Calculated up to to 1st December, it will not exceed $96,660-a sum not to be taken into account when con-trastid with the great difficulties and embar-rassments of a public and private character, both to, the people and the States, which would have resulted from convening and hold-ing a special session of Congress. For these reasons I recommend the passage of a bill at a safet a day as may be practica-

The army, the navy, the judiciary, in short every department of the Government, can no longer perform their functions if Congress refuse the money necessary for their support. If this failure should teach lars and twenty three cents, ($40,995,558 23.) Of which sum two million eight hundred and the country the necessity of electing a full Congress in sufficient time to enable the Presieighty six thousand six hundred and twenty dent to convene them in any emergency, even immediately after the old Congress has expired, it will have been productive of great good. In one dollars and thirty four cents ($2,886,621 34) are estimated for the interest on the pub-lic debt. The ascertained and estimated exa time of sudden and alarming danger, foreign or domestic, which all nations must expect to 1860, on account of the public debt, are, ac cordingly, seven million five hundred and fifty ncounter in their progress, the very salvation of our institutions may be staked upon the assembling of Congress without delay. If, under such circumstances, the President should ind himself in the condition in which he was placed at the close of the last Congress, with three mill nearly half the States of the Union destitute of representatives, the consequences might be astrous. I, therefore, recommend to Congress to carry into effect the provisions of the Constitution on this subject, and to pass a law appointing some day previous to the 4th March in each year of odd number for the election of ntatives throughout all the States ----They have already appointed a day for the election of electors for President and Vice President, and this measure has been approved

Twould again express a most decided opin-Twould again express a most decided opinion in favor of the construction of a Pacific railroad, for the reasons stated in my two last annual messages. When I reflect upon what would be the defenceless condition of our States nd Territories west of the Rocky mountains in case of a war with a naval power sufficiently strong to interrupt all intercourse with them fiscal year ending 30th June, 1861, are sixty-six million seven hundred and fourteen thous-and nine hundred and twen eight dollars and by the routes across the Isthmus, I am still more convinced than ever of the vast import ance of this railroad. I have never doubted the constitutional competency of Congress to seventy-nine cents [$66,714,928,79.] Of this amount, three million three hundred and eighrovide for its construction, but this exclusivey under the war-making power. Besides, the Constitution expressly requires, as an impera-tive duty, that "the United States shall protect will be required to pay the interest on the public debt; leaving the sum of sixty-three million three hundred and twenty-eight thoueach of them [the States] against invasion." I am at a loss to conceive how this protection can be afforded to California and Oregon against such a naval power by any other means. I repeat the opinion contained in my last annual message, that it would be inexpedient for the Government to undertake this great work by agents of its own appointment and under its direct and exclusive control. This would increase the patronage of the Executive to a dangerous extent, and would foster a system of jobbing and corruption which no vigilance on the part of Federal officials could prevent.---The construction of this road ought, therefore, to be instrusted to incorporated companies, or other agencies, who would exercise that active and vigilant supervision over it which can be inspired alone by a sense of corporate and individual interest. I venture to assert that the additional cost of transporting troops, munitions of war, and necessary supplies for the army across the vast intervening plains to our possessions on the Pacific coast would be greater in such a war than the whole amount required to construct the road. And yet this resort would, after all, be inadequate for their defence and protection. habits of extravagant expenditure, produced by our overflowing Treasury, during several years prior to the commencement of my adminstration. The financial reverses which we have since experienced ought to teach us all to scrutinize our expenditures with the greatest vigilance, and to reduce them to the lowest possible point. The Executive Departments of the Government have devoted themselves to the accomplishment of this object with considerable success, as will appear from their different reports and estimates. To these 1 invite the scrutiny of Congress, for the purpose of reducing them still lower, if this be practicable, consistent with the great public interests of the country. THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

houses as must sometimes be the case. I may afford them an opportunity for reconsideration At the same time we ought never to forget that true public economy consists, not in withhold-ing the means necessary to accomplish important national objects confided to us by the Constitution, but in taking care that the money appropriated for these purposes shall be faithfully and frugally expended. It will appear from the report of the Secre tary of the Treasury, that it is extremely doubtful, to say the least, whether we shall be able to pass through the present and the next fiscal year without providing additional reven-ne. This can only be accomplished by strictly confining the appropriations within the esti-mates of the different Departments, without making an allowance for any additional expenditures which Congress may think proper, in their discretion to authorize, and without providing for the redemption of any portion of the $20,000,000 of Treasury notes which have been already issued. In the event of a deficiency, which I consider probable, this ought never to be supplied by a resort to additional loans. It would be a ruinous practice in the days of peace and prosperity to go on increasing the national debt to meet the ordinary expenses of the Government. This policy would cripple our re-sources and impair our credit, in case the existence of war should render it necessary to borrow money. Should such a deficiency occur as I apprehend, I would recommend that the necessary revenue be raised by an increase of our present duties on imports. I need not repeat the opinions expressed in my last annual assage as to the best mode and manner of accomplishing this object, and shall now merely observe that these have since undergone no change.

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury will explain in detail the operations of that Department of the Government.

The receipts into the Tveasury from all sources during the fiscal year ending 30th June 1859, including the loan authorized by the act of 14th June, 1858, and the issues of Treasury notes authorized by existing laws, were eightyone million, six hundred and ninety-two thousand, four hundred and seventy-one dollars and one cent. ($81,692,471,01,) which sum with the balance of six million three hundred and ninety-eight thousand, three hundred and sixteen dollars ten cents, ($6,398,316 10,) re-maining in the treasury at the commencement of that fiscal year, made an aggregate for the service of the year of eighty eight million ninety thousand seven hundred and eightyseven dollars andeleven cents, ($88,090,787 11.)

