THE WORK COMMENCED.

According to promise we have com mence razeeing our list, and striking off the names of those longest indebted for subscription to THE INTELLIGENCER. We intend to continue the same course of procedure from week to week, until we have made our packet book, what it ought long since to have been, a list of paying subscribers. Those persons, whose names have been erased, will have three months time in which to pay up their arrearages without costs: after which their accounts will be placed in the hands of a proper officer for collection.

So soon as we can collect in a few hundred dollars, of as many thousands owing to us, it is our intention to enlarge and otherwise improve the appearance of The Intelli-GENCER.

ACTION OF THE CO. COMMITTEE. There was an unusually full meeting of the Democratic County Committee on Saturdaythirty seven members being in attendance .-It will be seen that, following the precedents of 1849, 1851, and partially in 1853, the Com. mittee, by a nearly unanimous vote, decided that it was inexpedient to convene a County Convention for the purpose of settling a County ticket. This course was resolved upon after mature deliberation and reflection, as being the best one to pursue under all the circumstances, and we hope it will meet with the hearty concurrence of the party generally throughout the county. We feel satisfied it will enure to the benefit of Gen. FOSTER, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and this, of itself, is a point gained of no small moment to the party.

We suppose there will be an independent ticket brought into the field, at least we hear that such a measure is in contemplation. If so, our friends can then have a choice-we mean those of them who prefer voting a county ticket in addition to the State ticket.

The proceedings of the County Committee will be found at length below:

The Committee adjourned until 12 o'clock, P. M. Upon the re-assembling of the Committee, they led to the election of permanent officers for the ensuing political year. Mr. S. F. THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. The Black Republican County Convention, which met in this City on Wednesday last. only concluded their labors on Thursday evening. The excitement during the two days of the Convention, and for a day or two previous to its assembling, was intense, and the anxiety manifested by the scores of can. didates for nomination was really painful to witness. But when the slaughter house operations began, and head after head of worthy and deserving men fell beneath the axe of the executioners, the anxiety broke forth in curses both loud and deep against the perpetrators of the outrage. Several of the candidates, who did not desire to come under the political guillotine, withdrew their names from the Convention before the ballotings were concluded, and thus saved themselves the deep mortification they would have felt had they continued as candidates before such a body to the bitter end.

The ticket, which we publish below, is far Republican party, and the candidates, with speech making, after reading the subjoined three or four exceptions, in point of ability to address delivered at a Mass Meeting of Black fill the stations assigned them creditably to Republicans, held at Springfield, Illinois, on themselves and the County, are below me | the 8th inst. WON'T STICK! Gen. ROUMFORT'S State Committee, it is said, struck from the ticket the name of Gen. GEORGE M. KEIM, as elector at large, and substituted that of Hon. THE ROUMFORT COMMITTEE. It will be recollected that the Forney-Haldeman Convention which met in Harrisburg on the 26th of July, appointed an Executive Committee of sixty seven gentlemen. with Gen. Roumfort as Chairman, whose instructions were (as expressed in the resolution) to "address the Democracy of Pennsylvania, correspond with the regular organizations in the several counties, distribute correct information, and guard the vital interests of the Party." This Committee-or rather, some twentyfive of the sixty seven gentlemen composing it-met in a back room at Buehler's Hotel. high handed and unauthorized step of mutilating the Reading electoral ticket by striking refused to pledge themselves against the compromise adopted by the Democratic State Committee, at Cresson. Not only was this act unauthorized by the honest supporters of Mr. Douglas in Pennsylvania, but it was in express violation of the programme marked out by their Convention of the 26th ult., as the above extract from their resolution will show. It was done without the shadow of authority from any quarter, and can be considered in no other light than an act of reckless disorganization, perpetrated by a handful of men convened in a private room, where the reporter for Forney's Press, who, as the special organ of disorganization, was permitted to prepare so much of the proceedings as the managers wished to see the light of day.

The gross inconsistency of these men will they have been in their protestations against the power of the regular State Committee to mutilate the Reading ticket, assuming that nothing less than a State Convention could exercise such power. Then why did they not call such a Convention of the friends of Mr. Douglas? They were afraid to risk such a procedure, as they well knew that a very large majority of the supporters of that distinguished statesman are in favor of the Cresson compromise, as affording the only rational means by which the vote of the State can be saved to the Demograts. We shall be much mistaken, indeed, if the Democracy of Pennthese twenty five men assuming to undo what

We give the speech as whether one-half the candidates could be elected against a good ticket opposed to them.

