It was to be hoped ...that in making the nomination party lines would ...have been obliterated and a single candidate nominated for universal suffrage. But the Black-Republicans, who made the first nomination, were not thus to be cheated of their membership, and so they set up one on the old platform. The Democracy, immediately following, selected a capital nominee, Col. Chas. J. Biddle, who, coming from an old, distinguished, and patriotic family, is now in Virginia, at the head of his regiment, fighting the battles of his country. The Black Republican blunder is nix cum grows. Instead of fixing success upon the skirts of the Democracy, with our patriotic candidate in the field, actually and no mistake, they, the niggerites, are beginning to think that secesh will be stood up at their own door. Stand aside. Here comes young Harry with his beaver on!

For the above congressional election the "Constitutional Union Men" have also nominated a candidate, so that we have three candidates in the field instead of one.

The arrest of Marshal Kane in Baltimore this morning causes a deal of lively satisfaction here. It is unquestionable that this man has done more to complicate matters in that city of monuments and murders than any other man there. Fort McHenry is just the place for him, and Baltimore is just the place for Fort McHenry.

All eyes are now directed to the Fourth of July, at Washington, and the body of grave and reverend seigneurs there and there to assemble. Never in the history of the country has Congress met under such interesting and trying circumstances. A speedy and honorable peace is necessary to the country, but as we said before we want no peace inconsistent with a recognition of the authority of the government in every corner of the land. Lincoln's maiden document will be looked for with curiosity and interest. We hate the "Kangaroo," but will read his message.

According to custom we scrape together a few literary items, albeit they are hard to find in these extraordinary times.

War literature continues to flourish; and whatever of book kind bears upon the national crisis is sure of a ready sale. See the new number of the North British Review. American reprint of L. Gould, Jr. New York, is in large demand, because of a lengthy and exceedingly well written paper which it contains on The American Secession. This fine article has already been largely commented upon by the American press. The author's genial views and generous sympathy with us are in striking contrast with the cold wormish tone of the "Times." The concluding paragraph of the article is quite probable, and must be so regarded. We commend the article, and the periodical which contains it to our readers. There are ten other agreeable papers in the number.

The new number of the London Quarterly Review," contains nine pleasant and instructive articles, on William Pitt, African Discovery, Iron Manufacture, Lord Dundonald, the Pearls and Mock Pearls of History, (delightful,) etc. In these times of general curtailment these exceedingly cheap re-prints of L. Scott & Co. deserve wide attention. They are monthly publications, and the price $3 for one, or $5 for five, commends them to all.

Dean Milman's splendid "History of Latin Christianity" is now brought to a close by the publication of the eighth volume (Sheldon & Co., New York, Lippincott, Grambo & Co., agents) knew that the edition is a beautiful one, forming one of the most elegantly printed and furnished works ever given to the public, and all ought to know that in its literary character this History stands among the foremost labors of modern times. Completed as it now is it should be immediately added to all public and private libraries, Sunday schools and Clergymen should find it a book of books. In England the History has been immensely popular, and it would be a shame if Sheldon & Co.'s more lavish and tasteful publication should not find equal favor among the book purchasing public of American book-buyers.

The last volume is Messrs. Townsend & Co's (N. York) edition of the author's works with Darley's illustrations, and is the most novel of "Miles Wallingford," a sequel to Afloat and Ashore. This story contains some of the most graphic ocean scenes of the author, and the nautical marvels of "The Red Rover," and "The Pilot," its narrative power is not surpassed within the prospect of ...and must satisfy many readers. To ...it has always been a delightful one. It ...hailed in the best ...

...National troubles is published entire in next week's number, July 6th, of "Littell's Living Age." This clear, straightforward document has exercised a wholesome influence in England, and Mr. Littell deserves praise for reprinting it for American circulation in the desirable form of the Living Age. Mr. Russell's last letter on the Monarchical tendencies of South Carolina is also printed entire in the same number. The Age is fully up to the times. Those who would be conversant with it should take the Age and read it. It is the best periodical now published.

