TIVE COMMITTEE.

Resolved, That the Democratic Electoral Ticket he headed with the name of Stephen A. Douglas or John C. Breckinridge as an Elector at large, and in the event of the success of said ticket, if the greater number of votes shall have been east for Stephen A. Douglas, then the vote of the Rictoral College of the State shall be east for Stephen A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson for President and Vice President; but if for John C. Breckinridge, then for John O. Breckinridge and Joseph Lane, for the same offices. If the vote of Pennsylvania cannot eject the candidates for whom a majority of the votes are cast, and it offices. If the vote of Pennsylvania cannot elect the candidates for whom a majority of the votes are cast, and it can elect any man running for the office of President of the United States claiming to be a Democrat, then the vote of the Electoral College shall be cast for that candidate. If it will not elect either of the Democrats for whom it is cast, or any of the Democrats who were voted for in the States, then the vote shall be cast for the candidate who has the majority of the votes of the State; and that the Chairman of this Committee be instructed to obtain from the gentlemen on the Democratic Electoral Ticket of the State their several and distinct pledges of acquiescence in

THE INDEPENDENT TICKET. From what we can learn from gentlemen of all parties, and hailing from different sections of the county, the vote for the Inde pendent Ticket will be a very heavy one, and it will not surprise us in the least if the greater portion of it should be elected. The masses are heartily disgusted with the politicians, who mould and shape everything to suit themselves in the Republican County Conventions, and they are determined to teach them a lesson which may be of use to them hereafter. Low cunning and trickery have had their day in the dominant party of the longer to be made play the part of mere and ridicule the candidates upon it and the prevented by the act of the Railroad Company prominent friends of the movement, but the itself. second Tuesday of October will tell a tale clean out of the woods.

A WOOL GATHERING!

On to morrow, the great "Mass State Convention" of the Black Republicans will be held in this city, and a larger assemblage of Woolly-Heads, than usual, may be expected to make their appearance in our midst. It is given out in the Examiner of last week that Col. Andrew G. Curtin, their Gubernatorial nominee, CARL SHURZ, of Wisconsin, the vile defamer of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, Galusha A. Grow, the Yankee class of politicians and office-hunters who Wilmot's district, and Morton McMichael, of Philadelphia, will certainly be present and address the motley crew. Of course we cannot, with certainty, anticipate all that the JOINED TO THEIR IDOLS: The State elections in Vermont and Maine, held last week, resulted in the success of the Black Republicans, as usual. Nothing else was expected from that dark and benighted quarter of the Union. The only New England States where the Democrats have any chance, are Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The others are as black as midnight, and will remain so, probably, for many years to come. Gen. HENRY D. FOSTER, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, will address the Democracy of Berks county, at Reading, on the 26th inst. FREEDOM OF SPEECH!

The Bell and Everett men of Philadelphia had a meeting at the corner of Broad and South streets, on Friday evening last.— The meeting was broken up by the Black Republicans, who assaulted them with stones and other missiles, and Judge King and David Milwaukie, Paul Brown, Esq., two of the speakers, were Detroit, wounded on the stand. THE READING PLATFORM.

In his speech at Reading Mr. Douglas Foster for Governor, sustained his position In other words the Convention took the to determine whether the people of a Territhe existence of slavery while in a Territorial condition. Here is the resolution:

4. Resolved, That the question of the right of the citizen to hold his slaves in the Territories of the United States is a judicial and not a legislative question, and its decision is committed exclusively to the Courts. Now, this is so plain that no one can be mistaken, and, moreover, it is the very doctrine which is entertained and advocated by Mr. BRECKINRIDGE. But Mr. Douglas, if we we think we are not mistaken, insists that the political or legislative and not a judicial one. He claims for the people of the Territories, acting through their Legislature, the right to decide whether they will admit or exclude slavery, no matter how the Supreme Court of the United States may decide. But the Democracy of Pennsylvania never proclaimed such a sentiment, neither in the above or any other resolution. What they did say at Reading was, that the Constitution of the United States was supreme, and that they were willing to submit the vexed question of land slavery in the Territories to the Judiciary for land slavery in the Territories to the Judiciary for final settlement and adjudication.

