one oried "stand and deliver!" I had previously told the one oried "stand and deliver." I had previously told the engineer to follow him slowly, but immediately saw the muzzles of four rifles pointed at us, resting on the railing; I told the engineer to back the train, as something was wrong in the bridge; he did so; asi got out on the tresling. I heard the report of a gun, and Haywood, the colored man, came running to me, and said, "Captain, I am shot!" The ball had entered his back, and came out under the left nipple. I carried him to the railroad office, and then started for a doctor; on my way I saw a man come out of the bridge and go toward the armory gate; I remarked, "There he goes now," and Mr. Throckmorton, clerk of the Wager House, fired at him; the shot was returned by two mein at the armory gate; I was close behind Throckmorton, who exchanged several shots with them; this was ten minutes after Heywood was shot; I heard the mon hadding their rifles again; the reports were very loud, and I wonwho exchanged several shots with them; this was ten minutes after Heywood was shot; I heard the mon leading their riles again; the reports were very loud, and I wondered why the people were not aroused; I walked back to the railroad office, and one of the party came out; he said. "You can come over the bridge with your train;" I replied that I would rather not, after these proceedings, and asked, "What do you want!" he replied, "We want liberty, and we intend to have it;" I then asked, "What do you mean!" he; replied, "You will findbut in a day or two;" I then felt alarmed for the safety of myself and the passengers and concluded to await until daylight; men were passing backward and forward from the bridge to the gate of the armory; each appeared wrapped in blankets; the passengers were much excited, and at a loss to know what it meant: I went to the back of the train, and saw from twenty to thirty men in and about the engine house; about four o'clock faw a wagon driven into the yard with a carriage, and nearly a dozon men jumped out of the wagon; did not see any one got out of the carriage; saw men go back and forward, who seemed to be putting something in the wagon; they were also going up and down the street leading from the armory, and all seemed busy at something; this continued until nearly daylight, when the wagon left, an old gentleman came to me and said that the parties who have arested me allowed me to come out on condition that I would tell you that you might cross the bridge with your train: I afterwards learned that this was Mr Krie, a citizen of the town; I replied that I would not cross the bridge until adylight, that I might see whether it was asse, afterwards I saw a man coming down Shenandoah street with a lantere, and an aread man at rested him; afterwards I saw a man coming down Shenandoah street with a lantere, and an aread man at rested him; afterwards I saw a stout negro walking with a staff with one of these men; could not see what was in the wagon; afterwards a black boy brought a not saw a stout negro walking with a staff with one of these men; could not sae what was in the wagon; afterwards: black boy brought a note to the clerk of the Wager House ordering breakfast for forty-seven men; I determined to go out and ascertain what it meant; I net a man, whom he now recognized as Coppes, and asked what they meant he replied, we do not want to injure you or detain your train; you could have gone at three oclock; all we want is to free the negroes; I then asked if the train could now start, and went to the guard at the eate, who said: Timer is Captain Smith—he can tell you what you want to know. is Captain simili—he can tell you whit you want to know; I walked to the engine house and the guard called to Captain Simili has some out and I cased into see him; the prisoner at the bir came out and I asked him if he was captain of these men; he replied that he was; I asked him if I could cross the bridge, and he percuptorily responded "Not" I then asked him whit he meant by stopping my train; he replied: Are you the conductor of that train? I told him I was, and he said why, I sent you word at three o'clock that you could gase; I told him that after being stopped by armed men on the bridge I would not pass with my train; he replied, "by head for it you will not be hurt?" he also said he was very sorry, but it was not his intention that any heads of a child be spill; that it was had manacement on the part of the men in charge of the bridge; I then asked him if he wand walk over the bridge abead of my trail, with me: he called a large, stout man to accome then asked him if he would walk over the bridge abead of my trait with me; the carbed a large, stout man to accompant him, and one of my passed gers Mr. McByrne) asked to accompany me; her Brown intend him to get it on the train or he would absolute in the passed sense. If the owner gets all the work and services of ling and valuable; the negro in the prime of life, the master should be made. Schools in the Union...... The late Abolition insurrection at Harper's Ferry has not only startled, but opened the eyes of the conservative people of the great West; they now begin to see the fruits of Black Republicanism, and not a few of them have washed their hands of Sewardism, Chaseism, Giddingsism, Gerritt Smithism, Abolitionism and Black Republicanism We were not at all surprise t to here of "Old Brown" being the Commander in Chief of the Black Republican crusade upon the people of the South. Mr. Seward was no doubt posted in this matter when he made his famous Advocate, two hundred and eight thousand.

Advocate, two hundred and eight thousand.

