OLD GUARD. Yours,

EXTRAORDINARY SUICIDE IN NEW ORLEANS POIBON IN A TOMB.-The New Orleans Crescent of the 24th ult. gives the following remarkable story of a suicide :

"Sylvester Rupert, thirty seven years of age, an Englishman by birth, and by trade a ship carpenter, lived with his wife and two children in a house on Perdido street. In October last the yellow fever, then prevailing, counted among its victims the youngest child of Rupert-their little girl Lizzie, about four years old, and the particular pet of the father. This was a blow from which the father never recovered. Not able to buy a tomb, he had the ability hurst of the ground in Greenwood. the child buried in the ground in Greenwood Cemetery. The grief preyed heavily upon him. It was his only thought, and, being out of his regular employment, he found employment in his crist

On this board with | courtesy of him whom they had been instructed which he enclosed the vault, (in lieu of the at home to regard as a cruel, reckless, unprinusual brick and mortar or marble slab,) he cipled, and degraded President, and as one had carved nicely with his knife the burial who disgraced mankind by constant worship nscription of his child. The tomb finished, he at the Bacchanalian shrine. Ever after, they disinterred the child's body and placed it were admirers of the amiability and gentle He fastened the board with screws, manly deportment of Franklin Pierce. in order that he might afterwards have no trouble in removing it when he felt like gazing upon the decaying remains of his

"This employment finished, it was his habit to visit the cemetry, open the tomb, and able information in regard to its management look at the corpse of his pet. He always carried a screw driver in his pocket with which to remove and replace the board, and also to remove and replace the lid of the coffin. Neither the haggard aspect of the shrinking little corpse, nor the foul odor of its decay, could repel him in his morbid grief. His visits were frequent and sometimes his wife went with him. He frequently com-plained to her that he could not get work; and this inability doubtless fostered despon dency which was drawing him to death. He frequently spike of having no faith in the future, and of death as a desirable thing.

'On Wednesday he went to the cemetry with two shruts which he had purchased, and planted them in front of the tomb. On Thursday, when he left home, he told his wife that if he had no better luck in finding work she would never see him again. He also said something about having a place in which to

"That evening, or that night-for no one saw him in his gloomy proceedings-he visited the cemetry, taking with him his screw-driver, an iron trunk-handle, a small rod of iron, a piece of wire, some new screws, and a large vial of laudanum. Unscrewing the board of the tomb, he threw away the screws and filled the screw holes in the board with clay.

With his new screws he then secured the trunk handle to the inside of the board. This work, of course, had to be done outside of the Pushing his child's coffin aside he got in by its side, taking with him his poison and the other articles with which he had provided himself. His hat he placed upon the coffin; his coat, which he had taken off, he wrapped around a brick for a pillow. He shut himself in with the board, by means of the handle he had screwed to it; the board fitting outside the wooden frame. The iron bar, which was of the proper length, he placed across the frame inside. The thickness of the frame would not allow the bar to pass through the trunk handle on the inside of the board; so he secured the handle and the bar by means of All kinds of labor will be equally honored. his wire, coiling it through the one and around the other. He did not succeed in fitting the be the charge of tuition, boarding, washing, board squarely upon the frame. One corner of it caught upon the brick-work outside the frame; this he did not discover, probably, owing to the darkness of the night; and but for this little circumstance his fate would probably have never been discovered, or not at least for many years. Having thus hid himself away as he fancied, beyond mortal discovery, he drained off the contents of his audanum bottle, composed himself on his back, placed the brick and coat beneath his head, and went to sleep, and off into the unknown region of the suicides. "As he did not return home on Thursday night his wife feared the worst, remembering well the tendency of his late conduct, and the tenor of his parting words. On Friday morning she rose early and went out to the cemetry. She looked all around, and failed | The Newark Journal Says: messes, Adventists, of to find her husband. Two New England ladies, imbued with the horror of Frank Pierce's great wickedness, came to Washington, and visited the re-idence of a lady from that section, who was quite intimate with the occupants of the White House. As a matter of courtesy, she invited her friends to go up to the Presidential man-sion. To this invitation they demurred, averring that they had been informed that Gen. Pierce was intoxicated from morning till night, and that no lady could go into his presenc without bazard of insult.