The friends of Mr. Breckingidge, so far as we know their sentiments, and that gentleman himself, are perfectly willing to stand upon and abide by the Reading platform, to-day .--They ask nothing more, but are unwilling to take anything less. That is their creed, and they want no interpolations in it, no matter from what quarter they may come.

If Mr. Douglas should hereafter advocate the doctrine embraced in the above resolution, we shall be gratified. That he has not done it heretofore, is a fact patent to everybody who has paid attention to his speeches for the last two years.

WHO ARE DISUNIONISTS ?

Mr. Douglas is represented as saying in his New York speech, on Wednesday last, that "He did not charge Mr. BRECKINRIDGE with being a disunionist; but he did charge that continue the same course of procedure from there was not a disunionist in America who was not a Breckinginge man." Now, this is a sweeping declaration, and we regret that Mr. Douglas should have have given utterance whose names have been erased, will have to it. But what are the facts? Suppose we three months time in which to pay up their | concede that Mr. YANGEY is a disunionist, arrearages without costs; after which their and he does not deny that at one time, several years ago, he entertained such sentiments, this is but an isolated case, and it is wrong So soon as we can collect in a few hundred to hold Mr. Breckinging responsible for improve the appearance of The Intelli the old leaders of disunion in the Southsuch men as HERSCHEL V. Mr. Douglas, however, should not be held responsible for the fired in honor of his arrival, and a meeting opinions of these men, because they choose to support him for the Presidency; neither should the sins of Mr. YANCEY be visited on the head of Mr. BRECKINRIDGE. Every intelligent man who knows any thing at all of the history of these men, knows that both Mr. Breckinginge and Mr. Douglas are warm friends of the Union, and that neither of them ever uttered a word or syllable which could be tortured into a thought advocating its dissolution

SPEAKING OUT ! The Pittsburg Post, a paper that has ably advocated the cause of the "Little Giant" all along, but at the same time has spoken out manfully in favor of the Cresson compromise, Saturday svening, the 8th inst., for the purpose of for Douglas ticket:

"We are also informed that Mr. Douglas himself is opposed to this arrangement, and this being announced, his friends should not dare to "drag his banner down!" Mr. Doug las' great doctrine of non intervention applies in this, as in other cases. He was not consulted, and has too much sense to interfere; and with all due respect, it is none of his business how the Democracy of a sovereign State arrange their own matters. It never occurred to ask us before agreeing to this arrangement, whether Mr. Douglas would approve it or not. Of course he would have preferred—as we would—as all his friends would—that no arrangement had necessary, and that the committee would have declared unanimously for him, but we must deal with, and treat affairs as we find them If Mr. Douglas endorses and recommends, in other States, a coalition with the Bell and and Everett party, for the most part the relics of Know Nothings, we cannot see how he can doubt our taste or good sense in receiving the votes of Democrats. It won't do to say there is no surrender in one case, and that there is in the other. We would rather fuse with Democrats than Know Nothings. We do not care what they do in other States, our inter ests and rights are here. A different course of policy is demanded from that in New York or New Jersey, or in the South."

ATROCIOUS SENTIMENTS! Thanks to our brethren of the Lincoln tribe! Thanks to Old Abe and all his Railhis Wide-awakes and tin lamp carriers! Thanks to Heaven that, "whom the Gods will to destroy they first make mad." Thanks, finally, wherever thanks are due, that, through the orators whom the Republi cans are rapidly bringing into the canvass, the true sentiments of the party are fast breaking out. Following on the heels of Carl Shurz, comes Mr. Cowan, of Westmoreland, who, in a recent speech at Greensburg-we quote from the Argus-said:

"God send that the day may when the Supreme Court of the United States He extelled the doctrines contained in Helper's book, in most extravagant terms, Vashington, Jefferson and Jackson, by stating that the book consisted chiefly of extracts from their writings and speeches. He eulogized the memory of old John Brown, in feeling upon his misfortune. He stated that John Brown was a godly man, who read his Bible, and left the audience to draw the inference that as a matter of course he walked 'made in the belief, that the time had come for the Black man of the South to break his chains and assert his freedom." What next? In the name of patriotism shall follow Mr. Cowan? If such things are seen in the green tree, what must we look for in the dry? If, before the election, such horrible sentiments are uttered, what atrocity of sentiment and action may we not look for from Lincoln's administration, if Heaven, in its wrath, has ordained his election? "Wipe out the Supreme Court," and then,

LANCASTER COUNTY CURB STONES .-- A lot of stones are now being dressed for the curbs along the Chesnut street front of the new Depot, which, for size and beauty, exceed anything in the curb stone line we have et seen, at least of home production. We learn from the Express that they are from a new quarry, just opened by Capt. Hambright for the Bailroad Company, on the property of Jacob Hershey, near the Pequea Bridge, this and a uniform thickness of 9 inches, and are as broad as were it desirable. A tressel track was laid to the quarry, and the train backed up to the stones, which were hoisted com their bed on to the cars. The supply of these stones appears to be almost inexhaustible, and the quarry will no

The curb line for which these are intended will be the nandsomest in the city, extending an entire square, from North Queen to Duke streets. The curb on the Que street front will be of granite, the same as that which Mr. Cadwell is laying around his new hotel, and which will also be a credit to that corner

To Capitalists .- The attention of capitalsts is invited to the advertisement in another column of the National House building, North Queen street, one of the very best business locations in the city.

BRIDGE BURNT. -The Conewago Bridge, or the Lancaster and Harrisburg Railroad, was destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon last. There will be no interruption in the travel of the Pennsylvania Railroad in consequence, as there are two roads, and the entire freight with a portion of the passenger business has always been done over the road, via Columbia.

Supposed Drowning .- On Wednesday eveping last, about dusk, Mr. Richard Campbell, Shipping and seiving Clerk at the Safe Harbor Iron Works, proceeded to the banks of the Conestega, a short distance below Hes Mansion House, for the purpose of bathing. Having lain his clothes on the bank of the stream, he went in, as is supposed, and being attacked with cramp was drowned .-His clothing was found next morning, and the stream for some distance down was dragged with the hope of recovering the body, but without success. Mr. Campbell was alone at the time, but being an excellent swimmer his suppresed drowning can only be accounted for under the belief that he was seized with cramp. Mr. Campbell leaves behind a wife and five small children, who are greatly disressed at his unknown fate.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT. -At a stated meeting f Earl Lodge, No. 413, I. O. O. F., held on Wednesday ning, September 5th, 1860, in the village of New Hol and, the following preamble and resolutions, in reference

GEN. FOSTER FOUND:

The Black Republican press has been, for some time, trying to manufacture a little capital to bolster up their desperate cause, by ridiculing the comparative silence of Gen. Foster, but we hear nothing more of it since his challenge to Col. CURTIN to meet him in discussion before the people. They have found out that the Democratic candidate is not lost. He is a man who never hides himself, but is withal modest, and that is more than can be said of his competitor. Gen. Foster rests mainly upon his past recordnot his present speeches; on the soundness of his principles-not on his personal appearance; on his well earned fame as a sound conservative statesman—not on straddling different platforms, and publishing his own eminent qualifications for the office.

Speaking on this subject, the Clearfield

When the gallant Colonel round with a Bible in his hat, secretly swearing men to proscribe their fellow citizens Gen. Foster was publicly advocating the rights of man, whether native or foreign orn; when the heroic Colonel was hunting Catholics with a broad sword and a dark antern, Gen. Foster was pleading with the people of Pennsylvania not to make religion qualification or test for office; when elo-

the criminals and paupers shipped upon us pledges? We find him standing upon a platby Ireland and Germany, Gen. FOSTER was manfully repudiating this miserable slander, by pointing to the many prominent names in American history; and calling on his countrymen, to look around them at the thrifty, hardy, honest emigrant, and then forever canish the heresy that "birth" had higher laims on government than "worth." Democrats! Our gallant standard bearer is not lost, nor is he in danger; and though the pposition may not see him through a dimly," the time is coming when they shall see him as he is, and shall like him.

