Olden Time, which we shall present exclusively to the $3 mbscribers to be Magazine for 1800, whether old or new. The subject represents the pastimes of our ancestors, and is eminently of a genial, domestic character. The plate, engraved in Engined at an expense of 2000 dollars, is enlifely new, measures twenty-five by nineteen and a half inches in zice, contains thirty-nine figures, and is boyond comparison the finest work of the kind ever offered as a pressium in this country. "The sugraving of Frith's picture of Merry-Making in the Olden Time, represents the humors of an English holi-day in the country in those good old times when the men wore docked hats and knee-breeches, and the women stays and hoops—a costume not essentially differing from the cornet and erinoline of the present day. Almost in 'the entre of the picture and a little to the back-ground is a country dance on the green, with a hard-featured fiddler perhed on a high scat, and another musician in a tig-wig standing binn, playing with all their might. On the right two bouncing girls are gaily pulling toward the dance a gray-haired man, who seems value to remonstrate that his 'dancing days are over, while a waggish little child pushes him forward from behind, greatly to the amusement of his spose, who is still still at the tax-table, from which he has been dragged. On the left, under a magnifi-cent spreading cak, is the 'aquire and his wife, whom a country man with his hat of is respective is a young souple on the grass, to whom a gipsy with an infant on her shoulder is telling their fortune. Over the shoulders of this couple is seen a group engaged in quotplaying, and queck of the whole is a landscape of genile slopes and coppes. The picture has the expression of gayety through-out and the engraving is splendidly executed. It is fresh from the burnin of Holl, not having yet been published in England.
