The most horrible wounds to look at were those of the face. Two Zouaves of the first regiment had the whole under jaw carried away, and yet these brave fellows walked be-hind the carts of their comrades more danger ously wounded than themselves. Some had their eyes closed from blows with the butts of the muskets, others had their cheeks or mouth hanging in lambeaux from sword cuts, others the cheeks swollen to enormous dimensions from balls that had pierced their faces through and through. The women who had remained in the town of Castiglione shed tears apparent In the town of Castiglione shed tears apparent ly at the utter hopelessness of rendering assistance to such a number of brave and suf-fering men. Yet every house was thrown open, and every hand was ready to aid in alleviating their pains. For the most part they asked but for wine or water, for the loss of blood creates thirst, and the fatigues of the day must have been great from the length of the battle and the extent of the ground to fight over. Many of the soldiers were naked to the waist-their coats having been torn to pieces in the bay-onet and hand to hand fights, and their shirts torn up to staunch the blood. All were covered with dust and had their clothes more or less torn, hoth officers and men, and presented. even in the absence of blood stained clothes, the most pitiable appearance. But all who were not suffering had stamped upon their countenances that quiet. determined look which soldiers acquire in battle, and which is called in the French army the "professional

THE WOUNDED-TERRIBLE SCENES.

The writer of the foregoing account of the battle next describes the wounded as they were brought to Castiglione. He estimates the number brought to that city alone at 10, 000, and says: It was certainly the most dreadful sight I ever saw. Every conceivable kind of wound which can be inflicted upon men was here exhibited. All who were able to do so were obliged to walk-the animals and wagons at command being all required for those who could not otherwise be moved. Some walked along, their faces completely covered with blood from sabre cuts upon their heads .---Many had their arms shattered-hundreds had their heads tied up-and some carried most ghastly wounds upon their faces. Some had tied up their wounds, and others had stripped away the clothing which chafed and made them worse. I saw one man walking along with a firm step and resolute air-naked to bis waist, and having a bullet wound upon his side, and an ugly gash along his cheek, and a deep bayonet thrust, received from behind in the shoulder. Most of those who were walking wore a serious look-eonversing but little with one another, though they walked two and two and few of them carried upon their faces any considerable expression of pain.

Those who were more severely injured rode upon donkeys or in carts, and a few were carried upon mattrasses on men's shoulders. But these were mostly officers, and nearly all saw carried in that way were so hadly wounded that their recovery is scarcely possi ble. One had both his legs crushed by a cannon ball. Another had received a ball in we should single out Prof. Wise as the man for the great his thigh, and was evidently suffering the most intense agony. Many of those whose wounds were in their legs were seated in chairs swung across a donkey—one being Mr. Brooks, with his Balloon, the "Comet," and who upon each side. Several who were thus carried, and were supported by soldiers walk ing by their side, were apparently unconscious, and seemed to be dying. Then would come carts, large and small, carrying three. five, and some of them ten or fifteen each. A steady stream of these ghastly victims of the the day poured through the town .---I stood in the crowd by the side of them as the sad procession passed along, and watched it at this point for over an hour. It was not interrupted for a moment, except now and then by a crowd of prisoners, and it continued thus from about ten in the morning, when it began to flow, until I left the street, long after

Every church, every large hall, every private house in the town, has been taken for the service of the wounded. Those whose injuries are slight, after having them dressed, pass at once into the ranks and mingle with their comrades. I looked into the church as I passed by. All the seats, railings, &c., had been removed ; mattrasses of hay had been spread upon the floor, and were completely wounded men in every stage o suffering and of peril, lying side by side .-The surgeons were dressing their wounds sisters of charity and other women were giving them wine, and otherwise ministering

ST. LOUIS CORRESPONDENCE. Hot Weather—Mr. Hyde's Account of the Recent Balloon age—The detentures and Perlis of the Trip—Prof. Proposes Another Yougae with hit Balloon, the "1 temth Century"—What the Community think of the ject—Mr. Provis, the "Allantic's " Ecort-A Case of gery—Death of a Member of the Missouri Legislature 87. Louis, July 11, 1859. The weather has been intensive hot for the past three days. Our merchants and business men are leaving the city with their families for the different summer resorts Business is consequently dull. Beceipts of produce are light, and the rivers are slowly receding. The city is very healthy-the average number of deaths about 65 or 70 per week, and much the greater number are children of 5 year and under.