Messrs. Rudd and Carleton, New York, issue Michelet's new work, "The Sea." It is quite an enterprise to publish anything in these times not directly connected with the war, or upon which a subscription list has not been secured. Is the case with Dealey's Geology, Dean Milman's History, etc., previously noticed. But we fancy there can be much risk in issuing this new book by the great French author. It is a dreamy, sensuous narrative describing the sea, water, the life, of the ocean; the characters thereof, the shells and sands along the shore, and the inspiring energy which it gives to human life. The book is one eminently fitted for the season, and as it is beautifully printed, and elegantly illustrated, it will command wide demand. H.

THE CROPS IN THE WEST.—The St. Louis Evening News of Saturday week has the following with regard to the coming crops:

The most cheering and satisfactory offset to the discomforts, inconveniences and losses caused by the war is the unexampled abundance of food in the land. We have consumed already half the surplus grain of last year, and yet a new crop, larger even than that of the last, is ripening to the harvest. The damage by the army worm is scarcely seen, and not felt at all.

In Illinois the farmers have barns filled with old corn, which they would gladly sell at 15 cents a bushel, and old wheat which they cannot dispose of at 50 cents; and yet the best crops of wheat and oats ever gathered stands in their fields, almost ready for the sickle.—In Missouri, [illegible] entire Northwest, there is a similar picture of abundance, and in Kentucky [illegible] going on is said to be without parallel.

Speculators in [illegible] will make their fortunes during the [illegible] investments in grain. But the people will [illegible] No country was ever injured by [illegible] and it certainly is a cause for profound gratitude to the great giver of gifts, that in the midst of the hardships of the war, the necessaries and even the comforts of life are so generally abundant and cheap as now prevail.

Orders [illegible] slip the following from the Charleston Courier, of the 21st instant:

The [illegible] crop in our State [illegible] certainly such a crop was never known before in Tennessee.—An immense crop was [illegible] and no accident or injury whatever has befallen it; but on, the contrary, the season has been propitious, the grain has fallen well, and the yield per acre is immense. The young corn, too, looks very well, but it is too early yet for anything more than speculation about this crop. With even a moderate yield of corn, though, we will be carried out of the woods. A very large crop has been planted.

Our farmers have a glorious season for harvesting not a glorious crop to harvest. Never in the memory of man has there been a crop of wheat in this section—embracing Southern Kentucky—so universally superior in quality and abundant in yield, nor a failure have we heard of in any locality, and the only differences to be observed are attributable solely to the capacity of the soil, and as the land is all good, so is the yield.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR.—Surgeons.—Adolphus Paten..., Philadelphia; John Cox, Philadelphia; ... Shippen, Philadelphia; Lavington ... Phœnixville, Chester county; B. Rohrer, ... Columbia, Lancaster county; James Collins, Philadelphia; Wm. H. Thome, Palmyra, Lebanon county.

Surgeon's Mate.—J. H. Sheetz, Dale, Berks county; H. F. Martin, Allentown; Lehigh county; Z. Ring Jones, Philadelphia; W. H. Forwood, Chester, Delaware county; H. Chester Parry, Pottsville, Schuylkill county; Wm. T. W. Dickeson, Philadelphia; Isaac J. Clark, Bridesburg.

CROPS IN MISSOURI.—Crops of all kinds look remarkably well in Missouri. In South Missouri the wheat harvest was already commenced, and is fully an average crop, and corn is very promising. The tobacco crop looks ordinarily well. Grass has suffered considerably in some sections from the worm, but there will be an average yield.

WASHINGTON INTELLIGENCE.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—It has been ascertained at the State Department that Bayard Clark's regiment of cavalry from New York is unconditionally accepted.

All speculations about a disposition on the part of the President, or the Cabinet, or Gen. Scott, or anybody else, to favor a compromise or delay, have no foundation in truth.

Hon. Albert G. Parker, of Indiana, to-day procured an order from the War Department for the transmission to the Governor of that State of side arms of the non commissioned officers and musicians of the twenty Indiana regiments, viz: over 1,200 swords. They will be sent in a few days. A sufficient supply is not now on hand, but they are being rapidly manufactured.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The President has appointed Wm. W. Murphy, of Michigan, Consul at Frankfort-on-the-Main, and Richard Hildreth, of New York, Consul at Trieste.