Advocate, two hundred and eight thousand. of the "Tre-pressible Coulliet" which was ere long to take place. It is an indisputable feet that the "Massachusetts Emigrant Aid Society " sent "- 11 Brown " into Kansas to murder the Southern people upon entering the territory, and he and his men were well paid for their "Kausas work"- as Gerritt Smith terms murder. The little skirmish he hel in Kansas was a mere "feeler" put out, to see how the country would receive it. The Northern people—the nizzer p riion of them, swallowed it, and cried go on, we will furnish the means to wipe out slavery. This did not arouse the people of the South—they left the " Border Ruffigns" of Misjouri to manage that matter. Since that time the people of the North have been their Governors, Congressmen, Legislatures, &c., and thu placing the whole of the Northern States, with the State arms and munitions of war, in the hands of the Abelitionists, and now that this has been done, they planted Old Brown on the border of the slavery line; farnished him with mone; and the necessary munitions of war-with white desperadoes and free niggers-and were to make the attack at a given signal. Whether that day had arrived or not, or whether they were discovered in their treasonable plot before the party was ripe for it, we cannot say, but one thing is certain, the attack was made, and the great army of Northern Black Republicans failed to rally around old Brown, and proved themselves cowards unworthy of their cause.

"Old Brown" was left to perish up in the field—his siders and abettors deserted him in the hour of trial, and his bittle army met the fate of all traitors to their country. It is very evident that many of the leading Black Republicans have had a hand in this "irrepressible conflict"—in furnishing means and weapons to murder the people of the Southern States, but they planted their stock of trade in a very unhealthy climate. Virginia, with Gov. Wise at its head, could muster in 48 hours a sufficient lorge to delive head, could muster in 48 hours a sufficient force to drive all the cowardly Abelitionists of the whole North clear into Canada, or further if necessary.

The descrition of Brown, by his friends of the North, will no doubt be the means and the cause for the exposure of many not above suspicion. "Old Brown's" confession will show them up. They ought to be shown up, for placing the old man in such a critical position, and then refusing

Is it not amusing, as well as ridiculous, to hear all the Black Republican editors crying out, "hang him," "hang him"—"he is insane," &c. It is not likely Seward, Gerrit

Smith & Co., would trust such a sacred rause to an "in ane" man-furnish him with money, which no one wil deny has been done, and then turn against the old man in the hour of need. We are of opinion, now that Brown has failed in this work of treason, and has been take prisoner, for fear of him exposing the whole plot, and by so doing implicating some prominent Black Republicates as well as candidates for Presidential honors, they wan him put out of the way forthwith-dispatched without j dge or jury, so that the treasonable designs of the Black Republican party will not be exposed. "Old Brown" will. let the cat out of the bag before he expiates his crime against the laws of his country, on the gallows, and will then see what we shall see. It is also amusing to see how the "opposition" editor are striving to make the people believe Gerrit Smith is not a Black Republican. Why Smith was a Black Republican Abolitionist lour before Greely, Seward, Chare and Banks thought of such a thing. He is the founder of the party, but hear how the Cincinnati Gazette (B. R.) tries ris the party as an accomplice in this first attempt at the "irrepressible conflict." It says, "if it should be found that Gerrit Smith, (who was never a Republican, as every person of common information understands.) but alway n opponent of that party, is wittingly and deliberately implicated in the Harper's Ferry affair, he should of course be put on trial for high tresson, as an accomplice in that crime. If convicted, on indisputable proof, he ought to be promptly 'elevated' to his proper position. No Republican President would interpose 'executive clemency' between such an offender and his merited punishment."

So far as the puni-hment of Gerrit Smith goes in the alann extract, we most heartily endorse, and go still further-that all implicated either directly or indirectly should fare the same fate, and thus teach Abolitionists lesson they will not soon forget.

There is not a reasonable man in this community bu what now believes the mission of Black Republicanism to be servile war, disuni in and a Northern Confederacy. There is a company now forming in this city, under the name and style of the "St. Louis Silver Mining Company," with a capital of $150,000, to mine for silver in Arizonia $25,000, the first assessment, has been paid it, and this, to believe, is a sufficient amount to commence of continuaon a liberal and profitable scale. Those who have embarked in this enterprise, are well known men of wealth, energy and reliability: The organization of this Company will benefit our citizers from the start, as some $10,000 or $12,000 will be expended for goods and outlits, materials, &c. including a ten horse power engine, circular saw and per able grist mil. The land, which is to be worked and owned by this company, is located in a spur of the Santa Cruz Mountains, abou three miles from the Sonora nontier, in Arizonia, and some twenty-five miles from Fort Buchanan. There are three or four veins, and are situated in a hill, having an east-west current, and can be traced some distance on the surface.

The large Democratic gains in Ohio, and Pennsylvania, have considerably conied the arder of our Black Republicans in this heality. They begin to think that the Democratic party is not deed, as they have been stating for the pawe yours. One of their editors now says the Democrat party is not dead-but sleeping-and he very much fear testinection day will come next year, when there will be a great (attling of day bones). On Tuesday afternoon, the 25th ult., Francis Keenan, Esq., Counsellor at Law, in the 40th year, of his age. Amongst the many occurrences which the daily incidents of life present, to warn us of the utter fallacy and uncertainty of human hopes and human ambition, there has not been presented, in our own immediate circle, a more striking illustration of the application of the sentiment, than in the sudden and unexpected death of him who is the subject of this notice. Stricken down in the maturity of his manhood, and with shifting and virtues which endeared him to the community in which he lived, and with that courtesy characteristic of the Christian and gen tleman, he has passed to the grave, without leaving an enemy who could utter a sentiment against his character. When standing thus by the lifeless form of one who was endeared to us by so many associations of the past, how forcibly should it teach us the salutary lesson, to curb the asperities of our nature; and as it has been truly said. this sudden bereavement inculcates the salutary moral. that no position in society can offer the slightest check to the calamities to which humanity is liable. In the midst of the business, turmoils and selfishness of society we are too apt to omit the recognition of the virtues of him who has been thus stricken down in the midst of his career of labor and duty.

