeus Sterens, Joseph J. Lewis and John Hickman, Esqs., and the prosecution was conducted by Wm. Butler, the Prosecuting Attorney. The jury were out seven hours, at the end of which time they returned a verdict of manslaughter. He has not yet been sentenced. The penalty is imprisonment not less than two nor more than six years. The prisoner, who behaved with becoming propriety, was attended by his father, mother, brother, and female relatives, dur ing the course of the trial. The father and brother of the unfortunate man killed were also in attendance during the progress of the WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 .- Brigham Young, in a communication to the Indian Bureau says that if he is to have the direction of Indian Affairs, and is expected to maintain friendly relations with the Indians, he would suggest that travellers should omit the infamous practice of shooting them when they happen to see one. Hence it is natural that they wreak vengeance in retaliation. The government should make more liberal presents has proven that it is far cheaper to feed and clothe the Indians, than to fight them. the fighting is over, it is always followed by expensive presents, which, if properly distribted in the first instance, might have averted the fight.

The troops, he also says, must be kept away, for it is a fact, that wherever are the most of these, there we may expect to find the greatest amount of hostile Indians, and the least security to persons and property. If these items be complied with, he has no hesitation in saying, that so far as Utah is concerned, no Indians would molest the persons or property of travellers. He says that the Department has often manifested its approval of his management of Indian affairs, and never its disapproval, and why should he be subjected to such annoyances in regard to funds for paying expenses, and why denied his salary! ng the inner man, we were told by the landlady—an the tending widow—that a ball was coming off there, and of the Indians of Utah be retained in the treasury, and individuals left unpaid?-These are questions, he says, I leave for you to answer at your leisure, and in the meanoffered-took off our hunting arrangements, and hung while submit to such a course in relation thereto, as you shall see fit to direct.

Plenty to Eat. A correspondent of the Newark Daily, writing from Allamuchy, Warren co., N. Jer-

sev. savs : "The yield of butter here is truly enormous. Never were there so many pounds of that article produced-and of such a fine quality. But little of it has yet reached the market, the farmers having waited for higher prices sthey thought that by this time it could be sold for twenty-eight, twenty-nine and thirty cents per pound! but are just finding out their mistake; and next week and the week after will find the market flooded with fine butter, and the holders willing to take 14 to 18 cents per pound. Most of the grain has been withheld from market waiting for higher prices also; but the mistake is being found out, and it seems that every one is now busy preparing it for market, before larger quantities from more distant parts will further reduce the price.

The barns are overflowing with grain, and the barn yards and fields contain numerous stocks of grain and hay.

I might also mention that there is now, within the above district, more fat cattle ready and more preparing for market, than eyer before; the only drawback being from the sale of over two hundred fat cattle now, and of as many more by the first of January.'

This is encouraging to those who have "nothing to eat." The only drawback is that we don't know where the money is coming from to buy at the reduced prices.

**To the Public.**—On the 20th inst., a card of mine was published in the daily papers of this city, in relation to the award of the Judges of the recent County Fair, on Dental Instruments, which I believed was calculated to make a wrong impression respecting the utility of my instruments. I, therefore felt called upon to place myself right before the public: and in this I had no desire to detract from the real or assumed merits of any operator in my profession: and I felt perfectly willing that Messra. Welchens & Prigg should entertain their own opinion of theirs. But their notious respecting the process and utility of silver plating, is as singular as it is new, and if true, would result in dispensing with all silver plating, and the universal substitute of steel and iron polith.

In reply to my card they assert that my case contains only 83 instruments, while the fact is, it comtains one hundred and seventy handled instruments—more than double the number they give. They also say that I called to see Mr. Prigg opened an office in this city, I saw it stated in the Minaud Daily, that he wass graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, when my assistant (Dr. Swentzel,) and myself, in the spirit of professional etiquette, called upon him; but aft. ra short-conversation, we discovered that he was not a graduaté. nor had he even been a student of that or any similar Institution. As a relief from this dilemma, we were suddenly invited to look at his instruments, only one of which was taken into my hands; and that an instrument never used by me, it being superseded by others more practical.