The degree of LL. D. having been conferred on the President by Columbia College, New York, Dr. Lieber has come hither to present the diploma.

That the President's message, at the opening of the extra session of Congress, will recommend any compromise having for its object the reconciliation of those now in arms against the Federal Government, no one at all acquainted with the views of the Administration believes. On the contrary, it will doubtless be found that the course already initiated will be firmly maintained in consonance with the inaugural address; and on this, as on all other subjects, the Administration is "one, undivided, and indivisible."

Robert D. Cunningham has been appointed Postmaster at Jamestown, New York.

Lord Lyons, accompanied by the Secretary of State, officially visited the President to-day, to deliver to him the royal letter, announcing the death of Queen Victoria's mother, the Duchess of Kent.

CONTRADICTION OF THE REPORTED PEACE PROPOSITION FROM JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The following despatch has been received by the agent of the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 26.

To the Associated Press:

The man is yet to be seen in Washington who has seen or heard of the compromise alleged to have been proposed by Jefferson Davis to the Administration. F. W. SEWARD.

CONTRADICTION OF THE ALLEGED COMPACT BETWEEN GEN. MCCLELLAN AND THE KENTUCKY AUTHORITIES.

WASHINGTON, June 26.

To the Associated Press.

Gen. McClellan has telegraphed to the government that he has read in the newspapers an account of a compact which he is said to have made with Gen. Buckner in regard to the status of Kentucky. He denies, contradicts and repudiates the whole statement to the great satisfaction of the Commanding General and the Administration, whose only knowledge of the pretended compact was from the newspaper statements which Gen. McClellan thus denounces. F. W. S.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 27.

Colonel John K. Murphy's Jackson Infantry Regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, (of Philadelphia,) has been accepted by the War Department, and will be mustered into service immediately.

The Government has advices from Fort Monroe, to the effect that the rebels are erecting new batteries, and concentrating large numbers of troops in that region.

Passes were again issued to parties applying and taking the oath this morning, to visit the other side of the Potomac. Everything is quiet on that side of the river this morning.

The Government has issued orders to General Patterson not to cross over into Virginia from Williamsport, Md.

[illegible] has not arrived.

Senator James H. Lane has received his commission of Brigadier General.

In addition to the three regiments heretofore accepted from Kansas, he is authorized to raise a brigade consisting of [illegible] infantry, four of cavalry and four of artillery.

The Colonels of these two regiments are William Weer, who served during the war with Mexico as Major and Lane's Major-General, known in connection with the troubles of Kansas. Arrangements have been made for the furnishing of [illegible] the United States troops in that region.

Col. Weer left here several days ago for Kansas, taking with him Lane's proclamation, calling on the people of that State to rally and fill up the two incomplete regiments, and stating, explicitly, that his purpose is to put down rebellion wherever it may be exhibited, and to sustain the Union men without regard to State or locality.

General Lane will occupy his seat during the extra session of Congress. In the meantime his brigade will be perfected, and he expects to take command of it about the 20th of July.

Members of Congress continue to arrive daily, including a number from the West.—Among those who have just reached here, is Representative Martin F. Conway, of Kansas.

LONDON EXHIBITION OF 1862.

As in the last Exhibition, one-half the entire space of the building will be allotted to England and the colonies, and the remainder among the various foreign countries. All the applications for space from England have been sent in, and some idea may be formed of their extent, when it is stated that, if all were granted that is asked, England alone would require a building nearly three times larger than the entire structure for next year.

The immense size of the structure may be learned from the following particulars:

The foundations have already consumed 5,000 tons of concrete, which, as the first item, is pretty fair. On these foundations will be laid nearly 60,000 tons or 1,400,000 cubic feet of brickwork, requiring upwards of 18,000,000 bricks to build it. To 18,000,000 bricks no less than 22,000 tons of mortar will be requisite. 10,000 tons of iron-work, viz: about 7,000 tons of cast and 3,000 tons of wrought iron, will be used in the entire structure. As there are nearly 1,200,000 superficial feet of flooring, the same amount of timber as of iron is required, namely, 10,000 tons. The flooring alone consumes 360 miles of planking, seven inches wide, and 270 miles' length, nine inches wide, or upwards of 600 miles' length of planking in all. The actual quantities are 1,200,000 and 2,000,000 lineal feet of each kind. For the windows no less than 108 miles' length, or 600,000 feet of sashing will be required, to fill in which are required 500 tons of sheet glass and upwards of 50 tons of putty. The roofs will need 600,000 square feet of felt; and among the minor items are between 200 and 300 tons of nails, 600 tons of paint, 300 tons of piping, and so on. The cubical contents of the whole structure will be no less than 73,000,000 cubic feet.