We leave that of for this gallery of the property of the purpose of addressing you, and let me be silent." [Immense applause.]

We learn that, after this able and eloquent effort, Mr. Lincoln retired from the ground amidst the wildest enthusiasm, being "seized upon and carried hither and thither by the immense crowd of his worshippers!" We do not wonder at this, however, when we consider that he made his appearance for the pur pose of seeing them, and enabling them to see him; and also for the additional valuable information that, four years' hence, they will call to see the "next man!" But especially was Old Abe grateful for that manifestation of their feelings, because it was "a tribute which can be paid to no man!" We confess our inability to understand this last expression in any other way than that he does not consider himself a human biped ; but whether angel or demon he has not condescended to inform the public. May we not hope that he will be a little more explicit the next time he addresses his fellow-citizens, and let his folthe Republicans with the ticket formed by lowers and all outside barbarians know what their County Convention, than ever we have kind of a being this new idol of Black Repubknown before, and we should not be surprised | licanism is—whether he is made up of flesh if it resulted in some open demonstration and blood as other mortals are, or whether a against the whole concern. NEW YORK. We are not without hope that the opponents of Lincoln and Republicanism in New York will yet present a solid front before the Presidential election, and wrest that State from the common enemy. The Douglas State Convention, which held its session on Thurs heads, is another question, and one which a day last, passed resolutions inviting the cofew days will probably solve. We shall see operation of all conservative men, and for this purpose empowered the State Committee to fill any vacancies that may occur in the electoral ticket, and to take measures, if proper and necessary, "to give united expression and effect to the national conservative sentiment of the State." A combination with the Union party was effected on the spot by placing a number of their men among the list of electors. It is evident that the power. of filling vacancies in the electoral ticket was conferred upon the State Committee with the view of perfecting an arrangement with the friends of Breckinridge; which we trust that the latter will lose no time in accomplishing. This would certainly prevent Lincoln from carrying the State of New York. In addition to the above, it may be well to state that the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, the leading Breckinridge paper in that State, paper, both counsel union and co-operation.

"We are sincerely in favor of such a union of all the patriotic, conservative elements of this State as will withhold its preponderating influence from being cast on the tionalism and perhaps proving fatal to the repose and integrity of the Union. We support Douglas as the nominee of the National Convention and the exponent of its principles of Non-Intervention; but we also have confidence in the patriotism, conservatism and devotion to the Constitution of Breckinridge and Bell, and would vastly prefer and aid the election of either in preference to the triumph of Lincoln and Black Republicanism. Hence while our first wish is to see the thirty-five seal? Mr. Herschel V. Johnson, who a fee American end of the Atlantic cable, says the votes of New York cast for Douglas, if they were in our hand, we would not hesitate a moment to cast them for either Breckinridge or Bell, if the election of Lincoln could only pieces of cable, in all amounting to about thus be defeated. We believe that such is the feeling of the conservative men of this State-of the great mass of the friends of were made at different points, but all were Douglas, Breckinridge and Bell-and that unsuccessful, the rope in almost every instance | their first wish is to make sure of the defeat

THE WIDE AWAKES

The Know Nothing proclivities of the Republican party will stick out, says the Pittsburg Post. The latest exhibition of it is in the new order of Wide Awakes. We have had two or three after dark exhibitions of the new order in our own city, and we see accounts of them in most of the large cities of the North. So far as we have been able to observe their motions, their principal business seems to be to carry torches, march about in the dark and yell for Lincoln and Hamlin. The Journal of this city spoke of them the other day as a sort of military organization, who will be ready to form a sort on Wednesday last, and proceeded to take the of body guard for the Republican President, when he shall come to approach the White House, and the Southerners begin to kick up therefrom the names of the electors who their heels. We do not think the Wide Awakes about here will ever do much towards preventing a dissolution of the Union. Many of them, if we may judge from their appearance, will not be able to vote unless they "begin at 19," as a couple of prominent politicians in the Republican ranks in this city make their boast of having done.