Between such men the people of Pennsylvania can have little difficulty in choosing a Governor in October next—after which time Andrew G. Curtin will continue the practice of law in Bellefonte, where all his old clients may find him. And HENRY D. FOSTER will be found at Harrisburg discharging the duties of Governor of this good old Commonwealth.

SOUND DOCTRINE. Hon. HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON, one of the Democratic candidates for Vice President, was, or rather attempted to be, a delegate to the recent Baltimore National Convention, having been appointed by an irregular Convention in Georgia after the adjournment at Charleston. The Convention that appointed him unanimously adopted the following resolution, which was prepared and offered by Mr. Johnson himself, and to which he affixed his own signature, as the platform upon which he and his constituents desired the nominees of the National Convention to stand. It is precisely the doctrine advocated by Messrs. BRECKIN-RIDGE and LANE in their letters and speeches, and is soundly Democratic in every respect. Whether Mr. Johnson in connexion with Mr. Douglas, now stand upon this platform and advocate this doctrine we leave our readers to determine. Here is the resolution, adopted by Mr. Johnson and his constituents only three or four short months ago: Resolved, That the citizens of the United States have an equal right to settle, with their property of any kind, in the organized Terriories of the United States, and that under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of Dred Scott, which we recognize as the correct exposition of the Constitution in this particular, slave property, stands upon the same footing as all other descriptions of property, and that neither the Government, can destroy or impair the right side of to slave property in the common Territories, into lending them aid and assistance. [Apof Jacob Hershey, near the Pequea Bridge, this side of Los nave property in the common Territories, any more than the right to any other descrip plause.] These are your boasted revolution of property; that property of all kinds, ary sires, no longer heroes and sage. slaves as well as any other species of property, in the Territories, stand upon the same equal and broad Constitutional basis, and subject to like principles of recognition and protection the legislative, judicial and executive departments of the Government .- Gov. BART CORRESPONDENCE. le Raising at Nine Points—Its Rise, Progress and Down-fall—Political, &c.

fall—Political, &c.

MESSES, EDITOGE: Permit me to give your readers a true version of the pole raising at the Nine Points, on the evening of the 28th uitimo. After having hunted all over Colerain and Bart townships, at last they came across a crooked, ugly Hickory in Sadsbury twp., about four miles distant, and after hauling it out to the road, they broke a wheel. After coming back to the Points and gesting things in apple pie order, they started back for the Pole, and, after hitching to, tried to start, but no, they could not pull it. Our friend Mr. S. started back to the Points, and after getting two Democratic horses, and going back and hitch in appe pie order, they started back for the Pole, and, after hitching to, tried to start, but no, they could not pull it. Our friend Mr. S. started back to the Polnts, and after getting two Democratic horses, and going back and blich ing them to the wagon, brought the pole to the Points shout eight o'clock; but owing to the scarcity of the faithful, and some of their heels being heavier than their heads, it was deemed inexpedient to raise the pole on that evening, and they appointed the sevening of the 23th. Fatal step! For after the turn of Sunday night, "when al! nature seemed at rest," two persons might have been seen coming out of the scale house, saw in hand, and the work commenced, which resulted in its being in three parts on Monday mornivg. Of course it is blamed on the Democrats; but the truth is they could not have raised it, therefore they did the work themselves. Mr. Franklin Thompson, of Colorsin, presented a popiar pole to the "meek and lowly," and after hauling. splicing with old hickory and pine boards, at about half-part eight o'clock, they reared its lofty top up in the air 89 feet, instead of 97 as the Examiner has it. Attre beholding "poor bleeding Kansas." and stripes floating in the breeze, their patriotism burned for a speech, which was soon extinguished by Mr. Joseph Hood taking the floor, and saying "poor bleeding Kansas." and closed with the wish that they would come out this fall and vote the regular State and County Ticket, as the Democratic party was corrupt. Mr. Whitson made another half-inch speech to the faitful, after which Mr. Hood stood treat to keep their "spirits up by pouring spirits down." Quite a contrast from the delegate election at the Green, among his drab-tailed friends, when he would pay for their suppers but not treat to alcohol. Day before yesterday, owing to the high winds, the pole broke off at the splice, which makes our friends of the opposition have a sheepish lock. In conclusion, I would say if the opposition hink Bart will roll up a big majority for the re For The Intelligencer