There is very little of a local character to report. The balloon and æronauts, and their rough voyage, has been the grand topic of conversation since the date of our last, and that is still the rage.

Next to the Balloon excitement was the forgery case of Nathaniel Childs, ir., who was arrested on Thursday for the forgery of a check of $270. The forgery was committed some days ago, and immediately after payment it was dis covered. Mr. Childs was accested and charged with if who at once admitted the charge, and offered to lift the check. He was at once arrested, and is now in jail. Mr. Childs is the same individual who was accused with the celebrated robbery of the Bank of the State of Missouri, some years since of about $120,000, for which he was arrest ed, tried and acquitted, and afterwards recovered damages against a portion of the Directors who were instrumen in his arrest, Such is life !

Mr. Hyde, the local editor of the Republican, who was passenger with Prof. Wise, in his zrial ship, the "Atlan-tic," arrived home on Wednesday last, and Thursday's Republican contained a sketch of four columns from his pen, portraying in a most startling and interesting manner his ærial voyage across the country. He is delighted with his trip, but has not expressed a desire to undergo another such journey! Prof. Wise's account appeared in our daily papers on Friday morning, and the two agree in the picture drawn. There were some doubts expressed about Mr. Hyde's narrative-particularly where he allude to the monster ship tearing down trees, &c., but Mr repeats the same story, and those doubts have now been disnelled. Your readers have in all probability read M Wise's account of his perilous voyage, and as his descent occured out of our jurisdiction, we leave it for others to write. We gave in our last a full and accurate detaile report of the preparations and departure of the Eronauts and their wrial ship from this city, and are pleased to earn, after all the perils they have undergone, that they landed in safety, but sorry to hear of the complete wreck of their beautiful Air Ship. By a letter received from Prof. Wise, to a friend in this city, we are informed that it is his intention to visit our city in a few weeks with his Balloon, the "Nineteenth Century," and demonstrate conclusively that the voyage can be made from West to East. In that letter he al expresses himself fully satisfied of a great Eastern current.

and, once in that, the voyage can readily be made. Mr. Wise has made hosts of friends in this city, and those who doubted the success of his during undertaking, are now nearly all convinced that Prof. Wise can account plish it. Although the Balloon did not land precisely where it was expected to, yet no one here has said it was a failure-it was in reality a success-had they kept in the Eastern current, in which they were for a time, there is not a doubt but that the æronauts would have landed on the Atlantic seaboard. We have yet to hear the first man pronounce it a failure. We believe that Prof. Wise will realize his greatest and brightest anticipations in a second trial, and this community are anxious for its success. We shall patiently await the time when Prof. Wise will again announce his second voyage across the country, from this city, in a Balloon. We are one of those who believe that the Atlantic can be crossed just as readily as the land bo-tween this city and the seaboard, and of all other men. we should single out Prof. Wise as the man for the great

He came down on a prairie, as light as a feather, and was properly "taken in " and "done for," by a farmer, upon whose land he descended, and arrived in this city on Saturday. n this city on Saturday. The Hon, Richard II, Bowlin, brother of Judge James B. Bowlin, died in this city last week. He was a member of our State Legislature. There are now two vacancles in our representation from this city and county-Mr. Blackwood having resigned, being appointed by the President Judge having resigned, oring appointed by the resident outgo of New Mexico. The Hon. Thes. F. Marshall, of Louisville, Ky., has de-livered a series of lectures in this city, to crowded houses. Dr. Morris, an old and respectable citizen, of Henderson, Kv., committed suicide last week.

The acting Commissioner of the General Land Office has just submitted to the President of the U.S., for signature patent, No. 1. for lands in the Edwardsville (now Springfield) district of Illinois, enuring to the said State under the grant of September 28, 1850, containing 73,690.94 acre-The following are the State nominations of the Demoratic party of Iowa : Gen. Your readers all recollect the great Breach of Promise Case, which resulted in the defendant forking over $100.-000! A new trial has been granted Mr. Shaw. The case will not come up for trial before the next term of the court, which will be in November. It is generally posed that Miss Effie will have her character more closely nd thoroughly tested, than at the recent trial. A Minnesota paper, the La Crescent Banner, says that KANSAS CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION .- The Constitutional Convention of Kansas met at Wyandotte on the 5th inst. The political character of the body is as follows :- Republicans, thirty six ; Democrats, sixteen. This gives the Republicans twenty majority, and ecures them entire control of the Convention. Governor Medary was invited to preside tem porarily, but declined. The Convention finally organized by electing J. M. Winchell, of Osage, President, and John S. Martin, of Atchison, editor of Freedom's Champion, Secretary. The total popular vote at the late election, was 13,356-Republican, 7,415; Democratic, 5,939. Republican majority.