his profession. It has been justly remarked that in our and disciplined in a knowledge of all our political institu ions: in the varied systems which prevail under the Constitutions and legislation of the several States; and with a thorough knowledge of the adjudications of the National and State tribunals, combined with the high moral pur poses which should govern the discharge of the duties of the profession. There is also required, in addition to the proper mental qualifications, untiring assidutity, energy and integrity to accomplish the high responsibilities which devolve upon the station. The intellectual attainments of the deceased, his knowledge of the principles and duties of his profession, with his courteous demeanor, which recommended him to all with whom he had intercourse, euabled him to take a high rank in his profession, upon the solid and enduring foundation of ability, strict integ. rity and purity of purpose. The deceased was unassuming and charitable in all his intercourse with society, and carefully rejected every expression calculated to wound the feelings of others, as repugnant to every element of his character.

There never was a sentiment more applicable to the deceased than that of a distinguished writer who says, "That a man endowed with high faculties cautiously abstains from displaying them on inadequate occasions and is i danger of timidity from a consciousness of power yet unasertained even by himself."

In the able and eloquent funeral discourse delivered by Father MARTIN, of Philadelphia, at St. Mary's Church, he faithfully and truly portrayed the firm and devoted Christian faith of the deceased from his boyhood, which insured that honorable and upright discharge of duty characteristic of his professional and social career.

"No mortal yet could dare to say,
Man trusted in his God for his defence,
And was confrunded? Covered with dismay,
Loses he friends? Religion dries his tears!
Loses he life? Religion calms his fears."

From Professor M'Closkey, formerly Professor of Theory and Practical Medicine in the Female Medical College of Pennsylvania, and late Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine, &c.

Mr. Joseph E. Hover—A trial of your Liquid Hair Dye will convince the most skeptical that it is a safe, elegant and efficacious preparation. Unlike many others, it has in several instances proved serviceable in the cure of some cutaneous eruptions on the head, and I have no hesitation in commending it to those requiring such an application Very respectfully, YANKEE MARRIAGE A DIAMOND WEDDING... BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

There was a Yankee youth, "Down East," No subject of laudations: For he'd no title to his name, Nor titles to plantations! Industrious and wide awake— No time to follies giving— He worked from rosy dawn till dark, To earn an honest living. He loved a maiden in the town And for a wife be sought her:
She was a child of parents poor.
Yet gold could not have bought her:
But when the manly, noble youth,
The honest son of labor—
No "Santa Cruz," from Cuba's Isle,
But "Yankes Jed.," her neighbor—
With winning smile said. "Poccart I.

With winning smile, said: "Dearest Jane.
My heart, by Love's direction,
I give to thee, with all my wealth—
That wealth my heart's affection: And ask thee to become my wife She placed her hand within his own,
And, asking strength from Heaven,
The pledge of love, no gold could buy,
Was freely, foully given.

A month elapsed—they went on foot
To consummate their marriage—
With steps made light by buoyant hopes.
They needed not a carriage. They needed not a carriage.

No satin, silk, or velvet fine,
No brilliant diamonds glowing,
Were on the lovely country maid
Their translent charms bestowing;
But on her cheek a matchless bloom
Outvied the blush of morning—
Possessed of beauty, born of health,
She needed no adorning.

She needed no adorning.

In calico, with cherished hopes
Her face in smiles arraying;
With parted lips, as rubies red,
Her pearl like teeth displaying;
With eyes made bright by inward light,
With love, and mental graces,
She stood exalted o'er the need
Of instrous gems and laces.
Without the norm of Politics at inless
Without the norm of Politics at inless

Without the pomp of Pride's display, Her bridal vows were spoken; Made strong in truth by love unbought,
Made strong in truth by love unbought,
Those vows remain unbroken:
And, on Life's tree, a better pair
Are Jane and Jedediah,
Than an "Oviedo-Bartlett" pair,
Which Fashion's fools admire.

May all who at the Tower Hall,
Are well and cheaply dreesing,
Remember that a woman e'er
Will prove the greatest blessing,
When with the "silken cord of love"—
And not a golden halter—
Her lover binds his heart to her's,
And leads her to the altar.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other or Para Sarsaparilia, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our f immense service to this large class of our of immense service to this large class or our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints: SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS. SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AF-FECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OR TIO DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the netwer learners of the strives the netwer of the strives th this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the vains; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooners with the control of the contro lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the sarsaparilia has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it but contained for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else. During late years the public have been mis-led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on
