RESOLUTION OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE EXE-CUTIVE COMMITTEE.

CUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Profoundly impressed with the importance of prompt, rigorous and patriotic action on the part of the Democratic State Committee, in order to avert, if possible, the consequences which must inevitably result from the unbappy division now existing in the ranks of the Democracy in our State and ustion, we cordially and honestly recommend to the Democracy of the State that they unite with heart and voice in the support of our excellent and competent numines for Governor, Henry D. Foster, and that in all the conductive they extra some party. Occiving and forcest and volce in the support of our excellent and completely nomlines for Governor, Henry D. Foster, and that in all the local elections they act as one party, forgiving and forgetting any differences that they may have entertained for the Presidency; but with a view to a perfect unity against the common enemy, we recommend to the D-morracy of Pennsylvania to unite their voles for President on the electoral ticket formed at Reading on the 1st day of March, 1860, on the following basis and understanding, viz: That if said electoral ticket should be olected by the people, and it should appear, on ascertaining the result in the other States of the Union, that by casting the entire vote of Pennsylvania for Stephen A. Donglas and Herschel V. Johnson, it would elect them President and Vice Fresident over Messrs. Lincoln and Hamlin, then said electors shall be under obligation so to cast said vote; if on the other hand it should appear that said vote would not elect Messrs. Douglas and Johnson, but would elect John C. Breckinridge and Joseph Lane President and Vice President over Messrs. Lincoln and Hamlin, then said vote shall be cast for them; and in case the united vote of Pennsylvania would not elect either of these tickets, then the electors may divide it between them according to their own judgment of what would be the best for the country and the Democratte, party—the basis of this united action being that it is the first and highest duty of all Democrate, own judgment of what would be the best for the country and the Bemcratic party—the basis of this united action being that it is the first and highest duty of all Democrats, however they may differ about men and minor points of principle or policy, to unite against a common seemy, and to avert, if possible, the greatest calamity that could befall the country, the election of a Black Republican President; and further, the Chairman of this Committee is hereby authorized to correspond with the several Electors in the State, and obtain from each of said Electors his written pledge, within thirty days from this date, that he will faithfully carry out the object of this resolution.

GEN. HENRY D. FOSTER The triumphant election of this gentleman to the Gubernatorial chair of the Commonwealth is, we think, a foregone conclusion .-We have never known a nomination more heartily and zealously endorsed by the press and people of Pennsylvania. Whatever differences of opinion may exist amongst our Democratic friends in reference to the Presidency, there is not a single voice raised against will receive not only the united support of the Democracy, but, in addition, will get thousands of votes of the patriotic and Unionloving citizens identified with other party organizations. Elections were held yesterday in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Missouri and Texas. In Missouri there are four State tickets in the field; in the other States there

LET IT BE REMEMBERED : That Hannibal Hamlin, the Republican candidate for Vice President, voted against the admission of Oregon, with its free constitution, into the Union; while hypocritically professing to be opposed only to the admission of Slave States.

WHO HAS CHANGED GROUND! It is alleged that Mr. Bucuanan and the Southern Democracy have changed ground on the slavery question since his election to the 4th of March, 1857, previous to taking the oath of office, in his inaugural address he said, speaking of the right of the people of a Territory to regulate their domestic affairs in their own way-" A different opinion has [of slavery] for themselves. This is happily the first chapter of Abolition economy and a matter of but little practical importance; reform: besides, it is a judicial question, which legitimately belongs to the Supreme Court of the United States, before whom it is now pending, and will, it is understood, be speedily and finally settled. [This was done a few days after previously selling it to Messrs. Larcomb thereafter in the Dred Scott decision.] To their decision, in common with all good citizens, I shall cheerfully submit, whatever that may be, though it has ever been my individual | Heart, Superintendent of Public Printing, not opinion that, under the Kansas Nebraska act, to pay over a dollar to Ford or his seco the appropriate period will be when the number of actual residents in the Territory shall justify the formation of a Constitution, with a have rich backers in the speculation; for view to its admission as a State into the Union." This was the doctrine held and promulgated by Mr. Buchanan when he assumed the duties of the Presidency, and his Inaugural Address gave universal satisfaction, not only to the Democrats, but to the conservative portion of the American people outside of the Democratic organization. The same doctrine was shortly after enunciated by the Supreme to be printed especially as a Republican party Court in their decision of the Dred Scott case. Everybody, except a few rampant Abolitionists, was satisfied with the position taken by delivery to the House binders; but not a sheet the Executive and Judiciary, and not a dis- will Larcomb & English permit to go out of senting voice was heard in the Democratic their possession until the Court decides party for nine months thereafter, and until party for nine months thereafter, and until is the valid one. The legal question will be the Annual Message was transmitted to Conin abeyance quite long enough, we apprehend, gress in December following. Then it was, to entirely defeat the partizan purpose and not till then, that the first symptom of Republican majority of the House in ordering dissent to the doctrine of the President and the printing of the immense edition of the the Supreme Court assumed the form of open rebellion in the Senate of the United States, and from that day to this the country has been torn and distracted by a question which "a matter of but little practical importance."

misconceive his position, is precisely the same now that it was on the day of his inauguration-nothing more, nothing less. He was then in favor of the people of a Territory, when they come to form a Constitution preparatory to asking for admission as a Stateand not before-to decide whether they will or will not have slavery. He is in favor of the same thing now, and nothing more. The Supreme Court have decided the question in the same way, and have farther decided that the people of a Territory, so long as it remains in that condition, are entitled to the protection of the General Government in their persons and property, whether hailing from the North or the South.