AMERICAN JOURNALISM. - We believe, says The New York Tribune, there are now printed in the limits of the Union not less than four thousand newspapers, at least five hundred of them daily, and five hundred semi-weekly. Their average circulation we estimate at two thousand each for the dailies, twenty-five hundred for the semi weeklies, and fifteen hundred for the weeklies, making a total circulation of more than four hundred millions of sheets per annum. Yet in 1813-less than half a century ago-the total circulation of newspapers in this country was estimated by Isaial Thomas, in his "History of Printing, at only a little more than twenty millions of sheets per annum. At that time there were 359 newspapers, of which 27 only were daily. What an advance in less than half a century!

SAD OCCURRENCE-DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A RATTLESNAKE.—James Wright, an old citizen of Cincinnati. while in the woods citizen of Cincinnati, while in the woods near Vanceburg, Ind., on the 4th instant, getting out timber, was bit on the hand by a rattlesnake. The Gazette says :

Alarmed at the probable consequences, he immediately started for the town, and ran the entire distance. The heat, fatigue and excitement of course allowed the poison to circulate through his system and make sure deadly work. By the time he reached Vanceburg, he was entirely blind, and his body and head were covered with spots of the same color of those of the rattlesnake. The usual remedies were immediately resorted to and every effort made by the attendant physicians to neutralize the poison, but without effect.-He continued to sink rapidly and expired between 3 and 4 o'clock next morning. In preparing the body to be laid out, a singular phenomenon presented itself. In addition to the spots referred to, there was a picture of the snake itself--perfect in shape and color, and as distinct as if daguerreotyped there-extending from the point on his hand where the fangs had struck, up the arm to the shoulders, and then down the side to the groin. To the truth of this, our informant assures us not only himself, but some four or five other citizens, who saw it, can positively testify.

Immediately upon learning the occurrence, a number of persons started to the place where it had happened, and, upon examina tion, found the snake in the identical spot designated, where they came near having another tragedy, a young lady of the party having stepped over his lurking place, from which a moment after he made a savage leap at the party, but was immediately disnatched He proved to have six rattles and a " button, indicating his age to be six years and a half.

SHOCKING MURDER IN ILLINOIS. A letter from Carlinville, Illinois, to the St. Louis Republican, says :

An old gentleman by the name of Circy, aged 73 years, from Kentucky, arrived here on Monday evening last, on his way to visit his sons living in this county, accompanied by a young man who formed his acquaintance on the boat plying between your city and New Orleans. They stayed in this place New Orleans. until the following morning, when the old gentleman hired a horse and buggy, and left here with the young man for his son's farm. When about eight miles from town, and when they were going through a dark, gloomy ottom, it is supposed that the young.man feigned an excuse to stop and go into the the woods, leaving the old gentleman to hold the horse, whereupon the young man cut a large club, came back unseen by the old man, and struck him senseless in the buggy. From appearances in the road, there had been a severe struggle between the two men. The road was so greatly marked up by the scuffle, that a passer by observing this, the horse and buggy without any driver, and a hat in the road. suspicioned something wrong. He cuse at the first house, when a stated the company of men repairing to the place spoken of, found as described, and the old man wel tering in his blood. He was most horribly beaten, had a large stab in the neck, and the club which had caused his death lying across his arms. Nothing was to be found of the young man who accompanied him.

The sons of the murdered man had been expecting their father for a number of days, and hei ng uneasy of his welfare, one of them started a few days since for Kentucky to learn of his detention. He is still on his way, unconscious of his father's fate. The old unconscious of his father's fate. The old gentleman had purchased lands in this county for his sons, and came to pay for them. He was to bring about $2,500, which amount it is supposed he had with him when murdered. At the inquest, on examination of his person and baggage, there was found between $400 and $500, which no doubt was left by the murderer in his fear of detection by some passer by, as he was on one of our thorough-fares. The marder is one of the most brutal and cold blooded on record.

