COATESVILLE SEMINARY,

MALE AND FEMALE,

COATESVILLE, CHEVTER COUNTY, PA

JAMES E GIFFIN, A. M. Principal and Proprietor.

This Seminary is located in Coatesville, on the Central Radinoad, about thirty-seven miles from Philadelphia, and sixty-two from Harraburg. It is easy of access from any part of the Union, and is in the midst of a moral and refined p-pulation. There could not be a more healthy and rounnite situation. It possesses the advantages of having a daily mail, a telegraph office and an Adams Express office. The next estain will open the first day of November. The School is sound and practical in every department. The course of study embrace severything that is taught in the best Colleges of our country. The School is organized on the most approved plan of the best institutions in the New England States. Ladies and Gentlemen are entirely separtae, except in recitations; in truth, they have less intercourse than at home. The Teachers occupy apartments in the buildings, and there is no association of the sexes but in the presence of their instructors. The happy influence, mutally exerted, in their slight *ssociation in the recitation room, at the table and in the public exercises, is to be seen in the cultivation of a cheerful and animated disposition, in the formation of good habits and manners, in ardent devotion to study, and in the attainment of high moral character. These, with many other valuable rasults have established the fact, that the best plan for a school is, according to the evident design of Providence in the constitution of society, on the basis of a well regulated christian family.

Ludics.equally with the gentlemen, are benefited by this arrangement. The numerous and crowded schools of his kind spreading over the country, fully attest the correctness of this plan.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
In response to the numerous calls for the IVth Volume
f the NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA, we beg to state

scribers.

From the Hon. Thoophilus Fursons, LL. D., Law Professor in Hirrard University.

"Have you coom for a word about Ripley and Dana'new Cyclopesdia! I have frequent occasion to use one; and I am so delighted with the two volumes we have that I must ask you to allow me the relief of saying very simply, what I find them—that is, the very best Cyclopedia for practical use ever published. I have some knowledge of all in our own language and a few of those of the continent of Europe. The best and largest of these surpass this of Appleton's in the extent to which they carry out special dissertations. But this Cyclopedia is full of the best mather. By skillful selection and compression, and souldous avoidance of mere show and verbiage, room is found for an immense amount of the latest information, put forth clearly, carrefully and accurately. The book embodies, and adequately represents, the ability and knowledge available at this day for a work of the kind.

"Its merit and extreme cheapness must place it eventually in every Library. And if a good word from one who has found out its excellence by making use of it, can hasten or extend its diffusion, my purpose in writing this brief notice will be accomplished."