From the above, then, it is evident that Mr. Buchanan and the Southern Democracy have not changed their ground, whatever others may have done, since his administration commenced. They stand now, as they did then, on the broad platform of the Constitution as expounded by the Supreme Court, and time will show that their position is impregnable, and no successful effort can be made to drive them from it.

The honest friends of BRECKINRIDGE and Douglas not only desire the defeat of Lincoln, General Foster and a majority of the Democratic Congressmen, State Legislators, and County Officers-all of whom can be carried with union in the party on the same electoral lose everything-President, Governor, Congressmen and all. This union, we think, can be accomplished. The masses are for it, and efforts of HALDEMAN and his disorganizing

PUBLIC PRINTING. A-great deal of money was spent by In vestigating Committees, last winter, in their efforts to ferret out what they pleased to term Presidency. Let us see how this is. On the corruption in the printing department, and enormous frauds in contracts, all of which were predicated on the fact that contracts with the government were afterwards subdivided between partizans and friends. A new rule was adopted by Congress and an "honest arisen in regard to the point of time when the pious, trustworthy" man, named Tom Ford, people of a Territory shall decide the question of Ohio, was chosen to do the work. Here is

THE COVODE COMMITTEE REPORT-SCHEME OF THE POLITICIANS DEFEATED .- It is under stood, says the Washington Star, that Mr Ford, the House Printer, has virtually sold his contract with the House to Mr. Pangborn, & English, who have executed the work for Mr. Ford up to this time. The public know that Larcomb & English deny Ford's right to make the second sale, and have enjoin assignee. Mr. Heart will respect the writ of injunction. So if Mr. Pangborn essays to execute the work remaining to be done, he must while it will require a heavy capital, the chances are ten to one that the Circuit Court will decide in favor of Larcomb & English's claims to the sub contract: covering of course the right to execute whatever portion of the work Pangborn may do. In the meanwhile, Larcomb & English have possession of a large quantity of executed House printing, embrac-ing 30,000 copies of the voluminous report of the Covode Committee ordered by the House electioneering document for the current Presi-dential campaign. That large batch of documents, as well as others, are now ready for whether their sub-contract or that of Pangborn expensive work, the cost of which they saddled upon the National Treasury. We apprehend that there are not a few others in the District of Columbia besides Larcomb & English, and Defrees, who having claims growing out of the House printing of this Congress, are not a the President very justly observed was a little pervous over the condition in which i now stands. HENRY D. FOSTER.

We are truly pleased to see the good feeling which prevails among the Democracy of the State. of all shades and stripes, in relation to General Foster, the Democratic nominee for Governor. All are disposed to accept and cordially support him, as he was unanimously presented by the Reading Convention, and the signs of the times plainly indicate that he will be the next Governor. Of all the Breckinridge and Douglas papers in the State, the Philadelphia Press is the only one that mani fests open hostility; and opposition from such a source will, among all honest men of every party, benefit rather than injure Gen. Foster The Pittsburg Post, on this subject says:

"Mr Foster will get every Democratic voto in Pennsylvania. His eminent talents, his private worth, the many services which he has rendered to the people of his native State, and his large acquaintance with the people, have insured him a personal popularity nothing can resist. > The Harrisburg Sentinel calls Hickman a "double dyed traitor." Just so. When he opposed the administration of Mr. Buchanan, and pretended to be a friend of Mr. Douglas, two years ago already, we pronounce ed him a traitor to the first and a hypocrite to the second, but the Sentinel patted him on the back as a good Democrat. Now he appears in his true colors, and the Sentinel acknowledges his treason then and his treason now by terming him double dyed. For The Intelligencer. NON-INTERVENTION

The advocates of Mr. Douglas allege that he adheres to the Democratic principle of Congressional non-intervention in the question of slavery in the Territories, as set forth in the Cincinnati platform, whilst Mr. Breckinkings has abandoned the principle and is opposing it. This is not correct, and is a deceptive representation of the Issue between these distinguished statemen. Mr. Breckin-RIDGE, as I understand it, and as he avows it himself in RIDG, as I understand it, and as he avows it minism in his letter accepting the nomina ion, adheres to Congres-sional non intervention—to the true policy of leaving the settlement of the slavery question to the people of the Territories. He stands, on that question, precisely where he did four years ago when a candidate for Vice President. The issue between him and Mr. Dorotas is not on that and its all; but upon what is allered to be a new position of the latter, taken since 1850 that a Territorial Legislature may abolish slavery, notwithstanding the decision of the Sup eme Court that the Constitution prohibits such an exercise of power. The real issue, therefore, is whether the Constitution shall be respected and obeyed; whether the decisions of the Suprema Court shall fore, is whether the Constitution shall be respected and obeyed; whether the decisions of the Suprema Court shall be regarded; whether Southern men shall be stripped of a Constitutional right, in deflance of the Constitution of our common country, as solemnly expounded by that tribunal which the Constitution itself established, as its own interpreter.

