Naturalized Americans in Europe. WASHINGTON, June 15. The following important letter was to day communicated to A. V. Hofer, of Cincinnati, by Secretary Cass. It needs no comment: DEPARTMENT OF STATE,

Washington, June 14, 1859. Most of the Continental European nations have a system of military organization by

The condition of American naturalized citizens returning to their native country where the system of compulsory service pre-vails, and who had left before performing such service, has frequently been the subject of discussion with some of the European Powers. Quite recently it has arisen between the United States and Prussia, and the representative of this country at the Court of Berlin has brought the matter to the attention of the Prussian government. In the instructions which were sent to him, dated May 12, 1859, it was explicitly stated that this government is opposed to the doctrine of perpetual allegi-ance, and maintains the right of expatriation and the right to form new political ties elsewhere. Upon this subject it is observed, that in this age of the world the idea of controlling the citizen in the choice of a home and binding him by a mere political theory to inhabit for his lifetime a country which he desires to leave, can hardly be entertained by any government whatever. The position of the United States as communicated to the Minister at Berlin for the information of the Prussian government, is that native born Prussians naturalized in the United States and returning to the country of their birth, are not liable to any duties or penalties, except such as were existing at the period of their emigration. If at that time they were in the army or actually called into it, such emigration and naturalization do not exempt them from the legal penalty which they incurred by their desertion, but this penalty may be enforced against them whenever they shall voluntarily place themselves within the local jurisdiction of their native country and shall proceeded against according to law.— But when no present liabilities exist against them at the period of their emigration, the law of nations, in the opinion of this govern ment, gives no right to any country to interfere with naturalized American citizens, and the attempt to do so would be considered an act unjust in itself and unfriendly towards the United States. This question cannot, of course, arise in the case of a naturalized citizen who remains in the United States. It is only when he voluntarily returns to his FORGOT HIS OWN NAME.—A resident of Collubia township, who returns a considerable sum upon the tax duplicate, recently forgot his own name! He was looking for a letter, and called almost daily at the Post Office, and several times informed him that he had a letter with the superscription of his own name, except that there was a middle name, spelled in full. The applicant declined to receive the epistle, as it must be for some one else, but said he didn't know any such man in the town. One day, after a month had passed, he told his wife there was such a letter, and wondered who it could be for, and why the the owner never called for it! After a good laugh at her liege, she convinced him that the name on the letter was his own! He had forgotten his middle cognomen, but ventured to claim the letter, and found that it was the very document that he had been looking for so long! — Cincinnati Commercial.

Parming in the Storach Three Years,—A son of Mr. Charles Davis residing in Gould's Court, leading to Montgomery, near Light street, says the Baltimore Sun on Friday last, has caused the family great uneasiness for three years past in consequence of his being subject at times, for hours together, to spasms and terrible fits. Physicians were consulted, but all their investigations failed to reveal the cause that produced the malady. Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, when entering the house, the lad was seized with the symptoms of his malady, and in a fit of retching, threw up upon the floor a living frog, about two inches in length. The frog hopped gaily about the floor until secured by the family. His name is William Davis, and he is about ten years of age. He has no recollection of the time the frog was taken into his stomach, but his father thinks it was swallowed with his drink about three years ago, when he was afflicted with fits.

—A writer says, the country was never so bare of food for man and beast. Flour is higher, and wheat and corn searcely lower than in New York or Liverpool. Oats are nearly the same. Thousands of cattle through the prairie States have died this spring.

We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the patient was assep, and when awakened was free from pain, and continued so. It is only when he voluntarily returns to his native country that its local laws can be a wheat and flour panic, by the inculcation of false and greatly exaggerated reports of disastrous effects from the late June frosts.— There is no cause, however, for any serious alarm. It is true that in some sections the alarm. It is true that in some sections the blighting influence of the frost was felt, but anything like a calamity in this way has not befallen the country. The prospect is that the wheat, grain, and corn crops, will be more than usually abundant, so that we shall be inquired for a certain name. The Postmaster able to fill the vacuum in Europe, caused by the withdrawal of a million or more of men from purely agricultural employment. The crops in Europe, too, will not be much shortened this year, as a harvest has been prepared, and should the wheat of Northern Europe be abundant, no great advance in prices can be rationally expected during the coming year. What another year will bring about will depend upon the vigor and extent of the war in Europe. The crops in this county were by no means extensively touched by the frost. In the Western part of this State there were some injuries inflicted, and so there were in some of the Central and Western States. Detailed accounts, however, represent that the crops will not be affected by the frost, which seems to have traveled in a kind of narrow path that was belted on either side by temperate Herald states that the present stock of Cali-fornia vines now under cultivation will yield air. A N QUIDIVIDED INTEREST.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL. A Mr. S., a man the "boys"
Have emptied many a cup to,
Was up to something—S. for snuff,
And that's what he was up to. He was resolved that he would wed A girl with piles of money, For in the moon of love, he said, There is no sweeter honey.

A friend had named a maiden fair, Who filled the right position, As she an uncle had, with wealth To meet his heart's ambition. The girl in all his means possessed An int'rest undivided— With many cautions from his friend, This secret was confided.

Such news st this, with all his hopes,
Found intimate communion—
The wealth was houses, stores and land,
All o'er the blessed Union.
He won the girl, and found, alas!
That she would wear the breeches;
But to himself he siyly laughed
While thinking of her riches. He waited calmly for a month,
With thoughts of wealth and station
And then about his wife's estate,
He sought for information.

He hap'd to meet, by lucky chance His friend, so well intention'd, Who had, with facts about her wealth, His lady to him mentioned. "Come, Bob!" said he, "and take a drink, And then, with no digressions, Please name the uncle of my wife,

And some of his posses "Friend S.," said Bob, "you shall be kept No longer on probation— Her uncle is our Uncle Sam, The head of all the Nation! "He owns a very large estate—
That secret I confided—
In which your wife, Rosantha, has An int'rest undivided!"

S. puckered up his mouth to speak, Alas! he could but whistle— He writhed about as if he sat Upon a thorn or thistle. But gaining breath to speak, he said,
"Oh! what's the use of sighing!
The proverb says, 'for milk that's spilt
There is no use a-crying.'

"I have been sold, and cheap the price But vain will be repining— The poet says, 'to ev'ry cloud There is a silver lining.' "Then, as Rosantha is my wife, And has, alas! no riches; But has outvowed her bridal vows, With vows to wear the breeches.

"The cloud on manhood's sky will have A silver lining when it Is bright with thoughts, that wifey wears The breeches bought of Bennett."

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vittated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The sproblutus tim ti expression. from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous com-plaints, but they have far less power to with-stand the attacks of other diseases; consestand the attacks of other diseases; comsequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which de-cimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise are aggravated by the same cause. One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking in-fection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate vigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, OF ERYSTPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TATTER and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Rheumatism, Syphilitic and Mercurial Dis-RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, ifideed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITTA-TED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions. contaminated constitutions.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and proon the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