The Wide Awakes about here consist principally of capes, a small cap, a broom handle with a tin lamp tied to one end, and a youthful aspirant to citizenship at the other. They spend their evenings in drilling, and learning to carry their torches perpendicular, they were shut out from observation and when their bodies ought to be horizontal. criticism-all reporters being excluded except | They give their parents great uneasiness by staying out late at night. We waited up one night to see the Wide Awakes, and we saw them. About one hundred and fifty men gathered together of all sorts and sizes. They walked up and be apparent, when it is recollected how loud down the streets flourishing their torches most valiantly, and looked very military in their dollar and a half uniforms.

One thing is certain, the coal oil establishments ought to return a vote of thanks to the Wide Awakes, for they have opened a new market for the "ile." Their drilling acquirements are not equal to the Chicago Zouaves, and the Wide Awakes can't stand this weather. If they are to do the voting, and afterwards put Mr. Lincoln safely in the White House, it will be done with very little "bone and sinew."

But, seriously, these kind of organizations are useless, and worse than useless. What is evivania will not scout at the farcical idea of the object of young men in their minority forming clubs for a political campaign, as if the regular Democratic State Convention did | they were already voters? The tendency of on the first of March last, at the City of the movement is neither favorable to morals, Reading. We do not for a moment believe nor to a peaceful election. Every effort to that the honest friends of Judge Douglas will draw out legal voters should be encouraged, consent to be transferred to Lincoln by any | but we are at a loss to see how the coal oil torches of the Wide Awakes can throw any light upon the great political questions of the day, or enable young men to form intelligent opinions in regard to politics.

The excitements of a political campaign are not merely those of feeling. Many of them are by no means favorable to the moral training of the young. Full grown men will not parade the streets with torches, and black capes, and night-caps. The youth will do it from the love of excitement. There is something in these things that is especially inviting and captivating to the mind of active youth. It gives them a precocious consequence that is gratifying to their vanity.

We have heard parents allude to the Wide Awakes, as an institution of dangerous tendency, which required all their example and authority to counteract. We think they are right. It is bad to add the turbulence of unripe age to the other excitements of a political campaign. If clubs, like the Wide Awakes, are to be drilled to influence our elections, tumult and disorder will increase, instead of peaceful assemblages for the performance of duties in a quiet and proper manner. Let the light of common sense and sober judgment decide the political questions of the day, and not the glare of coal oil torches, carried by young men in baby imitation of martial array.

IN FAVOR OF UNION.

The Chambersburg Valley Spirit, an able and spirited advocate of Judge Douglas, and which strenuously opposed the action of the State Executive Committee of the 2d of July, has thought better of the proposed arrangement and is now warmly advocating the plan adopted by the Committee at their late meet ing at Cresson. In addition to an elaborate and able article endorsing the compromise, the last number of that paper has the following truthful and significant allusion to the gentleman who assumes the leadership of the Douglas forces in Pennsylvania, and to the bogus Committee which met at Harrisburg on Wednesday last.

A SNAKE IN THE GRASS .- Forney's Press in opposing, with all the subtlety for which it is noted, the union of the entire Democratic party of the State on the Electoral ticket formed by the Reading Convention. a degree presumptuous on the part of Mr. to step back into the Democratic party, uninvited, and attempt to control its It is becoming more and more apparent every day that the Press is secretly vorking for the overthrow of the Democratic party in this State. The signs of the times clearly indicate that the period is not very remote when Forney will follow in the footsteps of his illustrious leader, HICKMAN, and land openly and above board in the Black Republican ranks. It will be a lucky day for the Democracy when they get rid of and his treasonable scheming. While he professes to support Judge Douglas he is straining every sinew to circumvent him, and hopes the party will be "gratified" with a "clean victory or a clean defeat," he is not at all particular which it may be. In order. however, to make sure of a "clean defeat" for the party, he publishes a call in the Press for a meeting, at Harrisburg, on the 15th inst., to get up an electoral ticket in opposition to the regular ticket formed by the Reading Convention. If he secures the attendance of a baker's dozen of Democrats, other than of his own kidney, at the bogus meeting, called for the 15th, we will have a poorer opinion of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania than we ever expected to enter-