FROM WASHINGTON .- The Washington cor respondent of the Baltimore Sun, of July 8th,

It appears that prompt satisfaction has been demanded through Mr. McLane, of the Mira-mon government of Mexico, for the outrages committed upon our citizens at Tacubaya and elsewhere. Whether Miramon is really able to control and repress such outrages in future, is doubtful. There does not appear to exist any responsible government in the country.— Should this demand, in solemnity made, be followed by action of a corresponding nature, we shall be in a condition of war with Mexico. But our Executive has not the constitutional power to invade Mexico, without authority of Congress; and, if he had the power, he does not possess the means. There is not a dollar nor a man at his disposal for the object.

The suggestions which are thrown out in really feared, in future, that there is no gov-ernment in Mexico to which we can look for country, it may become necessary for Congress to arm the Executive with power, and supply him with the means to prevent or redress such outrages as those which Mr. McLane has Advices from Chibuahua render it probable that if the church party prevail in Mexico, some of the northern provinces will declare their independence, and solicit annexation to the United States. Gov. Viduarri has this resort in view, it is said, and that is one of his reasons for inviting the cooperation of American volunteers.

A MILLION OF BUFFALO.-Horace Greeley, writing from the Plains, makes the following estimate of the number of Buffalo;

What strikes the stranger with most amazement, is their immense numbers. I know a million is a great many, but I am confident we saw that number yesterday. Certainly all we saw could not have stood on ten square miles of ground. Often, the country for miles on either hand seemed quite black with them. The soil is rich, and well matted with their pair favorite grass. Yet it is all, except a very little on the creek bottoms, near to timber, eaten down like an overtaxed sheep pasture in a dry August. Consider that we have traversed more than one hundred miles in width since we first struck them, and that for most of this distance the Buffalo have been constantly in sight, and that they continue for some twenty miles further on-this being the breadth of their present range, which length of perhans a thousand miles-and you have some approach to an idea of their countless millions. I doubt whether the domesti cated horned cattle of the United States equal the numbers, while they must fall considerably short in weight of these wild ones. RESIGNED.-The Hon. Jeremiah Shindle State Senator of Lehigh county, has resigned his pastoral office in the German Evangelical Lutheran Church which he has held for many years. The church authorities lately declared that the holding of a political office was incompatible with that of the clerical.

A TRUE STORY.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

There's a town upon the Lehigh, And we'd make it known to fame, Were it not that we have reasons For not calling it by name. In that pleasant town residing. s a man of whom we write Who is very sharp in trading, And, in making bargains, tight He was owner of a wagon, Which was very much defaced, So he sent it to a painter, And 'twas painted to his taste, At a cost of many dollars, Which the oyster dealer paid When the wagon was delivered In its glossy suit arrayed. It was used in daily service-Being ever on the drive-Much exposed to wind and weathe Till the years had numbered five Then the paint, which on the wagon Had been shining, bright and fuir, From its service and exposure Showed the marks of wear and tear; So the oyster dealer sent it To the painter once sgain, And by letter boldly told him That his painting had been vain, For it only cracked and faded, And for this he made complaint, As he knew the artful painter Used no oil to mix his paint; And as he had kept the oil out From his paint, with base intent. He must do the wagon over, And he mustn't charge a cent. Then the painter sent an answer, And he said I do not know Whether oil I used or not, Sir, As it happened long ago; But there's something I remember And 'tis this—I bought of you-While the wagon I was painting-What you called an oyster stew But no butter was there in it. And, your selfishness to foil, My account for lack of butter. Against yours for lack of oil

I shall file, in honest offset, And a jury then shall say, Who, in point of fact, is debtor, And how much he ought to pay, When the miser got this answer, Like a tiger he did grin, For be hadn't made expenses. On the flint he tried to skin.

There are very many sharpers Who resort to tricks as small When they might, in buying of At the famous TOWER HALL, Save enough to make them happy, And, although the sons of toil, They could paint the brightest pict Never leaving out the cil.

The practical results attending the use of this Guano have been most remarkable, and from its permanent ac-tion on the soil, it takes precedence over all others. Farm-ers using it can depend upon fall and regular supplies; it is unlike some other Guanos which the consumer has just begun to appreciate, when he is informed that the "deposit' is exhausted, or the price raised above his ability or inclination to purchase. Upon this he may fully rely, as to the fullness of the supply. The quantity on "Jarvis Island," alone, is believed to be over Three Mit-tions of Tont.

"Jarvis filand," alone, is balloved to be over Three Mil-tions of Tons.