A committee composed of the most distinguished persons connected with the Government of France, and presided over by Prince Napoleon, has been formed for the purpose of carrying out the wishes of the Emperor, who desires that no expense should be spared with regard to the French portion of the exhibition, which promises to be a very great success.—There is a most cordial desire to co operate with England, and to take care that France should distinguish herself in the encounter.

THEY DO NOT DARE.—One of the earliest subjects which will engage the attention of Congress will be the treason of the Minister to Portugal, and the reason why he is not recalled in obedience to the demand of public sentiment. Then we shall know whether his personal friends are right when they boldly allege that the Cabinet dare not recall Mr. Harvey.—N. Y. Tribune.

Wolves are in the habit of falling upon wounded members of the pack and devouring them. Mr. Harvey was the Washington correspondent of the Tribune, in which capacity he rendered that paper essential service by transmitting the earliest intelligence. When the Administration decided to evacuate Fort Sumter he telegraphed the fact to New York and Charleston. When the Administration backed water and determined not to evacuate Fort Sumter, Harvey again sent the news to New York and Charleston. The Tribune published it to the world—so did Harvey. If one was guilty of treason, so was the other—but Harvey being a Foreign Minister, it is necessary to make him the victim of the indecision of the Cabinet and to appease the Tribune's thirst for the blood of a traitor. We suspect that if Mr. Harvey is brought home in disgrace, the Administration fear he will make a clean breast of this whole business, and show that certain members of the Cabinet were in the same boat with himself.—Harrisburg Patriot.

LATER FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

More Rebel Batteries on James River—Advance of Federal Troops—Arrest of Col. Allen.

OLD POINT, June 28.

Colonel Cass' regiment arrived this morning from Boston, and proceeded to Washington, without landing. His original destination was Fortress Monroe.

The Third and Fourth Massachusetts Regiments will march to-morrow morning. They will probably entrench themselves beyond Hampton Bridge, and form the advance of an important movement toward Yorktown. Their time expires within three weeks.

The Naval Brigade will probably accompany them to Hampton.

J. W. Bennett, of the First Vermont Regiment, died, yesterday, at the hospital, of typhus fever. His body will be taken home. Over one hundred sick are now in the hospital.

A large number of contraband of war have come in to-day.

Two or three shots from a new battery on James river, directly opposite Newport News, were fired by the rebels this morning.

The weather is intensely hot.

FORT MONROE, June 28, via BALTIMORE, June 29.—This morning (the 28th) Col. Allen, of the New York First, was arrested by the following order from Major General Butler:

HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA, FORTRESS MONROE, June 28.

Special Order:

Colonel Allen, commanding First Regiment, New York Volunteers, is ordered to report himself to me under arrest, at these quarters, forthwith. The command of his regiment will devolve upod Lieutenant Colonel Dyckman, of his regiment, who will report to me for further orders. Charges and specifications for trial will be furnished Col. Allen at the earliest possible moment.

By order of B. F. BUTLER,
Major General Commanding.

This order caused great excitement in the Eighth Regiment and general comment among all the troops. The grounds of arrest, it is believed, grew out of the following facts:

On Thursday afternoon word came that negroes and white men were gathering in a field of wheat, five miles distant, belonging to Major Thompson, of the rebel army, and were going to convey the same to Yorktown to aid the rebels. Some of them came to Col. Allen, demanding horses previously confiscated from the rebel soldiers to convey the wheat to the army.

Colonel Allen refused to give up the horses, and sent a squad of soldiers to prevent them from taking the wheat. Soon after the wheat field took fire and twenty acres were destroyed on Friday. It is supposed that the wheat field was burned by Col. Allen's order.