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN. Since our last issue we have seen the death of Mr. THOMAS REYNOLDS, of Danville, (which occurred on Wednesday, the 8th inst.,) announced in several of our exchanges. The ball given by the Union at Fulton Hall on the evening of the day of the parade proved one of the most brilliant and best conducted parties which has taken place in this city for a long while. The room was conveniently full the company having wisely determined to issue ticket to their immediate friends and acquaintances only, and thus prevent that unpleasantness characteristic of promiscu each bright eye that shone on the occasion, or each fair say, however, that the Union numbers among its lady friends some of the fairest daughters of Laucaster, and as one of the speakers remarked, they were for the Union to a man. The grand Festival came off on Wednesday night, acc ing to previous announcement, at Fulton Hall. At 8 o'clock the Company marched to the depot and received delegation from the Diligent Engine Company of Philade They were escorted to Shenk's Exchange Hotel East King street. At 91/2 o'clock the members of the Con pany and invited guests, together with the Fencibles Band, arrived at Fulton Hall, and immediately took seat notice of this part of the festival. The supper was pr uel Shober, the esteemed landlady of the Eagle Hotel North Queen street, and was one of the most complete i every respect that we ever saw or partook of. The table fairly groaned under the weight of "good things," both o a solid and liquid nature. The reputation of the host and hostess of the Eagle Hotel for giving the fluest entersinments was most effectually kept up on this occasion. Henry E. Slaymaker, President of the Union, presided and he did the honors with credit to himself and the Con pany. Among the invited guests present we notice Mayor Sanderson, Mr. Wm. F. Shuler, President of th Brown, formerly, for many years, Secretary of the Union J. Frank Huber, and the Diligent delegation. After the nerits of the entertaloment had been fully discussed, th President arose and stated that he had received a lette rom Hon. B. Champueys, who had been selected to delive reference to the organization and advancement of th Union Fire Company, stating his regret at not being able to be present. The letter was read by the Secretary, and received with great applause. The following is the letter to be present. The letter was read by the Secretary, and received with great spealuse. The following is the letter: To the President and Members of the Union Fire Co.—

GENTLEMEN: I deeply regret that I am most reluctantly compelled to be absent from the festive meeting of your Company this evening, held in commemoration of the important event of its cautennial anniversary. I had anticipated great pleasure from a social re-union with a company of which I feel great pride in being a member; and the occasion would have presented vividly to my mind the many pleasant recollections of the past, andened only by the reflection that so many of our former associates have been carried, by the resistless wave of time, to the last resting-place of all that remains of humanity. It has been truly remarked that a passing tribute to the memory and virtues of the dead is a just debt from the justice of the living. The recollection of their meits, integrity and attricts exvices will slaways remain associated with the best feelings of the human heart, and offering the highest incentives to the bright path of duty in the future.

When the great principle upon which our ancestors relied in their resistances to the pressions of the British crown was enunciated, the Cunuty of Lancaster was forement in the ranks of danger and of duty, were to be found the members of the Union.

Without intending in the slightest degree to detract from the merits of the other companies equally pariotic, whose members are actuated by no other parity, then they whose members are actuated by no other parity, then they have an other parity, then they show the present the companies equally pariotic, whose members are actuated by no other parity, then they does not be companies equally pariotic, whose members are actuated by no other parity, then they found the members of the Union.

Without intending in the slightest degree to detract from the merits of the other companies equally patriotic whose members are actuated by no other spirit, than that of a generous rivalry for the public good. It is but simple justice to be permitted to say of the past and present his tory of the Union, that its members have ever been ready, both in war and peace, to perform their whole duty to the community, and the country. I remain, with high respects, Your friend,

The President then call upon the Union to "fill up thei glasses," and proposed as a sentiment, "The Founders o the Union Fire Company," which was drunk standing,— He then proposed the "health of the Mayor of Lancaster, who arising to respond, which he did in a few eloquent re marks, was greeted with much applause. He complimen the Union on its efficiency as an organization, spoke of the high character of its members generally, and the honorable positions they have occupied in the service of their country in various caracities, and paid a deserved tribun to the self sacrificing devotion of firemen. He concluded his remarks by proposing "The Union Fire Company its existence be perpetual; and may the Municipal

Fire Departments of the city of Lancaster always act to- | East Township ther in unison." His remarks were listened to with great attention, and he was heartily applauded at times. At the close he was greeted with three chiers and a tiger. Sentiments were also proposed and remarks made by Aldus J. Neff, Eq., (by the way one of the best extempormeous speakers we have ever heard,) Mr. Elliott of the Diligent Company, President Shuler of the San Company, part A. Wylle of the Inquirer, President Slaymaker, Mr. Alfred Sanderson of the Intelligencer, Dr. J. Frank Huber and Mr. O. C. M. Caines. The "Judge's" happy allusions to "the Corner" and the "different kinds o Firemen orested rears of laughter. Sentiments were pro-posed by Mr. Charles A Hainitah, Vice President of the Union, and Mr. John P. Shindle, of the Fencibles' Band, which were received with much enthusiasm. The Union Giee Club, composed of half a dozen of young, handsom and active members of the Company, favored the assemblage with some of the finest vocal music we have listened to for a long while. The Fencibles' Band, during the progress of the entertainment, performed several of their most