East Cocalico Against the World—Tremendous Political Ma Meeting—Immense Outpouring of the People. Meeting—Immense Outpouring of the People.

The friends of the people's regular county ticket met on last Saturday afternoon, in the village of Neighborville, at the public house of Geo. Killian, Eaq., in several very large delegations, consisting in all of about eight or ten men, and nearly twice as many half grown noisy boys, from the neighborhood of Muddy creek. This immense assemblage of people was presided over by a President and any quantity of Vice Presidents, a few only being present on this important occasion. Addresses were delivered by Peter the Great, Urlas the Little Doctor, and Joseph the Dutchman. Peter the Great spoke at some longth for his own special benefit; said a good deal about his old wornout Democratic coat; said he thought he would come over to the Republicans for a fat plump office, and hoped the people would be grateful enough to favor his request only to the Republicans for a far plump office, and hoped the people would be grateful enough to favor his request only once. Urias the Little Dector made a dreadful spread looked anxious, made improper gestures, whited and stammered a good deal about things he didn't understand said he was an independent man until the independent county ticket was made and he found his name was not or it, so now he would vote for "Pete Martin" and the othe "fellers," and he wanted everybody else to do the same Joseph the Dutchman said a few words in Dutch, much c which we could not understand, some few words we hear which sounded a little like sour krout, lager heer an pretzels. Bollidicks he didn't no nothin' about. The mee ing closed with a minor prize fight; two men were dange

MR. CURTIN DOOMED. Since Mr. Curtin has abandoned the "People's party," which nominated him for Governor, and gone over to the Republicans, he has been dropped by all the conservative members of that organization. The Tyrone Star, a Bell and Everett organ, which heretofore supported Mr. Curtin, has taken his name down, and gives the following reasons for its course:

WHY WE TAKE DOWN HIS NAME. - When Col. Jurtin was nominated for the important office of Governor, his nomination was not made by the Republican party, but by the People's party of this State, which was composed of the united elements of the opposition to the Democracy. Notwithstanding this fact, Col. Curtin saw fit to attend the National Convention of the former party, that was held at Chicago. He did not attend it as a mere looker on, but he was an active participant in its proceedings. Upon his return from Chicago, however, (learning the indignation that Republican very truthfully and appositely People's party, that he should in so public a manner have broken his faith with them and arrayed himself on the side of sectionalism,) he told the friends of Bell and Everett, that although he had been at Chicago, he intended to take no part in the Presidential contest, and that during the Gubernatorial campaign, he would consider himself the candidate of friends of Bell as well as of the friends of Lincoln, and that he would take no position in favor of either of the Presidential nominees.

Believing that his promise was made in good quent Andr was abusing men on account of faith, we hoisted his name as our candidate their birthplace and religion, and talking of for Governor. But how has he kept his form which in many points is antagonistic to the platform of the People's party adopted at Harrisburg. We find him speaking at every Lincoln and Hamlin demonstration of any importance that is held in the State. We find that his interests are altogether identified with a party which is the bitterest enemy we have to contend with in this contest. We find him turning his back upon his former friends, and associating himself with such men as Alexander McClure, whose every effort, for the last five years, has been devoted to out" Americanism. Lastly, we find it asserted by the Republican press, (and the same thing has been privately asserted by Col Curtin himself, to our certain knowledge,) that the only way to elect Lincoln is to elect him-that upon his election to the guberna torial chair, depends Lincoln's election to Presidency.

