In order to increase the already large circulation of the Knorkesocker, we publish this month a splendid line engraving of Frith's picture of 'Morry-Making in the Olden Time,' which we shall present exclusively to the $3 and serihers to the Magazine for 1880, whether old or new. The subject represents the pastimes of our ancestors, and is eminently of a goulal, domestic character. The plate, engraved in England at an expense of 2000 dollars, is entirely new, measurest twenty-five by nineteen and a half inches in size, contains thirty-nine figures, and is beyond comparison the finest work of the kind ever offered as a premium in this country.

'The engraving of Frith's picture of Merry-Making in the Olden Time, represents the humors of an English holiday in the county in those good old times when the men wore cocked-hats and knee-breeches, and the women stays and hoops—a costume not essentially differing from the correct and crinoline of the present day. Almost in the centre of the picture and a little to the background is a country dance on the green, with a hard-featured fiddle proceded on a high seat, and another musician in a tiewig standing by him, playing with all their might. On the right two bouncing girls are gai back of the whole is a landscape of gentle slopes and in copses. The picture has the expression of gayety throughout and the engraving is splendidly executed. It is fresh from the burn of HoLi, not having yet been published in England.