By a letter recaived from Baltimore, Saturday morning, 31st ult., I learn that Mr. Prigg is not even authorized to refer to them.

I confess surprise at the appearance of the above card, as I am not sensible of ever having given any of the signers of it the least cause to justify an attempt to lojure me, if possible, by misrepresentation. I was also astonished to leare by it, that the Judges had pursued such a course.—
It seemed impossible that intelligent and honorable men should take such a step; as any one will perceive that to constitute a proper tribunal, both parties should be allowed to select men in whose judgement and impartiality they could confide, and feeling that the whole matter was either a gross misrepressentation, or a glaring act of injustice, I resolved to ascertain the facts, and to know how far the signers of the card were correct in their statement, inst, "Having been called upon by the Judges," &c., they gave it as their opinion, that, "Dr. Pring's case of Instruments is far superior for practical use." All the Judges, thersfore, except one, have been seen, and they positively deny having either "called upon" the signers of the above card, or desired any of them to make the above statement.
And in respect to the one not seen, I have been informed by good authority, that he has not seen any of the Dentists since the Fair. This fully establishes the fact, that the above card is a deliberate and wanton falsification from beginning to end, and I leave it to the public to judge of the motives that induced it; and it, moreover, proves in questionably, that the signers of the card referred to, were induced to the act by rankling malevolence, or that they have been greesly imposed upon by some interested party, who managed, through misrepresentation and fraul; to use them. But even if the latter be the case, I cannot conceive how they can say that, "having been called upon by the

I will add the following and then dismiss the subject.—
Messrs. Welchens & Prigg, in their card, referred to the Cheoplastic Process, invented by Dr. Blandy, of Baltimore, with a sneer, as "the new Born Cheoplasty, ground out of the New York Tooth Manufacturing Co."

By the letter from Baltimore, referred to before, I learn that notwithstanding the apparent contempt in which they hold the Cheoplastic diecovery, they have unsuccessfully endeavored to obtain the right to use it of the patentee, atthough they knew that I am the sole agent for it in this district. The following is an extract of the letter reforred to: "He (Prigg) was here some weeks ago, and wanted to "He (Prigg) was here some weeks ago, and wasten about a right on credit. I told Blandy that he (Prigg) must be referred to you; that we had no right to sell in your district; and he did so.

Dr. Waylan, Dr. Blandy, Mr. Wheelwright or any other living man. From the very beginning, after ascertaining what it really was I asserted repeatedly to a number of individuals, that instead of giving one hundred dollars for the patent, I would not give one hundred conts for it. And upon Dr. Prigg visiting Baltimore some time ago, he was so strongly urged to take it by Dr. Blandy, that he was forced incidently to say that he could not afford to purchase it even had he the disposition so to do. At this time Dr. Blandy was not aware of Dr. Waylan having purchased the right for the city and county of Lancaster from Mr. Wheelwright; and upon being told that such was the case by Dr. Prigg, he went to see Mr. Wheelwright, and upon finding it to be correct, expressed deep regret at the circumstance, and still contended that we must have it. I, of course, cannot be responsible for what Dr. Prigg night have said while in Baltimore, but I most solemnly assert stance, and still contended that we must have it. I, of course, cannot be responsible for what Dr. Prigg might have said while in Baltimore, but I most solemnly assert that never at any time did we agree even to take the right to use it in our office, much less to send to Baltimore to purchase it from the Patentee when we knew he could not

GREAT RACE AGAINST TIME FOR $10,000.

It has been suggested that if the committee could prevail upon the owner of FLORA TEMPLE, to bring her to Lancaster, to the Agricultural Fair, it would edd much to the character and interest of that occasion: Should she come, in all probability, she will run against time for a purse, say $10,000, which, no doubt, the good people of Lancaster county will have no difficulty in raising. Flora is now the greatest trotter in the world, and that anxiety to see her whenever she appears on the turf, is equel to that manifested by the people to see the new and splendid stock of READY MADE MEN'S AND BOYS CLOTHING recently received by ROMAN & BAERE, at their Clothing Store, opposite Shenck's National House, where they keep constantly on hand a large assortment of DRESS COATS, FROCKS, SAOKS, RAGLANS AND OVERCOATS of every quality and texture.