With all these facts staring us in the face, we cannot, in duty to ourself and to the party we represent, misrepresent it any longer by keeping up his name as a candidate. We regret this, but Col. Curtain can blame no one himself and his false friends-such William B. Mann, Alexander M'Clure & Co.

-who are his keepers. As our party has no candidate before the people for the office of Governor, we shall put up no name in the place of Col. Curtin's.— Every member of the party is perfectly at to choose between the two opposing candidates, or, if they prefer it, not to vote at all. For ourself we shall adopt that course which we deem most advantageous to the cause of the Constitutional Union party, and which will most certainly assist in the defeat of Lincoln and Hamlin,

POLITICAL BLASPHEMY.

That our German friends and everybody else may know what manner of man CARL Shurz, who is to be in Lancaster to morrow, is, we publish the following abusive language against our immortal Declaration of Indepen dence and its authors, said to have been uttered by him in one of his recent speeches:

"There is your Declaration of Independence, diplomatic dodge, adopted merely for the purpose of excusing the rebellious colonies in the eyes of civilized mankind. There is your Declaration of Independence, no longer the sacred code of the rights of man, hypocritical piece of special pleading, drawn up by a batch of artful pettifoggers, who, when speaking of the rights of man, meant but the privileges of a set of aristocratic slaveholders, but styled it the 'rights of man, General Government, nor any Territorial in order to throw dust into the eyes of the world, and to inveigle noble hearted fools no longer heroes and sages, but accomplished humbuggers and hypocrites, who said one thing and meant another; who passed counterfeit sentiments as genuine, and obtained arms and money and assistance and sympathy on false pretences. There is your great American Revolution, no longer the great champion of universal principles, but a mean Yankee trick, [bursts of applause and laughter,]—a wooden nutmeg—[renewed cheers,]—the most impudent imposition ever practiced upon the whole world!" [Terrific applause.]

ones' woods was attended by about twenty thousand persons. Messrs. Douglas and Johnson were both present, and their appearance was received with enthusiasm. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Douglas said that he was in favor of a cordial union with every Union man; every man who was true to the Constitution; every man who was in favor of enforcing the laws in all contingencies. If Major Breckinridge was in favor of enforcing the laws against secessionists, disunionists, and Abolitionists in all contingencies, that he (the speaker, was with him. Believing that the Union was in danger, the speaker would make any personal sacrifice to save it. If the withdrawal of his name would defeat Mr. Lincoln he would at this moment withdraw it, more especially if his withdrawal would insure the election of same man who was true to the Constitution and the Union, and would enforce the laws. He believed that the only organization that can save the country is the Democratic organization. He was in favor of maintaining that organization. He proceeded to eulogize its history. He believed that the Union could be maintained only by crushing out Abolitionism and Southern Disunionism. He appealed to all Union loving men in favor of the enforcement of the laws, in every contingency, to rally with one

TARIFF AND ANTI-TARIFF.—The Lincolnites have much to say against those who do not fully agree on political questions combining to support the same electoral ticket. How much more consistent they are in their political action, the following, from the Philadelphia Monitor, will show:

HAMLIN THE FREE TRADER .- Will Mr. Hamlin give the friends of protection a written pledge that in the event of Lincoln's death, he will recommend a Protective Tariff? In New York, the elector at the head of the list insists that the Black Republican platform is opposed to a tariff. Mr. Hamlin himself has always been about as ultra a free trader as ever Mr. Calhoun. Hence, in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, where so many Tariff men are enlisted in the Republican cause, it is but fair and proper that such a pledge should be

The Democratic Convention of Tioga county minated a county ticket, and passed a series of resolutions. The following were adopted:

A. Douglas to be the regular nominee of the emocratic Convention at Baltimore, yet, for the purpose of harmony, we are in favor of uniting with the friends of John C. Breckinridge and supporting the electoral ticket recommended by the State Executive Committee at
