MR. STEVENS' RECORD. are indebted to the Examiner for the

THADDEUS STEVENS. With such a record be He had been a member of the State Senate fore their eyes, we marvel how any reasonable, and of Congress, and had served his constituto his country, can for one moment think of death he wasnotmuch over forty years of age. supporting such a candidate for a seat in the next Congress. The Examiner says : Mr. Stevens was for several years a mem ber of the State Legislature, and while the

Anti Masonic party was in the ascendant exercised a controlling influence upon the doings of that body. The only acts in that period of the grist mill of W. L. Weed, with some grain which he can claim paternity which history and while there his clothes became entangled recorded or tradition has handed down, are with a perpendicular shaft, which whirled four—namely, the atttempt to extort the secrets | him at the rate of one hundred revolutions a of Masonry by a legislative inquisition, the construction of the Gettysburg Railroad, comconstruction of the Gettysburg Railroad, com the wood work. The machine was stopped as monly known as the "Tape-Worm," the Buck soon as possible, but his bones and flesh were shot war, and the charter of the United States Bank. None of these acts will now be defend after. ed by any one, and we shall therefore give them but a brief passing notice. The Masonic inquisition was simply an outrage upon the constitutional rights of republican citizens, paralleled only by the acts of its Spanish pro-totype from which the idea was borrowed.— It wholly failed in its object, of course, but it left an ineffaceable stigma upon the Anti-Masonic party, and tended more than any other one thing to restore the Democratic party

The construction of the Gettysburg "Tape Worm" was a wanton and reckless squander-ing of the people's money, unequalled in folly anything which has occurred before or since in the financial history of Pennsylvania. Taking the original cost of that road, of which even the site is now scarcely known, and the accumulated interest, fairly chargeable to an unproductive work, one MILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS of the present indebtedness of the State owes its existence to the commencement of this road, which was forced by arbitrary power through an unwilling legislature.

The "Buckshot war," with its attendant scenes, is fresh in the memory of the present generation. Those who admire its concention. carrying on, or conclusion, can glorify its hero.

The charter of the United States Bank as a State institution was a more stupendous financial folly, if possible than the construction of the railroad. It was conceived in fraud, brought forth in iniquity, and terminated in disaster, which has not yet ceased to be felt in many families As a member of the Convention to amend the State Constitution, Mr. Stevens opposed most of the reforms effected in that instrument, and finally refused to sign it for the reason that it confined the right of suffrage to white citizens.

Mr. Stevens served four years in Congress
-from 1849 to 1853. During that period the well-know "Compromise Measures," to the promotion of which Henry Clay gave his dying nergies and Daniel Webster and Millard Fill more their greatest living efforts, were brought forward and finally adopted. Mr. Stevens opposed them throughout, from the beginning The abolitionists of the north and the ultra pro-slavery men of the south, united in common cause against the wise policy of the great pacificator of Kentucky, and through their persistent opposition so thwarted his plans, that FORTY (or more) THOUSAND SQUARE MILES of territory, which he proposed to secure for freedom were finally onsigned to slavery, and instead of now composing part of the free territory of New Mexito are embraced within the limits of the Slave. State of Texas. This was effected in locating the b undary line between Texas and New Mexica. The dool sagacity of Henry Clay—a true friend of freedom—was foiled by the blind and bigoted obstinacy of men whose practical sagacity is as deficient as their theoretical zeal is superabundant. Forty thousand square miles of territory are now under the dominion of the slave power, which would be the home of freedom had the North in 1850 been represented by more men of the Hopkins type and fewer like those of Stevens. While the Utah and New Mexico bills were pending (Sept. 7, 1850.) Mr. Sievens moved o amend by striking out the following provision which they contained ? "And when admitted as a State, the said

A bill to alter and amend the revenue laws, so as to afford reasonable protection and enprice. couragement to American labor. A bill to abolish slavery in the territory of Utah. [where none existed.]

A bill to repeal so much of the acts estab lishing territorial governments in New Mexico and Utah as recognizes slavery in said territories and as pledges the nation to admit new Slave States into the Union. A bill to repeal and annul the fugitive slave law, passed September, 1850. None of these bills were ever introduced; but the linkring together of a proposal to increase the tariff with three bills calculated only to excite and renew an angry slavery agitation, of course settled the fate of the contemplated tariff movement. These were the only bills his Congressional career. The time and manner selected in giving notice of them, display the usual practical sagacity of the author, and show that if it had been intended to prevent any legislation on the tariff the people of Lan-caster county could not have chosen an agent better adapted to accomplish that end. At the succeeding Congress, Mr. Stevens seceded from the Whig caucus because resolutions were adopted endorsing the compromise measures, and refused to unite with the Whigs in supporting a candidate for Speaker. Such is the record of Mr. Stevens' acts while

The provision moved to be stricken out, is identical in spirit with the Crittenden amendment to the Kansas bill of the last session of Congress, and constitutes what is commonly meant by "popular sovereignty."

After the compromise bills had all passed—(Texas with 40,000 square miles more than she need have had)—attention was turned as need have had)—attention was turned towards a revision of the tariff, and circumstances looked favorable to success. AMERICAN WATCHES.

APPLETON, TRACY & CO.,
WALTHAM, MASS.,
MANUEL FACTURERS OF
PATENT LEVER WATCHES.

These superior Watches are made by the aid of new and original machinery, expressly designed to secure, with a love prior, a FINE, SUBSTANTIAL, DURABLE and UNIFORMIX RE-LIABLE time keeper. The movements are new in construction, and are pronounced by the highest authorities to be faultless in principle and quality, and have been proved by the most exacting tests to be reliable and unfailing in action. These watches are manufactured entire from the crude material, in a single establishment, by connected crude material, in a single establishment, by connected and uniform processes—the manufactory being organized upon the same system that has been adopted in the pro-duction of the unequalled American fire-arms, which ena-bles us to produce a movement at one half the price of any foreign movement of the same quality, and we guarantee the perfect performance, for ten years, of every watch man-ulactured by us the perfect performance, for ten years, of every waten manufactured by us.

All Inexign watches are made by hand, the American watches being the only ones made by machinery upon a uniform system throughout. Nearly all hand-made watches are defective, and are conjunually gettingsout of order. In many parts of the country it is impossible to find good watch repairers, and watch repairing is always uncertain and expensive. The introduction of American watches disposes of this difficulty, and country merchants, as well as watch dealers, can keep watches as part of their miscellaneous stock, and thus supply their customers with a NEW STAPLE. Which may be used as any other article, without mystery or humbur. Sold by the trade generally, and by ROBBINS & APPLETON, General Agents.
