

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE

ST. LOUIS CORRESPONDENCE
The Senate had a long and protracted session commencing on Monday at 10 o'clock, M., and continued without intermission until Tuesday morning at 12 o'clock, M.

On Tuesday a general agreement was entered into between Messrs. Bigler and Allen, on behalf of their respective co-workers, that on Monday night, the bill for the administration of Justice, known as the 'Carter bill,' for the administration of Justice should be passed.

The bill has not been in his hands for nearly a week; and he has not had time to study it. He has, however, been asked to sign it, and he has done so.

The examination of Taylor on the charge of murder and arson at the late Pacific Hotel, is still progressing, but nothing new is starting, but he is still being examined, and the examination is being conducted in a very thorough manner.

Under the provisions of the President of the United States against the Mormons in Utah. The bill will be communicated to the Governor of the State, and by him to the National Government. We are rather inclined to think that they will not be needed.

THOMAS WASHINGTON SMITH.—We learn that Thomas Washington Smith, who was acquitted of the murder of Richard Carter on the ground of insanity at the time of the commission of the deed, is now a confirmed maniac. His condition is a source of much regret to his friends.

THE MONTROU WORKS, says the Danville Democrat, will be partially put in operation in a few days by a committee of the creditors. Arrangements to that effect have been made, and there will be no mistake about it. They will at first employ 300 of the 1200 men in Danville waiting work.

TRUTH FULLY SPOKEN.—The Richmond Dispatch says:—'There is no aristocracy in the world so pretentious as a brand aristocracy, one which has just had the plebeian mud washed from his face, and sits above the salt for the first time.'
