St. Louis, March 5, 1860. Weather spring-like and very pleasant. Rivers all in good navigable condition, and receipts of produce very heavy. Business quite brisk.

The Levee begins to assume its wonted appearance, and for miles is covered with produce, groceries, merchandise, lumber, iron, &c., giving a foretaste of the active business that is to be done when all the rivers become navigable effect speedily.

New Jersey in 1800. The reported loss of 49 children, mentioned in our letter a few weeks since, turns out to be a hoax. There was not a word of truth in the whole story. .A Bill has passed the Senate of Tennessee, providing for the removal of the remains of Gen. Andrew Jackson, and those of his wife, to Nashville, Tenn., and their interment in the Capitol Square, and for the erection of a

The Black Republican State Convention of Minnesot has elected delegates to the Chicigo Convention, and instructed them to vote for William H. Seward, of New York. The Wisconsin delogates are instructed for Seward. Michigan has also instructed her delegates for the great New York Abolitionist. New York will be a unit for him and we see no good reason why Seward will not receive the Chicago nomination. Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin Michigan and New York are for him certain-making 54 votes already. There will not be more than 218 votes in the Convention out of the 303. Thus it will be seen he has already the one quarter. Illinois will go for Seward, if the Seward men will vote for either Lincoln or Trumbul for Vice President, of which there is scarcely a doubt, and Indiana will follow Illinois-making 24 votes added to the 54 already instructed-78 votes. It is more than likely that Maine, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, California and Oregon will vote for Seward, New Jersey, California and Oregon will vote for seward, which will nominate him on a two thirds vote. The vote of "free love" principles.

It is with them, Bates or no one. They will never pledge themselves to abide the decision of the Chicago Convention.

The Cleveland Plaindealer truly says: "It is a debatable question to which wing of the opposition the Bates delegates from Missouri will join themselves. If they go with the Black Republicans at Chicago, their candidate will stand no sight at Baltimore. If they go to Baltimore

"Under which King, Bezonian?" We have not the least doubt but that the Bates men of his State will send a delegation to both Conventions-Chicago and Baltimore; and indeed it may be one to the ston Convention, also. Thus far, Mr. Bates has not got a single State instructed for him. His friends certainly expected Pennsylvania and Indiana, but both have gone against him, and the New York Courier & Enquirer the "Bates movement" the death-blow. We have heard yery little of Edward Bates' chances lately, and all you do hear, is flatly proclaimed that if he is not the candidate, his friends will not support the nominee. Some men professing even to be Black Republicans, reiterate the same song. The Bates movement has completely died out here, and the impression prevails that Seward and Lincoln will be the candidates. Blair has been dropped for his endorsement of the infamous Helper Book; besides, he could bring no influence or strength to the party, were he on the ticket, but on the other hand, would be a great detriment, and possibly be the cause of an overwhelming defeat! We can therefore safely say that Bates and Blair have "gone under."

The Democratic State Convention of Iowa was one of the largest assemblages ever held in the State. The delegates are instructed for Judge Douglas. The changing of the time for holding the Black Republi.

They see it know it and l it, and if they elect their man, the Bates men, and very properly too, think they will get no offices-for we di not know a man now advocating the claims of Mr. Bates, but who is an office seeker—not one. thereto:

"A piece exhibited in this borough during Court week, was pronounced by all the iron men who examined it, a very superior article. Since then it has been tried at the foundries of Maj. M'Nutt in New Bethlehem, and Brown Wann in Brookville. They both speak highly of its excellent qualities purposes. Maj. M'Nutt gives it the preference over the very best charcoal iron now used by him, and says that he never but once used its superior at his foundry. Mr. Kerr sent a small lot to Pittsburg to be tested.'

1860.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL. In his chamber a bachelor sat, and he read In his Bible, with pleasure and pride.

How the Lord, in His goodness, made Adam a wife
Of a rib which He took from his side: And he said to himself, "I am sad and forlorn, From the world I am living apart; Would that one of my ribs could be changed to a wife, And the one that is nearest my heart." With this thought in his mind, to his pillow he went,
And, while calmly he lay on his bed,
He beheld a fair angel, whose hands in their class te beheld a fair angel, whose hands in their clasp Held a knife and a saw o'er his head;

And the angel remarked, in no angelic tones,
While she brandish'd the saw and the knife,
"I shall cut out a rib from your side, sir, to-night,
And of it I shall make you a wife."

So, without saying more, on her purpose intent, She proceeded, at once, with her work; And when cutting and sawing were skilfally done, Then she snatched out the rib with a jerk. Then she snatched out the rio with delight.
On the angel the bactelor gazed with delight.
For the rib that she held in her hand.
Had been suddenly changed to a lady in white,
Who remarked, "I am yours to command." I am one of your ribs! of yourself I'm a part!
I shall love you and bless you for life!
You will ever remember with pleasure the night
When you bartered a rib for a wife!" With his wife in his arms; with his lips to her cheek, He awoke, and his dreaming was o'er:— He'd been hugging and kis-log the bed-post, alas? And had slipped from its waist to the floor.

When he rose to his feet he looked wildly around,
At the bed and the corners did stare;
Then he felt of his side, and he counted his ribs, And the whole, proper number were the But a deep seated pain had got hold of his heart, Which he felt he could never endure, And he thought that the widow right over the way, He would bind to his heart as a cure. For the dawn he but waited, then over he went To the widow, who jokingly said:
"What on earth made you think to get up with the sun?
What could put such a thing in your head?"

"It is not," he replied, "anything in my head,
But 'tis something I have in my heart;"
And he questioned the widow, "Oh! till you be mine!"
And her lips with a "yes" came apart. Then he told her his dream, and the widow remarked:

"I am sorry you met with a fall;
But no matter, my love, you are now wide awake,
And must go to the famed Tower Hall,

And there purchase a sult to-be married in, dear;
It is very important I deem.
That the knot should be tied ere the set of the sun,
Or your love may all end in a dream." So he purchased the suit, and, genteelly arrayed,
To the altar the widow he led;
And a dar, blessed baby now sleeps in a crib
Ev'ry night by the side of his bed:

And that sweet, little cherub the charming effect Of a bach-lor's dream, as a cause. Keeps the spirits away who for bachelors hunt, With their surgical knives and their saws. Ayers Sarsaparilla
A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective amplicots for the disease. Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been recompound with the recompound will be a service to the rec afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCHOPULA AND SCHOPULOUS COMPLAINTS. ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISPASES, ULCRES, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AP-FECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-BALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERTSIPHIAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity 1 THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great memoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the time-ly expulsion of them many rankling disorders are mipped in the bad. Multitudes can by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it structed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But Sarsaparina has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla,

During late years the public have been mis-led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for of these nave even trauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsapa-rilla, but often no curative properties whatev-er. Hence, bitter and-painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the sansaparina which nood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on