The calabration of the hundreth annie. sary of the Union Fire Company was throughout a credit to that noble organization and the City of Lancaster. In deed, we are satisfied that two finer entertainments (we have reference to the ball of Tuesday night and the frast of Wednesday night) have never been given in this or any other city, and we trust the good feeling manifested towards the july, good fellows of the Union by their prother firemen and our citizens generally will always exist. May the Union flourish for centurie

THE GERMAN MUSICAL FESTIVAL. - We have already given an account of the progress of the German Musical Festival on Saturday and Monday. On Monday night the grand Concert took place at Fulton Hell in the presence of a crowded auditory, among which we noticed many prominent citizens. The Concert was, in all respects one of the finest ever given in this city. The mere idea of 80 singers on the stage at one time, and all under perfect control of the leader, is of itself sufficient to prove that the entertainment was something more than ordinary. The perfect time and harmony of the singers, and the really musical voices of most of them, was the subject of genera remark and admiration among the audien

The Pic Nic took place at Rocky Springs on Tuesday, and was largely attended. After the customary formalities peculiur to such an occasion had been gone through with he vast assemblage enjoyed themselves hugely in various pastimes and pleasures. Keffer's full Orchestra was pres ent, and the merry dance was kept up until a late hour o the evening. Not a single accident or disturbance that we have heard of occurred to mar the festivities of the occasion, but each one seemed bent on enjoying himself o herself to the fullest extent in innocent and rational pleasures. Our German friends have certainly done then selves and the City of Lancaster great credit in the manner n which this their first Musical Festival was gotten up and earried out.

STOLEN HORSE RECOVERED .- The horse and burgy stolen from Mr. Robert Miller, at Landis' Valley, on Sunday night, the 12th inst., his been recovered. It will be reculiedted that the horse was hitched, when taken, to a post by the roadside, on the Reading road, about four miles from Lancaster. The next morning he was found at Christian Grube's, on the Manhelm road, about four miles from this city, where he had been left during the night, after having evidently been drove hard for some distance.

 And it came to passafter many days had expired, there was sore perplexity in the land of Woolly dom, and many ran to and fro and smote together their hands upon the tribes of the Old Guard.

OLD ABE'S CHRONICLES.

2. For the tribes were many, and those who sought to secome chief scribes and rulers of the people were much more numerous than aforetime. S. But they one and all made loud professions of devotedness to the great chief Abraham, surnamed the rail the land of Illinois. 4. And it so happened, that on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, the deputies of the tribes residing in the country of the Conestoga, assembled in council in the ancient city of Lancaster, the city of King Thaddeus, t devise ways and means for the advancement of the great chief Abraham's power, and to select captains of hundreds and captains of fifties to lead the prople forth to battle.

South Queen, and, behold, one ran in great haste to him and told him that the deputies of the tribes were turbulent and rebellious, and that the danger of an open rupknown as the Silver Greys had taken up arms and were resisting his authority.

6. And the wrath of the King arose, and he swore by all the gods of Woolly dom that the rebellious tribe must forthwith brought into subjection; and that there should be no delay in carrying his oath into execution, he issued a decree to all his captains and lieutenants, commanding them to disperse the rebels, and to forthwith oring into his presence their chieftains who thus dared so mpiously to resist his authority. 7. And the same day they were brought into his presence bound hand and foot, and the King commanded his chief captain Oliver and his courageous lieutenant Alexnder, surnamed the Hood, to slay them alive, that their untimely end might be a warning for all time to come and it was done even as the King directed, and there wa bitter lamentation and mourning for them many days.

8. And the King's wrath waxed hot, and he called to gether his trustworthy captains and lieutenants, namely, John surnamed Hiestand, an 1 William of the tribe of Paradise, and Henry, and Stephen the head Builiff, and Peter the Scribe, and Philip the King's Housekeeper, and Jacob the Brewer and Baker, and George surnsmed Whitson, and the rest of his officers, and commanded them to slay all the males who resisted his authority, and to carry their wives and children into captivity.