Previously Col. Allen and other officers had arrested a great many armed secessionists, and those guilty of signalizing and conveying intelligence to the rebel forces at Yorktown and other places. These have been released by General Butler, and it is charged, almost without question.

The enemies of Gen. Butler, in consequence of this affair, venture to question his loyalty, and a despatch to the city states, as rumor, that "the officers in the regular service within the Fortare preparing a petition for his removal from this post."

Also, "that the New York troops are clamorous that a Major General from their own State should be appointed to their command, and the officers both of regular and volunteer service will decline to act in battle under him again."

IMPORTANT FROM BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, June 27.

At 5 o'clock this morning, George P. Kane, the Marshal of Police, of this city, was arrested at his house, by order of General Banks, and conveyed to Fort McHenry, where he is a prisoner.

General Banks has issued a proclamation, naming John K. Kenly, of the Maryland regiment as Provost Marshal, and suspending all the powers of the Police Commissioners. Kenly is to exercise supreme control over the department until some known loyal citizen is appointed to act as Marshal.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.

We observe that the Administration has commissioned JIM LANE, of Kansas, a Brigadier General, and the notorious outlaw, MONTGOMERY, is appointed a Colonel. Is there such a scarcity of decent men in the country that it is necessary to select officers from among thieves, vagabonds and murderers? JIM LANE's reputation is far from enviable, but the Administration cannot plead ignorance of the character of Montgomry. He has been the chosen leader of a gang of outlaws in Kansas who committed every sort of depredation and outrage, murdering, thieving and robbing wherever they went. There is ample evidence at Washington of his infamous character, and yet he is appointed an officer of the army, to be the associate of honest soldiers and gentlemen. If justice was done he would be hung for his crimes—and if those who are compelled to associate with him are careful, they will look out for their wallets.

There have been many complaints of the appointment of incompetent officers—but this is the first instance where a man of positively infamous character has been commissioned an officer.—Harrisburg Patriot.

COLONEL ANDERSON AT CRESSON.

ALTOONA, June 27.

Colonel Robert Anderson, the hero of Fort Sumter, arrived at Cresson yesterday, from the West, and took rooms at the Mountain House, kept by Mr. George W. Mullen. He has written for his family, who will shortly join him. His health is still delicate, but the mountain air will doubtless benefit him.—Senator Rice and his wife and family, of Minnesota, and Mr. Kramer, of the Western Virginia Convention, are also at the Mountain House.

WHERE IS HE?—The Sunbury Democrat asks "Where is John Covode, who recently presided over the celebrated Investigating Committee for political effect in Washington? His services are very much needed now, to expose to public gaze and to just punishment those whom his investigating labors were intended to place in official positions. There is now a good chance to defend honest taxpayers against corruption and robbing, and the Prince of Investigators, after getting his hand in so nicely for political effect, should not now lose a good opportunity to practice on a reliability." So, where's Covode and the torn breeches?

☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having approved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, for by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. ☞ Something for the Ladies.—A new invention has recently appeared, which, although useful to every body, is specially claimed by the Ladies, as being exactly suited to their wants and requirements. They are delighted with Spalding's Prepared Glue. It brings up no disagreeable associations of sticky glue pots and stifling odors, but is merely a clear transparent liquid, in a pretty little bottle, with a small accompanying brush, fit to stand on the daintiest toilet table in the land, with cologne and Perfumes and China trifles. And so useful it proves, too, if any accident happens to the ten thousand little knick-knacks that ladies delight in. No sending to the manufacturer for repairs, at an expense scarcely less than would attend the purchase of a new article. A few of the crystal drops, skillfully applied by fair fingers, will set all right. For furniture, for work-boxes, for books, for every thing, it is a perfect little family physician! The amount of money that one of these bottles can save in a month, would seem almost incredible, and Ladies rely on their Prepared Glue as a sort of a magician that can effect every thing! And they know, too. When any article of domestic reform meets the enthusiastic sanction at their hands that Spalding's Prepared Glue has received, you may be pretty sure it is something worth having on your closet shelf!—From the New York Dispatch, October 1, 1859.