The public expenditures during the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1859, amounted to eighty-three million seven hundred and fiftyone thousand five hundred and eleven dollars and fifty seven cents, ($83,751,511 57.) Of this sum seventeen million four hundred and five thousand two hundred and eighty five dol-lars and fourty four cents, ($17,405,285 44) were applied to the payment of interest on the public debt and the redemption of the issues of reasury notes. The expenditures for all other branches of the public service during that fiscal year were therefore sixty six million three hundred and forty-six thousand two hunred and twenty six dollars and thirteen cents ($66,346,226 13)

The receipts into the treasury during the first quarter of the present fiscal year, com-mencing July 1st, 1859, were twenty million six hundred and eighten thousand eight hun-dred and sixty-five dollars and eighty-five cents, ($20,618,865,85.) Of this amount three million eight hundred and twenty-one thousand three hundred dollars ($3,821,300) was receiv-ed on account of the loan and the issue of d on account of the loan and the issue of treasury notes-the amount of sixteen million seven hundred and ninety seven thousand five hundred and sixty five dollars and eighty-five cents ($16,797,565,85) having been received during the quarter from the ordinary sources of public revenue. The estimated receipts for the remaining three quarters of the present fiscal year to 30th June, 1860, are fifty million four hundred and twenty-six thousand four hundred dollars, ($50,426,400.) Of this amount it is estimated that five million seven hundred and fifty-six thousand four hundred dollars [$5, 756,400] will be received for treasury notes which may be reissued under the fifth section of the act of 8d March last, treasury notes which may be reasured under the fifth section of the act of 3d March last, and one million one hundred and seventy thou-sand dollars [$1,170,000] on account of the loan authorized by the act of June 14, 1858-making six million nine hundred and twenty-making six million nine hundred and twenty-

It will appear from the report of the Sec-retary of War that the army expenditures have been materially reduced by a system of rigid economy, which, in his opinion, offers every guarrantee that the reduction will be permanent. The estimates of the Department for the next year have been reduced nearly two millions of dollars below the estimates for the present fiscal year, and half a million of dollars below the amount granted for this year at the last session of Congress. The expenditures of the Post ()fice Depart-ment during the past fiscal year, ending on the 30th June, 1859, exclusive of payments for mail service specially provided for by Congress out of the general treasury, amount-ed to $14, 964,493 33, and its receipts to $7,-968, 484 07; showing a deficiency to be supplied from the treasury of $6,996,069 26, against $5,235,677 15 for the year ending 30th June, 1858. The increased cost of transportation growing out of the expansion of the service required by Congress explains this rapid augmentation of the expenditures. It is gratifying, however, to observe an increase of the receipts for the year ending on the 30th June, 1859, equal to $481,691 21, compared with those in the year ending on 30th June, 1858. It is estimated that the deficiency for the current fiscal year will be $5,988,424 04, but that, for the year ending 30th June, 1861, it will not exceed $1,342,473 90, should Congress adopt the measures of reform proposed and urged by the Postmaster General. Since the month of March retrenchments have been made in the expenditure amounting to $1. 826,471 annually, which, however, did not take effect until after the commencement of the present fiscal year. The period seems to have arrived for determining the question whether this Department shall become a permanent and ever-increasing charge upon the Treasury, or shall be permitted to resume the self-sustaining policy which had so long con-trolled its administration. The course of legislation recommended by the Postmaster Cash on hand General for the relief of the Department from its present embarrassments, and for restoring it to its original independence, is deserving of your early and earnest consideration. In conclusion, I would again commend to the just liberality of Congress, the local in-terests of the District of Columbia. Surely the city bearing the name of Washington, and destined, I trust, for ages to be the capital of our united, free, and prosperous Confederacy, has strong claims on our favorable regard. THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOP.EDIA, ITS AMERICAN CHARACTER. The New Cyclopaedia surpasses all others in the space given to our own country-its natural features and re-sources-aud to American History and Biography.-From the New York: Evangelist.

ITS PRACTICAL UTILITY.

It is a perfect treasury of knowledge, in all branches of the arts and sciences, in literature, history, biography and geography.—From The Boston Pilot.

ITS IMPAIRTIALITY. Pledged to abstain from doctrinal, sectarian, or sectional discussions, it presents, so far as we have examined its ar-ticles, both sides of controverted topics with reasonable fulness and strict fairness.—From The National Era.

THE NUMBER AND ABILITY OF ITS CONTRIBUTORS

Soveral emineut medical aud legal authorities, both in New York and Boston, furnish contributions in their respective departments; and from a large catalogue of writers, which we have been permitted to inspect, we are confidently of opinion that such an array of talent and intelligence has never before been combined in a single publication of the American Press.—Prom The Lancaster Examin_r.

ITS FRESHINESS.' Its freshness and general thoroughness give it a decided advantage over any cyclopedia of its class, hitherto issued on either side of the Atlantic.-From The New York Times.

ITS CHEAPYESS, It will be within the resch of all. Apprentices and merchants' clerks can procure the work as well as anybody, and with less cost to them (ir they take it in numbers) than many of them expend nightly for cigars and teer.— From The Jamestown Journal. WIAS DATE & CO