9. And they answered and said, thy will, O King, shall be done; even as thou hast commanded us, so shall it be done unto all thy rebellious subjects. And every man girded his sword upon his thigh and departed from the King's presence.

THE KENTUCKY ELECTION.

The election in Kentucky has resulted in the choice of General Leslie Coombs. the Court of Appeals, over Clinton M'Clarty, the regular Democratic candidate, by a large majority. Mr. M'Clarty was a supporter of Breckinridge. In obedience to the decree issued from Washington by Miles Taylor & o., against any union whatever with Breckaridge Democrats, the Douglas Democrats out in the field as their candidate Col. Bolling. It appears that most of the Douglas men have ropped Bolling and voted directly for Coombs. their candidate having but few votes. There a great shout sent up over this in certain quarters, where it is regarded as a death blow to Mr. Breckinridge, and a repudiation by his own State not only of his claims to the Presidency, but also of the principles with which he is identified. Is that a fact? The Americans or Know Nothings of Ken tucky held a State Convention at Frankfort, February 22. 1860, over which General Leslie This Convention passed the following resolutions, which compose the

during the canvass, and upon which he was supported and elected:

2 The faithful enforcement of all the laws. Observance of the counsels, and fitelity to the principles of the Farewell legacy of Washington to his country 4. No interference of any character with slavery or the fights of slaveholders in the Shr-holding States in the Union, and the suppression of any such interference by the requisite means—moral, legal or chysical.

6. The right of the clitzens of the United States resident in the Territories, when substricted to form a State Constitution, to admit or reject by it the institution of slavery.

8. We deny the power of the people of the Territories, prior to the formation of a State vanciliation by testistation of the residuation of the residuation of the states. 8. We day the power of the people of the Territories, wind to the formation of a State institution by tesibition or otherwise, to impair any right which any citizen of the Initial States possesses under the Federal Constitution in the Territories. We stand by the principles of the compromise measures of 1850, which were subsequently endorsed by simust the entire people of the Union.

9. The f-lithful enforcement of the fugitive slave law, all attempts or combinations to defeat or frustra e these provisons by citizens of the Republic, and all State legislation to the same end, are in violation of the Constitution.

The eighth of this series of resolution positively denies the right of Territorial Legislatures to intervene to impair the rights of laveholders who carried their slaves into them. If there are any resolutions more decided against the right of Territorial Legislatures prohibit slavery than were passed by the eslie Coombs Convention, we do not know where to find them.

The Douglas men aver that they voted for Coombs and elected him on this platform .-The Louisville Democrat acknowledges its agency in defeating the Democratic nominee in this paragraph :

"Although we can't claim a Democratic victory, D-mo-crats can claim the credit of defeating M'Clarty. Let them set down as much of it to our account as we deserve. We esteem it the best service we can reader the party or the country, and we congratulate all who gave their aid in the cansa." The candidate who has triumphed in Kentucky is the Chairman of the American Convention, and the principle that has triumphed is that which the Douglas men here at the North profess to despise. How does it happen that they can vote for the American candidate in Kentucky, standing upon a plat-form similar to that occupied by Mr. Breckinridge, without a sacrifice of principle, and cannot unite with Demograts in Pennsylvania for the defeat of Republicanism? question for Miles Taylor's committee to nswer. - Patriot. WHEELING INTO LINE. At a meeting of the Douglas Democratic Club of Wilkes Barre, on Saturday evening week, the following resolution was passed: Resolved, That the Diuglas Democratic Club of the borough of Wilkes Birre approve the action of the State Central Committee at Cresson, on the 9th inst., and accept the plan of presenting but a single торовес electoral ticket, as the one best fitted to secure the vote of Pennsylvania for Stephen A. Donglas and Herschel V. Johnson, the regular nominees of the Democracy, and to place our noble old Commonwealth where he belongs, in the front rank of States which morn all sectionalism as a curse, and; all isunionists as traitors.

In response to this resolution and the action of the State Central Committee, the Luzerne Union, until now a strong and violent supporter of the Forney wing, hauls down the flag of disorganization, and supports with energy and ability the compromise agreed upon at Cresson. More than sixty other Democratic papers in the State do the same thing. In fact there are not over five or six papers, which can be considered Democratic, that make any opposition.
