The Convention has a nlain and specific duty to perform -that of selecting delegates to the ensuing State Convention, to be held at Reading on the 29th day of February. We hope the Convention day of February. We hope the Convention the Commonwealth, which he considers in the will select good and true men, who will faith-bighest degree satisfactory. He distinctly states that something over one million of dolfully reflect the sentiments and wishes of their constituents-men who will be governed in their action by a desire to consolidate and on the 31st of December. The gratification strengthen the great Democratic party, and thus prepare the way for a glorious triumph of our principles and our candidates in October and November next.

the Co

The elections of 1860-we mean the General and Presidential elections-will be among the most important that have ever taken place in this Commonwealth; for it seems to be admitted, on all hands, that as Pennsylvania goes so goes the Union. This being conceded, it will also be admitted that the result of the October election will have a decisive bearing on the Presidential struggle which immediately succeeds it. How all important, then, is it that the party should make a fair start-that the ground-work of a noble and determined effort in behalf of the Union and Constitution should be initiated-and that harmony and concert of action should characterize all our movements. Let our friends throughout the different counties commence right-let them move forward in one solid, compact mass, forcetting past differences, and our noble old Commonwealth will remain, as heretofore, the Keystone of the Federal Arch.

The political struggle of 1860 will be a terrific one in Pennsylvania ; but there can be no danger of the result if the Democracy, casting aside past differences respecting dead issues and hair-splitting abstractions, move forward in one solid phalanx against the common enemy. In union there is strength, and the Democracy of our noble old Commonwealth never have been, and never will be defeated, unless through discord and distraction in their ranks. Let our friends in Lancaster county think of these things, and then act accordingly.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature met at Harrisburg, or Tuesday last, and were promptly organized by the election of the following officers, viz :

In the Senate, WILLIAM M. FRANCIS, of Venango, was elected Speaker : Russel Err-ET. Clerk; C. P. RAMSDELL, Assistant Clerk; GEO. W. PATTON, E. COWAN and JOHN C. LEWIS, Transcribing Clerks; GEO. M. HILL. Sergeant-at Arms; PETER S. MARTZ, Door Keeper.

In the House, W. C. D. LAWRENCE. of Dauphin, was re-elected Speaker: E. H. RAUCH, of Lehigh, Clerk ; JOHN HALL, Assistant Clerk ; JOHN PICKING, S. C. SLAYMAKER, LUCIUS ROGERS, M. WEYAND, Transcribing Clerks; JOSEPH R. MATHEWS, Sergeant-at-Arms; J. C. MORGAN, Door Keeper. neonle.

The above, as well as all the minor officers of both branches, are Republicans. That party will: have every thing their own way the present session, and of course will be responsible for all the legislation of the winter. We shall keep our readers advised of

THE STH OF JANUARY .--- The 8th this year lling on Sunday, yesterday was celebrated in this city by a parade of the military. The Fencibles paraded for th st time in their new, neat and becoming overcoats, and the Jackson Rifles with their new long range rifles. Salute in honor of the day were fired by both companies in differ Buchanan in his letter of acceptance, denving ent parts of the city. The correct bearing and military precision of the Rifles under arms were alike the theme of civilian and soldier. Sunday was the forty fifth anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans.

After the parade was over, the Rifles, at the invitation of their gallant commander, Capt. HAMBRIGHT, marched to Franke's Saloon, North Prince street, where they were nost sumptuously entertained.

GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENTS .---- Among the appointments to be made by the Governor this winter, the principal are, State Librarian, Superintendent of Common Schools, and Renorter of Decisions of the Supreme Court .---The present venerable Librarian, Rev. Dr. De Witt, who has made a faithful officer, will doubtless be re nominated. For School Superintendent, II. L. Dieffenbach, Esq., the present Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth is named. He was Deputy Secretary under Gov. Bigler, when the State and School Departments were one, and had charge of the latter during that administration-performing its duties in an able and faithful manner.-For Reporter to the Supreme Court, Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., of Bellefonte, is mentioned .--These nominations are made to the Senate and require the confirmation of that body.

THE LAST BALLOT FOR SPEAKER. WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 .- On the twentyeight ballot for Speaker, taken in the house to day, all the Democratic members voted for Hon. Andrew J. Hamilton, of Texas, with the exception of Messrs. Adrain, of New Jersey, and Horace F. Clark, of New York. Sixteen of the South Americans threw away their votes. If all the votes in opposi-tion to the Republican candidate had been polled for Mr Hamilton, (who was nominated as a conservative candidate.) he would have n elected by two majority.

VETO MESS AGES.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6, 1860. A large batch of veto messages, from the Governor, of bills passed at the close of the last session, were read in the House, and sustained by the votes of that body. Thev were, generally, special acts of incorporation. and other special matters coming within the general laws or the power of the operation (courts. These veto messages illustrate the hasty and careless nature of legislation towards the close of the session, and show the necessity for a rigid scrutiny of the provisions of all acts passed by the Legislature. The fact that a bill receives the approval of both Houses is no guarantee that it is not highly arguments objectionable. Had the same been brought to the attention of the Legislature that are now presented by the Governor the presumption is, that they could not have

Governor Packer's course in applying the veto promptly to these exceptionable acts is worthy of commendation.

Ferritories, and to prohibit the establishment of slavery therein. The Governor of New York is a Republican, and he preaches Republican doctrine-the right of Congress to "legislate for the Territories, and to prohibit the establishment of slavery therein," whether the people desire Ťhe it or not. The Democratic doctrine is the opposite of this. We contend that Congress has no right to legislate on the subject, but ton Convention. that the people of the Territories are to judge for themselves whether they will or will not have slavery among them.