Sheurged them to go and see the east room assuring them that they could do so and not encounter the President. This they consented to; and when they were ashered into it, their friend, requesting them to excuse her for a few minutes, went to Mrs. Pierce's private room, told her in what horror the New Eng-land ladies viewed the President, and desired her assistance in planning an agreeable sur-prise, to convince them that the General was not what they had been taught to believe. Mrs. Pierce, readily entering into a scheme for defending the honor of her husband, or dered the light of day to be excluded from two apartments where the President received guests, and directed their illumination by gas, all the rooms in that bouse appear shabby by artificial light than when exposed to the rays of sunshine. This done, the ladies were invited to look at other parts of the mansion, and while viewing the illuminated parlors, they were somewhat astonished on being introduced to a gentleman who came in as President Pierce, who courteously welcomed them to the executive home. and, offering an arm to each, wavered and "He bought a burial lot and some bricks and other material, and with his own hands, ing them the while by his rare conversational ing them the while by his rare conversational powers, and surprising them by the polish,

FROM THE PARAGUAY EXPEDITION .- The correspondent of the New York Express writes from the Rio de la Plata, under date of the issued by the Union Bank of Reading, suc-

11th December, as follows: "The vessels of the Expedition now in the river are reported to be in fine condition. The officers and men are anxious to have a brush with old Lopez, and the opinion begins to obtain ground that they will soon have a chance. President Lopez is apparently roused to the utmost degree of irritation and anger. His official paper, the Semanario, which, it is well known, is written by his own hand, abounds in the most astonishing scurrility directed against President Buchanan, the Senate Committee, Captain Page, the Directors of the Providence Company, their employees, and everybody who has at all been connected with the imbroglio. I send you one of his latest fusions, which may give you some idea of same sum. This revenue is from goods already the state of his feelings. Until very lately, arrived, or known to be on their way. It is no one here believed that there was any real danger of Lopez fighting. He has been accustomed for so many years to include in the exceed anything that has been done in former most outrageous abuse of those with whom he years, and that the revenue during the present has been at variance, and has fulminated so many terrible threats that he has never thought of fulfilling when the time came for action, that his first exclamations of disgust leveled at the American demonstrations duced no effect here The last steamer from Paraguay ; however, has changed the complex ion of affairs. Things look as if Lopez really was in earnest. He has recently received the Senate Report embodying Captain Page's report, the memorial of the United States and Paraguay Navigation Company, the affidavits of the employees, &c., and he has conceived therefrom that the reclamation to be urged by Mr. Bowlen will be so immense that the more economical course for him to settle the ques-tion will be to fight. He is evidently still vascillating between fear and avarice, and is determined to try what he can to frighten the leaders of the Expedition, by producing a false impression of his immense resources, induce Mr. Bowleh to offer easier terms, and thus avoid a collision. During the past week Lopez's agents have purchased a number of chains to chain up the river Paraguay, below the Fort of Humanisa. They will not prove very formidable obstructions to navigation.-The iron foundry here has also been put into requisition by Lopez, and men are busy day and night casting cannon balls, which are immediately shipped to Paraguay.

In the last number of the Semanario receiv ed here, there is a most outrageous article on the United States, in which the President of the United States is covered with vituperation, charged with corruption, and the whole body of the American "Conscript fathers" were treated as if they were a parcel of jail birds whom Lopez would like to have in his chain-pang. price. THE END OF THE WORLD TO BE THIS YEAR.

The Newark Journal says: Messrs. Abraham strate that the second coming of Christ will be during the Passover of the present year. Mr. was notwithstanding various disappointments in sacrificed some valuable real estate and a prosperous baking business. -----

BROKE JAIL .- The two counterfeiters, David Wilson and Thomas Jones, who were arrested ceeded in making good their escape from prison on Sunday morning last. The Sheriff offered a reward of $30 for their apprehension, and a number of the citizens of Doylestown started in pursuit of the fugitives. They were found in a woods about two miles distant, by two farmers named Buckman and Shewell and brought back to their old quarters.

BUSINESS REVIVING .- The New York Herald of Tuesday last, says the duties that will be paid into the New York Custom House during the present week will amount to nearly if not quite, two millions of dollars, and those stated by many intelligent jobbers, that the orders which have been sent out for goods years, and that the revenue during the present month of February must exceed that of any previous month. The Spring trade is open ing with a spirit that encourages every one.

can be bound in the various styles required by the sub-scribers. From the Hon. Theophilus Fureons, LL. D., Law Professor in Hirrard University. "Have you room for a word about Ripley and Dana's new Cyclopzedia? I have frequent occasion to use one; and I am so delighted with the two volumes we have that I must ask you to allow me the relief of saying very sim-ply, what I find them--that is, the very best Cyclopzedia for practical use over published. I have some knowledge of all in our own language and a few of those of the conti-nent of Europe. The best and largest of these surpass this of Appleton's in the actent to which they carry out special dissertations. But this Cyclopzedia is fail of the best mat-ter. By skillfni selection and compression, and sedulous avoidance of mere show and verbiaze, room is found for an immense amount of the latest information, put forth clar-ity, carefully and accurately. The book embodies, and ade-quately represents, the ability and knowledge available at this day for a work of the kind. "Its merit and extreme cheapness must place it eventu-ally out it sexcellence by making use of it, can has-brief notice will be accomplished." Will be complished in 15 volumes of 750 pages each, (SOLD BY SUBSCRIFICION NOLY.)
