PHILADELPHIA, CORRESPONDENCE.

PRUADELEHIA, Jan. 18th, 1801. MESSER, EDITORS: Verily the Republicans are quer enteres. For instance: At this particular instance there is a great deal of talk in all quarters about devotion to the Union and the Constitution, an undivided country, etc. And of all talkers, the sable-loving individuals. aforisat And of all talkers, the sable-loving individuals afferiated are the loudest. Like Minnick's Monkeys their cheftaging puts everybody else beyond hearing. One might improve them to be a wonderfully sincere set of fellows. And then they, appear so very auxious, in the Senate, to let the Critiquela resolu-tions pass their own hands and ont into the people's, where the whole thing would be settled in a week. This lone proves them to be jewels, and therefore consistent This is the crowning commentary on all their. Union say ing protestations. But let them beware 1 The day is coming when their mad. folly will break over their own Head Fools, they know that the moment they abate their un righteons demands that moment their party is dead, if indeed it is not dead already. But all their cunning and trickery will not save them. Already the more wary leaders of the party, Seward, Thurlow Weed, and others, are reaching eir precious necks above it, but, like Kohrsim ioined t his idols, the rest will not follow, and are awaiting their certain destruction. We rather like it. The more there is of this thing the moner and more terrible will be the end. bespierre, Murat and Danton found the guilloting at last, and Greely, Beecher, Curtis, and some of our own esentatives at Harrisburg and Washington may find their fato before they know it.

may find their late before they know it. The real Union loving citizens of Philadelphia, those who would bind the hostile sections of the country ogether in a band of peace and not war, assembled in town meeting a night or two ago in National Hall, for the purpose of expressing their sentiments on the great ques. tion of the day. There was a tremendous outpouring and the entitudiarm was general. The Union, and Equality of States, no War, and Justice to the South; were the sentiments expounded, and the determination was expressed to allow no mad Republican army to leave our city for the purpose of butchering our relatives in the South-Aye, and this feeling is gaining ground every day. The Crittenden Resolutions were endorsed with tremondous

We witnessed a scene in a car the other day. Some gentlemen were talking on the great topic, and one, who opposed sec-ssion, but sympathized with the South, berated the Republicans roundly. "Take care," said a man opposite, "if you express such sentiments a month hence, you will be shot down in the public streets." "Me," said: the gentleman rising. "shoot me down ! if you say that again ou miserable Black Republican," shaking his fist in the cowardly rascal's face, " I'll knock you down on the spot." You may believe there was a sensation there. But enough of polltical matters for this week. The January volume of Massrs. W. A. Townsend & Co's magnificent edition of Conper's Novels with Darloy's Illustrations, contains the admirable sea novel of The Two Admirals, one of that brilliant series which boosts of The Pilot, Wing and Wing Rad Rever, etc. On the sea, or in he forest, Cooper nev-r failed, and though some of his books are unequal in parts, his stories of ocean life, and his famed Leadher Stocking series never reach the inferi-ority of his outsids novels, Like Precaution, and The Monikins. We are therefore tired of the critic (in this city) who says of each of the novels as it appears that it is one of Cooper's second or third rate stories Good gracious, of Cooper's second or third rate stories thoug gracious, man, we beg of you to remembar that Cooper wrote some first rate ones. The volume is as beautifully printed, illustrated, and bound as its predecessors. Mr. S. McHanry is sole agent here. Harper's Magazine, for next mouth, pays a just .compliment to the spleudid History of Latin Christianity, by Henry Hart Milman, which Messrs Sheldon & Co., of New York, are now publishing in monthly volumes in all the glory of Honghton's famous Riverside Press. It echoes the commendations of Prescott, Everett, and all the learned nen of the day, and says :--- " As a historian, D-an Milman s remarkable for the breadth and symmetry of his learn ing, his freedom from sectarian partialities, his fairness of mind, the beauty and felicity of his illustrations, and his graceful and flowing diction." We can pronounce with vent of Christmas brought to Western Europe one of the most severe snow storms ever experienced. Accounts of its ravages have been received from the United Kingdom, experienced. France and Italy. Mr. Lowe, the well known meteorologist, reports that the cold which ensued was perhaps the most extraordinary ever known in England. On Christmasiday, the thermometer was eight degrees below zero near London, and elsewhere it is reported as having been still lower. The rivers were full of floating ice, and skating was as common in London as in New York. The quantity of snow which fell in places is said to have exoeeded two feet. The storm appears to have travelled over all Western and Southern Oats At Turin the Raumer thermometer Europe. indicated eight degres below zero (the freezing point).