Nany well meaning Democrats have been deceived by country. MIT. DEFORMEDGE is in favor of placing Southern men in an equal position with Northern men, so far as the rights guarantied by the Constitution are concerned—nothing more, nothing less, and this is the true issue between the two candidates. Non intervention by Congress and the Territorial Legislature with the rights of property, is the position taken by Mr. BEZCKINEDGE. The position of Mr. DUDGLAS is against Congressional, but in favor of A NON-INTERVENTIONIST

Dear Sir: I am much gratified to see the position you have taken in the Standard of the 18th inst. I have myself uniformly advised our political friends, without regard to their individual preferences, to sustain the Democratic electoral ticket already in the field. Any other course, by dividing our strength, might defeat the object which every Democrat has at heart. No one acquainted with our electors can doubt but that if elected they will do whatever intelligence and patriotism may indicate as best calculated to advance the interest of the Democratic party, and promote the welfare of the country.—From all I have seen since I came into the State, we shall have a decisive victors in the surface of the State, we shall have a decisive victors in the surface of the speakers to defray their expenses in the surface of the speakers to defray their expenses in the surface of the speakers to defray their expenses in the surface of the speakers to defray their expenses.

WILLIAM W. HOLDEN, Esq. THE TRACK OF THE METEOR.

The track of the great meteor of the 20th of July is being gradually traced out. Detroit, Michigan, was the farthest point West at which it was first noticed, according to the Cambridge astronomers. It, however, ap-Cambridge astronomers. It, however, appeared still farther West, as we learn from a correspondent of the Albany Journal of the 2d inst., writing from Sycamore, DeKalb county, Illinois, who describes it as "a shoot ing star, crossing about one half of the southern sky, from west to east, moving slowly, and leaving a large track, like a comet." Sycamore is within a hundred miles of the Mississippi river, and no doubt further information from the West will prove that this fiery traveler in the firmament first struck the earth's orbit on or near the Pacific ocean. Its flight, says the Journal of Commerce, has already been traced 300 miles eastward on the Atlantic Ocean, and ships yet to come in already been traced 300 miles eastward on the Atlantic Ocean, and ships yet to come in will probably give us further accounts of its course. We see no reason to doubt the truth of the theory published in this journal on the 23d, that this meteor was a fragment of a broken planet, or an accumulation of nebulous matter circulating around the sun and ignited by the friction of our atmosphere. Judged by the above facts, and also by the opinion of astronomers, that the least diameter of the meteor was not less than half a mile, there is reason to believe that its velocity was not overcome by the gravitation of the earth, and that it still nursuing its course around the sun and ignited that it still nursuing its course around the suns of the broken by the decidence of the care of the suns of the suns of the care, and the way they often burst in the suns of good sense as a smart trifler, selfath or dishonst. THE BRILLIANT METEOR!--A SEMI-ANNUAL COMET: ANNUAL COMET:

It is well known that the upper region of the atmosphere of our earth is of the positive electric state. It is a fountain of Force, and it impels the air in axial rotation, with greater velocity than that of the earth's surface, and a urylog wind is from west to east in 'the direction of the earth's motion. The splendid Meteor, which I believe to be a "Semi-Annual Camet," that passed from west to east, on the evening of the 20th of July, produced an agitation of the wind, that has continued to blow from north-west to south-east, and changed the equilibrium of temperature, and forced the electric currents in undulating waves upon the atmosphere of the earth, producing Tornadoes in its skimming flight from west to east. It is not possible that it was an off-spring of earth, though of the translent form; it had the wonderful sublimity of the estrenal fabric of the heavens, to transfer force from where it superabounds to another field of action where it is required. It is a great body of electricity, replent-shing the earth with its emissions and surcharging the vast electric currents that beltine earth.

Our Slave question may yet make us as crazy as the Crusade question did the Europeans. We have too many Br wus, Smiths, Phillips' and E. H. I know that my young friend only bawks with the party, but he hollows too loud for his helf; he had better think more and say less, or Micah vil, 3.4, will be applicable: Thus doing "Evil with both hands exmestly, they untered their mischievous desire and so they wrapped it up, for the best of them was a brier, and the most upright was sharper than a thorn hedge." earnestly, they are the best of them was a brier, and the most upright was sharper than a thorn hedge."
